DESERET EVENING NEWS.

Monday, ... July 13, 1868.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

CORRESPONDENTS writing for publication are requested to write on one side of the paper only.

No notice can be taken of anonymous communications. Correspondents' names must in every instance accompany their communications, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of reliability.

SABBATH MEETINGS.—Elder David Candland, from Sanpete, occupied the forenoon. He gave a very interesting account of Sanpete County and the difficulties with which the people have had to contend there, and the faith manifested by them. For three years they have been exposed to Indian irruptions, and have suffered much at the hands of the savages, yet they have labored to make the county productive and desirable under the discouraging circumstances which have been around them. This season they have had a plentiful supply of grasshoppers, by which much damage has been done; but yet they expect to reap an average crop of grain. The speaker, during his remarks, touched upon several principles of the gospel and urged the necessity of the Saints living their religion.

Afternoon.

Bishop A. J. Moffit, of Manti, Sanpete County, made a few remarks concerning the condition of Sanpete, endorsing the statements of Elder Candland made in the morning. Although he did not think there would be as much grain harvested in that county as Elder Candland believed there would be. He bore his testimony to the truth.

Elder John Albiston spoke of the benefits to be derived from studying the revelations of God, contained in the Bible, Book of Mormon and Doctrine and Covenants; and treated on the development of the purposes of God, spoken of by the prophets, and their fulfilment before our eyes. He reasoned that all the providences of God are designed for, and overruled to, the good of His people.

Elder John Taylor treated on the revelation of the gospel in this age and the restoration of the priesthood, with the condition of the world when the gospel was revealed, and the opposition manifested by the wicked to the truth as it has been proclaimed.

THEATRICAL.—The repetition of "Cinderella" was a success on Saturday night. The playing was very good in it. Madame Scheller's "Cinderella" is really a study, and one from which considerable can be learned. As the fussy, foolish, pompous old Baron, Mr. McKenzie was very excellent, and so was Mr. Margetts as Pedro. Miss Alexander sustained the part of the Queen and her changes with much ability. Miss Colebrook's Prince was very good, only lacking abandon to make it excellent. Miss Adams improved on her Thisbe and made a character of it. Mrs. Clawson threw considerable life into Clorinda and made a good deal of mirth in it. Mr. Graham's Dandini and Mr. Lindsay's Alidoro were also good; and Miss Clive was an excellent Ariel. The operatic selections, songs and choruses were well rendered; and the ballet groupings, though somewhat lengthy, were neatly executed. The machinery and the mechanical effects worked smoothly, and the closing scene was opened in all its brilliancy, beauty and effectiveness, exceeding anything before presented on our boards. The piece will be presented to-morrow night, when Madame Scheller takes a Benefit. In addition to the other numerous attractions, Madame Scheller will sing a German song, and with Miss Colebrook an operatic duet. Go everybody and see this grand operatic spectacle.

A UTAH PLAGUE.—The Golden Era tries to be funny about a new plague, with which it says Utah is afflicted, in the shape of an "elephant beetle," "said to be four inches in length and otherwise proportioned accordingly;" but the effort is a sickly one. Somebody around has surely heard before of these "formidable insects," which "devoured a sheep in four minutes and a half," and "could eat an ox in fifteen minutes;" which "are fond of children—eating them whenever they have an opportunity," and of which "little Mormons have become exceedingly shy"—no wonder! The full description of this creation of the Era's is so terrible that we are afraid of scaring somebody by publishing it. Will the writer please obtain a specimen and forward it to us? Our entymological cabinet will never be complete without it. Next time the Era goes in for adding to the animal creations to accommodate Utah with a plague, could it not do something in the fiery dragon style, or oblige by producing an original as notable as that mythical creature of past ages?

FISH POND.—General Burton has a pretty fish pond in the 15th Ward, formed this season, and fed from springs. It is the same one that was noticed some time ago in the NEWS. Now it is fenced in securely, and the trees around it are thriving, except two or three which will have to be replanted. The fish in it, when we paid a visit to it to-day, were lively in the extreme, and the trout darted with the utmost vivacity for the grasshoppers which were thrown in to them. The water beautifully clear, and every movement of the fish is seen. At present, there are trout, chub and suckers in the pond. When the trees grow sufficiently to make a good shade around it, and the trout multiply, it will be indeed a delightful to sit under the umbrageous shelter of the spreading foliage, and watch the gambols of the fish through the limpid water. The addition of a breeding trough, and a smaller pond for feeding the larger one, will also make it a source of profit to the General, and thus beauty and profit will be combined.

SILK WORMS.—Bro. George D. Watt invited us to call and see his silk worms at work, and the sight was a very interesting one. He has about 10,000 worms, and to feed them he has to collect daily two bushels of mulberry leaves, full and pressed down. His racks are getting filled with cocoons, and the voracious things turn their good appetites to profitable account, changing the foliage of the mulberry into rich and glossy silk with untiring industry and diligence. Bro. Watt calculates that they would produce about fifty ounces of eggs, which are worth twelve dollars an ounce, coin, in California; but he does not intend producing eggs from all of them. If the demand for the eggs was sufficient, he would doubtless obtain the greatest possible quantity, and it is a pity that there are not trees enough to feed them, and people anxious to commence the producing of silk, to buy all the eggs that could be obtained in the country; for home-produced eggs will be superior to any imported, in consequence of the superiority of our climate for the breeding of silk worms.

This morning Bro. Watt brought down 150 an excellent quality of silk, weighing a little over five ounces to the hundred, cocoons and moths. He will keep the best of them to obtain eggs, and destroy the [illegible]

WEST JORDAN.—Elder Orson Pratt paid a visit yesterday to West Jordan, and delivered a very interesting discourse to a large congregation. The people of that ward seem to have received an immunity from the locusts, for we are informed their crops look beautiful although the locusts have been around in great numbers. We wish them as bountiful a harvest as they can desire.

THE INDIAN RAID.—By the following telegram to President B. Young, from Ft. Ephraim, which appears in the News office, it will be seen that the supposition that a man was killed on Saturday by the Indians was incorrect. This is gratifying. The warning given will doubtless be sufficient to put the brethren of Ephraim fully on the alert.

EPHRAIM, July 12th.

President B. Young:—Yesterday about half past 10 o'clock a.m., six Indians made a sudden rush on our horse herd. The herdsman recovered all of them except eight or ten head. Our men pursued them, but only twelve intercepted them. Fifteen Indians ambushed themselves, and when our men came within about fifty yards, the Indians fired and killed one horse dead, from under the rider, and wounded three badly. Our men drove them from ambush, but were unable to give further chase. None of our men are hurt.

C. PETERSON, Bp.

BURGLARY.—On Saturday night three ruffians effected an entrance into Mr. Coult's residence, in the 4th Ward, while he was at the Theatre, made their way to Mrs. Coult's bedroom and awakened her, when one of them held a pistol to her head and threatened to shoot her if she made a noise, and the others searched the house. Before they got through a tap on the outside called them away, some boys returning from the Theatre having scared a confederate who must have been on the watch. They had only got forty-five dollars in greenbacks, and of that they dropped fifteen dollars in their hurried departure.
