ENDED IN DEATH.

Louis Kellogg Fatally Wounded in a Pittsburg Hotel.

SUICIDE OF THE MURDERER.

Poverty and Despondent Thought to be the Reasons for the Enormous of the Tragedy.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 28.—This evening E. J. McNabb, who last year pitched for the Baltimore baseball team, shot and fatally wounded Mrs. H. E. Stockwell, and then turned his revolver on himself and ended his life instantly.

The tragedy occurred in the Hotel Eiffel, where McNabb and the woman had arrived last night, registering as E. J. McNabb and wife. About nine o'clock this evening shots were heard in their room. The door was broken in and both were found lying on the floor covered with blood.

The woman was conscious, and said McNabb shot her, but gave no reason. McNabb was dead when entrance was gained. It is thought she shot McNabb, but Stockwell has entirely any chance for recovery.

Mrs. Stockwell is 30 years old, the wife of H. E. Stockwell of Seattle, Wash., who is president and secretary of the Pacific & Northwestern baseball league. She has been a member of the Alice Joslin theatrical company for the past year, and is known on the stage as Louise Kellogg.

As yet no reason for the shooting is learned, but it is generally believed the couple were almost penniless and McNabb took this means to end their lives.

Boston's Unemployed.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 28.—The special legislative committee on unemployed, appointed as the result of the existing labor demonstrations last week, gave a hearing today to representatives of the unemployed. There was no demonstration. Morrison I. Swift and Herbert N. Casson, the leading spokesmen of the movement in Boston, appeared and argued for the establishment of state factories and farms, the nationalization of public works and the appointment of a permanent committee on unemployed. They stated that 50,000 persons were out of employment in Boston.

CONGRESS.

A Quorum Secured and Again Lost in the House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—When the House convened upon Speaker's demand for the previous question on the bill to repeal sugar bounties, the deadlock was broken, after two weeks of filibustering. The record on the previous question on Dingley's motion was unanimous, 157 to 0, Republicans generally the announcement.

Perry immediately moved to reconsider the vote by which the demand was agreed to.

A quorum having been secured, Dockery, from the committee on rules, reported a special order for the consideration of the whole subject, with the exception of the pending bill (reciprocity) and provided, after full hours' consideration in the House, the previous question would be considered as ordered on the bill pending amendments, no motion being allowed to be in order.

Upon the adoption of the order, Dockery demanded the previous question. As the roll call was proceeded, Dockery precipitated a lively scene by challenging the correctness of the entry.

The Speaker had his name called on the demand of the previous question on the adoption of the special order and it was unanimous, 157 to 0, one more than a quorum.

The vote was then taken on the adoption of the special order, and the quorum was lost, 156 to 11, three short of a quorum.

Dockery was again informed, just as the last barrier was being removed, that Dingley, stating that this question would come up as soon as the House convened tomorrow, agreed to adjourn, and at 4 o'clock the House adjourned.

For Threatening Stevenson.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 28.—Joe Dorjan, who sent threatening postal cards to Vice President Stevenson, was tried in the United States district court today on charges of violating the postal laws. The jury, after a brief consultation, returned a verdict of guilty, and Judge Morrison sentenced Dorjan to the penitentiary for eighteen months.

Permission to See His Wife.

BOSTON, Feb. 28.—It was agreed today that Boss McKane need not go to Sing Sing until tomorrow, provided the prisoner would not apply to any judge for a stay. The request was allowed to permit McKane to see his wife.

Trouble with Strikers.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 28.—Superintendent McAllister received a dispatch this afternoon from Eagle, a mining town thirty miles east, saying there was trouble with the strikers there, and asking him to send troops. The dispatch was sent to the private secretary in regard to the military was needed.

Later dispatches from Eagle report a meeting of the strikers this afternoon, at which it was determined to force the working miners to come out. They went to the Wyatt mines, but strong, with rifle guns. The working miners were release in the Hippy, all well armed. The strikers, when within two hundred yards, began firing. Shots in the Hippy replied with rifles, killing one man and wounding several.

Private Brooks is feared and the Kanawha Coal Company, of the Kanawha Coal and a mounted company of 50 men, this city, and Colonel Huntington, to march at once.

Will Create a Sensation.

