INTERVIEWING LETTERS.

Governor Thomas Has Sent Out to the States.

WORLD'S FAIR TO-DAY.

Uniformity of State Laws Recommended by the American Bar Association.

The subjoined communication and list that the sheep bill be vetoed has been received by Governor Thomas:

Provo, Utah, Feb. 16, 1892.

To the Hon. Arthur L. Thomas, Governor Territory of Utah, Salt Lake, Utah:

DEAR SIR—Permit me to ask you to veto (sic) H. B. 60, for as a practical sheep grower and sheep manager for many years, and from the geography of the country, I am positively say that should such bill become a law it would entirely ruin the sheep industry and wool growing in Utah, for the simple reason (as needed within my own place of my own) it would be impossible to keep the sheep on any range, or in any county, or in any state, and it would simply be to say that all sheep must be driven out of the Territory of Utah, or else go miles from any range or water in Utah.

The word "herd" is placed in the bill which has no meaning, as cattle, horses and sheep, because cattle and horses are herded, and sheep are herded as a flock, for sheep must be herded and range so as need for no one sheep way.

The intention of the bill is (and is a good one) to maintain a corral in the purpose of dipping or washing sheep, and dipping vats or where the dipping will when into the mountains among rock, because sheep should be herded in order to keep their wools in place so as to prevent any bedoiling of our mountain streams, but to say one mile would be absurd.

Therefore I humbly ask that should such bill be presented to you for the good of the wool growing industry, you will unconditionally power your official veto to the same, as the passage of such measure should it become a law, that it would result in driving from our Territory an industry that brings thousands every year, and primarily for wool and mutton, besides adding our wool clearer the winter months, and we are parties to bring every cheap grazing.

I remain, very respectfully yours,
D. T. CLARK.

OF WORLD'S FAIR INTEREST.

The following is from the Treasury department of the World's Fair:

Governor A. L. Thomas, Salt Lake City, Utah:

GOVERNOR—I have the honor to request that this department be furnished with such information as may be required relating the purpose of your state being represented at the Treasury building in the Columbian exhibit, a good exhibit of your resources and development.

In this building will be shown illustration of industry, timber, the extent of power, their condition, development, and as general as possible, the extent and condition of such as exhibit as will call attention to the mineral resources, development and wealth of your Territory. This building will also contain exhibits of the same character from a number of foreign countries represented and from the Dominion of Canada, as well as from some foreign countries. Will you please answer, over the signature of your office, and advise me as requested above? Very respectfully yours,

CHAS. FOSTER,
Chief Department of Agriculture, Chicago Department of Treasury.

AS TO STATE LAWS.

The American Bar Association has addressed the following signed by the president of that association here, to the Governor:

February 15th, 1892.

To the Governor of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah:

SIR—At the last meeting of the American Bar Association, held at Boston, a resolution was adopted, a copy of which is inclosed herein. This was unanimously, representing the organization of associations of lawyers from each state in the United States, as has been already done in New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Delaware, and the following resolution was then adopted:

"Resolved, That the association recommends the passage by each state and by Congress for the Territories and the District of Columbia, of such act or acts as shall be substantially passed by the States of New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Michigan, Rhode Island and Delaware, for the uniformity of uniform State laws, and pledges its officers and members in every county, state, and in the District of Columbia and Territories, to use their best efforts to secure such legislation."

Resolved, That the secretary of this association be, and hereby is, directed to transmit a copy of the foregoing report and resolution to the governor of each state and Territory, to the members of the general council from each state and Territory and the District of Columbia, and to the members of the executive committee of this association, with a request that each state or Territory shall be authority of legislation, with a view to secure to each of the members of the general council from each state and Territory, the passage of such measures as may seem to make personal efforts to induce the passage of such act, you will be able to provide for the appointment of commissioners authorized State legislation to cooperate with those of other states.

In compliance therewith, I send herewith a copy of that report with the request that you will endeavor to secure the passage of such legislation.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD OTIS HINCKLEY,
Secretary.

Personal.

Deputy Marshal McGarry, of Beaver, is in the city.

Joseph F. Griffith, well known shoemaker from Nephi, is registered at the White House.

J. E. W. Hawkins, of Springville, is at the Knutsford.

Paul Wallace, of Los Angeles, California, is stopping at the White House.

