CAPITAL NOTES.

WASHINGTON, 7.—The desire of the leaders of both political parties to bring about the final adjournment of Congress by the close of the present month, appears to be increasing daily, and there is now an undoubted possibility that the session may terminate at the time indicated. Of course, if this programme is carried out, all business, except the appropriation bills will go by the board. There is now hardly any probability that the funding bill can be passed. It may be that the House will get a little tariff bill through, but there is small chance that it will pass the Senate. There remain yet to be disposed of by the House three appropriation bills: namely, the legislative, executive and judicial, the sundry and civil and the general deficiency bill. The legislative bill will be reported early next week. The river and harbor bill has already been reported and will doubtless be passed, as usual, without debate, under a suspension of rules. On the other hand, there are a number of prominent members of both Houses who hold that an adjournment as early as the first of June is practicably out of the question, and it is evident that almost any obstacle that may be interposed in the present swift current of legislation would be sufficient to delay adjournment after the assemblage of the Republican National Convention in which event the session is likely to extend at least to the middle of June and quite probably until the 1st of July.

The Treasury department will have no means available for the payment of gas and water bills for public buildings after the 12th inst., Congress not yet having provided for the deficiency in the last appropriations.

A member of the cabinet said today in reference to Postmaster General Key's successor that both postmaster James of New York, and first assistant postmaster general Tyner would be seriously considered in connection with the prospective vacancy. He understood Postmaster James would accept the position if tendered, and that the President had his appointment under very favorable consideration.

Senator Teller, in behalf of the republican minority on the Wallace committee, submitted a report on the subject of political assessment, criticising the bill recommended by the majority of the committee. After quoting its full text, they say this is in short a proposition to prohibit any employer or other person holding office under the government of the United States from contributing money or other things of value for political purposes, either with reference to the national political questions, or those of the states. It is based on the theory that the use of money contributed by a certain class of citizens, office holders, in a political campaign is a crime, while money contributed by non-office holders, and used for the same purpose is not a crime. Why should this class of citizens be deprived of the privilege conceded to all others? Is there more danger in the contributions of men in office than from those who are striving to get in? This bill is indefensible on any principle. It is in violation of the rights of the people granted them by the organic laws of the land. It should be entitled "a bill to compel political information to be paid for from a single barrel."

The committee might have found on its file evidence of gross abuses in connection with the election of 1878. It might have found that very many citizens were murdered in cold blood because they attempted to vote as their judgment and conscience dictated and directed they should. The committee had on its files uncontradicted testimony to show that tricks, subterfuges, manipulation of ballots, falsification of returns, force, violence, fraud, forgery, perjury, ballot-box stuffing and murder were resorted to in many sections of the country during that election to defeat and set at naught the will of the people. Yet to correct these evils, directed not simply against the very existence of the ballot, the committee appear to have no concern. Was it because the political party that has profited by these wrongs is the party to which the majority of the committee belong, and the same party that so recently attempted to repeal all laws that had for their only object the protection of the purity of the ballot and the safety of the voter? Such anxiety to save the people from the evils of political assessment by a party that has illegally refused to consent to any legislation that will prevent the intimidation of voters, the making of false returns and the various frauds so recently practised to secure the triumph of that party, subjects the committee to a well-grounded suspicion of a desire to make political capital and to prevent the active and intelligent officials of the government from contributing to the success of the party that has honored them with office, rather than to correct the evils now existing, or which, there is reason to fear, may exist in the future. The minority report concludes by recommending the passage of a bill (the provisions of which are quite voluminous) prescribing heavy penalties of fine and imprisonment not only for the levying of compulsory political assessments by Government officers upon their employes, but also for a number of specified offences against freedom and the purity of elections, including bribery and the intimidation of voters at national elections, and the bearing of arms at any public meeting held for the discussion of political questions with reference to the election of members to Congress or presidential electors.

Difference of Opinion as to the Result of the Conventions.

