M'ENERY AFFAIR IS UP ONCE MORE

Story from San Francisco Regarding "Understanding" Causes Some Wonder.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS DUE HERE.

Threatened Suit Not Filed Yet but News is Forthcoming Within Twenty-Four Hours.

Until Prof. A. C. McLaughlin of the University of Michigan reaches this city from San Francisco the story supposed to have come from that city a few days ago will be held in doubt by many Salt Lakers. The story as told was that Prof. McLaughlin, who was the victor in a very recent contest for the guardianship of Miss Isabel Lois McLaughlin, his niece, Dr. W. M. McEnery's step-daughter, and an heiress with considerable wealth in her name, announced he had found all stories told about the doctor false. The stories denied were those told by Miss Evans, an English nurse now employed in the Murray hospital.

"UNDERSTANDING" REACHED.

It was told that Prof. McLaughlin and Dr. McEnery went to the latter's San Francisco home upon reaching the Golden Gate city and both were united in their denials. "We have reached an understanding," is what both men are quoted as saying. Prof. McLaughlin is further quoted as saying he had investigated Miss Evans' story and found it factless, this in spite of the fact that Miss Evans told her story to Powers & Marioneaux of this city and asked them to represent her in a suit for breach of promise against the doctor. Relatives of Prof. McLaughlin and Miss McLaughlin say they have not heard from him nor Mr. McEnery. He was supposed to have started east from the coast yesterday morning, but has not arrived here yet. It was said Miss McLaughlin would be left in the care of her step-father and his sister.

NEEDED COACHING.

A portion of a story printed in this city Sunday morning follows:

"The story told by Miss Evans is false," Dr. McEnery said. His attention was called to the fact that Miss Evans had said she met him in a London hospital and that they had made a trip to Monte Carlo together.

"Have you anything to say to that?" he was asked.

Dr. McEnery seemed agitated somewhat by the question. He tugged at his blonde mustache and impulsively turned to Prof. McLaughlin.

"What shall I say?" he asked.

"That her story is false," advised the elder man, laconically.

"Why did Miss Evans select you as a victim then?"

"It is possible that she has selected others, too," Dr. McEnery replied.

"Has she made an effort to get money from you?"

"I must decline to discuss the matter," the doctor concluded.

ANNOUNCEMENT DUE.

The law offices of Powers & Marioneaux were visited this morning to ascertain if and when the papers in the promised Evans vs McEnery case are to be filed. Of the ten days given by legal custom but two are left—the papers must be filed by Wednesday. No information was obtainable this morning but an attache of the firm said some announcement either one way or the other, would be forthcoming this afternoon. It is learned from outside sources that there is no inclination to drop the case now that certain statements have been made. Miss Evans said she intends carrying matters to an end.

REGARDING MISS EVANS.

Relatives of Miss McLaughlin wish it understood they did not use Miss Evans as a tool as would be taken from reports published at the time of the contest for guardianship which was won by Prof. McLauchlin after an all night debate between himself and Dr. McEnery in a room at the Alta club. The contest was started before Miss Evans was known to be in America, let alone in Murray. The heiress's relatives knew there was such a woman; had heard her story, but they imagined she was in England. They sympathize with her, but regret deeply that anything which might create a wrong impression was printed. They desire Dr. McEnery's absolute power over Miss McLaughlin lessened, and are now desirous of letting matters take their own course.

It must be understood that Prof. McLaughlin has been given the power to manage Miss McLaughlin's monetary affairs and provide for her, but the young lady, herself, can choose for herself in other matters. There is need for peace in the matter. The affair is of unusual interest in this city as the principals are Utahns with the exception of Dr. McEnery and Miss Evans and all are known in this and other cities.

SPITZNAGLE GUILTY.

Burglarized Union Warehouse and Is Held to District Court.

In Judge Diehl's court this morning William Fisher was arraigned on the charge of burglary in the second degree. Fisher, with H. Spitznagle, was arrested on the charge of burglarizing the Union warehouse. Spitznagle pleaded guilty and was held to answer to the charge in the district court. Fisher this morning pleaded not guilty and his case was set for hearing on Dec. 23. In default of $500 bail he was remanded to the custody of Sheriff Emery.

The case against Norse Sullivan, charged with robbery, was dismissed this morning by Judge Diehl. In this case the state failed to make out a case of probable cause.

Whether it manifests itself in the nose, throat, stomach, bowels or other organs, catarrh is a blood disease because it depends on impure blood.

Therefore it must be treated with a blood medicine for a radical and permanent cure.

CASES CONTINUED FOR TERM.

