THE UNEMPLOYED.

A casual reader, perusing the special message and accompanying documents just transmitted by Governor West to the Legislature, might derive exaggerated ideas of the number of unemployed men and the amount of distress in this city. The communication of Hon. Wendell Benson, chairman of the Territorial Relief commission, gives the number of unemployed men on the list of that commission as 1,7[illegible]. Hon. Arthur L. Thomas, chairman of the General Relief society, gives the number of names of unemployed men on its books as about 1,5[illegible], while Salesman Bamberger, chairman of the Salt Lake county and city relief work gives 1,141 as the number of laborers on his list who are waiting for work. The apparent aggregate is 4,347 men who are out of employment, and have listed their names in the hope of obtaining a few days' work at the small wages that are being paid by the organizations named. In other words, the showing is that there are in this city 4,347 men who are out of employment, and whose necessities are so urgent that they have sought a few days' work through one of the channels that have been established for relieving the needy and suffering.

On their face these figures convey a conviction that they exaggerate the facts. Allowing to the city a population of 55,000 and a laboring man to every six inhabitants, we have 9,166 laboring men. [illegible]

Now 4,347 is nearly half of 9,000, but it is not possible that nearly one half of the working men of this city have listed their names for a share of the employment which is specially designed for the relief of the destitute. [illegible]

The number of men without work, and the amount of destitution, are great enough, without being exaggerated. [illegible]

THE ENGLISH GAME OF POLITICS.

The British house of commons under the leadership of Mr. Gladstone has been induced to acquiesce in the amendments of the house of lords to the local government bill—[illegible]

We do not see just how the radical program of extinguishing the house of lords is going to be carried out without a complete destruction and rehabilitation of the national constitution, and we do not believe that can be done while England is a monarchy. Nevertheless, the popular feeling against the peers is growing steadily and swiftly, [illegible]
