FRAGMENTS.

ALL quiet on the thoroughfares to-day.

LOCAL quotations, New York, per 100 lbs., $1.25.

"A RAG BABY" is the title of the Theatre this evening.

The last bathing train for the season ran to the lake to-day.

The "Rag Baby" holds forth again at the Theatre this evening.

SUMMER has not yet loosed its hold upon this part of the earth.

JUDG E. G. WOOLLEY and James Andrus, Esq., of St. George, are in this city.

The Eureka-Beck mining suit is monopolizing the time of the First District Court.

ALDERMAN DRIVER, of Ogden, is here, out of the range of operations of the Curfew ordinance.

The jurors of the regular panel who were not accepted this morning were excused until to-morrow.

SILVER quotations, corrected daily by Wells Fargo & Co.: New York, 103 1/2; London, 47 1/2-16.

WELLS, FARGO & Co.'s bullion shipment from Silver Reef for the month of September aggregated $34,437.79.

The witnesses in all cases except that of Wm. A. Rossiter, were to-day excused until 10 a. m. to-morrow.

The notice of dissolution of the partnership heretofore existing between A. E. Hyde and O. H. Pettit, Mr. Hyde will continue the business.

McCORMICK & Co. to-day received two cars Hannauer ore, value $6,800; Crescent ore, value $7,200; Queen of the Hills ore, value $1,400; Total value $15,400.

SISTER SARAH D. RICH, of the Seventeenth Ward, has our thanks for the luscious peaches, the product of her garden, which she sent to our sanctum this morning.

BROTHER RICHARD DUDEN, of West Bonifield, raises some fine pears. He called at our office this morning with some samples, the largest one of which weighed just one pound.

The Twenty-third Quorum of Seventeen and the scattered members of other quorums residing in the Seventh, Fourth, Fifth and Farmer's Wards will hold their regular monthly meeting in the basement of the Seventh Ward meeting house, to-morrow (Thursday) evening, commencing at 7 p. m.

LOCAL NEWS.

Removal.—The office of the Woman's Exponent is being removed to-day from the Hooper & Eldredge Block to 25 South Temple Street—two doors east of the DESKERT News office.

Resigned.—Septimus W. Sears, who for some time past has been acting as assistant to General Eldredge, the Superintendent of Z. C. M. I., tendered his resignation yesterday morning, and his connection with this institution, as an employee, ceased this evening.

Taken to Provo.—This morning the Levan thieves, Fred and Martin Moss, were sent to Provo in custody of Bailiff Cummings. The prisoners have been confined in the penitentiary since they were brought from Iowa last spring, and the grand jury of the First District having indicted them for grand larceny, they were to be arraigned to-day.

Farewell Reunion.—A number of the friends of Robert Wm. J. Woodbury (who is soon to start upon a mission) have arranged for a farewell reunion and dancing party in his honor, at the Seventh Ward Assembly Room, to-morrow evening, the tickets of admission to which will be 75 cts.

During the evening songs and recitations will be interspersed with the dancing.

Diphtheria Still Spreading.—Three new cases of diphtheria were reported this morning, two in the back part of the Idaho Store, on First East Street; one upstairs, in the family of Mr. Burns, and one in a family residing downstairs. The other is at the residence of John Harter, 543 E. Sixth South Street, a young lady of fifteen years of age, daughter of Geo. D. Watt, being afflicted.

Continued for the Term.—The case of Abraham H. Cannon set for trial to-day, was called this morning, and Judge Harkness, the defendant's counsel, read the affidavit of Dr. S. B. Young, stating that Brother Cannon was dangerously ill of typhoid fever, and that under the most favorable circumstances he would not be able to appear for trial within sixty days. The case was continued until the December term.