All the cases wherein the United States was plaintiff previously set for hearing during the November sitting of the Federal court, were today continued for the term, which means that not before the April session will any of the suits pertaining to the alleged coal land conspiracies have an airing.

Among the corporations and individuals affected by the postponement are the Utah Fuel company, Robert Forrester, J. M. Moore, W. D. Foster and others, indicted for alleged conspiracy in connection with certain coal lands in southeastern Utah.

DAY TO TALK.

Negro Sentenced to Be Shot Will Appear Before Board Today.

The board of pardons resumed its hearing on the application of Albert T. Day for commutation of sentence from death, to life imprisonment this morning. A. C Ellis and Russel Schulder of Dickson, Ellis & Schulder, appeared before the board in Day's behalf. They stated that they had gone over the records in the case thoroughly and had come to the conclusion that he had not been properly defended before the court and jury, and they declared that the character of some of the prosecution's witnesses might have been impeached easily. At the conclusion in their arguments before the board a recess was taken and it was announced that Day, the man sentenced to be shot in Friday, Dec. 13, would appear in his own behalf before the board when it resumed its session this afternoon.

BILLIARD CHAMPIONSHIP.

George Sutton Will Endeavor to Wrest Title from Jacob Schaefer.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—For the second time within one year, George Sutton and Jacob Schaefer will contest for the 18.1 billiard championship tonight, Schaefer having wrested this title from Sutton last March. The game will be played in orchestra hall.

Unless Schaefer can successfully defend the trophy from his opponent tonight, Sutton will have a monopoly on honors in the professional billiard world. "Jake" was unable to take the 18.2 title from him in their recent match, but his friends think that he will prove a more dangerous opponent at the style of play which prevails tonight.

This contest will be the third meeting of Schaefer and Sutton this year, and will furnish the best possible line on their respective abilities. Schaefer's wonderful open play in the 18.1 match of last March seems to indicate that he may be a slight favorite over Sutton, even though the latter has been showing wonderful form in his practise of late.

TO COMPETE FOR NEW CUP.

New York, Dec. 2.—Sir Thomas Lipton and other famous foreign yachtsmen will be invited to come to America next year to sail for a cup to be presented by certain members of the Brooklyn Yacht club. The race will be for boats similar to those suggested by Sir Thomas in his challenge for the Americas cup, which challenge was declined by the New York Yacht club. Some time ago the Brooklyn Yacht club appointed a committee to consider the matter of presenting a cup for international races between "sane and healthy" yachts, and at a meeting of the club to be held Wednesday, this committee will recommend that this cup be offered. It is understood that a number of prominent yacht clubs in Europe will be invited to compete for the new cup.

WHY OUR IMMIGRANTS STAY.

The government of Sweden has not only invited the people who have emigrated to this country to come back in the most flattering terms, but has sent a commissioner over to press the matter. Probably some way will be found to "accelerate" the home going impulse. A few may turn back, for the love of fatherland is very strong in the human breast, especially when a bunch of dear kindred stick to the old soil. Those, however, who have witnessed the contentment and prosperity of the immigrants from the north of Europe who have settled here believe that the effort to induce a wholesale return to their native land will fail.

It would be an argument against the Swedes or any other people in like case if it were true that they loved America solely as a place to make mine. The ideal patriot of all time has been one whose love of country could not be matched by dollars and cents. Men have refused gold and chosen poverty when the price of gold was abandonment of home and kindred. It is the free atmosphere of this country which the immigrant seeks and which ties him to his adopted home. All Europe groans under the yoke of class privileges. No matter how liberal a ruler may be, social traditions are too strong to be overcome. A peasant may by a stroke of luck make a fortune. He may even be appointed to high office, but he cannot break into a higher social rank. His position is much like that of the negro under the civil rights bill. Law may favor him. But social prejudice will not budge. The adult immigrant may fare harder here than at home, but he knows that he will leave a heritage to his children with which all that Europe has to offer cannot compete.

SALT LAKE BANK IN PALATIAL HOME

New Building of Utah Savings and Trust Company is Formally Opened.

FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF.

Interior Trimmings Make it a Triumph in Beautiful Effects of Decoration and Convenience.

The Utah Savings Bank & Trust company began business this morning in its new quarters, on the ground floor of the new seventstory building, now one of the land marks of Main street, between Second and Third South. The bank occupies the entire floor, 26½ feet wide by 187 deep, which is fitted up in effective style. The walls and ceiling are in rich olive tints with a Grecian border, and elaborate mouldings in dark cream enlivened by light gilding.