NEW YORK, 7.—The result of the several State conventions held yesterday are subjects of much comment among Washington politicians to-day. The Blaine men generally feel elated over them and claim that their favorite has forged ahead considerably. They now claim that with the aid of the New Hampshire delegation, headed by Wm. E. Chandler, Blaine will have 40 of New England's 80 solid votes or more than double what he had in 1878. They claim also that he will have Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey solid, and that when the tug of war comes in the convention they will have nearly all of Wisconsin's vote. The Grant men, however, claim a considerable portion of the Maryland and Wisconsin votes, and although chagrined at their failure to secure a solid delegation in Tennessee and unmistakably afraid of the formidable revolt against the unit rule in Pennsylvania and New York, they still predict Grant will be nominated on the first ballot. The friends of Sherman also profess great confidence in the ultimate success of their candidate. They argue that neither Grant nor Blaine can be nominated on the first ballot, and count on a combination being then effected against Blaine, of which Sherman is, according to their calculations, to be the beneficiary. Dispassionate observers generally continue to believe that Illinois is the key to the situation, and that until the 19th inst. the final result will be wholly problematical.

Diametrically opposite opinions are expressed by democratic Congressmen as to the probable future actions of the Ohio delegation in case it shall become apparent that Thurman has no chance for the Cincinnati nomination. Thurman and his intimate friends are earnestly opposed to Tilden, but it is predicted by some Congressmen well acquainted with the personnel of the Ohio delegation that the majority when Thurman is out of the question will vote for Tilden.

A Strange Marriage.

LOUISVILLE, 7.—A special to the Courier-Journal from Mt. Vernon says: On the 25th of December last, William A. McKenney, son of W. L. McKenney, of this county, shot and killed Fred Smith, at the residence of his father, six miles from Mt. Vernon. McKenney, a young man almost beardless, had seduced the daughter of Smith, the evidence of which seduction was plainly seen in a babe which Smith's daughter, a pretty girl, Nannie, had given birth to about six weeks before the killing. McKenney was arrested and held to answer by an examining court. He was indicted by the grand jury at the present term of the Circuit Court for wilful murder and yesterday the trial began. Smith's wife and his daughter Nannie were the only witnesses of the killing. According to the preponderance of testimony, Smith had driven McKenney and Nannie from the house, had attacked McKenney and stabbed him severely with a knife before McKenney fired the fatal shot. Nannie has been living with McKenney since the killing, and their former relations have been kept up. The trial excited considerable interest and attracted a large crowd to the court house. The testimony closed this morning, and after the jury had been instructed by the court the argument of counsel began. The defense begged the jury for an acquittal of the boy, promising that as a fitting final to the prosecution William and Nannie should join hands and in the solemnity of matrimony would pledge lifelong devotion to each other. The jury, after a deliberation of about twenty minutes returned a verdict of not guilty.

Immediately after, William and Nannie marched arm-in-arm into the court house, and, halting just outside the bar in front of the judge's seat, Judge McClure stepped in and in a few words pronounced them man and wife. The occurence caused considerable sensation.

WONDERFUL POPULARITY OF THE RENOWNED MEDICINE

THE GREATEST CURATIVE SUCCESS OF THE AGE—A VOICE FROM THE PEOPLE.

No medicine introduced to the public has ever met with the success accorded to Hop Bitters. It stands to-day the best known curative article in the world. Its marvellous renown is not due to the advertising it has received. It is famous by reason of its inherent virtues. It does all that is claimed for it. It is the most powerful, speedy and effective agent known for the building up of debilitated systems. The following witnesses are offered to prove this:

What It Did For An Old Lady.

Coshocton Station, N. Y., December 28th, 1878.

Gents—A number of people had been using your Bitters here, and with marked effect. In fact, one case, a lady of over 70 years, had been sick for years, and for the past 10 year. I have known her, she has not been able to be around half the time. About six months ago she got so feeble she was helpless. Her old remedies, or physicians, being of no avail, I sent to Deposit, 45 miles, and got a bottle of Hop Bitters. It had such a very beneficial effect on her that one bottle improved her so that she was able to dress herself and walk about the house. When she had taken a second bottle she was able to take care of her own room and walk out to her neighbors, and has improved all the time since. My wife and children have also derived great benefit from their use.
W. B. HATHAWAY,
Ag't. U. S. Ex. Co.

An Enthusiastic Endorsement.

Gorham, N. H., July 15, 1879.