Utilizing Time.—To the looker-on in that temple of justice known as the Third District Court, it would seem that economy might be practiced to advantage; for instance, in the use of labor. What, for instance, is the use of going through the deary rigmarole which Mr. Varian performs every time an unlawful cohabitation case is called? It is simply a vexatious effort of spirit to him and the Court, and a wear-and-tear upon the patience of spectators, as superfluous as it is tiresome. Why not have it referred, not indifferently, but altogether, and when an even number is drawn let it be passed and another name called? This would accomplish precisely the same result less than one fourth of the time. Think it over.

Arrangements.—While awaiting the arrival of a witness in the Rossiter case this morning, the following were arraigned on indictments found by the Edmunds law:

Charles Seal, indicted May 29th, charged with polygamy and unlawful cohabitation, with Eliza May Seal and Maria Buckridge, the marriage with the latter being alleged to have occurred August 24, 1883. He entered a plea of not guilty.

Alfred Best was indicted May 29th, charged with unlawful cohabitation with Margaret Oakley Best, Margaret Cook Best, and Amanda Cook Best, between June 1st, 1882, and May 1st, 1885. Plea of not guilty.

Emil Olsen was indicted April 16th, charged with unlawful cohabitation with Matilda Olsen and Anna Matilda Johnson, between May 8, 1883, and April 1, 1885; plea of not guilty.

Wm. Wallace Wiley, of Davis County, was indicted Sept. 26, charged with unlawful cohabitation with Mary Wiley and Martha Tuttle Wiley; plea of not guilty, and bonds fixed at $1,000.

Samuel H. B. Smith was indicted May 19, charged with unlawful cohabitation with Mary Smith, between May 1, 1885, plea, not guilty.

Edward Brain, who had been heretofore arraigned on an indictment charging him with polygamy and unlawful cohabitation, entered a plea of not guilty.

WM. A. ROSSITER'S TRIAL.

GOTTINGER JURY—OPEN VERDICT ISSUED—EXAMINING WITNESSES.

The case of the United States vs. Wm. A. Rossiter, charged with unlawful cohabitation with his wives, was taken up for trial in the Third District Court this morning.

The names of witnesses were called, and one, Wm. Crabtree, was reported absent. A messenger was sent for Mr. Crabtree, and he came into court a few minutes later.

The prosecution announced that they were ready to proceed with the trial, and Mr. Rossiter, who had been arraigned, entered a plea of not guilty, and the work of obtaining a jury commenced.

E. H. Roderback, Orson Johnson, Adolph Anderson, B. S. Young, R. G. Lambert, Geo. H. Snelgrove, Jno. N. Pike, J. H. Poulton, Francis Platt, R. S. Wells, W. C. Lyne and LeRoy Holt were called as jurors.

Judge Harkness, for the defense, examined the jurors, and all were passed, except Geo. H. Snelgrove, who had formed a fixed opinion, and was excused.

Mr. Varian, for the prosecution, then began the work of procuring the jury, so that none but "reliable moral" anti-"mormons" might be returned.

Messrs. Roderback, Johnson and Lambert, Poulton, Platt, Wells and Holt believed it right for a man to have more than one wife at a time, and were excused.

John N. Pike declined to answer the question, and also retired.

B. S. Young believed it wrong to violate the law of the land; would find a verdict according to the evidence; believed that plural marriage was a divine command, but did not believe it right for a man to have more than one wife at a time, and was excused.

Adolph Anderson was then sworn, being the only juror secured out of the twelve called.

George Cramer, Geo. F. Price, Oscar H. Hardy, Jos. Derbridge, L. A. Scoville, J. W. Burbridge, O. D. Romney, Oscar Wilkin, J. H. Midgley, J. G. Labrun and B. F. Fitzgerald then took their places in the box, and were all passed by the defense.

Mr. Varian's religious belief test was then applied, and Messrs. Cramer, Price, Burbridge, Romney, Wilkin, Midgley, Labrun and Fitzgerald, who believed in the divinity of the revelation on celestial marriage, were excused.

O. H. Hardy and Jos. Derbridge declined to answer as to their belief, and were excused.

L. A. Scoville, of Bingham, had the necessary qualifications, and was sworn.

Wm. Skews, R. C. McEwan and T. C. Armstrong were called. This exhausted the regular jury panel, with two jurors only having been obtained.

