TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

No. 223 THURSDAY, AUGUST 16, 1894, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVII.

CLEVELAND IS SICK.

Suffering from a Light Attack of Malarial Fever.

THE PHYSICIANS NOT ALARMED.

A Few Days' Rest at Gray Gables All that is Needed—Will Return Next Week.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—President Cleveland left Washington this morning via the Pennsylvania railroad for Gray Gables. In explanation of the sudden departure the following statement was furnished by Private Secretary Thurber: "The President left for a few days' stay under the advice of his physicians, in the hope of shaking off a malarial attack from which he has been suffering for several days. Yesterday the attack culminated in a fever which was under control this morning. Dr. O'Reilly, his physician, expresses no doubt but what a few days of salt air and rest will recuperate the President sufficiently to resume his official duties, and he will return to Washington by the middle of next week. He has gone to Gray Gables accompanied by Dr. O'Reilly, Captain Bailey, D. Evans also accompanied the President, but it is probable that he will stop at New York where he will take command of his ship, New York, in a day or so."

The President took with him the tariff and river and harbor appropriation bills and can act on each while away in case he sees fit to do so. It is believed he will return on the 25th or 26th.

It is learned that the President did not take the enrolled copy, which he must sign, of the tariff bill, but merely an ordinary printed copy, presumably for examination.

Inspecting the Roads.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—General Hamilton, commissioner of railroads, left for the West yesterday to make his annual tripod inspection of the property of the bonded Pacific railroads. Work will be commenced at Omaha. The books and the accounts of the Union Pacific and the central branch of the Union Pacific have been examined by Rieton by bookkeeper E. C. Storm, who also examined those of the Sioux City and Pacific, in Chicago, and of the Central Pacific, in San Francisco. The accounts due the government for 1893 under the provisions of the Thurman act have been found to be in excess of the receipts for the previous year, notwithstanding the industrial depression.

SECRETARY CARLISLE'S LETTER.

To the Acting Chairman of the Finance Committee.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Secretary Carlisle's is as follows:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Office of the Secretary,
Washington, D. C., Aug. 15, 1894.

Hon. Isham G. Harris, acting chairman Finance committee:

Dear sir:—Your letter advising me that the House of Representatives has passed and sent to the Senate bills putting sugar, coal, iron ore and barbed wire on the free list and requesting an official statement as to the effect the passage of these bills of either of them would have upon the revenue of the government, is received, and in response, I have the honor to say that according to the most careful estimates that can be made of the proposed revenue legislation which has recently passed the two Houses of Congress, the total receipts into the treasury during the current fiscal year will be as follows:

Estimated revenues for fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, from duties on imports, Senate bill, including $45,000,000 on sugar, $170,000,000 from internal taxes, whisky $65,000,000, tobacco, $13,000,000, fermented liquors $20,000,000; income tax, $15,000,000; miscellaneous $100,000, paying extra $1,000,000, miscellaneous, $300,000; total internal taxes $170,000,000; from sale of public lands and other miscellaneous sources, $30,000,000; total estimated revenues, $378,000,000. The estimated receipts for the present year from the proposed tax on incomes and playing cards and the proposed additional tax of 20 cents per gallon on distilled spirits are, it will be observed, much less than is stated in the various tabulated statements which have heretofore been sent in the discussion of these subjects, but I am satisfied the amounts here given are approximately correct.

The proposed income tax will not be payable by the income or the gross receipts prior to the 1st of January, 1895, which is the close of the fiscal year, and it is estimated by the comptroller of internal revenue that by reason of the large sums of money the receipts from the tax on playing cards will not amount to more than $1,000,000 during this year. The estimated increase of receipts on account of the additional tax on distilled spirits during the present year has already been prejudiced to a great extent by withdrawing large quantities of goods from the bonded warehouses and the payment of the tax thereon at 90 cents per gallon, and this process is still going on. The total expenditures during the current fiscal year will be as follows:

Civil and miscellaneous, including deficiency in postal revenues, $86,000,000; army, including rivers and harbors, $46,000,000; navy, including new war vessels, $26,000,000; Indians, $10,000,000; pensions, $141,000,000; interest, $26,000,000. Total expenditures, $346,000,000. Estimated revenues for year, $378,000,000. The only known payment to the Pacific railroad, according to information in the Treasury during the fiscal year 1895, will be an annual revenue of $45,716,398, and the duties on the other articles mentioned in your communication would yield under that bill, about $1,000,000, that is to say, lumber, $100,000; coal, $500,000; barbed wire, $100,000; iron ore, $300,000; total, $1,000,000. The duty on steel, when imported for the manufacture of barbed wire fencing, about $200,000.

