DISCOURSE

BY

PRESIDENT GEO. Q. CANNON.

Delivered in Manti, Sanpete County, on the Evening of Feb. 15, 1891.

Reported by L. L. Dalton.

Brethren and Sisters, I shall rely upon the Lord to suggest to my mind such things as will best meet the needs of the Saints here present tonight, and satisfy their desires in coming together.

I feel it a great pleasure to be here with you, and it is a pleasure I am well prepared to enjoy, because it is one which has not fallen to my lot very frequently of late years.

It does me good to get away from the every day cares of business, and meet in conference with the Saints. It is very comforting, encouraging and strengthening to me; it does me good in body, mind and spirit. I do not recollect that I ever attended a better conference than that of those last two days in Logan; and I doubt, lest I may be wrong, if the people in general feel the benefit and blessing of it as I do.

I am glad to feel and to realize that there is no decrease of the spirit of the Lord among us, but on the contrary, I feel inclined to say there is more of it manifested now than formerly, and it is a testimony to me and should be a testimony to all of us that the Lord has not turned away His face from His people. He has not forgotten us, and is not slow to hear our prayers.

We have, it is true, our tribulations, and they are different from those we had in former times. Ones are personal—due in the form of meetings and driving, hunger and nakedness, and these things tried the faith of many; of some so severely that they turned away from the truth, they fell into darkness, and left the Church which they once delighted in.

Our recent trials have been in the shape of imprisonments of our brethren, and confiscations of our property; and these things are hard to bear; but if there is any apostasy, and I suppose there must be some, on this account, it is good to know that it has not been extensive.

I am aware that there is a disposition on the part of a few, to make comparisons between things past and things present, to the disadvantage of things present; and to conclude that the Church is gone astray, that it has been allowed to drift without the guidance of the power of God.

The manifests has been a stumbling block to some, and other things have tried the faith of the Latter-day Saints in varying degrees, but I think they should not.

I am rather pleased that we should have these things to contend with, because I realize that they are necessary in order that we may gain strength to stand, not alone, but by our own faith in the Lord and with His help.

He seems determined to teach us to rely on Him and not on our own strength, nor on the strength and wisdom of men.

If there ever was a time when the Saints stood in need of an individual, personal testimony of the truth of the Gospel which they have embraced, it surely is now, and they must have it or there is no security for them.

The sending of so many of our brethren to the penitentiary was well adapted to test their faith and that of their families, and I am glad to say they have stood the test nobly, both men and women! I am glad to say I do not know a case where the women have failed to be true to their faith and their cause, to their devotion, courage and singleness of heart. And I have for myself this testimony to bear concerning the Latter-day Saints. The Lord has accepted our offerings, our sacrifices and our integrity; He is satisfied with us as a people and has recorded our deeds in the heavens, and laid up blessings in store for us. I do not say that each individual's record is entirely clear, but I speak of the people as a whole, and I repeat that the Lord is satisfied with us and our efforts, and now it remains for Him to deal with our affairs. I know He loves us and pours out His Spirit upon us and blesses us with light and understanding, nobility, comfort and strengthens us, and enables us to bear our afflictions with patience and fortitude. I have this testimony, and each of you, my brethren and sisters, may have it if you seek aright.

Every individual has a right to a personal knowledge of the truth, and of the mind and will of God concerning his own personal affairs. Our Father does not ask you to walk in darkness, nor by another's light, but it is His good pleasure to give each one of you the light of His Holy Spirit in your own souls.

By this light you have a right to examine all things, and to hold fast that which is good. It is your privilege to know for yourselves, not only if Joseph Smith was a true prophet, but whether Wilford Woodruff is God's own choice of a leader in His Church, if the Twelve Apostles are approved of Him, and all things whatsoever which concern you to know.

I would not give much for a Latter-day Saint who does not know these things, because the world is so full of edge powers that individual careful and lax; but they who have it are awake and active, ready at all times to put a shoulder to the wheel and aid in pulling forth the great work of the last dispensation; and herein lies the strength of the latter-day work.

I can testify that the Lord makes known His will and pleasure continually, and every step taken in the general conduct of affairs in the Church is by His direction; and He will continue to lead His people and love and bless them, whether any one man lives or dies.

In the days of Joseph Smith, many of the Saints were so firmly persuaded that none but the Prophet could lead the Church of God, that when he had laid down his life for his testimony they actually looked for him to be resurrected at once and sent back to his earthly duties; but we may all see so, and that the Lord always knows where to lay His hand on the tool which this work requires.