Gents—Whoever you are I don't know, but I thank the Lord and feel grateful to you, to know that in this world of adulterated medicines there is one compound that proves and does all it advertises to do, and more. Four years ago I had a slight shock of palsy, which unnerved me to such an extent that the least excitement would make me shake like the ague. Last May I was induced to try Hop Bitters. I used one bottle, but did not see any change; another did so change my nerves that they are now as steady as they ever were. I used to take both hands to write, but now my right hand writes this. Now, if you continue to manufacture as honest and good an article as you do, you will accumulate an honest fortune, and confer the greatest blessing on your fellow-men that was ever conferred on mankind.
TIM BURGE.

Duty to Others.

Chamberburg, July 25, 1879.

This is to let the people know that I, Anna Marie Krider, wife of Tobias Krider, am now past 74 years of age. My health has been very bad for some years past. I was troubled with weakness, bad cough, dyspepsia, great debility and constipation of the bowels. I was so miserable I could hardly eat anything. I heard of Hop Bitters and was resolved to try them. I have only used three bottles, and I feel wonderful good, well and strong again. My bowels are regular, my appetite good, and cough all gone. I feel so well that I think it my duty to let the people know, as so many knew how bad I was, what the medicine has done for me, so they can cure themselves with it.
ANNA M. KRIDER,
Wife of Tobias Krider.

My mother says that Hop Bitters is the only thing that will keep her from her old and severe attacks of paralysis and headache.—Ed. Oswego Sun.

A Husband's Testimony.

My wife was troubled for years with blotches, moth patches and pimples on her face, which nearly annoyed the life out of her. She spent many dollars on the thousand infallible(?) cures, with nothing but injurious effects. A lady friend of Syracuse, New York, who had had similar experience, had been cured with Hop Bitters, induced her to try it. One bottle has made her face as smooth, fair and soft as a child's and gives her such health that it seems almost a miracle.
A MEMBER OF CANADIAN PARLIAMENT.

A Rich Lady's Experience.

I traveled all over Europe and other foreign countries at a cost of thousands of dollars in search of health and found it not. I returned discouraged and disheartened, and was restored to real youthful health and spirits with less than two bottles of Hop Bitters. I hope others may profit by my experience and stay at home.
A LADY, AUGUSTA, ME.

A Lovely Chaplet.

A late fashion report says: Nothing can be prettier than a chaplet of hop vines in blossom. A recent medical review says: Nothing can be better as a general renovator of the health than plenty of Hop Bitters. They aid in all the operations of nature, toning up the weak stomach, assisting the food to become properly assimilated, and promoting healthy action in all the organs. The dictates of fashion, as well as the laws of health, alike favor a right application of hops.

Don't Use Stimulants.

Use nature's real brain and nerve food and nourishing tonic, Hop Bitters, that quiets the nerves, invigorates the body, cures disease and restores the vital energies without intoxicating.

Deleven, Wis., Sept. 24, 1878.

Gents—I have taken not quite one bottle of the Hop Bitters. I was a feeble old man of 78 when I got it. To-day I am as active and feel as well as I did at 30. I see a great many that need such a medicine.
D. BOYCE.

Monroe, Mich., Sept. 25, 1878.

Sirs—I have been taking Hop Bitters for inflammation of the kidneys and bladder; it has done for me what four doctors failed to do. The effect of the bitters seemed like magic to me. W. L. CARTER.

If you have a sick friend whose life is a burden, one bottle of Hop Bitters may restore that friend to perfect health and happiness. Will you see that that friend has a bottle at once?

Bradford, Pa., May 8, 1878.

It has cured me of several diseases, such as nervousness, sickness at the stomach, monthly troubles, etc. I have not seen a sick day in a year since I took Hop Bitters. Several of my neighbors use them.
MRS. FANNIE GREEN.

Immense Sale.

Evansville, Wis., June 24, 1879.

Gentlemen.—No Bitters have had one-half the sale here and given such universal satisfaction as your Hop Bitters have. We take pleasure in speaking for their welfare, as every one who tries them is well satisfied with the results. Several such remarkable cures have been made with them here that there are a number of earnest workers in the Hop Bitters cause. One person gained eleven pounds from taking only a few bottles.
