DURYEAS' "SATIN GLOSS."—After the laundress has washed and cleansed, it is desirable, as a finish, to use the purest starch she can get. The best is snow white and easy to use. NOTICE.—It is advisable that our settlements take immediate steps to raise the molasses-producing variety of sorghum, also broom corn and mustard, and prepare in time for drying, canning and otherwise saving the different varieties of fruit, and for making pickles, that, so far as possible, these products may be supplied without importing.

ANOTHER IMPROVEMENT.—The proprietor of Lindsey's Gardens is still adding to the variety of amusements offered to pleasure seekers. He has just had laid out an excellent croquet ground under a pleasant shade of trees and vines.

WHAT THEY SAY.—Chicago Journal of Commerce says: Dr. Price's Flavoring Extracts are the finest, purest, and best to be found in this or any other city, only necessary to visite his Laboratory to be convinced that they are perfectly pure and superior in strength. The Tribune Review says: Although the company, Steele & Price, have enlarged their facilities for the production of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder and True Flavorings, they are hardly able to meet the rapidly increasing demand for them. In this age of adulteration, it is gratifying to find one honest effort to stick by the old path of honesty, and consumers owe it to themselves to patronize those making the effort. For natural flavorings none can compare with Dr. Price's, and to make the sweetest, most wholesome, and easily digested bread use Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 29.

HORTICULTURAL SHOW.

Those who wish to form an approximate idea in regard to what can be done hereabouts in the matter of the production of fruits, flowers and vegetables, and who wish to feast their eyes on a splendid collection thereof, should visit the Horticultural Show, at the 13th Ward Assembly Rooms, which opened at 2 o'clock to-day and will continue for a couple of days.

The left hand corner from the front entrance to the large hall is occupied by one of the most beautifully and artistically arranged miniature landscapes we have ever seen. In it are mountains, grottoes, tiny fountains, grass lawn, rocks, cattle, sheep, &c., all placed in a natural and attractive order, indicating the good taste and skill of those whose handiwork it is—Mr. John Reading, Mrs. Burnham, and Mr. John Gillies.

To attempt to describe the brilliant bouquets of cut flowers and give the names of the different varieties would be a task that we have not the time nor space to undertake; they are simply superb.

The display of pot flowers is also very fine, and, considering that the exhibitors are but few in number, all the collections, especially, the last named, are quite extensive. The fuschias are especially notable, the specimens of this delicate and beautiful flower being as fine as can be raised in any country.

There is also a good display of trees or plants which come under the head of ornamental foliage—sub-tropical, among which is a lemon tree.

There is a fine assortment of medicinal herbs, in the north-east corner of the room, and then come the vegetables. The potatoes—including the Early Rose, Brownwell's Beauty, King of the Earlies, Goodrich, &c., are large and fine. The cauliflowers, cabbage, onions, beets, pease, beans, rhubarb, four stalks of which latter weighed eight pounds, were all very noticeable for size and quality.

The display of fruits is simply astonishing for the earliness of the season. The cherries and gooseberries look simply unsurpassable, and we noticed some fine bunches of grapes of the Black Hamburg, White Muscat and Buckland varieties. There is also one fine, plump, ripe fig on exhibition, something new for this City. There are apples, currants, raspberries, apricots, plums and a host of other productions too numerous to mention, but all delightful to the view.

The premiums were awarded to late in the day to admit of the lists being published in to-day's NEWS.

That Petition.—Yesterday we published a petition of the residents of the 11th Ward, to the Secretary of War, setting forth that they were being deprived of their water privileges by the Camp Douglas post, and asking that the military authorities here be directed to refrain from taking the water belonging by right to the petitioners.

