CORRESPONDENCE.

A Trip to the Quarry in Little Cottonwood Canyon.

SALT LAKE CITY,
June 28th, 1877.

Editor Deseret News:

Dear Sir—We started, in company with Brother Joseph Young, Sen., A. P. Rockwood, James Livingston, superintendent of the quarry, and Conductor William Newell, arrived at the quarry at nine in the morning, and were cordially entertained. After breakfast we were shown around the building and its surroundings, through the kind attentions of Brother Livingston. We were introduced to a company of forty-one men, as they sat at dinner, and who take a respite of an hour from their hard labors. This room is spacious and will accommodate about fifty men at the table. In a short space of time we found it turned into a meeting room. By request, Brothers Joseph Young and A. P. Rockwood and myself addressed them. The remarks were well calculated to encourage them in their present lonely condition, as several weeks have elapsed since many of them have had the privilege of being at home to attend to their families. Three sisters, who appear to be acting as cooks, were also present and were entitled to our thanks; and best wishes for the interest they took in spreading before us the delectable dishes. The establishment, though built of logs, seemed to have every convenience for entertaining strangers as well as the workmen, and everything about it indicates order, regularity and neatness.

After dinner, through the courtesy of Brother John Hubers, we took a ride to the Quarry in a comfortably seated vehicle. What most attracted our attention was a mammoth sized piece of granite, which had recently been separated from its native bed, and the mountain to which it was attached. There it stood like a great castle, seemingly bidding defiance to any set of competitors who should undertake to handle it, but the resolute, sturdy hands of the stalwart men said in their hearts it should come down from its lofty height, we witnessed them, and made it to turn over on its side. The following were its dimensions—length 50 feet, breadth 40 feet, and height 25 feet. We thought we would try the solidity of it, and found it to contain 50,000 cubic feet. We tried what its heft would be, and found its weight about 8,500,000 pounds or 4,250 tons. We inquired what they calculated to do with such a formidable chunk. The answer was, to divide it into pieces of the average weight of 2,500 pounds each, and found it could be sliced up into 3,400 pieces. A goodly yield from one stone.

Brother Livingston stated that daily there were from three to four car loads shipped from the quarry to the Temple Block, showing evidently that some sort of exercises in the noble art of drilling is going on in the Territory of Utah. Certainly these are stirring times and the "Mormons" are making great stratagetic movements. There is great cause for alarm when forty and fifty men can thus handle the mountains as a very little thing, and make the everlasting hills to tremble before them.

We returned home under a due appreciation of the welcome reception, the kind attentions and good offices rendered us by Brothers Livingston, Newell and Hubert in our visit to the Quarry.

Respectfully your brother in the Gospel. ROBERT CAMPBELL.

UNITED STATES

Centennial

World Exhibition,

1876.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS

Unanimously assigned the

"FIRST RANK

IN THE

"SEVERAL REQUISITES"

of such Instruments!

The MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO. have the honor to announce that the Organs of their manufacture have been unanimously assigned "the FIRST RANK in the SEVERAL REQUISITES of instruments of the reed" by the Judges at the CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION at Philadelphia, 1876, and are the ONLY INSTRUMENTS OF THIS GENERAL CLASS AWARDED THIS RANK. This is after the severest competition by the best makers before one of the most competent juries ever assembled.

They have also received the MEDAL, but, as is well known, medals of equal merit have been awarded all articles deemed worthy of recognition; so thus it will be easy for many makers to advertise that they have received "first medals."

The differences in competing articles, and their comparative excellence, are recognized in the Reports of the Judges from which the following is an extract:

"THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO. 's exhibit of Reed Organs and Harmoniums shows instruments of the FIRST RANK IN THE SEVERAL REQUISITES OF INSTRUMENTS OF THE CLASS, viz: Smoothness and equal distribution of tone, scope of expression, resonance and singing quality, freedom and quickness in action of keys and bellows, with thoroughness of workmanship, combined with simplicity of action."

(Signed by all the Judges.)

The Mason and Hamlin Organs are thus declared to rank first, not in one or two respects only, but in the SEVERAL REQUISITES of such instruments, and they are the Only ones assigned this rank. This triumph was not unexpected, for the Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organs have uniformly been awarded the highest honors in competitions in America, there having been scarcely six exceptions in hundreds of competitions. They were awarded highest honors and at which they have been exhibited; being the Only American Organs which have ever obtained any Award at any competition with best European makers, or in any European World's Exposition!
