BREVITIES.
Belmont's picture gallery is valued at $500,000.
No people are so truly proud as the modest.
Civility that has no soul in it, is but a mockery.
One glove firm in Paris employs 12,000 operatives.
Taste is pursued at a less expense than fashion.
The London Postoffice delivers 1,730,000 letters per week.
Savannah boasts itself the healthiest city in the country.
In Minnesota the bug crop is larger than the potato crop.
A white magpie was recently shot near Liege, Belgium.
It would be well for loquacious persons to keep their word.
Submission is the footprint of faith in the pathway of sorrow.
Descend a step in choosing a wife, and mount a step in choosing a friend.
There is less legislation and less crime in Vermont than in any other State in the Union.
A little good change in the weather is nothing to a little good change in the pocket.
The most exuberant economist turns easily into the most inveterate censor.
Milk sells for two and a half cents a quart in Connecticut. It sells for 20 cents in Utah T.
A harrier should cultivate a good temper if he would succeed as a cross-examiner.
Consistency is a jewel, but not one which is in much fashionable demand for wearing.
When a man is saddled with a bad wife, there is sure to be "stir ups" in the family.
It is not the quantity of the meat, but the cheerfulness of the guests, which makes the feast.
Man wastes his mornings in anticipating his afternoons, and his afternoons in regretting his mornings.
George B. Bood, of Somerset, Mass., weighs 332 lbs. His age is 69, and he has kept a grocery store in the village 46 years.
Nothing so much destroys our peace of mind as to hear another express an intention to give us a piece of his.
The entertainment of the Chinese Embassy by the city authorities of Boston cost about $15,000.
There are times when none of us would be found at home by any friend, if it were not for the fear of being found out.
An English dairyman says that the materials for butter tubs should be well soaked in boiling water before being manufactured.
If you and your sweetheart vote upon the marriage question, you for it and she against it, don't flatter yourself as to its being a tie.
John Stuart Mill is likely to be defeated in Westminster. The majority of the newly enfranchised in that constituency are "stupid and gluttonous" men, who cannot appreciate the great philosopher.
There are 29 cardinals, 23 patriarchs, archbishops and bishops, 1,372 priests, 790 seminaries, 2,497 monks, 2,191 nuns, 4,602 Jews and Jewesses, and 488 Protestants in Rome. Unfortunate Rome!
It is reported that in consequence of the limited supply, silks will be scarce this fall and winter.
By destroying the weeds on one rod of land this season, you will save doing it on an acre next.
Ristori writes to an Italian paper that civilization is quite advanced in the United States, and that, were it not for the climate, this country would be the finest in the world.
American hay will not be permitted to enter England except under government license from London.
The most laconic will on record is that of a man who died in 1789. It runs thus: "I have nothing; I owe a great deal—the rest I give to the poor."
The Duc d'Aumale has offered Henri Rochefort, the spirited editor of the Lanterne, his house at Wickenham, England, for a permanent residence.
Governor Fenton, of New York, is said to have a beautiful young niece who has been three times divorced, and for the fourth time is engaged to be married.
P. T. Barnum has recently imported from Holland a herd of cows. They are jet black, except a white stripe like a blanket around their middles. They are said to be excellent milkers.
Everything useful or necessary is cheapest; walking is the most useful exercise, water the best drink, and plain food the most nourishing and healthy diet; even in knowledge, the most useful is the easiest acquired.
Swearing on the Bible was first introduced into judicial proceedings by the Saxons, about A.D. 900. It was called a corporal oath, because the witness touched with his hand some part of the Holy Scriptures.
One who mourns over the good old times, says: "Sixty years ago, almost every house in New England had its spinning wheel and loom. Now there is hardly a person there under thirty years old that ever saw a spinning wheel. No young girl was then fit to be married who had not made a dozen cheeses. If that were the condition now, every house would be a nunnery."
