BLOWING UP HOUSES

Striking Miners Getting in Desperate Work at Eureka.

TWO HOUSES BLOWN UP TODAY

Terrific Explosion.—The United States Marshal and Governor Called On.

This morning, shortly after midnight, a terrific explosion shook up the town of Eureka. The disaster occurred close to the Bullion-Beck mine, and no doubt is entertained that it is the work of strikers. Many of these are reckless, and realizing that they have been defeated in their contest with the mine-owners, are now preparing to leave the place. There is no knowing how much damage will be done before they go.

While the Miners' Union deprecates in language any acts of violence, and its respectable members unanimous in their feelings all in the same, yet the reported action of the union in calling up the fine assessed on the participants in the recent riot is a direct incentive to continued unlawful deeds.

The news brought by the wires today is not altogether a surprise. Something of the kind has been feared and a most anticipated for some time. Fortunately no lives were lost. The story of what occurred is thus briefly told in a telegram to Manager A. E. Hyde:

"EUREKA, June 5.—This morning at 12:30 the strikers blew up two houses and damaged many others just south of the hoist. The occupants happened to be on night shift, so no lives were lost. The explosion was terrific and shook the whole town."

A similar telegram from one of his assistants conveyed the news to U. S. Marshal Boskin. The matter was called to the attention of Governor West, and a conference was appointed for 3 p.m. by his excellency, when he will hear what the marshal and the mine owners have to say, and will take such steps as he deems necessary. It is stated that the mayor of Eureka desires the place put under martial law, but it is hardly probable this step will be taken at present. The marshal's force at Eureka will, however, be materially increased, and possibly the town will be patrolled by U.S. officers.

THE GOVERNOR ACTS PROMPTLY.

When Governor West heard the news he immediately communicated with Judge Smith and District Attorney Judd. The outcome of a conference with them was that Judge Smith goes to Provo tomorrow, to impanel a grand jury to investigate the case, while Judge Judd goes down on Saturday to personally conduct the inquiry. Five deputy marshals go down this evening to remain on guard at Eureka. The Governor proposes to meet the issue at once. "These people," said he this afternoon, "may peacefully refrain from work until they get the wages they wish, but the rights and property of others cannot be interfered with, and the quicker they comprehend that fact the better. There must be no violation of the law, and if there is, the law breakers must be visited with condign punishment. The people down there will be protected in their property if it takes the whole of Utah county, or every citizen of Utah to do it. The law will be maintained.

THE FAR NORTH.

SWEDEN.

Prof. A. E. Nordenskiold, the famous Arctic explorer, has been elected a member of the Swedish Academy.

The new profits of the Southern Sweden Steamship company for 1892 were $43,000.

The vikedag has raised the bounty for the killing of wolves from 25 to 30 crowns ($6.70).

Fifty-five societies participated in the 1st of May demonstrations at Stockholm.

Seventy Swedes went in a body from Gothenburg to Hull to take the place of striking dockers.

The expenditures of the public schools of the city of Stockholm for the year 1892 were $663,760.

The population of Stockholm Jan. 1, 1893, was 297,097, and Jan. 1, 1892, it was 296,431. This is an increase of only 1192 persons during the year 1892, and is the poorest showing for any single year since 1867.

Some students of the university of Lund are organizing a peculiar temperance society. The institute is to consist of total abstainers; the next division or circle will only abstain from distilled liquors; and the third circle pledge themselves not to get drunk.

The bill permitting any person over 18 years of age to withdraw from the state church without stating what church he or she intended to join, would have passed a vote majority of the lower house, but the upper house rejected it by a bill of the same nature last year.

The lower house of the Riksdag has passed a bill abolishing the translation from English into Latin at the examination necessary to entering the university, and a committee of the upper house has sent the bill to the king recommending him to return a favorable report upon it.

A prize sewing women of Stockholm is compelled to spend three days in jail every year in order to save her dog. The owner operandi is this: She is unable to pay the tax, and is fined; she is incarcerated for a term of three days, and her dog is saved for another twelve months.

The enthusiasm of the "friends of animals" borders on fanaticism. At Stockholm they are not only having their "week of dogs," but on a fine Sunday they put on contribution boxes along the most popular thoroughfares of the city. It was a surprise to everyone that the majority of the contributors were ladies.

Prof. F. T. Cleve has donated an unusually rich and splendid collection of specimens of fresh and salt water medusæ to the zoological department of Upsala university. The most valuable part of the collection is a number of fresh and salt water medusæ from Madagascar, Australia, India, South America and other tropical countries, so that many more species are represented in the collection.

HERSAY.

A geographical society of France has awarded Dr. Nansen a gold medal for his celebrated trip across Greenland.

Forty thousand dollars have been raised at Bergen for the erection of a permanent exposition building, which will cost in the neighborhood of $70,000.

The export of timber for the months January-March was 284,000 cubic meters, that of ice 42,000 tons, as compared with 248,000 cubic meters of timber and 52,000 tons of ice for the corresponding period last year.

According to our latest information by mail the cabinet of Emil Stang will consist of Mr. Gram, minister of Stockholm; Prof. Bang, minister of public worship and instruction; Prof. Hagerup, minister of justice; Captain Oftedal, minister of marine; Colonel Oftedal, minister of war, and F. Olsen, of finance, minister of public works. It is not definitely stated who will be minister of the interior, nor is it stated on what conditions the new cabinet will enter upon its duties, whether it is the understanding that the counter service question is simply to be postponed or that it is to be dropped.

Four fishermen were drowned while fishing off Hemnes the other day.

DENMARK.

A new ice boat will be built for the traffic across the sound next winter.

The poor people's restaurants of Copenhagen served in all 2,000,000 meals last winter, as compared with 800,000 in 1891.

The buildings of the Selso estate near Roskilde were destroyed by fire the other day. Four hundred head of cattle and a number of horses and hogs perished in the flames.

Nearly one-third of the poorer classes of tenants in Copenhagen saw more or less of their home rent, the delinquencies being four per cent larger this year than last.

The municipal government of Copenhagen is agitating the question of disposing of the sewerage of the city by carrying it some 5,000 feet into the sea by means of an immense pipe and central pumping station. The plant would cost over $1,000,000.

County Bee Inspectors.

E. S. Lovesay and Henry Taufer have been appointed and qualified as bee inspectors for Salt Lake county. The bonds are $1000.

WITHIN OUR GATES.

Ex-Sheriff Andrew J. Hart was visible on the street today. He has not "shown up" so often lately, because he wasn't here.

J. A. Hyde of Nephi is up from that bustling retreat and is comfortably housed during his stay at the hotel de Morgan.

F. L. Cushing of Brighton and J. M. Richardson of Park City took a railroad ride to the metropolis and took them at once to the Dallies.

The legal department as it is elsewhere was well represented in the metropolis today. Judge Miner, with Attorneys Evans & Rogers and Baskin from Smith were the Ogden contingent. Provo being represented by Judge H. W. Smith and W. H. King.

Aquila Netzker, from the breezy shores of Lake Town in Rich county, was here today en route to Salina, where he has some some stock he is going to transport to his northern home. He is looking as well as when expounding the iniquities of the bounty system in the "first Democratic legislature," that being his political faith.

Dr. and Madame Richard Bieber of Berlin, Germany, were interesting and interested visitors today. The gentleman is a lawyer of the German metropolis and a most accomplished and companionable man altogether; while the lady is well and favorably known to art and literary circles abroad. She was selected by Empress Fredrick as Germany's representative at the World's Fair congress of women. They are welcome and it is hoped nothing here will be wanting to make their pleasure complete.