It will be seen therefore that if sugar is placed on the free list, in expectation of cutting the present fiscal year and raising the receipts of the national treasury, the effort will be $37,716,398, not including any extraordinary amount of the balance of the payment of $2,900,000 to Pacific railroad bonds, which will mature this fiscal year.

In view of the existing and prospective requirements, I think it would not be safe to place all the articles enumerated in your letter, or even sugar alone, upon the free list without imposing a tax upon other articles sufficient to make the amount to equal about $37,000,000. I have the honor to be, Very respectfully yours,

J. G. CARLISLE, Secretary.

The secretary sent the following to his letter:

NOTE.—The bonds of the Pacific railroad guaranteed by the government in the amount of $2,000,000, matured during the present fiscal year and the amount is not included in the above estimate of expenditures.

Further Tariff Plans.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The Republican steering committee today decided to support the motion to refer the four supplemental tariff bills to the Finance committee, and seek to amend them in various ways, the principal amendment being for the repeal of the tariff bill just passed. They count upon the votes of Hill, Gorman, Blackburn, Allen and Kyle. If the repeal amendment should fail they would seek to substitute a bounty provision for the pending bill for free sugar and would expect to secure the votes of these five senators, except Hill. They would also offer numerous other amendments in certain contingencies, to enable one to vote for only one bill. They admit that the sugar bill would pass with an amendment providing either for a bounty or for the repeal of the main bill. The House probably would refuse to accept it and it would doubtlessly fail in conference, but they claim that the Senate, especially the Republican senators, would not be responsible for that result.

IN CONGRESS.

The Free Sugar Bill Referred to the Finance Committee.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Harris's motion to refer the free sugar bill to the committee on finance was carried in the Senate today. The free coal, iron and barbed wire bills were referred.

Senator Harris, acting chairman of the committee, informed the members that a meeting would be held for the consideration of the supplemental tariff bills at 2:00 today. He hoped to be able to report them tomorrow.

EXTRAORDINARY JAPS.

Editors and Dramatic Advocates the Conquest of China.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—A dispatch to the Times from Shanghai says that Japan is pouring fresh troops into Corea and upwards of 30,000 Japanese soldiers are now in Corean territory. The Chinese fleet, according to the same dispatch, is remaining inactive. In Japan the war fever is intense, the press and popular orators preaching to the excited people vastly ambitious schemes, including the conquest of China, or at least the occupation of the Chinese province Manchuria. The Japanese populace and press are under complete official control. Patriotism prevails among the short sighted. The Japanese government editors complete secrecy in respect to all military movements.

Salisbury's Successor.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Judge Caldwell, of the United States circuit court, on motion of Wheeler H. Peckham, representing the Union Trust company of New York, as trustee, bid three parties to the grand consolidated mortgage of Albert P. Walker, receiver of the Atchison property in the place of J. W. Reinhart, resigned. Walker has long been prominent in the railroad world. He was appointed by Cleveland, one of the original members of the interstate commerce commission in 1887. In 1889 he resigned to become chairman of the Interstate Commerce railway association and later accepted the chairmanship of the Western Traffic association.

AN OUTLAW SHOT DEAD.

He Fell Near the Spot Where He Had Killed an Indian.

FORT GIBSON, I. T., Aug. 16.—The notes outlaw, John Fields, rode into Braggs, near here, and Deputy Sheriff Johnson attempted to arrest him. Fields tried to kill Johnson, but Lazapatod fired two shots and Fields fell dead within a few feet of where he killed Bird Ore, the Overman, for which he was serving a fifteen years' sentence at Tahlequah, when he escaped two months ago.

Importation of California Fruit.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—California fruit is coming in the market more nearly than ever before. Last week the receipts were 110 cars and on Saturday (10 Monday 40 cars were received, of which 20 were sold. Yesterday's sales were 25 cars. It is expected that this week's receipts will aggregate 200 cars.

The exportation of California fruit is having its first practical test upon a large scale. On August 8 a train of eleven cars of fruit left Sacramento, consigned to London, and this shipment was dispatched today by the Cunard Paris. Fruit dealers here predict that the fruit will not stand the voyage so as to be marketable on reaching London.

Million Can Be on the Pleasure.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—In the supreme court of Kings county today Judge Barrett decreed that Lillian Russell, until next October, may perform, act or do what she pleases in Europe or elsewhere under any management. The decision was rendered in an action brought by Conroy and Leister to compel Miss Russell to live up to a contract she made with them, as her managers, for the season of 1894-5.