H. J. Newton, a Denver railroad man, is at the Templeton.

W. A. Carter, a prominent Wyoming stockman, is at the Knutsford.

Professor Sanborn, of the Agricultural College of Logan, is at the Clifton.

Thomas Cornell, an enterprising mining city citizen is in Salt Lake.

J. A. Fitzgerald, of Provo, is in Salt Lake on business.

H. A. Johnson, the former Pacific line agent of the Union Pacific, is in Salt Lake again.

Mr. Charles D. Mer, brother of Col. R. C. Mer, has temporarily confined his business to Little Rock on a brief visit with his brother's mother. They reside at Denver and are in their way to the Pacific coast.

Office Al Ross has been made happy by the recent arrival in this city of his children of his mother, Mrs. Jennie Wormser, who he had not seen for a period of more than fifteen years. The meeting was of the more pleasant because it was entirely unexpected.

GARFIELD BEACH

That Famous Health Resort to be Improved—Local Rails.

As usual, the News summer visitor, the Deseret News, in the east is doing good work for the Garfield Beach Company.

Two hundred and fifty new cottages are now will be added to those now in use. When complete there will be a total of 375.

Fresh water wells will be driven along the shore and the water conducted in pipes to the dressing rooms. In addition to these new features there will be other valuable and attractive improvements made. It has been decided to spend at least $15,000 on the resort. This action by the company will be much appreciated by the general public.

Traveling Passenger Agent H. B. Sheppard of the Chicago and Alton, with headquarters at Denver, is at the Templeton.

Very best memorandum books are being scattered broadcast by the agents of the Colorado Midland.

H. A. Johnson, who was at one time general freight agent of the Gulf Division of the Union Pacific, has now gone to work for the Rio Grande Western, in this city.

Amusement Notes.

The Theatre was crowded last night, when the celebrated Hanlon Brothers presented for the first time in this city their great spectacular pantomime "Superba," and the performance was thoroughly enjoyed by everybody. "Superba" opens to the view of the spectator all the wonders of a supposed fairy land. The mechanicians of "Aladdin Nights" and similar features are surpassed in this production. Scenic illusions, acrobatic display, pretty ballets, mechanical tricks and humorous humor are cleverly blended together so as to keep the interest of the audience at its highest from the beginning to the end. It was generally conceded that this pantomime is one of the best ever seen here.

"Superba" will be presented again tonight. Tomorrow night closes the engagement.

WONDERLAND.

A good programme is prepared for this week. In the Theatorium "From the British" will be presented by the stock company. In the curio hall several interesting novelties are exhibited. Wonderland is a place of amusement to which everybody can go and always find something entertaining.

A Protest.

Editor Deseret News:

Allow me space in your columns to bring before the notice of the public an injurious case to residents of mill sites by managers of some flouring mills in this city employing to the general public their flour, bran, shorts, in small or large quantities, at the same figures and on the same terms as they do to bankrupts, who have to "pay a license, make a living out of their business and pay rent and other expenses. It is now time that storekeepers who live in mill sites took this matter up, and tried to find a remedy. By starting some kind of agitation to stop this grand mistake method of business. I have been my experience to have customers tell me that they can buy milleratuffs at the mill for the same figures that they charge storekeepers, and I know it to be the fact that some of the mills do this sort of thing. They will even sell flour ten cents worth of other stores, upwards, to the public, which ought surely to be above the dignity of a mill making any pretension of being a business house. I hope this will have the effect of bringing to the notice of other storekeepers the kind of trade done by some mills.

A STOREKEEPER.

Cache Stake of Zion.

Editor Deseret News:

In November last I made a thorough tour of the Cache Stake, visiting all its wards and settlements, for the purpose of obtaining matter for Church history and giving instructions in regard to the keeping of records, etc. I held meetings in all the wards and had a good and pleasant time generally.

The Cache Stake is one of the largest and most prosperous of all the Stakes of Zion now organized. It embraces twenty-five wards, with a total membership of 15,148 souls or 2,780 families. This includes two Apostles, three Patriarchs, 505 Seventies, 422 High Priests, 1,323 Elders, 245 Priests, 207 Teachers, 208 Deacons, 1,581 baptisms and 1181 children under eight years of age.

Orson Smith of Logan presides over the Stake with Simeon G. Moles, of Hyrum, and Isaac Smith, of Logan, as his counselors.

