THE EVENING NEWS.

GEORGE Q. CANNON
EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

Friday, - - - October 11, 1872.

JOHN BULL, that is, a large part of him, seems inclined to growl his discontent over the Geneva adjudication of the Alabama business, incited afresh by the publication and discussion of Sir Alexander Cockburn's adverse opinion of the award of the arbitrators. Sir Alexander undoubtedly has the right to his own opinion, and to publish his own opinion. The public, British or other, has the right to its opinion of his opinion and to the expression of its opinion of his opinion. But the fact of submitting the question in controversy to international arbitration presupposes an intention to abide by the decision of the arbitrators, although it may be different to what either wished it to be. Indeed, it could hardly have been otherwise than something not in accordance with the ideas and demands of the parties litigant, otherwise there would have been no necessity to refer the case to arbitration.

The very best thing that England and America can do is to accept the decision in good faith, and for the former nation to pay the award promptly and have done with the controversy, which has been a very irritating one, and has caused the manifestation of a deal of bad blood between the two nations.

There can be no doubt that the immediate and honest acceptance of the decision would be the most economical and in every way the wisest thing that could be done by both America and England. Each nation, or a part of each nation, can deliver itself of its respective views of the matter, but an exciting opposition to the decision is folly, whether it be considered exactly just or not. As to John, it is natural to him to grumble, and possibly he could hardly live, certainly he would not feel comfortable, if he were denied that privilege. But then he will show good sense if he lets grumbling be the sum and substance of his real or assumed dissatisfaction, and if he pays the money duly his brother Jonathan will not take it badly amiss if it be done grumblingly, knowing that John seldom does anything without that sort of accompaniment.

EUROPEAN.

PARIS.—The permanent prefect commission has held a meeting at which matters were discussed on which there was considerable conflict of opinion. Gambetta's political tour speeches in the provinces, and the assaults recently made on the pilgrims who continue to flock to Lourdes to witness the miracle of the Virgin, were regarded by some as likely to lead to trouble. Thiers expressed indignation at the outrageous conduct to the pilgrims, which he regards as a scandal. He warmly condemned the course of Gambetta, who, he said, was trying to divide the nation and to render the position of the government abroad more difficult. Thiers, who seemed to be inclined to break with the Left, still clung to the republic, but his positive declarations in favor of that form of government were received with laughter by the monarchists. The report that Prince Napoleon intended to return to France, and that he would possibly resume his residence in Paris, was also considered. The President informed the commission that he had expressed his disapproval of such a step, and had taken means to prevent the Prince from carrying his intention into effect.

Midnight.—Le Soire published a sensational report this evening, that a Bonapartist movement was on foot, and that a coup d' etat would be attempted in Paris to-night. Up to this hour nothing has happened.

It is reported that the Prince De Joinville and Duke d'Aumale will resign their seats in the Assembly.

MADRID.—In the Senate to-day Diaz made a severe attack on the volunteers of Cuba for insubordination and ferocity. The minister of the colonies defended and praised the volunteers, and declared that their success in maintaining order in Havana and other towns was invaluable; they had also, by performing their duty at the seaports, freed large bodies of troops to operate in the interior, and had thereby materially assisted in lessening the expense of the war.

The Abolition Society of Madrid have sent a petition to the Senate for the manumission of the slaves in Cuba and Porto Rico. The Senate referred the petition to the King's minister.

The minister of State has promised an investigation of the charges against the Spanish soldiers in Cuba for having attacked foreigners, but declares his belief that they only did their duty.

LONDON.—The Czarowitch Alexander has gone to Vienna, on the invitation of the Emperor Francis Joseph.

CONSTANTINOPLE. — The Sultan has conferred the order of O. A. Manlie on the Grand Duke Nicholas of Russia.

It is estimated that three millions of inhabitants have died from famine in Persia.

LONDON.—Bentwick, M. P., in a public speech last night, denounced the Alabama question as a dishonor to England. He said it was absurd that a rule should be made and England held responsible for an act committed long before the rule had any existence. England deserved the scorn of the whole world, and would cease to hold her position among the nations. The meeting of conservatives at Castle Hedingham was addressed by Henry Jervis, M. P., and others, who severely censured the Government for its conduct in the negotiations with the United States.

The telegraphic dispatches forwarded and received at the expense of the British Government on the subject of indirect claims, amount to four hundred thousand dollars.

WEST INDIES.

HAVANA.—Chas. Bright has recovered the Panama cable and laid the shore end yesterday to the harbor head.

The Intendente offers informers the entire proceeds of the sale of merchandise seized from smugglers.

Troops have killed the insurgent chief Juan Inlano Rojos, near Sanctu Spiritus.

WESTERN NOTES.

The Reese River Reveille says D. L. Healey has raised a twenty pound cabbage, and ten tons of cabbages besides.

Wheelbarrows do a large portion of the draying of Olympia. They don't subsist on oats, and therefore make economical teams.

At Olympia there is a young lady who does the finishing touches on tombstones and monuments made at a marble cutter's shop, and does them handsomely too.

A man in Idaho, who eloped with a young girl, was pursued, knocked down, beaten and retaken by his indignant wife. He has gone out of the elopement business.

It is estimated that one hundred thousand tons of wheat will be moved by the California Pacific railroad this season to Vallejo. It will take between sixty and seventy ships to carry it to the English market.

Laura De Force Gordon has swung around the political circle and fetched up at home. She is disgusted with politicians, and they are with her. She needs more "force" in her make-up, to win with those old reprobates.—Ex.