ROME, Feb. 28.—In the deputies today a important speech was made on the political condition of Signor Crispi. Prime Minister Crispi said a sensation would be created at Marseilles, at which it was expected a new Garibaldi of anarchy would arise in Palermo to raise a revolt on February, but the bombs, fearing the government was aware of the plot, had resolved to anticipate the date, and that was the 1st of January.

In which neither the new Garibaldi nor his friends participate. Promises had been made to divide the land among the peasants. The conspiracy was defeated upon an outbreak of war before the end of the year, to be brought about by the act of Russia, to which the port was to be seized.

This remark created a sensation in the house.

The Nicaragua Canal.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 28.—A resolution calling for a complete Congressional investigation of the affairs of the Nicaragua Canal company and asking to governmental control of the canal, has been introduced in the House by Representative Geary, of California. It provides that a special committee of five be appointed by the Speaker to investigate and report to the next session, financial and other affairs, of the Nicaragua Maritime Canal company, as to what sums of money were received by the company, and how they were expended. What progress has been made in the construction of the canal is to be ascertained, as well as the company's ability to construct it, and whether the repeal of the charter will promote the public good.

Two other plans regarding the Nicaraguan canal are before this Congress. One was proposed by Senator Morgan, of Alabama, providing that the government should guarantee the bonds of the canal company. Representative Dunlap, of Washington, introduced a resolution for a committee of investigation, which should visit Nicaragua.

Distress Students.

PARIS, Feb. 28.—There was a great uproar among the students of Sorbonne when the news announced, M. Ferdinand Brunetiere, attempted to lecture on literature today. Eventually the students became so boisterous that they had their signature affixed to the furniture in the hall and only stopped rioting when the police cleared out the place.

A DIPLOMATIC INTRIGUE

An Article in "Figaro" Causes a Sensation in Paris.

The Case of Rosen, Princess Marie d'Orleans and Others Mentioned in Connection With It.

PARIS, Feb. 28.—A sensation was caused in this city and elsewhere by the appearance of an article in the Figaro, in which the case of Rosen, Princess Marie d'Orleans, wife of Prince Waldemar of Denmark, Count De Boeschamp, French military attache at Copenhagen, Colonel Billot, secretary and general chief of the military household of President Carnot, and others play conspicuous roles.

Some idea of the gravity of the revelations may be gathered from the fact that President Casimir-Perier today submitted to President Carnot for his signature a decree removing Count D'Aunay, attached to Copenhagen, from the diplomatic service, owing to his connection with the affair. The revelations are associated with the Franco-Russian alliance, and appear to have been, generally speaking, the result of intrigues carried on behind the scenes of the Deputy ministry.

The chief interest manifested in connection with the revelation is an alleged attempt to obtain, through Princess Marie d'Orleans, an idea of the czar's real feeling on the score of the Franco-Russian alliance. With this object in view, Captain Beauchamp is said to have approached the princess, telling her of the humiliation inflicted by the French government, of which the French government, of which the minister at Copenhagen, Count D'Aunay, informed that the czar felt bound not to leave the government in the dark in regard to what was going on. The facts were immediately communicated to the French government, and it appears the princess was persuaded to give up the question.

The Deputy cabinet a few days later came to grief, and when the present ministry was formed, the French minister to Denmark, Count D'Aunay, went to Paris and delivered the documents to President Casimir-Perier, with the result already told. In conclusion, it may be mentioned that Captain Beauchamp has been recalled from Copenhagen and given a year's leave of absence.

HARRISON AND SILVER.

The Ex-President Makes a Speech on that Subject.

TRINIDAD, Feb. 28.—Ex-President Harrison was met at the depot by a committee, headed by the mayor and fully 200 people. After being serenaded by the band, General Harrison was introduced to the crowd, and delivered a speech.

The ex-President expressed gratification at the reception he was receiving not a private citizen, a boon conferred on him just now is that of a silver teacher."

