ADJACENT CITIES

OGDEN.

OGDEN, UTAH. - DEC. 25, 1903.

[illegible]

City Council.

A special session of the council was held last night. E. Astill was allowed $30 rent for the Five Points firemen. The report of the committee on the recent visit of the Condamine was read and their expenditures of $[illegible] approved.

The claim of the Wilson Irrigation company against the city was presented but.

Lee & Hayes was granted a permit to erect the city settlement, and a contract will be drawn up by the city attorney.

A communication of property owners on Thirteenth street was read protesting against certain assessments for opening the street and the amounts which signators had agreed to pay or land. They had agreed to pay $[illegible] for land that Nathan Tanner said could be bought for $[illegible].

L. G. Wilcox was allowed $1,[illegible] out of $2,100 claimed for discount on warrants.

The salary ordinance was amended and passed. The mayor's salary was fixed at $1,200 per annum. The city auditor's was reduced to $1,000. Adjourned till next Wednesday.

Thieves Captured.

Sheriff Salmon, with the assistance of J. C. Childs, of Riverside, has captured the party thieves who broke into Brunson's store on Wednesday night. On Thursday night Childs lost some chickens, and tracked the thieves to Thirty-fourth street, in this city. He then informed the sheriff, who, with him and Detective Brown, drove out to the home of a man named Henry on the U. P. track, with a search warrant for the chicks. While about it, he made a thorough search, and found the stolen goods from Brunson's store, but only the damp footprints of the chickens. He arrested Robert, Arthur and George Henry, and Robert Smith, taking them to the county jail. The stolen goods, nearly all of which was recovered, was taken to the sheriff's office. The sheriff and his helpers are congratulated on the lucky capture.

Mutual Appreciation.

On Thursday evening the jurors for the November term surprised Judge Miner and Deputy Marshal Exum at a meeting in the district court room. Speeches were made referring to Judge Miner's affability and kindness, also to the general courtesy of Marshal Exum. The pipe of peace was smoked, stories were told and sirloins were indulged in, all of which showed the general good feeling prevailing among the officers. Yesterday morning, before court opened Judge Miner and Marshal Exum were each presented with a gold-headed umbrella, by the jurors, for which mark of appreciation the officials returned to the jurymen their hearty thanks.

Fourth District Court.

When the court opened yesterday morning, the A. M. Herbert case was continued. The trial occupied the whole day, and will be continued today, when it is expected the case will go to the jury.

The case of F. O. Groome vs Ogden city was referred to J. S. Bateman.

The petit jurors for the November term have been discharged finally. The May term of the Fourth district court, it is expected, will be called February 23rd, 1904.

Val Gibson was made referee in the case of John Schallenberger vs Frits E. Nelson et al, to take testimony.

Notes.

Yesterday three cars of cattle were shipped from this city to Omaha.

The ball at the Weber State Academy on Friday night was a complete success.

David Kay and R. J. Taylor were Salt Lake Passengers this morning.

R. H. Roberts came down from Clarkston and went south this morning.

Another rain storm descended over Ogden yesterday afternoon and evening. This morning the ground is covered with snow.

The term of Judge Miner expires next June, but he has now become so acclimated to this region, and has made so many friends, that it is said he will make Ogden his future home.

In the Third ward fair voting contest, A. B. Fallon led the gentlemen by 35 votes, and Mrs. C. A. Nelson, the ladies, by 42 votes. The contestants are doing a thriving business.

The board of education held a short meeting last evening. The reports of the schools were read; the Greenleaf's report was filed, and teachers' salaries amounting to $[illegible] for the month were allowed and paid. Adjourned till next Friday.

Quite a number of Agricultural College students, clothed in white and blue, came down from Logan on the Union Pacific yesterday, and scattered to various directions to spend the holidays at home.

Superintendent M. Hall has notified applicants for position as teachers, in the county schools, that a teachers' examination will be held on the 23d and 30th of December, in the City hall, Ogden.

The exercises in the public schools yesterday were very pleasant. In some of the primary departments there were Christmas trees and presents for the little ones, while interesting Christmas programs were rendered in the higher departments. Quite a number of parents, mostly mothers, were not to witness the exercises.