There is a high wainscoting of Italian marbles with an English vein, and the walls of the various apartments east of the manager's office, are of the same material, with polished brass bars and gratings. The flooring is of ceramic mosiac. The furniture of the offices and apartments is of mahogany mostly, and the directors' room at the rear of the banking room is one of the most elegantly furnished of its kind in the west.

The vaults of the institution are walled with Bessemer steel and concrete, combinations that will defy the best efforts of the best crackmen, and in addition, there is an alarm contrivance that will give an alarm if the vaults are at all tampered with. The building is not owned entirely by the bank, but by the Savings & Trust company, John J. Daly and the E. P. Ferry estate. The architects were Ware & Treganza, and the contractors A. & J. McDonald. The vestibule of the bank is an elegant affair of heavy French plate glass, colored marbles, mahogany and brass, with two heavy stone pillars in front which add massiveness to the general appearance. The building is elegantly furnished throughout, to comport with the banking apartments, and every office was spoken for long before the building was completed. It is one of the most attractive in the west, and Mgr. H. M. Wells and his associates are being given the glad hand of congratulation on the new structure. The cost was $250,000, and the fixtures, $50,000. The deposits of the bank amount to $1,412,695.39; capital stock is $250,000, the surplus and undivided profits, $28,170.25, the loans and discounts, $702,340.44; investments, $285,506.68, and other cash resources, $424,848.27. W. S. McCornick is president; J. J. Daly, vice president, H. M. Wells, secretary and treasurer, and W. Mont Ferry, F. J. Hagenbarth, E. O. Howard, E. A. Wall and W. J. Halloran are directors.

OGDEN IS HOSTESS.

Opening of Resort and Press Club Occasion for Big Times.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, Dec. 2.—Ogden and Salt Lake newspaper and other professional men were guests of W. J. Shealy Saturday evening at the Utah Hot Springs, 10 miles north of this city. The occasion for the celebration was the opening of the Ogden Press club quarters in the First National Bank building and the opening of the resort. The Press club held open house through the day and at least a thousand persons visited the cozy rooms. Punch and sandwiches were served. At 6 o'clock the reception came to an end. Everyone was long and loud in his praise of the club's quarters. Three homelike rooms have been furnished elegantly; a billiard table, buffet and several cases of books are prominent among the larger fixtures.

At 8 o'clock the invited guests of Mr. Shealy boarded a special car. Included among the guests were Mayor-elect A. L. Brewer, Councilman-elect C. J. Humphries, State Senator C. R. Hollingsworth, Rep. Kuchler, President N. C. Flygare of Weber stake, and other prominent residents of this city, as well as J. W. Hyde and George L. Geiger of the Deseret Evening News of Salt Lake and T. D. McNamara and E. J. Evans of the Salt Lake Herald.

When an elaborate feast had been disposed of toasts were in order, with Mr. Shealy acting as toastmaster. Those responded to were, "The Press," A. L. Brewer; "The Press Club," W. Fred Bossner; "Associated Membership," Joseph Chez and C. R. Hollingsworth; "Salt Lake Press Club," Ernest J. Evans; "Sanitariums," Rudolph Kuchler, and "The Ladies and a Little Bit of Everything," George L. Geiger. At the conclusion of the talks Squire Coop, H. Anderson and William Allison sang and rendered instrumental selections. At 12 o'clock, midnight, the trip back to town was commenced.

While the men folks were banqueting Mrs. W. Fred Bossner, Mrs. S. L. Brick, Mrs. E. Larkin and other Ogden ladies entertained in the Press club rooms. Mrs. J. W. Hyde and Mrs. Geo. L. Geiger of Salt Lake, being guests of honor. The Ogden ladies conducted a shopping tour and when ribbons, laces and cloth had been bought the women returned to the club rooms where they enjoyed an old-fashioned sewing bee.

When the men arrived at the Hot Springs Mr. Shealy led them through the various departments of the springs, showing how modern and up-to-date the place has been made. Three large pools, two indoors and one in the open air are now surrounded by a big hotel, renovated throughout, and every other attraction boasted by the most famous resort. Supt. Flygare and Asst. Supt. T. Bailey of the Ogden Rapid Transit company acted as motorman and conductor on both runs between town and the springs. The day was one of the greatest in Ogden's history.

U. S. SMELTING CO. SUED FOR $70,000

Union Lime & Stone Company Alleges Nonfulfilment of Contract.

FURNISHED DEFENDANT LIME.

Complaint Alleges That After Certain Time Defendant Established Lime Rock Quarry.

The suit of the Union Lime & Stone company against the United States Smelting company, involving $70,000, is being heard before a jury in the federal court today. The case grew out of the alleged non-fulfilment of a contract on the part of the defendant. It is set forth in the complaint that an agreement was entered into five or six years ago by which plaintiff was to furnish defendant all the lime rock it required in its smelting operations, in the neighborhood of 500 tons a day.