After discussing the tariff laws, Harrison said: "You have another interest out here, which you asserted with a good deal of vehemence and determination, and that is the silver question. Now, I am for you today what I said when I was President, and what I always believed, that a larger use of silver for money and the free coinage of silver on a basis to be agreed on, and that would put silver in parity with gold, would be good for the whole world. I don't believe we could run free coinage successfully without the European governments approaching the policy they have been pursuing with silver, but, my fellow citizens, there are most fortunate now in England and in Germany that they are feeling the effects of the scarcity of gold, and by protecting effects on the industries, I believe those two great countries will nearer right today than they have been for twenty-five years. They are all neighboring favorably the question of a larger and freer use of silver as a money metal and consultation for gained strength in England.

"I think these conditions will come to the next silver conference with a greater readiness than to any recent years, and will agree with us upon a basis for a larger use of silver as money. I would have been glad if the result had been accomplished before I left Washington, I would rather have signed my administration by the act than by any other I know of. (Cheers.)

"I thank you for listening to this speech. I did not intend to speak. Positly I may be sorry for having spoken. (Cries of 'never.') I speak with sincerity and that interest in public affairs I now now as a private citizen."

The Russian Elections.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 28.—For the present interest in the warfare between the congress and the government, there has almost disappeared and the people are concentrating their attention upon the presidential election, which is to take place next June. The Republican candidates are Senor Prudente Morais, of Sao Paulo, for president, Dr. Manoel Victorino Pereira, of Bahia, for vice president. The other candidates for the presidency are Senors Hoy Barbosa, Serpoiro, Mello, Da Seabra and Lauro Sodo. The election of Senor Barbosa is nearly certain, as there is no organization of the opposition to him.

CAUSE OF THE WRECK.

The Inquiry into the Loss of the Kearsarge.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The inquiry into the loss of the Kearsarge was continued today. Lieutenant Lyman, navigator of the Kearsarge, made the startling assertion that when the crew of the Kearsarge he had reason to believe that Rear Admiral Bunce was three to five miles to the westward of his position on the chart.

Lieutenant Lyman was asked to make up the reason, as he admitted himself, for the wreck of the Kearsarge.

"The loss of the ship was due partly to improper charting, partly to surrendering to from the opposite direction from that anticipated and partly to not having signed the rear bearing," said the witness. The Rear Admiral Lyman's examination and the court adjourned.

The Pope's Chances of Life.

ROME, Feb. 28.—Father Knolpp, famous for his accuracy of the weather and cure, had an audience with the pope today. After his examination of his holiness, Father Knolpp expressed an opinion that the pope will probably live beyond the end of the century.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Little Charlie Wray Almost Stolen From His Mother's Arms.

Two Well Known Residents of Salt Lake to the Rescue.

THE MOTHER'S INTERESTING STORY.

At the south central West state is situated the little cottage wherein resides Mrs. A. J. Wray. She is an interesting lady and on an interview with the writer gave the following story of her narrow escape:

My little son Charlie is nine years of age. He has been a sufferer from chronic sore throat for two years. In the last year he became so much worse that we feared death daily.

At the age of two years he LOST HIS HEARING. His nose would stop up over one side, then the other. He would constantly hawk and try to clear his throat, which at times would almost strangle him, large lumps coming in accordance that was impossible to cough up.

He had roaring noises within ears and would put his hands up to his head and, as he expressed himself, try to keep the noise out of his ears.

WASTED CHARLIE WRAY AS HE APPEARED AFTER TREATMENT.

He would see out, and what food he did take seemed to lay heavy on his stomach and caused him much pain, he was very weak, and looked as though he had not tasted in days at all.

He would go around for hours and not speak a word to anyone, he seemed so far away, and when spoken to would start up as though he was asleep.

We had to take him out of school for he could not learn, we were very much alarmed about his condition and although he was always under treatment, the case seemed to be one that baffled all human skill.

One day (after giving up all hope of ever curing the child) we noticed a case similar to his being cured by Drs. Shores & Shores, the specialists, and we decided to take him there. The doctors examined him and informed us the case was a serious one, but they would do all that could be done for him.

My son has been under their care for one month and I am happy to say he has been entirely cured. He has no more headache, HE HEARS WELL, has a healthy appetite, is getting fat and looks the picture of health.

I cannot say too much in praise of Drs. Shores and Shores, for they have entirely saved my child from a life of misery. Hoping that other sufferers will be benefited by this statement, I am, yours very truly, MRS. A. J. WRAY.