[illegible]

During the holidays the Union Pacific will sell excursion tickets to Salt Lake and intermediate points on the Bingham Valley railroad. Good for return until January 4th, 1904.

PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH. - DEC. 25, 1903.

B. Y. Academy.

Friday was the last day of the first semester of the eighteenth academic year of the B. Y. academy. Appropriate exercises were carried out as follows:

At 9 o'clock the students assembled as usual for devotional exercises, after which the various classes—of '94, '95, '96, '97, M. I. A., Sunday school, commercial school and preparatory school—repaired to their respective rooms. Yuletide sentiments and speeches were given. At 10 o'clock all reassembled in the grounds assembly room and were social according to classes. Speeches were made by the class presidents, as follows: '94, Henry Peterson; '95, H. S. Tanner; '96, Andrew Christensen; '97, James O. Jensen; M. I. A., Francis M. Lyman; Sunday schools, C. C. Richards; commercial college, William F. Ward; preparatory, Brother Black. Then followed a speech by each member of the faculty.

There were two graduates from the Commercial college, David Woods, of Pima, Arizona, and Joseph Stone of St. George. In the Sunday school class, 37 students have completed the 12 weeks' course, and in the M. I. A. class 22 students have completed the 18 weeks' course. The exercises were characterized throughout by great interest and good feeling on the part of all concerned.

In the evening the family tendered the students a reception. The main feature of the evening was dancing. A "refreshing" committee, Brothers Henry, Brimhall and Kesler, made it their special business to see that everyone was well fed, and that all had a good time. In several of the commodious rooms were arranged checkers and chess boards and several parlor games for those who did not dance or tired of "gliding the airy lanciers."

First District Court.

The Silver City smelter case is still on trial.

Judgment by default for $2,[illegible], amount due on a note, and $[illegible] attorneys fees, was taken by A. H. Raleigh against Andrew J. Chewart et al.

John H. Whitney, a resident of Sanpete county, has filed a suit for the recovery of $1,000 damages and $[illegible] court expenses, from Henry Jensen and Neils M. Sorensen, alleging as a cause of action false imprisonment on March 7th, 8th and 9th.

On the same statement of alleged facts Bengt Dorbleien has commenced suit against Jensen and Sorensen for $1,[illegible].

Notes.

The mechanical department of the B. Y. Academy, instituted during the semester which has just closed, is an interesting and useful acquisition. Samples of work done by the students show substantial skill and ingenuity in the use of the tools, some of the tables being among these mechanics in embryo.

Marriage licenses have been issued to George Gardner 22, and Vina Castle 19, both of Toledo; Thomas Horne 23, and Rosella Huff 17, both of Benjamin.

The Black Flag was presented at the Opera House last night by a local organization. It was a creditable performance.

The district school closed yesterday for the holidays. The children gave a pleasant entertainment in the evening at the Parker school house.

The tissue asylum board is in session. The principal business is the preparing of a biennial report to be submitted to the Legislature.

PARK CITY.

PARK CITY. - DEC. 25, 1903.

Heavy Snows.

Winter weather has taken the general rule during the week and a great amount of snow has fallen, and the various mines are taking advantage of the splendid sleighing to haul supplies for the winter. Not an idle team in the camp at the present time.

Holiday Displays.

The holiday display of the merchants is very fine and would be a credit to a city many times larger than this. Business in the holiday goods line is good, which has been brought about by the various mines having pay day during the past week.

Plenty of Coal.

With the opening up of the Coalville mines, after the recent strike, coal has been rolling into this Park at the rate of about twenty-five cars per day. There is no chance for a coal famine this winter, as all the mines and mills have stored up a large amount of coal.

The Park Sampler.

The mines and mills are still kept busy, and sending out daily the usual amount of ore and bullion. The Park City sampling mill has smelled during the week a larger amount of ore than at any time since last June. This fact indicates the stability of the camp.

Working Night and Day.

The Central Co-operative is still working night and day renovating and shipping the large amount of ore on hand. The mine is now working with a full force of men. [illegible] the mill will be run night and day, the ore. The tramway is filled up to the winter and will not be opened again until next spring.