OPENED UP QUARRY.

It is claimed that after a certain time defendant company, contrary to a provision of the contract, opened up a quarry of its own, and commenced taking less and less of the product of the Union Lime & Stone company, until the latter concluded that the contract was no longer binding on its part, and the other concern was sued for the full amount of rock called for during the entire life of the agreement.

MAY NOT SELL STOCK.

Judge Armstrong Denies M. V. Clays' Motion—Regular Divorce Matinee.

Judge Armstrong denied the motion of M. V. Clays for modification of the restraining order secured by his wife in Judge Morse's court by the terms of which he was restrained from selling mining stock during the pendency of her action for divorce. The taking of testimony in the case was concluded Saturday afternoon.

Judge Armstrong also conducted the divorce matinee. It was most uninteresting, the charges being of the sort that have come to be known as "routine" because they are so common. The persons appearing before and affected by Judge Armstrong in his decisions were as follows:

Edward L. Van Antwerp was granted a divorce from Susan Maria Van Antwerp on the ground of desertion. They were married April 12, 1899, at Brooklyn, N. Y., and lived together until 1902, when the husband was compelled to come west for his health. She refused to follow him.

Amy McGrath secured a divorce from Martin McGrath. They were married at Logan, July 30, 1902, and for the past year he has failed to provide for her. She was granted the custody of her oldest child, a girl of 4 years, while the husband will take the 15-months-old babe.

Ora M. Brasher, was separated from F. F. Brasher. They were married at Riverside, Cal., Jan. 11, 1906, and she told the court that he had not supported her for the past year. Her maiden name of Ora D. Madsen was restored.

NEW YORK IS NEXT.

Following the stipulation filed in the federal court a day or two ago, suspending until Dec. 19 the taking of testimony before Master in Chancery Lewis in the case of the United States against the Utah Fuel company, comes the announcement that New York will be the next scene of activity in that direction. Many witnesses, especially for the defense, are in the Empire state, and thither have gone special counsel Fred A. Maynard, Dist. Atty. H. E. Booth and Atty. E. M. Allison, Jr., the latter representing the defense. John M. Zane of Chicago will be on hand also, as counsel for the Fuel company.

HAGENBARTH LOSES.

Judge Lewis overruled Frank Hagenbarth's demurrer Saturday morning in the suit pending against him, brought by Joseph E. Caine and Max Junghandel. The defendant will now have to answer. A former demurrer by the defendant was sustained, permission having been granted the plaintiffs to amend their complaint. This was done and another demurrer alleging insufficiency of facts was entered. This was overruled Saturday. The action is brought on a contract, seeking the payment of $200,000, growing out of a deal for the transfer of a Nevada mining property. C. S. Price appeared for the plaintiff Saturday, while the defendant was represented by W. H. Dickson.

FAILED TO PROVIDE.

Two husbands found themselves gripped by the strong arm of the law Saturday when Howard Perkins and R. S. Johnson were served with processes charging them with failing to provide for their families. Johnson has a wife and five children. He declares that until his wife took his watch, he turned over the major portion of his earnings to her, but has not done so since the timepiece was abstracted by his helpmeet. Perkins declares that he has been without work for some time and that is the excuse offered by him. They will answer before the court.

SAYS WIFE WAS PROFANE.

Henry Nink, in a complaint for divorce against his wife, Eva Nink, Saturday in the Third district court, declares that soon after their marriage she became addicted to a too generous and too frequent use of stimulating beverages. Upon trying to reform her and remonstrate with her for her unbecoming actions, he declares, he was met by his helpmeet with a string of oaths and uncomplimentary suggestions as to his character and lineage. He believes himself entitled to legal severance of the marital bonds, which is his prayer to the court.

LAWRENCE-UTAH MUTUAL.

Judge Morse entered an order Saturday requiring the Utah Mutual Tunnel company to make a pro rata distribution among the stockholders for the sale of the Merrimac mining claim. The amount is $1,100 and plaintiff's attorney was allowed $100 for his services and the receiver draws $50.

SEEKS TO ENJOIN TREASURER.

M. & N. Liebenstein File Suit Against Groesbeck on Tax Controversy.

M. Liebenstien and N. Liebenstien, doing business as M. & N. Liebenstien, have brought suit in the Third district court against J. A. Groesbeck as treasurer of Salt Lake county, seeking the court to direct the defendant to place the value of the plaintiffs' stock at $25,500, that the action of the board of equalization placing the value of the stock at $65,000 be declared null and void, that the amount of taxes on the property be assessed at $932.50 and that the treasurer be enjoined from collecting $2,424.50, as taxed and that during the pendency of the suit that the treasurer be required to show cause why an injunction should not issue to restrain him in the manner set forth in the plaintiff's prayer.

