COUNTRY CHILDREN.

Little fresh violets
Born in the woodwork
Sweetly illustrating
Innocent childhood!

Pure as the mountain air,
Blooming and hearty?
Blue eyes and hazel eyes
Peep from this hedge.
Shaded by sun-bonnets
Peeping the edges
Up in the apple trees,
Heavens of danger!
Hushed in shadows
Stares at the stranger.

Down on Grandma's patch
Seeking for berries;
Under the orchard tree,
Feasting on cherries;
Tramping the clover-blossoms
Down among the grasses;
No voice to hinder them,
Dear lads and lasses.

Dear little innocents,
Born in the wildwood!
O that all little ones
Had such a childhood!
It's blue spread over them,
God's green beneath them;
What a better heritage
Could we bequeath them!

Round New Yorker.

EASTERN NOTES.

J. J. Daily, a wealthy merchant of Eutaw, Ala., being crossed in love three months ago, turned his effects into cash, and went to New Orleans on a desperate spree. In a few weeks he squandered his accumulations of thirty years, and ended by dying in a station house of delirium tremens.

The Springfield Republican has a correspondent at the Sandwich Islands, who does not present things in that rosy light customary to Hawaiian writers. He says:—"Don't let anybody persuade you to encourage Sandwich Island annexation on any pretext. It is the merest job and speculation in the world. The plan is to bribe the King and chiefs with a subsidy from the secret service fund. The natives are all opposed. It is now the only entirely respectable government I know of."

Two little heroes live in Sharon, Mass. Recently they accomplished a feat which doubtless will be a pleasant recollection to them all their lives. Two gentlemen were out rowing on a pond in town, and in attempting to recover an oar which one of them had dropped, they upset their boat, and of course both fell into the water. Their cries for help were heard by these two boys, Masters Fred. Holder, aged twelve years, and Charles J. Tyler, aged nine years, and they, in a light skiff, speedily paddled to the aid of the imperiled gentlemen. They exacted from the imperiled men, while still in the water, a promise that they would implicitly obey directions, and not, by struggling, endanger their own skiff, and then, by careful management, taking one on either side of the boat, succeeded in rescuing both and landing them safely.

The Indiana saloon keepers are just now busy in devising methods of escaping the liabilities of the State liquor law, which is very similar to the Illinois law, in that it provides for the collection of damages from liquor-sellers by members of the family or other relatives, in case the drunkard abuses his family or does other mischief. The saloon keepers of Bluffton have issued a regular notification to the public that, having obtained license according to law to sell spirituous liquors, they propose to conduct business according to law. They therefore notify all married women who do not want them to sell to their husbands to leave written notice to that effect within three days, "and all unmarried women or girls who have 'fellers' or beaux whom they do not wish to have taking their littters at our bars will please give like notice." They have also issued a form of permit for the use of wives, in which they grant the husbands the right to drink when and what they please, and waive all claims for damages arising therefrom.—Chicago Tribune.

A remarkable case of deception, successfully practiced for many years by a smart and handsome Welsh woman, has just come to light in the English courts. Elizabeth Jones, a beautiful and fascinating lady's maid, captivated Mr. Melrose, a rich, retired merchant, because his mistress, and after some years married him. Mr. Melrose was anxious for an heir, so his wife went off on a flying trip of a fortnight, and came back with an infant, with which she affirmed that Providence had blessed her during her absence. Poor old Mr. Melrose was credulous, received his supposed heir in his arms, blessed it, and dying some years after left to him $200,000, the income going to the mother while she remained a widow. The widow married again, however. Melrose's relations concluded to look into the matter, and it turned out that his wife had practiced a gross fraud by adopting another woman's son for the purpose of securing a good income for herself. The scheming woman is safe in India, while her adopted son is left penniless.

MRS. M. J. CLAY,

The Famous

EYE AND CANCER DOCTRESS,

Who resides and has established her infirmary at the Old Fourteenth Ward Store, West of Temple Square, would inform the public that she intends continuing in this location during the next six months, and refers all who wish information regarding her skill to the following affidavits:—

TERRITORY OF UTAH, County of Salt Lake, } S.S.

Mrs. Hannah S. Grundy, of Minerville, Beaver County, Utah, being sworn, says that prior to the 9th day of December, 1872, at which time she placed herself under the treatment of Mrs. M. J. Clay, doctress in the City of Salt Lake, she had been afflicted with a granulation of the eyelids, with films over the eye-balls to such an extent as to be unable to walk alone, read or sew; that within seven weeks after the commencement of such treatment, her sight was restored, so as to enable her to both read and sew without trouble.

H. H. GRUNDY.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 8th day of May, A. D., 1872.

TERRITORY OF UTAH, County of Salt Lake, } S.S.

Isaac N. Turnbaugh, of Bountiful, Davis County, Utah, being sworn, deposes and says, that for ten years he has been afflicted with what is now called a spider caught in the thick; that in the month of February, 1872, he placed himself under the treatment of Mrs. M. J. Clay, Doctress, in the City of Salt Lake, and that after her treatment of certain medicinal applications for the period of six weeks, a perfect cure was effected, the cancer and the roots thereof being completely removed, the cancer being nearly the size of a berry egg at the time of its removal.

ISAAC N. TURNBAUGH.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 6th day of May, A.D., 1872.

TERRITORY OF UTAH, County of Salt Lake, } S.S.

Albine Beckstead, being duly sworn, deposes and says, that for the past seven years she has been afflicted with blindness, the cause of which was a granulation of the lids, and films over the balls of the eyes, to such an extent as only to observe a very dim sense of light, without the ability to read or sew. That on the 10th day of December last, I placed myself under the treatment of Mrs. M. J. Clay, Doctress, in the City of Salt Lake, in the belief that under her treatment this deposition's sight was so fully restored on the twenty-fifth day of January following, that she was able to read the most common printed matter and do plain sewing.

ALBINE BECKSTEAD.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of April, A.D., 1872.