The Daly-West.

Work on the Daly-West mine is still being pushed and most lively, when it can be said that anything is to the case at ore and the most economical treatment of ores, a mill will be put up some time during the coming spring, providing that the bottom does not entirely drop out of silver and lead.

Marsac Mill.

The Marsac Mill will start down in a few days, as the usual overhauling and repairs, and in ten days will be ready for active work again.

Notes and Personals.

The Utah Central railway had a special train of two coaches to Salt Lake Friday, bearing the remains of Miss Harvey Illsley. A large number of friends attended the funeral from Park City. The train returned the same evening.

Hon. A. B. Emery, representative elect to the next Legislature, has been in Salt Lake most of the week attending the caucuses of his party, and trying to avoid the many applications for office which he will be a party to help bestow upon the hungry office seekers.

R. C. Chambers and J. J. Daly were various during two days of the week. Mr. Chambers was up on his usual monthly duties of paying off the many men employed in the Ontario mine and mill, and the Daly mines and Marsac mills.

Many commercial men have been in the city during the week, and all report fair success.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Rice were visitors to Salt Lake Thursday.

Mr. W. R. Berg spent a few days in the Park during the early part of the week.

The Union Pacific pay car made its regular trip Friday and distributed the November pay to the employes here.

The free reading room will be thrown open in a few days and the rooms are being fitted up comfortably, and will be supplied with all the latest papers, etc.

BEAVER FEELS SLIGHTED.

That is, as far as Mills are concerned.—Other news and suggestions.

Special Correspondence of the Deseret News.

Some time since, as your readers are already aware, the Union Pacific railway cut down its service south of Juab to three trains a week. This caused a spontaneous outburst of indignation throughout the district affected and in a short time the daily trains were restored. Such action is highly commendable and the Union Pacific is entitled to consideration in the premises for the need of material which it furnishes action, planted has grown up and the opportunity growth remains, for the tri-weekly service between Milford and Beaver which was instituted when the road was in the place, is a tri-weekly one, and the Beavers have thus gained nothing practically. Not only are but they not, but something, as under recent arrangements the News, that is published here on Friday evening and issued here reaches us the following Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock—when a week or six or four days from the time of mailing among two days on the middle Pacific route and thirty-six hours on the Rio Grande Western, the time is the rule, and is one of the influences which militate against the advancement and prosperity of the adventurous enterprising and thrifty community. The people complain but their complaints are in a sighing tone and the powers that be in the postal department at Washington either do not hear them or were so much one to do that no attention has as yet been directed this way. Surely, in view of present and promised development in our mining regions of southern Utah, if other conditions prevail, this matter ought to be adjusted more nearly in accordance with modern methods.

The term of the second district court in Fillmore and the various have all taken place, Beaver—the great majority in their respective homes, but not a few to a compulsory stance for varying terms in the government's penitentiary institution near your city. Only two or three of those who were acquitted had the sad destination assigned, but, up to date, they have made no complaint about it and seem rather to enjoy than otherwise the exception of things which deprives them of a county from the national and legislative establishments. The town has settled down to its normal quietude and the people have ample time in which to figure out how much if anything they are about by reason of the late visitation.

This reminds me that the grand jury's report at Marshal Exigman for not paying up at the close of the term was a needy unfortunate performance, for the reasons that (as he has already shown) he was not at all to blame, and being in every instance anything but enthusiastic the jurors and witnesses needed their pay that they might in turn pay others. This branch of the public service ought to be improved, in some way. So long as we have to bear the burdens of legal prosecutions, or the government has to do so in conjunction with us, those who are drawn from their regular occupations should not be subjected to the additional hardships of either waiting for their compensation or having to discount it for cash when received. It must be paid eventually, why not at once?

Unless Utah shall previously emerge into the sunlight of political independence and there be a consequent rearrangement of things judicial, there will be a juryless term of court here next March. This will affect not very few this way, that is, comparatively speaking. Hitherto [illegible] we hope to have other attractions more potent and in a sense more profitable. Meanwhile, in the language of Hamlet, "Much ado about nothing."