He has given the keys and power of His holy Priesthood to His servants on the earth, and has promised that they shall never be taken away from us; until the master shall come.

We who have received His precious gifts and been entrusted to perform His work, may expect many tribulations and difficulties, much opposition and reviling, but the Lord has spoken, and this word will be fulfilled to the very letter, His Kingdom will grow and prosper, and His work will go on.

He has all power, and cannot be thwarted by the puny strength of man, and He will prove it to them on every occasion as He did when the wicked laid siege to His Prophet. He raised up another in his stead, filled him with the Holy Ghost, thus enabling him to discharge every duty belonging to his high station. Those who were present on a certain occasion bear witness to the veritable transformation of Brigham Young before their eyes, when he spoke with the voice and bore the countenance of the Prophet Joseph. From that time Brigham Young, through the inspiration of the Holy spirit was quite capable of discharging every duty belonging to his responsible and difficult position.

Since, now the Lord has blessed and favored our present leader, Wilford Woodruff. His life and strength are long spared, and he has been delivered from many difficulties in a remarkable manner, and preserves his vigor of mind and body to old age.

This God will continue to raise up and inspire suitable men, so that we shall never be without an efficient leader.

When He sent his holy angels to certain and proper mortal men for His service, He promised never to take that priesthood away from the earth again.

Men who had lived in former times and had been intrusted with certain powers, visited the earth and bestowed those powers upon the chosen of the Lord. Moroni, who gave the keys of gathering Israel, Elias bestowed the keys he held, all gave as was impossibly to make this Latter-day Dispensation, fulfill a dispensation of the fulness of times.

Could this wonderful work of gathering the people of the Lord from every nation, kindred, tongue and people ever have been accomplished by purely human means? No, the combined wisdom of all men could not have so moved the hearts of men with the desire and spirit of separating from the world and clinging to each other for the truth's sake.

The Lord has certainly redeemed His word that He would perform a marvelous work and a wonder in this latter time; and there are greater wonders yet to be performed by Him, but when they come they will not appear more strange than this. When the Ten Tribes come, according to His word, as they surely will, it will be no more marvelous than this gathering which has been accomplished only through the humeral of the keys of gathering upon Joseph Smith, and by him upon his successors. They will remain in this Church until all things foretold by the mouths of all the holy prophets have been fulfilled to the uttermost.

Let me repeat: We may be afflicted, imprisoned, deprived of our property and of our political rights, for these are things within the power of man; but man has no power to thwart the purposes of God, or even to hinder His work; and His kingdom will triumph.

It would seem that passing events are sufficient to convert all men to a belief in the fact that our religion is divine, and under divine protection. All schemes against us fail, all plans come to naught, the Holy Spirit has been poured out upon the people, and they have rejoiced in the midst of their afflictions, and given thanks to their heavenly Father that they have been deemed worthy to suffer for His name's sake, and for the cause upon the earth.

Still there are and have been times when men and women too, have fell downward, and have wondered if God had forgotten them; but I say to all such, Fear not, the clouds will pass away, the light will shine, and your joy and courage will return. If you preserve your integrity and wait for the salvation of your God, it will surely come and seek you out. He always has delivered and comforted His people, and he will not forsake us now; His arm is not shortened. He is not asleep nor gone on a journey. He will come to us in the secret chamber, and deliver us in the direst extremities, if we will live so that we may have the fellowship of the Holy Ghost, which is the inspiration of God, and whose presence is the presence of God.

Without that blessed communion, we are blind and helpless; and if we do not live so as to enjoy it, we fail to realize our privileges as Saints.

It is indeed our right and privilege to have the companionship of the Holy spirit of the Lord, and we need it.

Even children may have it if they will, and need not be left to walk alone on earth. Every woman should win and keep it for herself, and never try to walk by another's light. If she gets her whole trust in another, even if he is her husband and a good man, he will surely some time fail her. Let her learn to stand alone as far as human aid is concerned, depending only on God and the Holy Ghost.

Do not, brethren, put your trust in man though he be a bishop, an apostle, or a president; if you do, they will fail you at some time or place, they will do wrong or seem to, and your support to come; but if we look on God, He never will fail us. When men and women depend on God alone, and trust in His aims, their faith will not be shaken if the highest in the Church should step aside. They could still see that He is just and true, that truth is lovely in His sight, and the pure in heart are dear to Him.

