
HOME.

No other word brings to our minds more pleasing reflections than the little word home. Forest Dale is intended to consist only of homes. It has attractions that no other addition in Salt Lake City possesses.

In times like the present people look for homes where their taxes are likely to be as low as possible, and their other expenses in proportion. Forest Dale, a subdivision of the old farm of the late President Young, is just far enough from Salt Lake City so as to be free from city taxes. Vegetables and fruit are cheaper; and for building purposes brick can be bought for at least one dollar per thousand less than in Salt Lake City. While it is wise to consider the question of economy, other matters are of even greater importance. Forest Dale has its own water system; the springs from which the supply is obtained producing over 1,200,000 gallons of pure, clear water in 24 hours. The pipes are laid all through the addition, and those who purchase a home own the water piped to their door as well as the land their house stands on. One electric car system passes right through the addition, while another runs within a short distance of it and will also eventually pass through. Good school facilities exist, two teachers being employed in the Forest Dale School; with a high school for more advanced pupils over by. The social enjoyment of the neighborhood is also at stake in the Forest Dale Pleasant Hour Club being formed for the especial purpose of furnishing at home plenty of harmless yet pleasant recreation. The old farm house furnishes quarters for concerts, dances and socialism. These, with the Sunday Schools and kindred meetings giving the young a field for the development of their talents, without which no people can progress. For those who desire a home whether large or small we have property necessitated anywhere. We desire to sell only to home makers. If you want a home, our agents will be pleased to take you to the property, and let you select that which suits you best. Lots of any size can be obtained. Call at room 332 Constitution Building, see plat of the ground and obtain any particulars you wish. No trouble to show property.

FRAGMENTS.

The grand jury are taking a brief recess.

Up to noon today only one order—and that merely formal—had been entered in the Probate court.

The county clerk has issued marriage licenses to George G. Merrill of Bluff Dale and Margaret Mellen of Salt Lake; to Louis Peterson of Bluff Dale and Alice S. Hendricks of Salt Lake.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

Suspension of Gravity Outlet Sewer Work Arranged For.

STREET SPRINKLING STOPPED

Adolph Anderson Appointed Sanitary Inspector to Succeed Showell.—Issuance of Warrants.

The City Council met last night, President Lauritzen in in the chair. The members present were: Roth, Folland, Harry, Simmons, Beatley, Kelly, Lowers, Rees, Wallace, Stott, Bell—12.

Absent—Kerrich, Morse, Evans—3.

THE FIRE-FIGHTERS.

The Pacific Paving company asked for a final estimate on the West Temple street paving. Board of public works.

Francis Wheelhouse, the man who was run over by Captain Mike Donovan of the fire department about a month ago asked that he be given compensation for injuries sustained. Committee on claims.

T. W. Ellerbeck asked for a refund of $56.25 paid for sidewalk excavation. Board of public works.

The committee having in hand the straightening of the plat B muddle asked for compensation. Committee on claims.

Samuel Willis asked for a free peddlers' license. Committee on license.

J. C. Thompson and others asked for the extension of watermains on Second South street, between Eighth and Ninth West streets. Committee on waterworks.

William K. Dunne and others asked for a resumption of the work of opening and grading Ninth North street from Fifth to Eighth West street. Committee on streets.

George Rapp represented to the council that he had beaten and lost to the paving of First and Second South streets under a contract between William St. V. Le Sueur and one J. N. Keter, and that said Keter had been paid his share of the work, but that the petitioner had not, and that the sum of $319.03 was owing him. He therefore asked that in case the council make an appropriation to Mr. Le Sueur that that sum be held back for account of the petitioner. Committee on claims.

John McVicker et al called attention to the dangerous condition of the sidewalks on the south side of west South Temple street between State and Main and East street. Board of public works.

WILL COST $12,000.

Street Supervisor Hines reported that it would cost $12,000 to finish the paving on West Temple from First to Fourth South streets. Mayor and city engineer for recommendation.

ADOLPH ANDERSON THE DARK HORSE.

