Shad for the Rhine.

NEW YORK, 5.—The steamer Donan will take out to-day, a hundred thousand young shad, to be placed in the rivers Rhine under the direction of the Deutsche Fishverein.

The excursionists who accompanied C. W. Field to Iceland to attend the Millennial Celebration, report that on July the 26th they had arrived at the Faroe Islands, where they met the king of Denmark, and the whole party sailed for Iceland.

Crops in Europe.

The latest mail advices from Europe with regard to the crop prospects there, are not so good as had received. The French wheat crop is a good average one, and in Austria the prospects of a good grape and fruit crop are better.

Withdrawn.

The Gaynor libel suit against Tilton was withdrawn to-day.

"Conspicuously Inexact."

Mrs. Woodhull, in her Weekly, says that Mr. Kenealla, editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, told her that he knew all the facts in the Beecher case before she published them, and that Beecher had come to him and implored him not to make any exposure. This statement of Mrs. Woodhull was brought to the attention of Mr. Kenealla to-day, and he said that if it had been made by a man he would pronounce it a lie, but being made by a woman he would simply declare it conspicuously inexact.

Letter from Beecher to Moulton.

The following are letters written by Mr. Beecher to Moulton:

"Brooklyn, July 28.

"My Dear Friend—The committee of investigation are waiting mainly for you before closing their labors. I, too, earnestly wish that you would come and clear your mind and memory of everything that can bear on my case. I pray you also to bring all the letters and papers relating to it, which will throw any light upon it, and bring to a result this protracted case. I trust that Mrs. M. has been reinvigorated, and that her need of your care will not be so great as to detain you.

"Truly yours,
"H. W. BEECHER.

"F. D. Moulton, Esq."

"Brooklyn, Aug 4.

"F. D. Moulton, Esq.

"Sir—Your letter bearing date of August 4th, '74, is this moment received. Allow me to express my regret and astonishment that you refused me permission, even to see certain letters and papers in your possession, relating to me and the charges made against me by Theodore Tilton, and at the reasons given for a refusal. On your solemn and repeated assurances of personal friendship, and the unquestioning confidence which you inspired me in your honor and fidelity, I placed in your hands for safe keeping various letters addressed to me from brother and sister, and various other parties, also memorands of affairs not immediately connected with Mr. Tilton. I also, from time to time, addressed to you confidential notes, relating to myself, as one friend would write to another. These papers were never placed in your hands to be held for two parties, nor to be used in any way; they were to be held for me. I did not wish them to be subject to risk, loss or scattering from my careless habits in matters of preserving documents, and they were to be held for me. In so far as these papers were concerned, you were the only friendly trustee holding papers subject to my wishes. Mr. Tilton has made a deadly assault upon me, and has used letters and fragments of letters purporting to be copies of these papers. Are these extracts genuine? Are they garbled? What are the dates? What, if anything, has been left out, and what put in? You refuse my demand for these papers on various pleas, that if I speak the truth in my statement I do not need them, that if I make a successful use of them it will be injurious to Tilton, and that you, as the friend of both parties, are bound not to aid either in any act that shall injure the other. I do not desire to injure any one, but to repel injury attempted upon me, by the use of the papers committed sacredly to your care. These documents have been seen and copied, they have been hawked for sale in New York in newspaper offices. What purported to be my confidential notes to you are on the market, but when I demand a sight of the original papers, of which you are the only trustee, that I may defend myself, you refuse because you are a friend of both parties. Mr. Tilton has access to your depository for materials with which to strike me, but I am not permitted to use them in defending myself. I do not ask you to place before the committee any papers which Mr. Tilton may have given you, but I do demand that you forthwith place before the committee every paper which I have written or deposited with you. Yours truly,

"H. W. BEECHER."

Moulton says he has answered the above letter, and he expresses surprise that his answer is not given to the public as well as the letters of Mr. Beecher. Moulton stated this afternoon that he would go before the committee this evening. General Butler has been telegraphed for and will be in Brooklyn tonight; he will probably act as Tilton's counsel.

Letter from Moulton to Beecher—More Mystery.

