The Pacific Mail.

NEW YORK, 23.—The Graphic's money article contains the following: There is a great deal of gossip pro and con about the Pacific Mail. The Panama Company is not at all friendly to it and is said to be especially bitter against Mr. Hart. Some of the Panama people declare that the mail company owe them still $350,000 on overdue paper. Captain Babcock stoutly contradicts this rumor and asserts that the Pacific Mail Company has no overdue paper outstanding and has a balance in the bank of at least $100,000 in cash.

New England Society Dinner—Sherman on Specie Resumption

At the seventy-third annual dinner of the New England Society, to-night, many distinguished persons were present, among them Secretary Sherman, Secretary Evarts, Rev. Dr. Stoors, Governor VanZandt, Senator Blaine, Mr. McCosh and Dr. Potter. After the cloth was removed President Appleton gave a toast, "The day we celebrate," which was responded to by Hon. W. M. Evarts.

After referring to New England and her institutions, he said: With our hardihood, skill and industry, we are a formidable opponent in the world's competition. If we wish to build ships, let us build them; if we wish to buy ships, let us buy them. Let us enter into the harvest and reap it, but let us understand that none of these processes are to be carried on except by the same courage and self-denial which made out of the poor outcasts of the old world the great nation that we are.

Secretary Sherman, responding to the toast, "The national faith to be guarded as watchfully as the national life," said: The public faith to a nation is like courage to a man, or like chastity to a woman; it must be beyond suspicion. The nation that will not observe its public faith, when pledged, is dishonored, and ought to be stricken out from the roll of nations. Nothing can excuse a violation of the public faith except that overwhelming necessity which knows no law. All of us will agree to this axiom, but, as our Puritan fathers would say, the difficulty is in the application. Questions have arisen upon the construction of laws relating to public obligations, upon which men have honestly differed, but one thing was always clear and undisputed, that the national faith was a pledge to the payment of United States notes in coin. The time when it should be done, and this only, was a question of public policy. The public faith was pledged with the issues of the first note in March, 1862. It has been repeated by Congress by both political parties, and was made definite as to time by the resumption act. I rejoice with you that the time is near at hand when this pledge is to be fulfilled and when all our money will be kept equal in purchasing power with the best gold coin issued from the mint. It has been a hard road to travel, but when we were driven from the specie standard by the necessities of war, it was certain that we must return, and that when we did it would be with difficulty and suffering. We delayed too long the voyage; we wasted our resources in unproductive enterprises and riotous living before our people could be induced to attempt the task. Now that it is nearly accomplished, its maintenance will be easy or difficult, precisely as the business men of this country and chiefly of this city make it. Congress, hitherto doubting, waits in hopeful expectancy the maintenance of resumption. The Supreme Court, as I believe, is unanimously in favor of restoring coin as the constitutional standard of money. The President of the United States will not only enforce the resumption act but has an abiding faith in its execution. The powers vested in the Treasury department are ample to meet even an extreme emergency, but I do not anticipate any necessity for their full exercise. Coins will not largely be used in the ordinary transactions of business, but other forms of money strictly limited in amount to the sum that can safely be maintained at par with the coin, will be freely paid and accepted as money in all transactions and for all demands. The necessary confidence that will make this easy will depend very much upon men like you, who, in the great marts of trade, handle the productions of our country. If you, guarded by the public good, as well as enlightened self-interest, will support the policy of resumption, the notes of the United States, like its bonds, will travel with increasing credit the circuit of the world. These notes should be regarded not, as heretofore, as irredeemable and depreciated money, but as the coin certificates of a great nation, rich in mines, workshops and broad fields, and richer still in untarnished honor. Every man should feel that to aid in this is a matter of pride, to obstruct a just cause of reproach. You may be sure that the executive will do its full duty in maintaining resumption. It will rest with the business men of this country to make it the beginning of hopeful prosperity.

