NO. 104. TUESDAY, MARCH 26, 1895, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVIII.

MORUGUA'S RECALL

Is Evidence of Spain's Good Feeling Toward the United States.

NO FEAR OF FURTHER TROUBLE

Still that Country on Account of the Colonial Alliance Incident.

NEW YORK, March 26.—A special from Hong Kong to the Washington says:

The propaganda of the Spanish ministry in selecting Senor Matagua as minister to the United States and sending him to summon home Senor Dupuy de Lome, is taken by the state department as a conciliatory and satisfactory settlement of the Spanish government's position in the Dupuy de Lome incident. It is now stated by a few days. The publication of Senor del Castillo's exploits in Morocco is generally regarded by experts here as a sign that Spain does not at present desire a quarrel, but the removal of Morgua is accepted as an act of actual significance, as it is the first change in Spain's diplomatic service since the revolution.

Senor Gullamon declined to make any comment on Matagua's recall, but it is known at the state department that he was taken by surprise by the intelligence of his retiring minister. It is stated that the announcement of the recall was received with the assurance that Matagua's recall was for reasons of new arrangements, and that it was intended as an evidence of good feeling towards the United States.

The recall of the Spanish general officers, under whose orders, presumably, the Spanish war vessel fired on the Allianca, is considered by experts as a movement within a few days of the incident.

And Europe will not closer the Allianca affair for necessary, but will minimize this as it is likely to leave the news, received, that the new minister will call for this country early in April.