Moulton's second letter to Beecher reads:

"My Dear Sir—

"In our acquaintance and friendship I have never received from you a letter of the tone of yours of August 4th. It seems unlike yourself, and to have been inspired by the same ill advisers who had so lamentably carried your private affairs before a committee of your church and thence before the public. In reply, I shall remind you that during the whole of the past four years, all the documents, notes and memorands which you and Mr. Tilton have entrusted to me, were held by me because they had a reference to your mutual difficulties. I hold no papers either of yours or his except such as pertain to this case. You speak of 'memorands and affairs not immediately connected with Tilton.' The matters you probably allude to, are memorands of your difficulties with Mr. Bowen; but these have direct reference to your present case with Mr. Tilton, and were deposited with me by you because of such reference. You speak also of a letter or two from your brother and sister, and I am sure you have not forgotten the apprehension which we entertained lest Mrs. Hooker should fulfil the design which she foreshadowed, to invade your pulpit and read to your congregation a confession of your intimacy with Mrs. Tilton. You speak of other papers which I hold 'subject to your wishes.' I hold none such, nor do I hold any subject to Mr. Tilton's wishes. The papers which I hold, both yours and his, were not given to be subject to the wishes of either party, but the very object of my holding them has been and still is to prevent the wish of one party being injuriously exercised against the other. You are incorrect in saying that Mr. Tilton has had access to my 'depository and materials;' on the contrary, I have refused Tilton such access during the preparation of his sworn statement. He came to me and said his case would be incomplete unless I permitted him to use all the documents, but I refused, and all he could only upon were such notes as he had made from time to time, from writings of yours which you had written to me, to be read to him, and passages which he caught from my lips in short hand. Mr. Tilton has seen only a part of the papers in my possession, and he would be more surprised to learn the entire facts of the case than you can possibly be. What idle rumors may have existed in newspaper offices I know not, but they have not come from me. In closing your letter you say, 'I do not ask you to place before the committee any papers which Mr. Tilton may have given you, but I do demand,' etc. In reply, I can only say, I can not justly place before the committee papers of one of the parties without doing the same with the papers of the other, and I cannot do this honorably, except either by a legal process compelling me, or else by the consent in writing, not only of yourself but of Mr. Tilton, with whom I shall confer on the subject as speedily as possible. You will I trust see a greater spirit of justice in this reply than you have infused into your unusual letter of August 4th.

"Very respectfully,
"FRANCIS D. MOULTON."

Want Protection.

OMAHA, 5.—Mayor Laramie, of the city of Wyoming, has telegraphed to General Ord for cavalry to protect the citizens and stock raisers there from Indians, who begin to show themselves there.

The government directors of the Union Pacific left here to-day for the west, to make their annual inspection of the road.

Damage by Storm.

ST. PAUL, 5.—A destructive hail storm visited the northwestern part of the State yesterday; much damage to the crops is reported.

Railroads Co-operating.

INDIANAPOLIS, 5.—The secretary of a recent meeting of railroad men, at Saratoga, says the meeting was called to secure co-operative action, for the interests of the railroad. The following is the substance of the resolutions adopted:

"First—Any western road may keep agents in any eastern city, providing such agent shall not be a building or contracting agent, and he shall be under the supervision of the trunk line commissioners in respect to the maintenance of rates.

"Second—Rates on freight between common competitive points, east bound, are to be established by commissioners, and rates both ways shall be devided between the lines carrying the trade on such basis as they may agree to.

"Third—Questions arising out of rates for freights carried by rail and on the lakes are to be determined by eastern and western commissioners jointly, the plan to be agreed upon by a majority each commissioner recognizing the obligation under existing contracts between the trunk lines and their organised steamboat connection on lakes, but giving the best practicable protection to all rail lines.

"Fourth—The commissioners at the several western railroad centres are to be nominated by the respective competing lines, but to be approved by all parties to the agreement. The commissioners will be located in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Louisville, St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit, and at such points as the western lines may hereafter choose. The commissioners for Cleveland and Toledo are to be appointed by the lines centering at those points. An agreement is being drawn up, to be designed by the western roads in their interest, with the exception of specific matters passed upon as above. The present contract between the New York Central and Pennsylvania Central railroads will form the basis of the agreement.
