Not Killed for Money, But to Satisfy a Girl's Revenge.

BATTLE OF HUSBAND AND WIFE.

Killed in Sight of His Son—Tramps Cause Terror—Earthquake Frightens Indians.

Tramps are creating a reign of terror by their daring robberies in some of the southern California towns.

A westbound freight train on the Union Pacific was derailed near Percy, Wyo., on Sunday, and two tramps, Tracy and Hawver, hurt.

The body of Jerome Beroviteh, a Slavonian, was found floating in San Francisco bay on Saturday. He is supposed to have committed suicide.

Dr. George Gerlach, one of the oldest medical practitioners in San Francisco, committed suicide on Sunday by shooting. He was a victim of morbid ennui.

The communion money was stolen from the Central First Presbyterian church early Sunday morning. The collection had been left in the church over night. About $125 was taken.

December 1st, this year, the 250th anniversary of Portugal's independence from the Spanish yoke, was observed by Portuguese style in San Francisco. Prayers of thanksgiving were offered, and at a grand supper held in the evening 1,200 guests participated.

At Seattle, Wash., on Sunday, James Jensen and his wife fought each other with an axe and revolver for the possession of their home. The woman fired three shots at her husband and then dropped the weapon. He picked it up and in a scuffle that followed was shot in the leg. The wife won.

E. M. Wade, a prominent stockman of Pendleton, Ore., says: Comparatively speaking there are few cattle left in the country, and only stock sheep are left. All the wethers and a good portion of the weather lambs have been bought up and shipped away. There will be few mutton to turn off next year.

George Morris, the Wells, Fargo Express man who was murdered near Stockton, Cal., on Saturday, is was supposed by robbers who intended to rob the office, was killed out of revenge by two brothers of Ada Mae Reynolds. The girl claimed that he had slighted her, and her brothers took the quarrel up.

Dudley Columbus Stone, a teacher in the San Francisco Normal school, was killed on Sunday in Oakland. Young Stone was on his way to the Highland Park and Fruitvale electric car at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and died in a few minutes. He was on his way to visit his aunt. Louis S. Stone, at the time the accident occurred. The aunt was expecting his father and was out looking for him. He saw the people gathering about the car, and walked over to where the crowd was. It was some minutes before he recognized in the dead and mutilated man the features of his father. The deceased leaves a wife and seven children.

Two small boys skating on a slough near Saratoga, N. Y., found the body of Nathaniel Holland, the 20-year-old son of E. W. Holland, of that place, dead in an opening in a bunch of willows only 100 yards from his father's house, Monday morning. A Winchester lying at his feet and a wound entering the waistband ranging upward and coming out under the point of the right shoulder blade, showed that it had been self-inflicted, but whether with suicidal intent or not no one knows. The young man was seen about 8 o'clock the evening previous. No cause is known for the deed, which was committed during Monday night.

The western portion of Vancouver island was shaken by an earthquake on Monday last. It was the most distinct shock ever felt in the northern country and caused consternation among the hundreds of Indians who inhabit that part of the island. All the things were badly shaken up, but the huts being low, no serious damage resulted. The Indians were badly frightened and rushed down to the beach, yelling and screaming, while the women crouched down in terror wailing funeral dirges. The old men seemed to forget the teachings of the missionaries and made preparations to receive the departed members of the tribe, thinking the day of resurrection had come. Guns were fired in the air and the ears beaten.

The passengers and crew of the steamer Maude, which was at Kyoquot at the time, said the sight was a fearful one, the inhabitants of the village having seemingly gone mad. It took the missionaries and white residents several days to get the Indians quieted down.