A special venire, returnable at 2 o'clock this afternoon of the following names, all that were in the box, was issued:

43 Wesley S. Truscott, 15 Wm. E. Jacobsen, 108 Amos Gabbott, 102 H. A. Woolley, 143 Thomas Smith, 115 W. E. Blanning, 141 A. E. Stevens, 141 C. Stevens, 5 Robert Mulhall, 46 K. F. Turnbull, 10 L. B. Mattison, 194 L. D. Young.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, W. E. Jacobsen, Amos Gabbott, Henry A. Woolley, C. T. Stevenson, L. B. Mattison and L. D. Young were called.

Robert Mulhall was delayed a short time, by the illness of his wife. This was all on whom summonses had been served.

Wm. Skews and L. B. Mattison had formed an unqualified opinion and were excused. The others were passed by the defense.

Mr. Varian interrogated the jurors as to their belief in a man's having more than one wife, and Wm. Skews, T. C. Armstrong, W. E. Jacobs, C. T. Stevenson, Robert Mulhall and Amos Gabbott were passed.

Messrs. Woolley, and Young were excused for their belief.

Judge Zane reminded Mr. Varian that Mr. Gabbott had not been examined, and the juror was submitted to the prosecutor's catechism.

He did not believe in plural marriage, and had not much religious faith; was a member of the "Mormon" Church; accepted some doctrines of that Church, and rejected others; rejected plurality of wives; believed it was wrong because there was a law against it; did not know whether there was any revelation or not.

Mr. Gabbott was peremptorily challenged by the prosecution.

T. C. Armstrong, W. E. Jacobs, C. T. Stevenson and Robert Mulhall were sworn, making six jurors for the case.

The Court ordered an open venire for twelve names, and then took a recess for half an hour.

On the resumption of court Joseph Foreman, Wm. McRae, Jas. P. Keat, James Anderson, J. F. Bradley and W. H. Yearian were called. Mr. Yearian was excused because of the necessity of his presence at his store, and Mr. Bradley was peremptorily challenged by the defense.

Walter Amy and George Mallett were next called and accepted, and all were sworn.

The jury now stands as follows:

Adolph Anderson, W. E. Jacobs, L. A. Scoville, C. T. Stevenson, Robert Mulhall, Jas. Foreman, Wm. McRae, Jas. P. Keat, George Mallett.

The indictment was then read to the jury by the clerk, and the examination of witnesses for the prosecution commenced, Wm. Crabtree being the first called.

Sudden Death.—A sudden death occurred in the First Ward last night, the subject being Edward Blair, a sailor, who for a great many years has been employed about the Temple Block, attending to the hoisting apparatus during the season for laying rock upon the temple walls and at other times assisting the carpenters.

He has not been in very rugged health for some time past, and since meeting with an accidental fall last winter that partially disabled him for work for a short time he has been placed upon the retired list and has not engaged in any laborious work.

He appeared to be in his usual health yesterday, and was engaged in his garden and attending to chores, and retired to bed between eight and nine o'clock in the evening. Shortly afterwards his daughter and her husband, Mr. Edg, who live in the house with him, heard him call out to them in a husky voice, and the latter immediately went to him. He found blood flowing from his mouth and nostrils of the stricken man, and it was evident to him that he had broken a blood vessel. He was unable to speak afterwards and died in a few minutes, without struggling. He was about sixty years of age, and a native of England.