The Mayor sent in a communication in which he recommended the appointment of Adolph Anderson as sanitary inspector to succeed William Showell, S. C. Ewing having declined. Sanitary committee.

AGAINST THE TANNERY.

Health Commissioner Beatty recommended the abatement of alleged tannery nuisance on 4th North street. Sanitary committee.

A DANGEROUS BRIDGE.

The city engineer reported that a certain bridge over the Jordan river near the Copper Plant was in an exceedingly dangerous condition and recommended that it be removed or reconstructed.

Simmons recommended that lanterns be erected and placed on the nearest thoroughfare on either side of the river leading to the bridge. Carried.

All matters bearing on the case were referred to the city attorney to report as to the city's liability in case of damages.

A REJECTED CLAIM.

The committee on public lands recommended that the bill of Gavigan & Purcell in the sum of $[illegible] for removing a panel of the iron fence around the relief tank, be not allowed as the removal was a voluntary act on the part of Gavigan & Purcell, who were the contractors for the erection of the said fence, in twenty a cents. Adopted.

WARRANT ISSUANCE TROUBLE.

The auditor asked that he be instructed as to the manner in which he shall issue warrants which may become legal within the limit of the 4 per cent valuation. He stated in this connection that the appropriations to Oct. 16, amounting to $[illegible], were still on his book unpaid, and that these would be paid this next Saturday. He desired to know which should take precedence. Referred to committee on finance.

PAYING BILL.

The committee on streets recommended that the bill of the Salt Lake Bituminous Asphalt company in the sum of $1115, balance due for paving the intersection of State and First South streets, be paid upon the approval by the Mayor of the bond offered by the company. A motion to adopt was lost and it was then referred to the city attorney.

QUARTERLY REPORTS.

The street supervisor submitted his quarterly report, showing expenditures to the tune of $16,103.81. Referred to committee on streets.

The report of the city engineer for the quarter ending Sept. 30, 1893, was received and filed. The report showed an expenditure for that period of $9,834.39 and receipts $512.15. Net expenditure $9,318.44.

The superintendent of water works presented his report for the quarter ending Sept. 30, 1893, which showed a total expenditure in that time for work and supplies of $19,836.12. Committee on water works.

THAT SPECIAL FINANCE REPORT.

Beatley, chairman of the special committee appointed to report on the financial condition of the city, stated that the committee had been unable to complete their report and asked that they be given until the next meeting to submit the same. The request was granted.

SALT LAKE AND JORDAN CANAL.

In the matter of the petition of residents adjacent to the Salt Lake and Jordan canal requesting that the canal be filled up, the city engineer reported representing that about 4,000,000 gallons of canal water are required daily to supply the demand for irrigating west of East Temple street and that a like quantity is needed east of East Temple street below the canal, and stating that as long as this necessity for irrigation continues it will be impracticable to abandon the canal unless it can be demonstrated that our pipe system can furnish an equivalent for the purpose, in addition to the requirements for culinary uses. Otherwise a permanent channel should be provided by the substitution of pipe or masonry for the old wooden flume now in use. Such a pipe would cost $[illegible], and the engineer recommended that it be ordered laid as soon as it shall be determined that the canal must be permanently maintained.

He also recommended that a section of pipe about fifty feet in length be laid at once at a cost of $250, so as to enable certain sidewalks in that district to be permanently laid and certain street grades to be made at that particular point.

Referred to a special committee of five, consisting of Evans, Kerrich, Morse, Roth and Wallace.

THE PAVING DIFFICULTY.