In commenting upon the peculiar proceedings of the military in relation to the question as to whether the latter were amenable to the municipal laws for breaches thereof, a leading eastern journal very pertinently asked the question whether there was a "privileged military class." The same question enters into the matter under consideration, for unless there is in Utah a "privileged military class" that class, without superior privileges to those enjoyed by civilians, cannot infringe upon the rights of the latter by taking from them that which is legally their property. Not long since a case in which was involved the question of water privileges occurred in Montana, and on being taken to the Supreme Court of the United States, decision was given in favor of the first settlers. If the military be exempt from this rule, then there is a "privileged military class." Instead of their being exempt, however, we give it as a fair, square proposition, that where any departure might be taken from this rule it would not be in favor of the military, but otherwise.

Many things appear to be done on the ground of prejudice, which leads some people to act as though "the 'Mormons' have no rights that should be respected." The question at issue, however, is not one in which "Mormons" alone are interested, as the non-Mormon residents of the 11th Ward are equally as much concerned as their neighbors. None of the people are so interested in the farming, gardening, artificial lakes, groves of trees, &c., of the military post as to be willing to sit down supinely and see their orchards and gardens surrounding their dwellings drying and parching up for want of the water to which they are entitled, and which is used for those camp improvements; not by any means. If the citizens do not obtain redress from the quarter to which they now appeal, and which was only done after the camp authorities had been incessantly, diligently, but vainly importuned, they have the right to exhaust every means of redress within their reach, for the right of petition by the people shall not be denied.

As set forth in the petition the 11th Ward has been settled and inhabited for a period of over twenty years, long before the military post of Camp Douglas existed, and therefore the settlers of that part have the best legal right to the waters of Red Butte, from which they made a ditch of several miles in length and at great expense of time and means. Their water rights to that stream are not only ahead of those of any military post that might be established between them and the source of their water supply, but also of those of civilians, settlers who may locate upon intervening lands, and no person, civil or military, has any more legal right to take from them the water privileges that belong to them than they have to enter their houses and carry away their goods and chattels.

The petition of the people of the 11th Ward indicates great moderation and much generosity, in that they manifest therein a willingness that the Camp should have the privilege of using all the water from their ditch necessary for all strictly garrison purposes, provided that all waste water be returned again to the ditch. Now the petition sets forth that not only is the water from the ditch of the 11th Ward people used at Camp for cultivating large quantities of trees, tracts of land, making artificial lakes, &c., but that the waste water, over what is actually used for those purposes, is allowed to run upon the "desert" prairie, instead of being returned to the ditch that it might be used by those to whom the whole legally belongs. This seems to indicate a lack of humane feeling, an absence of manly consideration for the interest of others, that is well nigh incredible; in fact it looks a good deal like "adding insult to injury," and certainly would not be tolerated a week by a less patient people.

There is a great question involved in this matter, in that its settlement will show whether a portion of the military can with impunity not only prevent the further settlement and cultivation of lands by monopolizing the water privileges, the only means of cultivating some portions of the public domain, but also whether, by the same process, people can be reduced to the apparent necessity of abandoning their homes and the lands they have already redeemed from sterility.

A PROCLAMATION.

BY THE GOVERNOR.

UTAH TERRITORY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

To whom it may concern:

Know ye, that by virtue of the authority in me vested, I, George L. Woods, Governor of the Territory of Utah, do by this my proclamation fix the times and places for holding the Supreme and District Courts in and for said Territory of Utah as follows, to-wit:

The Supreme Court in and for said Territory shall be held in the city and county of Salt Lake on the second Monday in the month of January, and on the first Monday in the month of June of each year hereafter, unless otherwise ordered by the Governor; the Court to convene at each regular term thereof at the hour of one o'clock in the afternoon of the days designated herein.

The District Court in and for the First Judicial District shall be held in the City of Provo, in the County of Utah, on the third Monday in the month of September, on the third Monday in the month of November, on the third Monday in the month of February, and on the third Monday in the month of May of each year hereafter, unless otherwise ordered by the Governor; the Court to convene at each regular term thereof, at one o'clock in the afternoon of the days designated herein.

The District Court in and for the Second Judicial District shall be held in the city and county of Beaver on the first Monday in the month of September, on the first Monday in the month of November, on the first Monday in the month of February, and on the first Monday in the month of April of each year hereafter, unless otherwise ordered by the Governor; the Court to convene at each regular term thereof at the hour of eleven o'clock in the forenoon of the days designated herein.