The toast, "The clergy of New England," was responded to by Rev. Dr. Storrs and Senator Blaine spoke in response to the toast, "The Pilgrim Fathers." In the course of his remarks he said: New England ought to consider what the West has done for her. It has moulded and changed and developed New England, and just as New England reacted on old England, the sons of New England who go west react upon New England, and its ideas have become more potent by the fact that the original source has been acted upon by the streams which return to it.

The Erie Pool.

It is stated that S. M. Miles does not propose making any public reply to the charges against him of foul play in the Erie pool last summer, and favors a full investigation.

A Reformed Drunkard.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., 23.—Dr. C. F. Allen, of California, formerly an abandoned drunkard, and always a remarkable orator, addressed a union meeting of all the churches here, last night, on temperance, and will continue meetings throughout the week.

Southern Outrages.

NEW ORLEANS, 23.—In West Feliciana parish, a few days ago, a negro named Cole disappeared, and subsequently the headless body of a negro was found in a cistern. No developments were made at the inquest respecting the parties who had committed the crime, nor was it proven that the body was that of Cole. The Times says that witnesses are coming every day from the parishes to lay before the grand jury stories of their grievances. Deputy Marshal V. A. Barrow, United States Supervisor of Registration and Election Y. Ernest Breda and brother, a physician, A. P. Breda, who are residents of Natchitoches, have arrived. They say they were ordered to leave and did leave Natchitoches on the 22nd of September last, that the mayor of Natchitoches, an uncle of Y. Ernest Breda, came to them and asked them to surrender; that they refused, and they were then given two hours' to leave the town, being told that unless they went, their dwelling would be attacked by 400 or 500 men, and that they would not be spared. They concluded to leave and have not been back to Natchitoches since. Mr. Breda says that he is a native of the parish of Natchitoches. The above is about the substance of the story which they will tell to the grand jury.

Revenue Raiders.

NASHVILLE, 23.—The latest reports from the revenue raiders in Fentress County are to the effect that twelve or fourteen illicit distilleries have been destroyed and ten or twelve persons arrested. The raiders are suffering with cold.

Representative Williams' Remains.

DETROIT, 23.—The remains of Representative Williams were received here to-day, and various marks of respect have been paid to the deceased. The body will lie at his late residence until to-morrow afternoon, when the funeral services will be held. All the city offices are ordered closed to-morrow.

Capture of Road Agents.

CHEYENNE, 23.—A party of road agents, named Harrington, Manuse, Ruby, Howard, Olson and "The Kid," with some stolen horses and some goods, taken from Trabing's store, near Fort McKinney, were captured, yesterday, near Rock Creek. They also had in their possession the saddle on which Deputy Sheriff Widdowford rode when killed last summer, which, in a measure, identifies the gang as that which operated in Albany and Carbon counties during last summer.

A Negro Lynched.

WILMINGTON, N. C., 23.—A negro named Davidson, charged with murder, while on his way to Statesville jail, was taken from the officers by a mob and hanged.

Troops Wanted.

WASHINGTON, 11.—The governor of Kansas has had a conference with General Sherman, and is desirous that a strong military force be stationed on the southern border of Kansas, to hold the Indians in check on the reservations. The general will comply with the desire of the governor as far as the condition of the army will permit.

No Leave of Absence.

The superintendent of the Naval Academy has decided not to grant leave of absence to the cadets during the holidays.

The Package Found.

The package of money drawn from the Treasury on Saturday for the payment of clerks in the city post office, and lost by Wm. J. Brown, was recovered this morning. The package was taken to Postmaster Edmunds' residence, and he received it upon promising to ask no questions.

The Suffering in England.

CHICAGO, 23.—The Times London special says: The uncertainty of the Anglo-Russo Indian situation at this moment receives less attention in England than the continued depression of trade and universal distress of the working classes throughout the kingdom. Relief committees are being formed, the poor law arrangements having broken down as usual under the severe strain. Unprecedently a bitter winter has set in, and with snow and frost comes the cry of hunger and starvation from women and children in every quarter of the land. The Christmas bells will be funeral chimes in many a once prosperous home.