Logan, the Temple city of Northern Utah, and one of the most beautiful and desirable spots in the Rocky Mountains, is divided into seven wards, each presided over by a Bishop and two counselors. Logan is 101 miles by rail, or about eighty miles by modern wagon road northeast of Salt Lake City, and eighteen miles south of the boundary line between Utah and Idaho. It was first settled in 1859.

Logan First ward embraces the central part of Logan, extending three blocks from north to south and four miles east and west. It includes the Tabernacle, Temple and the main business part of the city. Benjamin Marsh Lewis is the Bishop, and the ward contains 603 souls, or ninety-four families.

Logan Second ward includes the western part of the north half of Logan City, it has a total membership of 555, divided into 107 families, and can boast of the most commodious and most beautiful meeting house in Logan, the Tabernacle, of course, excepted. Bishop Thomas X. Smith presides over the ward, with Isaac Smith as his counselor.

Logan Fifth ward lays in the northeast part of Logan City and embraces within its boundaries the Temple and the Agricultural College. The ward includes 129 or 124 families, William Hyde is bishop.

Logan Sixth ward, embraces the lower portion of the southwest part of what is known locally as Logan island, which is situated immediately south of the original site of the city. The ward numerical strength of this ward is 548 souls or 102 families, presided over by Bishop Amos L. Blackburn.

Logan Seventh ward, presided over by Bishop Christian J. Larson, one of the first missionaries in the Scandinavian mission, embraces the south east part of Logan island, and has 495 members or 97 families.

Providence ward embraces the town of Providence, which may be considered a suburb of Logan, lying only two miles south of same, just across the Logan River. The membership of this ward is 785, or 153 families, and Providence Thawter is the Bishop. Providence was first settled in 1859, a large portion of the present inhabitants are Germans and Swiss.

Millville ward consists of the town of Millville and contiguous settlements in Cache Valley. It numbered four schools of Logan, situated one from Providence, has a membership of 705, or 141 families, and is presided over by Bishop Geo. O. Pitkin, who for several years served as acting President of the Cache Stake. Millville was first settled in 1859.

Hyrum ward contains the incorporated city of Hyrum, which is pleasantly situated on a series of rolling hills eight miles southwest of Logan. It was first settled in 1859, and a large proportion of the present inhabitants are Scandinavians. John F. Wright presides here as Bishop, and his ward is the largest in the Cache Stake of Zion, as it contains 1555 souls, or 291 families.

Paradise ward embraces the town of Paradise, which is situated in the south end of Cache Valley, twelve miles south of Logan, or five miles southwest of Hyrum. The ward which is presided over by Bishop Samuel Oldham, has 555 families or 109 souls. The present town of Paradise was first settled in 1856, but an older town of the same name lasted about 1860.

Avon ward embraces the extreme south end of Cache County including Old Paradise and the settlers living on a small but condition strip of land and south forks of Paradise Creek, also known locally as the Muddy or Little Bear River. Same also includes within its bounds the quaint mining town La Plata, which is situated in the mountains about fifteen miles southeast of the town of Avon. Avon ward, or old Paradise, which is two and a half miles southeast of the present Paradise, of fourteen and a half miles south of Logan, was first named after the birthplace of William Shakespeare (Stratford-on-Avon, in Warwickshire, England). The ward, which was first organized July 5th, 1891, contains 58 members or 11 families, and is presided over by Bishop Henry W. Jackson.

Wellsville, the oldest settlement in Cache Valley (dating back to 1857), is located in the west side of Cache Valley, ten miles southwest of Logan. It is an incorporated city. The total membership of the ward is 1241 or 250 families. Jesse Wilson is the Bishop. Wm. H. Maughan is Bishop.

College ward, recently organized with Charles G. Gunn as Bishop, embraces the southeast settlers residing on and around the old College Farm in the centre of the valley. The meeting house, situated on the main road between Logan and Wellsville, and midway between the two places, is somewhat centrally located in the ward, which has 105 families or 210 souls. The first actual settlers of this ward came in 1860, as lessees of B. Y. College lands, or more to the history of Brigham and Cache Valley dates back to 1856, when the Church first sent stock into the valley.

Mendon ward embraces the town of Mendon, which is pleasantly situated seven miles southwest of Logan, or six miles southwest of Wellsville. This place was also settled in 1859, and now contains a "Mormon" population of 305 souls, or 61 families. Henry Hughes presides here as Bishop.