Investigating the Strike.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—The first witness called before the government strike committee today was W. H. Lovejoy, a Rock Island railroad employe from La Salle, Ill. Lovejoy declared that the men at La Salle went out at that point because he was unjustly discharged.

Secretary Kellner, of the A. R. U., corroborated Lovejoy on the stand. He submitted telegraphed statements of the troubles leading to the strike and was questioned closely regarding the conversation at which the boycott was discussed.

Bitten by a Rattle Snake.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 16.—Al Bagwell, a prominent young merchant of Gadsden, while out hunting shot a bird and when about to pick it up from the place, was bitten on the arm by a rattle snake. He hurried home, but died a few hours later, after suffering great agony. His body swelled to almost twice its normal size before death.

Natives in Arms—A Serious Position Feared.

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Aug. 16.—Advices from Samoa, August 10, say that several thousand armed natives continue to entrenchment within rifle shot of the government fence. No serious engagement has taken place yet and only a few skirmishes have been killed. Serious trouble is anticipated in the district of Apia the town been neglected. Complaints of Chinese are frequently heard. FOREIGNERS IN JAPAN.

The Government Proposes Changes in Existing Treaties.

YOKOHAMA, Japan, Aug. 15.—Notice has been issued that the revision of the treaties between Japan and the foreign powers will be taken in hand forthwith. The essential features of the revision will be that foreigners will not have the right of trial in their own consular courts. The government will confine no foreigners certain privileges in regard to the tenure of land and settlement rights. Foreigners are greatly concerned, being strongly of the opinion that the time has not arrived when their interests can be left to the Japanese government.

TEXAS DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 16.—At one o'clock this morning the Cleveland Democracy, headed by George Clark, jumped into the saddle in Texas and renewed the free coinage 16 to 1, 1892 by a vote of 351 to 405. The platform presented by the minority was adopted. Had the majority gone over, at the ratio of 16 to 1, would have adopted there is probability that the straightout Cleveland men would have bolted the convention and it is said that many free silver men from New York against their convictions in the interest of harmony.

When the convention assembled at 12:30 o'clock today, Governor Hogg for a S. Reed from Jasper H. Hogan withdrawing from the race for governor, declaring that he had made no overtures for the issue of the silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and he would not accept nomination on the platform adopted if given to him. He said, however, he would support the ticket that shall be nominated. The House proceeded to the nominations for governor. At the beginning of the first ballot John D. McCall withdrew, making the race between Culberson and Lanham.

Hogan's votes were largely thrown to Culberson and when he had received over 500 votes, Lanham's name was withdrawn. Culberson was nominated by acclamation.

THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—There was a more quorum of the members present today when the speaker called the House to order. The deficiency appropriation bill was taken up.

CARNOT AVENGED.

His Assassin Publicly Executed Early This Morning.

TREMBLING AT ETERNITY'S DOOR.

Vast Crowds View the Execution—The Anarchist's Last Defiant Exclamation.

LYONS, Aug. 16.—The Republic of France avenged the death of the beloved president at 4:55 this morning at which hour Santo was guillotined in the public square. With the cry of "Vive Ravachol" on his lips the head of the trembling assassin was severed from the body by the keen blade and another anarchist had died for a murderous cause.

There were no unusual demonstrations attending the execution.

The news of the decision to execute Santo in the early morning spread rapidly, notwithstanding the efforts to keep it secret. The wheelings and the restaurants in the vicinity were crowded all the evening with people who wanted to witness the execution.

However, these people were compelled to leave their places of vantage as the tavern keepers had orders to close their doors at that hour and the streets leading to the prison were occupied by troops.

Santo had to walk fifty yards from his cell to the scaffold, which was in the square facing the prison.

When the preparations of Abbier had been completed, he twice the guillotine and commanded it to be ready.

He was sick whenever the troops had cleared the ground the gendarmes when suddenly arrived the square and the streets near by were cleared. Escorted by a squad of gendarmes, the executioner and his aids were seen to the prison at 4:35.

M. Risa, the governor of the prison, announced Santo saying to him:

"Courage, the hour has arrived."

The condemned man with a great effort, raised himself, his face turned livid and his necks and limbs trembled so violently double he allowed to appear nervous or to be his face. The trembling continued until the last moment. He could hardly stand and his limbs were so weak that he had to be held up. The executioners were just on him with the wicket, fifty seconds.

In reply to the question whether he would have breakfast, Santo continued either food or drink. He also refused religious consolation. At last Santo was not out of his cell by the guillotine. His face was deadly pale. As he was being fastened down he cried: "Vive Ravachol!"