Perhaps it is His own design that faults and weaknesses should appear in high places in order that His Saints may learn to trust in Him and not in any man or man.

Brother, my brethren and sisters, seek after the Holy Spirit and His unfailing testimony of God and His work upon the earth. Rest not until you know for yourselves that God has set His hand to redeem Israel, and prepare a people for His coming.

If any present have it not, let me advise you to begin seeking for it this very night. Pray, fast, study, and open the doors of your hearts that Wisdom may enter, and you shall know when you have received the Holy Ghost by a great increase of faith, courage, strength, understanding, and all good gifts. Job is indeed a precious gift, the source and fountain of all other gifts. Ask for it, therefore, until you receive it, because we should have it.

We sometimes ask for things which are not best for us, and often feel grieved and disappointed because we have not received that which we asked, or not in the way and manner which we desired; but let us consider, in each case, that the thing for which we asked was unsuitable to our needs or condition and strength, and was withheld in love and kindness. Think of our own children who ask us so often for things which we dare not give them, and trust that our Father will answer us according to His wisdom and tender mercy.

He is sure to give us all the blessings we are able to bear, and we should not dare ask for more, lest we should receive more. Think of the three witnesses to the Book of Mormon. They who saw angels, who heard them speak and bear witness to that book and the divine mission of Joseph the Prophet, turned away from the faith, said Joseph was a fallen prophet, and the Church which he organized gone astray.

But well for them, they never did fall to bear their separate witness faithfully. No pressure from any source was ever strong enough to shake that great testimony, and because they were true to that trust, there was mercy for them. They afterward returned to their former faith, humble and penitent. It seems to me they received greater blessings and glories than they had before they fell.

Oliver Cowdery was ordained by the same angels, to the same Priesthood as Joseph Smith, but that did not save him from falling away from the truth. Then pray for humility, and always remember to ask for the strength to bear them, and the wisdom to honor them.

I will give you a rule by which to judge if you have received the Holy Ghost. It gives strength, it gives hope, it gives wisdom, it gives joy. It gives love of God and man, and if you follow its guidance, it will lead you into the presence of God because it is the spirit of God and the power of God. All that His servants have of His will come to them by that spirit, because it is the spirit of revelation, and the only source whence such knowledge can come.

It dwells in the hearts of men, and does not search man outwardly, nor change his appearance so that he may be known in that way to possess it. This we may know from the fact that even the Devil was with difficulty recognized in the Son of God, even by His own disciples.

Brother Joseph promised to pray for me if I would speak first, and even then I fear I have spoken too long; but Brethren and Sisters, we have come here to visit you have a great desire for your welfare, both spiritual and temporal.

I believe I never enjoyed a Conference better than this of the last two days. I rejoice to feel that the Lord is with His people and that His people are trying to be with Him. If you will accept the counsel you have received during this Conference, you will be united, true to each other, to your faith, and to your God.

You will feel humble and hopeful, willing to forgive each other and to ask to be forgiven. We cannot always live in the spirit of forgiveness, of forgiveness for all who have aggrieved us, and desiring to be forgiven our trespasses.

I pray the Lord to bless you abundantly and keep you full of His spirit that you may walk in His ways and not deviate therefrom. Amen.

NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

Mr. Sanders of the Utah Commission is recovering from the grip, so is Col. McClernand.

Anna Dickinson, the great lecturer, bankrupted Jay Gould for $1,000,000. She is reported insane.

There are 18,814 miles of railway projected in the United States for 1891. Of this 9229 miles are projected in the Southern States.

Mrs. Leslie Carter is in trouble in Omaha. A former medical adviser of hers, has attached the box office receipts, and her wardrobe as well.

A canvass of both houses of the Minnesota Legislature brings out 38 votes for Hinkins, 37 for Cleveland, and one for Harrison as candidates for the Presidency in 1892.

In Springville, party politics are running in the old groove. The "Liberals" there are not with a manifesto concerning the idea of going into Democratic or Republican party lines.

The State legislature of Texas has decided not to make any appropriations for the World's Fair. A private subscription will be opened for the purpose.

The Ogdenites are preparing for a straight 3rd party campaign next fall. Republicans versus Democrats is the story. Suppose Farmers' Alliance should take a hand, and then the Knights of Labor bring up the rear.

The Union Pacific freight department has been entirely reorganized. A saving of 25 per cent will be made on the expense of operation in future. The reorganization means a union of the Mis-souri Pacific system and the Union Pacific.