The District Court in and for the Third Judicial district, shall be held in the city and county of Salt Lake on the first Monday in the month of October, on the first Monday in the month of December, on the first Monday in the month of March, and on the first Monday in the month of May of each year hereafter, unless otherwise ordered by the Governor; the court to convene at each regular term thereof at the hour of eleven o'clock in the forenoon of the days designated herein.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the Territory to be affixed.

L. S.

Done at Salt Lake City this 14th day of July, A. D. 1874, and of the Independence of the United States the ninety-ninth.

GEO. L. WOODS,
Governor of Utah Territory.

By the Governor:

GEORGE A. BLACK,
Secretary of Utah Territory.

Granted.—In the District Court yesterday, in the case of C. C. Clements vs. Robert Campbell, City Recorder, on application for a mandamus to compel latter to allow the affiant to investigate and take abstracts and copies from the City account books under the defendant's care, the request of the applicant was granted and the case will be appealed to the Supreme Court of the Territory.

In the cases of the City Treasurer and the Assessor and collector, decision was reserved by the Court, there being some features in them which differed from those of the Recorder's case.

Is It the Weather?—Surely the hot weather must make some people crusty, pugnacious, not to say malevolent. No less than three arrests were made last evening of parties for assault and battery—A. Cowan is charged by Mrs. Brunton with kicking and otherwise maltreating her; Henry Cunnington, colored, is charged by some ladies of a similar complexion to his own, with doing the same by them; and another man, named Miller, also took to pounding somebody and was arrested.

Grand Celebration Ball.—We have received complimentary to a "Grand Celebration Ball" at the 13th Ward Assembly Rooms, on Thursday evening, July 23. Committee, Frank Bennett, Enoch Jennings, John Horne.

The Comet.—This distinguished stranger gets out of sight now much earlier in the evening, though he leaves his tail behind him for a while. If you wish to seem him now-a-nights, you must "be there" very soon after daylight is gone.

Indisputable.—The San Francisco Chronicle thinks it is indisputable "that the Mormons have been almost as successful in their intercourse with the Indian element in their territory as was Mr. Penn in his colony two hundred years ago."

School Teachers' Examination.—A second examination for the school teachers of Salt Lake County will be held in the University Building, Salt Lake City, on Saturday, Aug. 8th, commencing at 9 a.m. Teachers should come prepared with pens, paper, and ink, as the examination will be conducted principally by manuscript, also with a certificate of good moral character.

$2.50 will be charged each applicant, to defray expenses.

Board of Examination. { O. H. RIGGS, JOHN R. PARK, H. I. DOREMUS.

Organization of the P. T. C. C.—At a meeting of Citizens of Salt Lake City, held on Monday, July 13, 1874, the following gentlemen were appointed as the People's Territorial Central Committee—

John Sharp, D. O. Calder, John R. Winder, A. M. Musser, J. P. Freeze, John T. Caine, Feramorz Little, J. M. Benedict, E. F. Sheets, A. M. Cannon, George Crismon, Theodore McKean.

The committee elected John Sharp Chairman, Theodore McKean Secretary, A. M. Musser Corresponding Secretary.

The following are from the minutes of the meeting of the committee—

"Headquarters People's Territorial Central Committee.

"At a meeting of the committee held this day, July 15, 1874, the following letter of resignation was received and the resignation accepted—

SALT LAKE CITY,
July 14, 1874.

'Hon. John Sharp, Chairman Central Committee:

'Sir—I respectfully decline the nomination as Justice of the Peace for the 3rd Precinct at the ensuing election, and request that you withdraw my name from the People's Ticket. Respectfully,

'JETER CLINTON.'

"On motion the name of A. H. Raleigh was substituted as nominee for Justice of the Peace for the 3rd precint and his name ordered to be placed on the People's Ticket."

To-night.—We understand the emigrants will arrive to-night.