Station for Salmon breeding.—The United States expedition to Northern California in search of salmon eggs and specimens of the salmonidae with which John G. Woodbury of the Acclimatizing Society of San Francisco is connected, has established a United States station for salmon breeding on the McCloud River in longitude 122 degrees W., and latitude 40 degrees 30 minutes N. A thorough investigation of the McCloud river salmon has been made, and also an exhaustive collection of specimens of the fish of the river for the Smithsonian Institute at Washington. The objects of the expedition were very much promoted by the cordial assistance of H. H. Burtt, of the firm of Tipton & Burtt, Red Bluff.—Sacramento Union.

EASTERN NOTES.

An Iowa patriarch past eighty, is the proud papa of a three year old baby, the last of a series of thirty.

The New York ladies are now wearing bright silk handkerchie's folded over their shoulders.

The New York papers are complaining grievously of the vast number of goats that perambulate the streets in the various sections of that city.

A colony of Communists, 1,500 strong, is established in Iowa on a tract of land comprising 80,000 acres, which they call "Amania."

The Danbury News says:

"Mrs. Annie Badger, of Danbury, wore the finest shaped and largest bustle at the fair."

Col. Wood, the museum man, is organizing a national dog show, like that of England, with several thousand dollars' premiums.

Rhode Island is the only New England State where farms are increasing in value, and this is owing to the growth and prosperity of her manufacturing villages.

A new steam drill, capable of boring a hole eight inches in diameter, has just been introduced in the anthracite regions by the Pennsylvania Coal Company. It will bore further in one day than a dozen men with the old drills could drill in a month.

The Denver and Platte Valley Railroad is to run between Denver and Fort Morgan, there connecting with the Colorado Central Railroad, which runs along the South Platte River to Julesburg. Fort Morgan is on the route between Greeley and Julesburg.

The Boston Herald remarks that there are really but two parties in the present crisis of the country, those who wish to shake hands across the bloody chasm and those who are determined to continue shaking their fists at each other."

At Lynn, Mass., the other day, Wendell Phillips said:

"I come here to-night to say to you, my fellow citizens, pour out your hearts like water, and hold up your hands for General Grant. He represents loyalty to-day and salvation ever after."

At a re-union of the family of J. A. G Lee, of Owingsville, Ky., $6,000 were placed under the plate of each of his sixty children and kin. Around the table they sat, and gazed with grateful bewilderment upon her thousands she observed, 'If it is more blessed to give than to receive, ps, how do you feel?' "

New England "ladies" must be getting a trifle queer. One of them got upon the outside of the Ashfield stage, and finding a Southerner there engaged in filling his pipe for a smoke, snatched it from his mouth and threw it away. Another is reported as entering the dining room of the Chinese students at New Haven, and examining their pigtails in so offensive a manner as to be shown out.

At Carrollton, Miss., is the finest cotton factory building in the south, with the finest English machinery in it, located in a splendid cotton country, on a tract of 2,500 acres of fine woodland; and this splendid building, machinery, land, timber, advantages, etc., is lying idle, not a wheel turning, awaiting capital, energy and enterprise to raise the cheerful hum of remunerating labor. It is for sale at a mere fraction of the original cost, and finds no purchaser.

A fond father in Rochester, says The Courier, had suspected his daughter of having stolen moonlight walks with a lover whom he had refused her seeing, and, in coming home the other night at a late hour, thought he saw his daughter's arm linked in with the hated lover's. The indignant papa took the young man by the collar, and was giving him a good shaking, when he found he had got hold of the wrong man, and soon learned that the parties were a highly respectable married couple, who were coming home from prayer meeting.

Mrs. Laura D. Fair, the California murderess, has been acquitted and released. She owes her acquittal to her beauty. If she had been a hard working washerwoman, with irregular features and a tanned complexion, she would probably have been strung up without judge or jury. It is to be hoped that Mrs Fair will now fall in love with some one of the jury who acquitted her. If the juryman selected by her thinks more of his wife than he does of Mrs. Fair, it will then be proper, according to his interpretation of California law, for Mrs. Fair to blow his brains out. We hope she will do it.—New York Sun.

The Chicago citizens' committee of twenty-five advocate the arrest as vagrants of all persons in the city who have no visible means of support, the closing of all saloons at eleven o'clock, and express the following views: "Some men are opposed to capital punishment on principle. So are we opposed on principle, and long for an improved state of civilization when it will not be necessary to hang any criminals. But we insist that the hanging of murderers in the city of Chicago is as essential for the protection of life as it was essential, in order to get pure water into the city, to build a tunnel under Lake Michigan, or deepen the Illinois and Michigan canal in order to purify the Chicago river."

Yung Wing, agent of the Chinese government, has just arrived in New England, bringing about thirty boys of the average age of twelve years. They form the advance party of one hundred and twenty boys, who are to be sent out to learn American manners, and to be brought up in the ways of civilization. It is expected that they will remain abroad fifteen years, during which time it is intended that they shall prepare for college, graduate, and study professions. They are to be distributed among the best families in Massachusetts and Connecticut, never but two in the same family, and ordinarily but two in the same town. The object in so doing is to accustom the boys to the society of the people with whom they are staying, and to make the acquaintance of the English language a necessity. B. G. Northup, the well-known educator, is assisting Yung Wing in securing places for the boys in homes where the best phases of New England society may be seen.
