ARE SEEKING GRAND JURY INVESTIGATION

Republican Prohibitionists Endeavoring to Pry Loose Some Information Regarding Campaign Funds.

A publication styled "The Daily Bulletin," having for its avowed purpose the paving of the way to the impaneling of a grand jury for the purpose of investigating rumors of a "criminal deal" alleged to have been made whereby more than $40,000 was contributed by the brewery and saloon interests in consideration of the influence of certain prominent politicians against the passage of any prohibitory liquor legislation by the present legislature, made its appearance on the streets yesterday. The Bulletin contains an article signed by A. S. Reiser, in which it is charged that the members of the senate most active in unfriendliness to the prohibitive legislation in the state senate include Senators Carl A. Badger of Salt Lake, H. Bullen, Jr., of Cache, and Rudolph Kuchler of Weber. These men, the article alleges, were appointed to their positions on the committee on manufactures and commerce, which has charge of all liquor legislation in the senate, by President Gardner, and further states that Senator Kuchler, who is chairman of the committee, was coached by and is in close touch with former Democratic State Senator Fred J. Kiesel, of Ogden, who is managing the campaign against prohibition for the liquor dealers. A number of pointed questions are put by the publication, and a promise is made to make an appearance daily until the object sought by the promoters of the pamphlet—a grand jury investigation—has been brought to a reality.