Petersboro ward consists of the settled settlers living on their farms north of Mendon, on the west side of Cache Valley. Petersboro is a village where the district school house stands, is four miles southwest of Mendon and six miles southwest of Cache Valley proper. This ward, which counts eighty six members, or fourteen families, was first organized July 17, 1887, with William D. Chancey as Bishop, who still presides.

Greenville ward is an outgrowth of Logan, and consists of the settlers living in a sectional quadrant northeast of that city and northeast of Hyde Park. It was organized 1 to a ward July 29, 1888, with Nicholas W. Crookston as Bishop.

Hyde Park ward contains 363 members, or ninety-seven families, and is presided over by Bishop Robert Dalton. The town of Hyde Park is pleasantly located on the sunny side of a spur five miles southeast of Logan. It was first settled in the spring of 1864.

Smithfield is one of the largest wards in the Cache Stake, having a total membership of 1581, or 275 families. It is also an incorporated city and is considered the second in importance in the county. The people have recently completed a fine Tabernacle on the public square, built of rock, nine by ten feet by fifty wide, and thirty feet from floor to ceiling. L. Farrell, one of the early settlers in Cache Valley, is the present Bishop of Smithfield.

Richmond, which was settled in 1859, is also one of the incorporated cities of Cache County, is the most populous county of 1102 souls, divided up into 228 families, over which Dr. L. Nicholas presides as Bishop. Richmond has a picturesque location on rising ground, thirteen miles north of Logan and six miles south of the boundary line between Utah and Idaho.

Cornish ward is an outgrowth of Richmond and embraces the settlers living on Little Bear River, 7 miles north of the town of Richmond. Lewiston is the village where the meeting house is located, John G. Larsen presides as Bishop over the ward, which numbers at 235 members, or 34 souls. The place was first settled in 1871.

Lewiston ward occupies a fine tract of level, productive country lying between Bear River and Cub River, west and northwest of Richmond. The town site is five miles southwest of that settlement. Lewiston, thus named in honor of its present Bishop, was first settled in 1870, and for many years the first settlers experienced very hard times, as it took them a long time and cost them immense outlays of money to control the water of Cub River, which they turned above Franklin on to their land, but now the people are getting wealthy fast, as they take more grain in proportion than any other settlement of Cache Valley. The ward last fall numbered 595 members, or 107 families, and Will. H. Lewis, one of the first settlers of the place, is the Bishop.

Benson ward, thus named in honor of the late Apostle Ezra T. Benson, consists of the scattered settlers residing northwest of Logan and on the south side of Bear River. The centre of the ward is Benson village, the district schoolhouse stands, is about seven miles by road northwest of Logan. The ward has 117 members or 24 families, and is presided over by Bishop Henry W. Ballard.

Newton ward, presided over by Bishop Hans Peter Funk, embraces the town of Newton, which is situated on the north side of Bear River, on a fine slope facing the sun. The town site is about 400 feet above the Logan River. Newton was first settled in 1869, and now has 402 full-blooded Saints, divided into 82 families. Trenton, which formerly existed as a separate village, now is a part of Newton. The new successful bridge completed over Bear River in November, 1891, places Newton in easy communication with the railway, Cache Valley, Junction being only two miles distant across the river, by way of the bridge.

Clarkston is about five miles northwest of Newton at the foot of the mountains which separate Cache from Malad Valley. This ward has 170 members, 34 families, and was first settled in 1866, and is now presided over by Bishop John Jardine. In the Clarkston cemetery rest the remains of the only witness to the Book of Mormon who ever gathered to Utah. Steps are being taken to place a respectable monument on his grave, instead of the plain cedar post which now marks it. ANDREW JENSON.

Irrigation Convention.

An irrigation convention will be held at Las Vegas, New Mexico on the 10th of March next and the commercial club of that city is making extensive preparations for the reception and entertainment of guests from the surrounding States and Territories. La Grippe

The tendency of this disease toward pneumonia is what makes it dangerous. La Grippe requires precisely the same treatment as a severe cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of severe colds. This Remedy effectually counteracts the tendency of the disease to result in pneumonia, provided that proper care be taken to avoid exposure when recovering from the attack. Careful inquiry among the many thousands who have used this remedy during the epidemics of the past two years has failed to discover a single case that has not recovered or that has resulted in pneumonia. 50 cent and $1 bottles for sale by E.