Asked whether he desired to speak to the judges, he replied in the negative. He also declined to see his counsel.

"Have you any last wishes to communicate?" he was asked.

"No," he answered, "only send my letters to my mother."

When Governor Risa spoke to Santo of his mother the condemned man's eyes filled with tears, and he nearly choked with emotion. He soon regained his habitual indifference, although still pallid and trembling.

From this moment he said nothing more.

When he was strapped into the wagon he was in a most pitiable condition. His knees shook together and his teeth chattered. He no longer appeared like a human, but a being half dead with terror.

The command to "fix bayonets" was now sounded from squadron to squadron of troops, while murmurs arose from the ever-growing crowd.

Dubier ordered the wagon and the officials issued from the prison at 4:50 o'clock. At the command to "present arms" and "draw swords" the wagon issued from the building and took up a place on the left side of the guillotine. The condemned man was groaning. The priest approached Santo, who pretended not to see him.

When Santo appeared, walking with extreme difficulty, his open shirt displaying his pale breast, frail and bony, his eyes were fixed on the guillotine and then wandered to the troops and the crowd.

He uttered the cries "Courage my comrades!" "Vive Ravachol!" but the sound issued feebly from his closed teeth and was scarcely audible beyond the troops.

The words were hardly uttered when Santo was seized and pushed toward the lunette. He made a feeble struggle and fell. The weight was much too light, and his executioners were compelled to raise him and thrust him forward.

At last Dubier pressed the handle and released the knife. A sharp, short sound announced the severance of the head, a spurt of blood spattered the wagon, the head fell into a basket of sawdust and the body was pulled into a coffin.

Blanck, standing near the crowd, where he could see the last loan in the tragedy exclaimed:

SANTO'S EXECUTION.

Well-Dressed Ladies Crowd to View the Horror.

LYONS, Aug. 16.—The execution of Caserio Santo will take place at 4:45 (o'clock daylight, was witnessed by a great number of people. The houses in the vicinity were crowded with ladies (elegantly dressed). The roof tops and every place of vantage were thronged. Fashion prices were paid for places in the windows overlooking the spot where the guillotine was erected. The place of execution is on the place of the union of the Saône and Rhône rivers, with the prison on one side, the gendarme barracks on another side and a large wall on the third, and a tree. Santo was barefoot and wore a dark colored shirt open at the neck. The guillotine was erected. This fortunate was guarded by a squadron of cuirassiers and another detachment was stationed in the Bellecourt. Four hundred men of the Ninety-eighth regiment of the line, in addition to the police and gendarmes, formed a cordon around the place of execution. All accounts from those near the scaffold at the last moment agree as to Santo's cowardly behavior.

IS WELLS'S MONEY THERE?

That Is Just What Justice Lochrie is Making an Effort to Ascertain.

In Justice Lochrie's court recently Addison Mawson et al obtained judgment against F. L. Wells et al in the sum of $205.35 and $1.75 costs. It has not been satisfied yet, and inasmuch as Wells formed one of the crowd implicated in the horse-shooting match, the Justice has asked Chief of Police Pratt to appear before him at 2:30 this afternoon for examination in regard to certain moneys which he has in his possession, and which is part of the proceeds of the scheme. The object is to ascertain whether any portion of this belongs to Wells that might be applied upon the judgment. Justice Lochrie issued the execution against the Wells' horse to day on judgment.

T. N. Olsen's Illness.

For the past day or two various rumors have been afloat as to the condition of Mr. T. N. Olsen of the Z. C. M. I. grocery department. Inquiry into the extent was to the effect that he was ill in a critical state, though his friends of whom there are a number have not yet given up hope for his recovery.

WHOSE WAGON IS IT?

A Half Hidden Vehicle Which Bears the Marks of Vandals.

The police have discovered in the fields, near Eleventh South and Fifth East streets, partially covered with hay, the running gear of a wagon. How they got there or to whom they belong is not known as yet. They are believed to have been hidden there by a gang of roughnecks who presumably ran them off the premises of the owner and continued their "run" by stripping all of the spokes out and otherwise rendering the vehicle useless. The gears are painted yellow, and that fact may lead to an identification of them.

The Notorious Mahoney.

P. J. Mahoney, a twice convicted forger, who recently gained considerable additional notoriety by writing to Attorney General Olney concerning certain alleged irregularities at the penitentiary was released at Ogden today as the successor of Chief of Police Pratt, who has been for obtaining money under false pretenses. It is stated that he has a score or more victims in the county south of the city. A bail bond officer went up to the Junction city this afternoon to bring him down for trial.

