A CENTENNIAL AWARD

Is valuable to the recipient and the public, when given to one of many competitors, as showing true merit. The competition in plasters at the Centennial was great; yet the manufacturers of Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster received the highest and only award; thus proving by the highest medical authority in the world the great superiority of their article over ordinary porous plasters and li-

Bimonia. Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster was invented to overcome the slow action of the ordinary porous plaster, and to afford quick relief from pain. Only the purest vegetable ingredients enter into the composition of Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster. When combined they constitute the best remedy ever devised for the cure of rheumatism, neuralgia, lame and weak back, spinal and kidney affections, sciatica, lumbago, stubborn colds, sprains and bruises. Sold everywhere.

LAME-BACK. BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER is the best remedy for a lame or painful back, or weakness of the back ever invented or known. It soothes, it strengthens, it cures, where other porous plasters and all liniments fail.

For all the bitter opposition of jealous rivals, no better illustration could be had of this fact than the immense sale already attained by the great Throat and Lung Remedy, Dr. Aug. Kaiser's German Elixir. For the cure of Coughs and Bronchial Affections, it is truly wonderful, even those suffering from Consumption in advanced stages find great relief, and numbers of patients have found, to their delight, not only relief but cure. It being perfectly harmless, makes it at once popular with mothers, who of all others have felt the necessity of such a medicine. The genuine bears the Prussian Coat of Arms, the fac-simile signature of Dr. Aug. Kaiser, and has his name blown on every 75 cent bottle. A trial size may be had for 25 cents.

EVENING NEWS.

Thursday, May 8, 1879.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

NOTICE.

It is expected that the next company of missionaries for Europe and the States will leave Ogden May 14th, and that another company will leave May 21st, convenient time for the sailing from New York, May 20th and 27th.

F. D. RICHARDS.
JOS. F. SMITH.

Message.—There is a message at the W. U. Telegraph Office for Mrs. E. Burrows.

Call and Get It.—There is a letter with the London postmark at this office, for Miss Alice Jackson, 16th Ward, sent care of DESERET NEWS. The owner can get it on application.

Grasshoppers. — Advices from Porterville state that the inhabitants are having lively times with the grasshoppers at present. From the appearance of things, there would be but little, if any, grain raised there this season.

Wanted Immediately.—The committee need six masons or good pointers, and six laborers to work on the New Tabernacle. Terms made known on application to Superintendent Henry Grow.

Those owing the P. E. Fund should take advantage of this opportunity.

Emigrants Arrived. — President Taylor has received a telegram from Ogden, stating that the emigrants arrived there at half-past 12, today, all well. They expected to take the train which reaches Salt Lake at a quarter to 7 o'clock, this evening.

Sullivan's Sarcasm.—A successful epigram, now going the rounds, is attributed to Arthur Sullivan, composer of the uncopyrighted opera "H. M. S. Pinafore." He says he can afford to be cheated out of his royalty, but he cannot afford to let his music be murdered as it is done by some of those who attempt its rendition.

The Coming Regatta.—Arrangements for the season's regatta of the Salt Lake Yacht Club, are going forward. Among the prizes to be contested for are two beautifully chased gold lined silver cups, a description of which appeared in the NEWS some time ago. A meeting of the club has been called for to-night, that the necessary preliminaries may be completed.

Information Wanted. — A. W. Hobart, Esq., whose address is 148 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, Mass., is compiling a genealogy of the Hobart family, and desires to hear from parties of that name or connected with that family who may reside in Utah. He has traced one Otis Hobart, of Leicester, Massachusetts, to Nauvoo, and thence he thinks to Utah, and would like to hear more of him or his descendants.

Base Ball.—On Saturday, at 3.30 p.m., the second game of the championship series between the Deserets and Red Stockings will be played. The latter nine, the losers of the last game, are determined to regain their footing, and strong confidence is felt that they will be successful. On the other hand the victors are equally desirous of retaining their advantage, and have the sympathy of their adherents. A close and exciting game will no doubt be witnessed.

