General European Notes.

LONDON, 8.—Later returns show more Liberal gains. Three hundred Liberal gains. Three hundred Liberals have been elected, 191 Conservatives and 39 Home Rulers.

Dennis M. O'Connor and Sexton, Home Rulers, for the County Sligo—the former was re-elected, a Home Rule gain. Lord Douglass Gordon, Liberal for Huntingtonshire, succeeding Viscount Mandeville, Conservative, is elected, a Liberal gain.

Parnell, in addressing the electors of Meath, said he would resign his seat for Cork City and would never forsake Meath. He denied he had offered the representation for Meath to Ogorman.

Major Francis O'Berne, Home Ruler, and Loftus Tottenham, Conservative, are elected for Leitrim, a Conservative gain.

The Daily News says: There can be no doubt but the country has declared not only in favor of the Liberals, but for Gladstone as the Chief of the Government. If the Queen does not send for Gladstone the first thing, Lord Granville or the Marquis of Hartington, or whoever receives the royal commission, must wait on Gladstone.

Eighteen hundred pitmen of the South Helton and Murton collieries, Durham, struck in consequence of managers refusing to put out the usual average box, showing each man's earnings. As the men will be restricted in their labors for the next fortnight, so the earnings will be below the county average.

The Emperor has replied by the following Cabinet order to Bismarck's request for permission to retire from office: "I certainly do not ignore the difficulties in which you may be placed by conflict between duties imposed upon you by the constitution and your responsibility. I do not feel inclined to relieve you of your office, because you believe yourself unable, in a particular case, to carry out the task alotted to you by the Constitution. I must, on the contrary, leave it to you to submit to me and subsequently to the Bundesrath proposals, calculated to bring about a constitutional solution of the conflict of duties of this description."

The North German Gazette says: "We believe arrangements will be proposed for dealing with more important matters before the Bundesrath within the limited time, thus enabling the principal ministers of the various States to be present, thus avoiding proxy voting."

Correspondence.

MANASSA, Colorado, April 2d, 1880.

Editors Deseret News:

My last communication was dated at Sontag, Va., I believe when I was visiting the Elders and Saints in that district, an account of our conference having been forwarded you by Elder Barnett, also the situation of affairs.

After a most pleasant and agreeable time, Elder Seth A. Langton brought me to the railroad at Big Lick, where I took the cars for Georgia, and arrived at Bro. W. C. Kelgon's on the morning of the 11th of March.

On the 13th and 14th, we held a two days' meeting, Elders Lloyd and Farr meeting with us, but owing to the heavy rains and the general freshet, the attendance was limited. During the week I had the pleasure of meeting with Elder H. G. Boyle, en route to his field of labor in Virginia.

On the 23d of March, we left Chattanooga with the first company of emigrants for the season. Our numbers were increased from time to time at different points along our route of travel, until we numbered about 70 souls. Owing to the high waters and the measles, about one-half of the entire company were left, and instructed to be prepared to start from Chattanooga on the 13th of April.

Coming on with those who were prepared, we arrived at Manassa on the morning of the 27th, all well, the railroad during the winter having been finished to a point eight miles south of our settlements, making a distance of only three miles for us to travel in wagons. Bishop Berthelsen met us with teams and conveyed the company with baggage to where we could obtain rest and shelter.

We found the Saints at Manassa seriously afflicted with the measles and something similar to the mumps. During the winter there has been quite an amount of sickness, principally the result of climatizing influences that operate to a greater or less extent upon all the emigrants.

Those of the brethren who came out last year are now completely climatized, and are looking hale and hearty, feeling well and getting into a position to accomplish the object of their gathering together.

The town of Manassa has changed very much for the better since one year ago, it, at that time, being destitute of inhabitants, and not a furrow plowed. To-day some 30 or 40 houses have been erected and now occupied by the Saints, a good hewn log school house put up, and a school in session the greater part of the winter, a Sunday school organized, and regular meetings held.

During the greater part of the winter the people have been able to procure employment at fair wages, and at this time the demand for laborers is greater than the supply.

Our Mexican friends have in many instances come to us to secure renters for their farms, furnishing lands, seed, teams, houses, and in many instances cows to milk, and giving half; thus the way is opened up for the people who come unprepared to purchase and go to farming immediately, for them to raise a crop, and during the summer find time to get out their building material and erect houses.

The Saints express themselves as satisfied with the country and the general advantages it presents. The character of the soil has proven to be good. During the past winter but four snows fell, and the heaviest to the depth of only four inches. Fire wood can be obtained in from four to six miles; good saw timber from sixteen to twenty, and in great abundance; water is plenty and easy of access, and of a good quality; wells require to be dug from fifteen to twenty-five feet deep. There is excellent clay for brick, and an abundance of stone; extensive hay fields can be found on the La Hora, some eight to ten miles from the settlements, with good meadow lands adjacent to town, only requiring a fence and irrigation.

Small grain of all kinds will do well here. Potatoes, cabbage, carrots, beets, onions, peas, beans, etc., will all produce finely. The brethren are preparing to test a number of varieties of fruit, and I am satisfied will be able to make a success of it.

There is an abundance of land for all who desire to come, that can be obtained on reasonable terms, both from the State and general government.

Wheat is worth $1.25 per bushel, bacon from 9 to 11 cents, beef from 7 to 12, according to quality. Dry goods, hardware and groceries do not vary but little from Salt Lake markets. A co-operative store on a small scale has been started at Manassa, so arranged as to increace its stock in the future.

Homes can be obtained here by those who desire to build up the kingdom of God, and do good. A cordial welcome will be extended to those who come with the sanction of the authorities of the Church, bringing with them their recommends from their presiding officers.

I start for the States in the morning to bring out the next company of Saints. With prayers for the prosperity of Zion,

Very truly your brother,

JOHN MORGAN.