There was quite a social event in Berlin on the 24th inst. It was the baptism of the infant daughter of Count and Countess Pappenheim, one Wheeler, Count Schouvaloff, the Russian Ambassador, and Mr. Phelps, United States Minister, were the godfathers.

The present political campaign going on in Canada, is the hottest ever known in the history of that country. It is thought that John McDonald and his party, the Tories, will be defeated. It is reported that the Roman church is working in aid of Sir John.

Robert E. Peary, a lieutenant of the U. S. Navy, proposes to walk to the North Pole. He will go there, he can by sea, then he will walk across Greenland. He has already had traveling experience in Greenland. The geographical societies of this country are backing him.

Lugubrious reports are in circulation relative to the health of the Prince of Wales. It is said that a gloomy state of mind is bending on him, and that he indulges in the most melancholy lamentations. At one time he fears Dr. Mackenzie, at another, he apprehends revolution. He is troubled with insomnia.

The young man Sir Bruce Seton, youngest son his wife. Naturally all women are sensitive on the age question, the wife doesn't like to be reminded of it. Women, too are susceptible to compliments, even if they be untrue. Being alive in these two truths the husband makes use of them, especially if disposed to flirt with present, and to this way: "We will suppose he wants something from another part of the house, so he says to his wife, most persuasively, "Now Mrs. Seton, you get it, my dear; you know you are younger than I am." Of course she goes.

W. H. Clagett, the senator-elect from Idaho has presented his claims to the United States Senate. His papers are to the hands of the Senate committee on elections. If Clagett's claims are recognized, Dubois will have to come home. Both are republicans, and both have equal claims from a party standpoint. But if the Senate entertains any consideration for the dignity of its own body, it will send Dubois about the business. It would be an everlasting disgrace to the nation to see such a man as Dubois occupy, even for a day, a seat in the United States Senate.

DRESS GOODS.

EVERY DRY GOODS HOUSE KEEPS DRESS GOODS, BUT scarcely a house in America can show the collection of superb things we are prepared to offer this Spring. They are strung along from New York to Salt Lake, and SOMETHING NEW IS ARRIVING DAILY. The purchases of six past seasons would not equal the selections of this season's line, and Ladies cannot form the faintest idea of how elegantly and tastefully they can dress, except by calling and examining our choice stock of French Novelties and the other artistic effects in our Dress Goods Department.

We shall show a line of French Challies, the patterns and colorings of which are pronounced works of art.

Our Combination Plaid Robes are the most tasteful, at a moderate price, ever produced; and about two hundred patterns of European Novelties, of which no two dress patterns are alike, are something to be proud of.

The Wool Plaids embrace colors never before attempted, and, together with the patterns, are simply immense, and in styles suitable to all ages.

Our Black Goods stock is very complete, in which we are showing many novelties that are offered at the very low prices we place on Henriettas, Serges, Cords, Diagonals and Twills.

WASH DRESS GOODS.

THE TERMS APPLICABLE TO OUR WASH DRESS GOODS are handsome, pretty, sweet. These three styles of beauty are all embraced in the choicest line ever offered in any one house. The cream of all importers and manufacturers are collected in this one grand display.

We lead with the great European Novelty, Korah Moire. In printed goods, a new weave made from Egyptian Cotton and Combed Yarns, combined with the Moire effect, producing a richness only to be found in the highest class silks. Every house advertises Scotch Ginghams and Zephyrs, and show more ugly than pretty patterns, but with us it is different; we have an immense assortment, and every pattern is a beauty, the colors rare and rich, producing effects never before witnessed in this class of goods, and are perfectly fast.

We are also showing stylish patterns in American Ginghams.

The old stand-by, Printed Sateens, is largely represented in all qualities, and the new Canton Cloth, made by Simpson & Sons, deserve special mention for its richness of design.

The patterns in Prints this season are so very pretty we must speak of them.

WHITE GOODS and EMBROIDERIES.

WHITE BLACK GOODS IS THE ONE NEW THING UNDER the sun; you want to see them; they are in Embroidered Flouncings, India Linens, Nainsook Checks, Lace Effects, Cords and Stripes. Ladies of more advanced years can have all the comfort there is in wearing a white muslin dress and yet be dressed in black. You should buy them early, the novelty being so great, there are doubts of there being enough to supply the demand.

We have a more extensive line than ever in White Embroidered Flouncings in forty-five-inch goods for Ladies, and twenty-seven inches for children. You will, of course, see Flouncings in other stores, but if you want style combined with cheapness, you will buy them of us.