Huge Swindling Scheme.—A soldier at Fort Douglas named James Harrington, doublet, feeling that the pay of the "boys in blue" was inadequate to his tastes and ambitions, recently concocted to enhance his income by means of a plan which had not been detected in time and subsequently frustrated. It seems that Harrington had written to several parties, doubtless acquaintances, in Ireland, informing them that he was attorney for the executors of the last deceased parties, that the ones addressed had been bequeathed various sums, and that the "surrogate's court" in which the cases were pending had ordered the respective parties to appear, of a fee of $20 in each case, which amount the respective parties would please remit, etc. Last week Postmaster Lynch received a letter of inquiry on the subject from Patrick O'Flanagan, of Darrow, Ireland, and knowing that we have no "surrogate's court" and that the whole transaction was a gross subject for suspicion and watchfulness, "laid" for the new-fledged attorney, withholding the payment of an order of $50 for Harrington until his plans were completed; he finally entered a complaint before Commissioner McKay, and securing the attendance of Deputy Marshal Greenman, the game was bagged on the next visit to the post office. Pending the trial, the defendant was taken to the penitentiary. This afternoon he was brought before Commissioner McKay, who required security in the sum of $1,200, pending the action of the grand jury in his case. Failing to find the security, he was returned to the Penitentiary.

Rev. Father Kelly, of the Catholic Church in this city, having received the following letter on Friday last, assisted the postmaster in ferreting out the rascal:

DUNGOLO, COUNTY DONEGAL, Ireland, Sept. 10, 1885.

DEAR SIR: I enclose copy of correspondence which will give you information regarding a letter which is so be sent to Mr. Neil Gallagher of Castleguard.

I beg to request your co-operation in this matter. You may be able to suggest something useful to him and put him on the right way of getting the legacy, which is much required just at present. A friend of his is sending Mr. Harrington the legacy, the legacy is paid, for the price of land and stock is very low now, and scarcely any sale for either of them.

If you know or can find out the particulars of the will or any circumstances which will be of service to Mr. Gallagher, I would respectfully ask you to write and communicate them to me. You may be of service to Mr. Harrington in the meantime. Apologizing for thus troubling you, I remain,

Yours faithfully,

CHAS. MCGLYNN.

P. S.—Would trouble you to give the enclosed P. O. order for the attorney, Mr. James Harrington, and also forms enclosed.

CHAS. MCGLYNN.

Harrington is twenty-four or twenty-five years of age, and an Englishman by birth. He has a confederate in the East, one Joseph Lavender, an attorney, and the two have apparently been arranging for an extensive business. It is believed, however, that the scheme of robbery was foiled before many cash victims were secured.

The Races.—The last of the series of races at the Utah Driving Park took place yesterday afternoon in the presence of an immense throng of visitors. The weather was delightful and the track in good condition, the enjoyment being otherwise heightened by fine music from a band specially provided for the occasion.

The unfinished race between "Sagford" and "Sorrel Dick" was again declared off during jockeying and trickery; Red, of Ogden, the rider of the former, was fined $25 for this.

The half-mile dash between "Echo," "Lila Ferguson" and "Ruby Hayes," for a purse of $200, was won by "Lila" in 51.

Then came the much looked-for free-for-all, "Romero," "Velox," "Dodd" and "Happy" being the contestants. Through repeated breaks, "Dodd" was permitted to retire. "Velox" won the first heat in 2:30, the second in 2:32, and the third in 2:34, amid cheers.

The last race was a three-quarter dash between "Echo," "Basil," "Lila Ferguson" and "Polley," the last named winning.

"Velox" the winner of the two chief races of this meeting, was hounded yesterday afternoon, just as he stood in harness and sulky, for $2,000. The owner is a Salt Lake business man.

The timers should be more careful in their computations. Half a dozen timepieces yesterday made the official announcement at the close of the second heat two to four seconds too fast.

The track was in excellent condition, but can never be considered fast. It is soft and horses inevitably "cup and slip."

Enforcing the rules strictly as to jockeying meets the approval of the spectators. Let the best horse win, and let each one do his level best.

Another exit from the grounds is absolutely necessary. We second the demand for another large gate either on the west side or further north on the east side.

Practice and theory must go together. Theory without practice to test it, to verify it, to correct it, is idle speculation; but practice without theory to animate it is mechanism. In every art and business, theory is the soul and practice the body. The soul without the body in which to dwell is indeed only a ghost, but the body without a soul is only a corpse.
