We congratulate the Republicans of Utah upon the large vote polled at the recent election. [illegible]

Believing that the party upon which communities finally rely for the best results of government should clearly define its position before the people upon all questions of general interest and importance, we hereby announce the following as the platform of principles of the Republican party of Utah:

We are unalterably attached to the principles of the Republican party and are prepared to maintain them before the people of this Territory, believing that they are best calculated to foster the interests of the section in which we live as well as the interests of every other section of our common country.

We affirm "our unswerving devotion to the national Constitution and to the indissoluble union of the States, to the authority reserved to the States under the Constitution, and to the personal rights and liberties of citizens in all the States and Territories."

[illegible]

We demand the enactment of a law making it a misdemeanor for employers to practice what is known as blacklisting, or to interfere with the freedom of their employees in the exercise of the franchise by any sort of coercion.

We hold that eight hours should be made by law a day's work on all public work.

[illegible]

We demand such legislation as will satisfactorily equalize the assessment and taxation of property.

CRITICISMS.

E. B. Critchlow took exception to part of the resolutions charging that the Democratic doctrine was that the United States was not a nation, and he moved to strike that part out, as it was usually understood that the Democratic doctrine was the direct opposite of the Republican doctrine. He thought that by defining the Republican position the convention did all that was politic. While all the resolutions might be true, it was not dignified nor usual to embrace it in the party platform.

Frank Cannon was opposed to taking the words back, as certain men had been around this Territory telling Democrats what Democrats believed in, and he thought it was as well to tell them what they are.

Chairman Hulaniski arrived and Judge Lynch relinquished the chair in his favor. Mr. Hulaniski made a speech. The Republican party, he said, owed much of everything it was to James G. Blaine.

At this juncture Judge Miller introduced A. B. Morton, a Texas man, [illegible] possible to carry politics on party lines. I am much gratified that that time has gone by. [illegible] I hope our action will be felt in the councils of the nation. I am a busy man, but will try to give all the time I can to the interests of the Republican party. If the spirit that I have seen evinced in this convention is any criterion and we keep actively at work we will surely "get there Eli and bye."

Frank Cannon and John Henry Smith also spoke, and the proceedings terminated with the usual votes of thanks.

From San Antonio.

[illegible], a well-known manufacturer of boots and shoes at [illegible] Nolan Street, San Antonio, Texas, will not soon forget his experience with an attack of the cramps, which he relates as follows: "I was taken with a violent cramp in the stomach, which I believe would have caused my death, had it not been for the prompt use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. [illegible] This remedy shall always be one of the mainstays of my family." For sale by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

Preparing for Hot Weather.

The following telegram from Whitewright, Texas, indicates that the people in that vicinity do not intend to be caught unprepared:

WHITEWRIGHT, Texas, June [illegible], 1891.—Chamberlain & Co., Des Moines, Iowa: Ship us at once one gross Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, 25 cent size, and two dozen 50 cent size. We are entirely out and have had nearly forty calls for it this week. [illegible]

This is just such a medicine as every family should be provided with during the hot weather. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

Why It Is Popular.

Because it has proven its absolute merit over and over again, because it has an unequalled record of cures, because its business is conducted in a thoroughly honest manner, and because it combines economy and strength, being the only medicine of which "100 Doses One Dollar" is true—these strong points have made Hood's Sarsaparilla the most successful medicine of the day.