It is set forth that the assessor placed the valuation on the stock at $25,000, and that subsequently the board of equalization placed the valuation at $65,000.

EARLY CHRISTMAS SHOPPING.

In the effort to save something of the severe strain on women clerks and the boys engaged in the delivery service, an official of the Associated Charities in New York has sent out some useful rules about Christmas shopping. Plain humanity is worth practising at holiday time:

"First—Do as much of your holiday shopping as possibgle before Dec. 1.

"Second—Finish it before Christmas week.

"Third—Go to the stores as early in the day as possible.

"Fourth—Avoid buying during luncheon hours, and thus shortening this rest time for the clerks.

"Fifth—Carry home whatever parcels you conveniently can.

"Sixth—Allow a day, at least, for the delivery of parcels."

The very tired girls who wait behind the counters of our big stores are not fond of Christmas time. Its tax on their strength might be mitigated by the men and women who crowd the stores.

Those who come early to buy their Christmas books at the Deseret News book store will get first choice of the rarest assortment ever brought to Salt Lake, they will, too, see the stock before it is "picked over," and can get the attention of clerks now who will later be too rushed to answer questions. Do your Christmas shopping early.

TROUBLES OF THE TEWS.

Authentic Problem Presented to District Court for Solution.

It is seldom that mathematical complications enter into the complications of married life. However, there is a case in point today in the district court, wherein the facts and figures play a somewhat important part in the proceedings which are instituted by Elizabeth Tew in her complaint filed this morning, seeking legal separation from Roscoe M. Tew.

The inference to be drawn from the complaint of Mrs. Tew is that she does not wish Tew and Tew to be one. By arithmetic, two and two make four. Mrs. Tew would have Tew minus Tew and then be two instead of Tew, the Tew in point being one by virtue of the obligations of the marriage vows. The two Tews are not one, used in the sense of unity, it is gathered from the complaint. Elizabeth Tew in paragraph 1 of her complaint says that Tew and she were made one in this city on Nov. 6, 1901. The two Tews of childden have not one. For one year Tew has treated his better half in a cruel and inhuman manner, says the complaint, in paragraph 3. Paragraph 4 declares that Tew is able bodied and earns $125 per month. In her prayer to the court, Mrs. Tew is asking that the court award her a decree of divorce and $100 temporary alimony, suit money, and $100 counsel fees together with $200 additional as permanent alimony. In effect, summing up 1, 2, 3 and 4, the paragraphs of her complaint, Mrs. Tew, reducing her prayer to an arithmetical formula would have the court perpetrate this seemingly impossible trick:

2 plus 1 were made 1.

Admitting that as the consequence of their marriage with the further conseqdence that:

2 Tews made trouble.

As a consequence, Mrs. Tew would have the court effect such a computation that:

2 minus 2 shall equal 2,
Or, that the present union of 2 and 2 shall be made 0.

ESTATE OF LOUISE ROHAN.

Mrs. Gertie Freeman filed in the probate division of the Third district court today a petition for letters of administration in the estate of Louise Rohan, formerly Louise Johnson, to be issued to the Salt Lake Security & Trust company. The deceased died intestate in this county June 26, 1907, leaving property valued at $1,400 of an annual rental value of $150.

Mr. Dodd has built up a big circle of friends and his departure is regretted. Copp's return to this city is a cause for joy among members of the profession so they are between two fires.

Six-Day Race—The six-day roller skating race, free-for-all-go-as you please for 20 minutes each evening, starts tonight at the Auditorium rink on Richard's street with about 30 entries. The contest promises to be a most interesting one as several peedy skaters from other cities have entered. The distance covered each evening, the names of the leaders, etc., will be announced by the daily press.

Everett Buckingham, who is reported to be leaving the Oregon Short Line, is not going with the Orient, but Mr. Dickinson thinks Mr. Buckingham is to become manager of the stock yards there. So far the general offices of the Oregon Short Line have received no word from Mr. Buckingham.

The action is based upon the action of the recent legislative session which reduced the salary of the supreme court reporter from $800 to $600 per annum.

Big Convention Soon—The National Wool Growers' association will meet at Helena, Mont., Jan. 14, 15 and 16. A great fight has been waged for certain rights and the enaction of certain laws and the coming meeting will see the campaign for what the wool growers believe their just rights closed. Helena is preparing elaborately to entertain the thousands expected to attend the convention. Last year's convention met in this city.