MORE OF THE GAME.

A Supplemental Contract in the "Shoe and Arrow Honey Business" Found.

There was another sensational development today in the "shoe and arrow honey game," which was nipped in the bud, and of which so much has already been said. It came with the finding of a supplemental contract entered into the night before the eventful raid was made and a short time previous to the division of the "swag," as stockholder Wells calls it.

The original contract, as published in the NEWS last evening, closed as follows, but not with the signatures as now with given, which are shown in the newly discovered document.

Witness our hands and seals this 7th day of August, A. D. 1894.

Signed: A. Lazapatod,
Al Young,
By W. H. Ellis agent,
Albert Wells,
Frank Anderson and
Albert H. P. Wells.

J. Frank Bellers,
Witness to A. Lazapatod.

W. H. Ellis,
J. A. Bell,
Witness to all other signatures.

All bets assigned below are made on the conditions, rules and regulations of the above contract.

A. Lazapatod,
Albert Wells.

Then comes the following words with a pen mark above and underneath: "W. H. Ellis to Albert Wells, $1000."

The undersigned parties hereby agree to show Wednesday evening, August 15th, 1894, at 8 o'clock, the horse and arrow to be shot on the morning. And the winner pay forty dollars cash on the day to show, and pay forty dollars all the money bet on the match.

A. Lazapatod,
Albert Wells,
H. P. Wells.

The most astounding thing in this additional agreement is the apparent fact that Pratt, the former and at least $1,000 bet on the result of the shooting contest. Chief Pratt denied yesterday to news that the "horses" that was given enough to wager his money in a direction diametrically taken from that of the horse would stand a very slim show to get the cash back, and that Pittman had chosen a Territorial and United States statute the penalty of which "rip with some more and prevailed" in his favor. The chief states that more arrests would be made this afternoon and that before he got through there would be some very match sorry good people in town.

THE MORE IN.

Daniel G. Stone and Charles W. Peck, the two of the defendants, were taken before Commissioner Pratt the evening and bond was fixed in the sum of $2,000 each pending their preliminary hearing. The same names mentioned in society Peck has given the [illegible] has been set at Bertha. No other arrests had been made up to a point, but they are looked for.

There was to be 1st nine name, that of John H. Stone, which should be omitted, as that worthy gentleman is not a survivor, having joined in on the other side of the veil.

One party visited the Omaha and Grant smelters, another the city park and Capitol hill, and another division Manhattan Beach, Elitch gardens and Highlands. No unusual incidents occurred during the rides.

At the Coliseum last night, thousands of wheelmen assembled to hear the greetings of the city and the Denver Wheel club and responses from visitors. Judge H. Brown spoke for the wheel club, and called attention to the fact that Denver was before wheelmen as the head of the tenderloin. Mayor Van Horn spoke felicitous words of welcome on behalf of the city, which speech were received with applause. Then came were calls for visiting wheelmen and a number responded. A concert and general reception followed, during which a number of the stereopticon views of Colorado scenery were shown.

A. Davis et al vs F. E. Snyder. Leave granted to amend affidavit, complaint and summons.

THE CASE FOR A DIVORCE.

Edward D. Salter vs Alice Salter is the title of a motion divorce suit filed today on the docket in the Third district court. The petition intervenor of Commerce, state of Washington, is Joseph Ellis, sued. They were married in Salt Lake City, Utah, and lived together until about Feb. 1894, when, complaining the unlawfulness of her marriage vows, the defendant left her husband, to be single, without any justification. There are no children. Attorney Kroeger is Mr. Salter's attorney.

The next suit is filed by Isabella Simpson against Robert Simpson. The marriage took place at Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, on June 6th, 1874. Mrs. Simpson complains that within the past year her husband has been guilty of cruel treatment towards her. She mentions, particularly, that on July 20th and August 2nd he applied "vile and foul epithets" to her, and has on other occasions used "insulting, slanderous, menacing and profane language." For more than a year he has, she says, wilfully neglected to provide her with the common necessaries of life because of his idleness, profligacy and dissipation, and has compelled her to live on her own earnings and those of their children, of whom there are now living John, aged 19; Joseph, aged 18; George, aged 14; William, aged 11; Annie, aged 8; Maggie, aged 7, and Robert, aged 2 years.

In addition to the decree of divorce plaintiff asks for the custody of these minor children and that the defendant be required to pay $10 per month permanent alimony. Mr. C. C. Richards is Mrs. Simpson's attorney.