The committee on claims reported in reference to the Cutler-Jennings and Le Sueur muddle as follows:

We find on investigation that Le Sueur has furnished materials for the asphaltum work being done on the streets under the Cutler-Jennings contract, for which he claims to be paid, and your committee believe the Cutler-Jennings company owe for this material and unjustly refuse to settle for the same. We are of the opinion that for the purpose of avoiding payment they put the Wasatch Asphaltum company between themselves and workmen and material in order to avoid just demands against them. The council has already appropriated $[illegible] and placed the same in the Mayor's hands with full authority to inquire into these matters, ascertain the rights of the different parties and pay the said money according to such rights. For some reason unknown to the committee, the Mayor has not adjusted all the matters in controversy as the council intended to authorize him to do. Your committee is of the opinion that the council has done all it can properly do in the premises unless it be to make its authorization to the Mayor more explicit, if possible, and that the officer be requested to act in the matter as the facts, so he may find them, appear to him to justify.

Fullmer presented a minority report as follows:

I do not concur in the above report, in finding that Le Sueur furnished material; but find that he performed some labor for a money consideration if the job turned out to be profitable.

The majority report was adopted and all the papers ordered referred to the Mayor for his consideration.

STREET SPRINKLING STOPPED.

Rich offered the following which was adopted:

Resolved, That the contract made on May 26, 1893, and recommended in May, 1893, for street Salt Lake City and Mount Griffin, the sprinklers, be and is hereby dissolved and void from this date.

GRAVITY SEWER WORK SUSPENSION.

Bell submitted the following which was adopted:

Resolved, That the board of public works and the city engineer be authorized to arrange with the contractors on the gravity sewer for a suspension of the work on said gravity sewer under the conditions of the contract, and as soon as this is done practicably, and report their finding back to the Council at its next meeting.

Adjourned till Friday evening.

ACTOR EYTINGE DEAD.

His Last Performance Was With the "Sign of Life" Company in Salt Lake.

The "Sign of Life" company's experience since leaving Salt Lake City has been one series of accidents, says the San Francisco Chronicle of Oct. 16. There have been washouts, burnt bridges and other unavoidable obstacles productive of most annoying delay. The latest and most distressing misfortune occurred last night in the death of Walter Eytinge at the German Hospital of typhoid fever.

Mr. Eytinge has only been with the company since September 24th. He joined it at Indianapolis, playing his first stand at Chicago. He was the leading heavy man and took the part of the villain. During his brief engagement he played only nine times. His last performance was at Salt Lake City, Saturday night, October 7th.

He was to have appeared in this city Monday night. The company was delayed eleven hours by a burning bridge, so that they did not arrive till after midnight, and the performance did not come off. Mr. Eytinge stopped at the California Hotel, as he had letters to the proprietor, A. F. Kinkor, from mutual friends.

Tuesday morning, about 7 o'clock, Eytinge was found to be very ill. A physician was summoned who announced that the patient was suffering from typhoid fever and was in for a protracted siege of it. Mr. Eytinge, who is a member of the actors' fund, on learning this informed that fund of Henry Irad, the president of that society, who summoned, O. M. Hall's advice to his son, who was received to the German hospital.

At the time of his removal Eytinge was unconscious. He rallied for a short time, but soon began to sink rapidly. Charles Thomas, of San Jose, the secretary of the actors' fund, telegraphed Mr. Mann, of the California theater, to see that Mr. Eytinge received every necessary attention.

In spite of all possible care Eytinge continued to grow worse. Yesterday the crisis was reached. It was thought that he had passed it successfully, as he brightened perceptibly about noon and seemed to be better. Toward night a relapse ensued and at 10 o'clock the end came.

When the company gave its first performance Tuesday night Mr. Eytinge wanted to appear. This his physician would not allow. Fortunately William Calder, the manager of the company, is familiar with the lines. Had it not been so the performance would not have gone on, as Mr. Eytinge was so unfortunately.

The deceased was a married man and leaves a wife and one child, now six years in New York. He was 35 years old. Mr. Eytinge belonged to a theatrical family, being a relative of Rose Eytinge, the tragedienne. Eytinge was an actor of more than ordinary merit. He was a man of great personal attractions and during his brief connection with the company had won many warm friends.

It is not known when Mr. Eytinge contracted his fatal illness. For several days before reaching San Francisco he had been complaining, but nothing serious was feared. The news of his death was telegraphed to his widow last night. The body will be held here subject to her order.