Verdict of Acquittal.

The trial of Jim Yeel for the murder of John Ling, his partner, resulted in a verdict of acquittal, the evidence tending to show that the Chinaman was murdered by unknown negroes.

Statue Unveiled.

BOSTON, 23.—The statue of Chas. Sumner, authorized by the meeting in Faneuil Hall, in March, 1874, was unveiled, to-day, by Gov. Rice. The statue is in the public garden.

Schooner Wrecked.

DAMANCOTTA, Me., 23.—The schooner Charlie Bell was wrecked on Thrumb Cap Island, on Saturday last, and four men lost.

WESTERN.

Duncan the Forger.

SAN FRANCISCO, 23.—In the trial of J. C. Duncan for forgery of certificates of the Safe Deposit Company, the jury were unable to agree, and were discharged. It is reported to have stood eight for conviction and four for acquittal.

Chief Moses and his Warriors.

A Portland dispatch says that 100 cavalrymen, under Col. Forsyth, left Wallula by steamer, yesterday, for Priest's Rapids. It is reported that Chief Moses and several of his chosen warriors have been taken prisoners by the Yakiman volunteers. Hostilities are feared.

The "Chronicle" Libel Suit Dismissed.

In the libel suit of Dr. C. C. O'Donnell against the proprietors of the Chronicle, the court, this afternoon, dismissed the case on the ground that the truth of the article charging O'Donnell with being an abortionist had been established by the evidence adduced. The counsel for the defence at once moved that O'Donnell be held for murder, but the court declined to entertain the motion, and recommended that the matter be referred to the grand jury.

Injunction Denied.

In the suit of Bernard Lantz against the Gold and Stock Telegraph Company of California, to enjoin the defendants from removing stock indicators from the plaintiff's "bucket shop," Judge Dangerfield, of the Seventeenth District Court, denied the application for an injunction on the ground that the defendants had a right to remove their instruments at will.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Afghan Difficulty.

LONDON, 23.—General Browne telegraphs from Jelallabad on the 20th inst., as follows: "We occupied this city to-day. The inhabitants are friendly." The Calcutta notables of Jelallabad came out to meet the British troops. The Ameer left Cabul on the 10th inst.

A dispatch from Jelallabad, dated the 20th, says: Major Cavaghanari, to-day, received an important communication from the Ameer, the contents of which are not yet made public.

A dispatch from Simla says that Yakook Khan is being proclaimed king by the chiefs of the great A'ghan sections. The opinion is divided as to his future course, but the dejection of the Ameer's troops, who, at Jelallabad even joined the British, will probably compel him to accept the terms, if coupled with a guarantee against his father and Russia. This might obviate even a temporary occupation of Cabul by the British troops.

Italy's Proposition.

A Vienna dispatch states that Italy has proposed, in the event of tranquility not being re-established when the Russians evacuate Roumelia and Bulgaria, that a joint occupation be undertaken by the powers not primarily interested in the eastern question—France, Italy and Germany.

Preparations to Return.

A Berlin correspondent states that 100,000 of General Todleben's men are making preparations to return to Russia.

Bismarck and the Customs Tariff.

A Berlin dispatch says that Bismarck's letter on the revision of the customs tariff, advocates a return to the old Prussian principle of duties on all imports except raw materials indispensable for home industry, and which Germany does not produce at all, such as cotton, or such as the nation produces in insufficient quantities.

TURKEY.

Negotiations.

CONSTANTINOPLE, 23.—Negotiations will commence immediately based on the Imperial trade mentioned on the 21st inst., authorizing the Grand Vizier to conclude an arrangement respecting Novi Bazar and Bosnia on the terms proposed by the Austrians.