Death of an Honest Man.—Reverend Henry H. Prout, pastor of the Episcopal Church at Corinne, died on Tuesday afternoon, after a brief period of sickness. Mr. Prout is said to have been a well educated, upright and honorable gentleman, and when we inform our readers that he was the writer of the fair and able articles which have appeared in the Herald over the signature of "Gentile," we are certain that all will say amen to it. We regret his death, in the deepest sincerity.

"A Woman of the People."—Miss A. A. Adams, Salt Lake's favorite actress, will make her reappearance at the Theatre to-night, in a play with the above title, in which she will be assisted by her little daughter Maud, a child actress of precocious talent whose prestige has preceded her from the Pacific coast. The other characters are cast among the best dramatic talent of the city. Miss Adams has always been popular with the theatre going public, a veritable "Woman of the People," and we hope her old friends and the masses generally will turn out in force to witness her reappearance this evening. The farce of "Little Susie" will follow the play. Miss Adams also plays to-morrow night, and at a matinee on Saturday.

THE EXPRESS ROBBERY.

At the opening of the court yesterday morning the case of the People vs. H. C. Shurtliff was resumed.

The first witness called was J. M. Griffith, formerly teller of the Omaha National Bank, who testified to having put up on the 12th of September, 1876, a $10,000 package for McCornick & Co., Salt Lake City, and showed his receipt of delivery to Edwards, then receiving agent for the Union Pacific Express Company.

J. M. Edwards, next witness, stated that he was the cashier of the U. P. Express Company in 1876 and on September 12th received a package from Griffiths and gave a receipt as stated. Identified receipt as his own. He stated that he delivered the package to Comstock the messenger.

J. O. Comstock then took the stand, and testified that in September, 1876, he was messenger for the Union Pacific, running between Omaha and Cheyenne, and that he received a package from Edwards, according to a receipt which he then identified, and gave the package to Mr. Kidder, on arriving at Cheyenne.

M. C. Kidder testified to having been a messenger on the U. P., between Cheyenne and Ogden, on September 12, 1876, and to having received, according to a receipt which was shown to and recognized by him, a package containing $10,000, which he delivered to Mr. Gentsch, at Ogden.

F. C. Gentsch, being sworn, said he was U. P. agent at Ogden, September 14, 1876, and received one date a package of $10,000, addressed to McCormick and Co., Salt Lake, and turned it over to Mr. R. M. Dooley.

The latter then took the stand and certified that in September, 1876, he was clerk for Wells, Fargo & Co. at Ogden. Received the $10,000 from F. C. Gentsch, and delivered it to Mr. Williams.

W. G. Williams was the next witness called, and notwithstanding the objection of the defence to his being allowed to testify, since he had been tried, convicted and sentenced as a felon, a plea which excluded Mr. Reynolds from testifying in the Miles case recently, he was sworn and held to be competent as a witness. An argument on this took up the time till recess.

In the afternoon Williams was placed upon the stand. The following is the substance of his testimony:

He was messenger for Wells, Fargo & Co., on the Utah Central in September, 1876, and on the 14th of that month, at 5.40 p.m., received among other packages for Salt Lake one addressed to McCornick & Co., said to contain $10,000. After receiving it he went to his car and staid there until the train left. He was all alone in the car that night, until they reached Shurtliff's ranch, about 12 miles from Salt Lake, when the defendant entered the car from the west side, where he had been hiding in the sunflowers, and brought with him a sack of burglar's implements, which Williams first took and then helped the other into the car. Shurtliff was then given the $10,000 package and secreted, so that any one could look into the car without seeing him. Williams permitted Shurtliff to tie him up to the side of the car with cotton strips. Shurtliff then defaced the door with an augur, so as to convey the idea that violence had been used. Shurtliff got off the train about a block from the depot in Salt Lake, when the train was goin very slowly. Williams then stated that Shurtliff and himself and Shurtliff's wife were the ones who had entered into a plan to effect the robbery. The plan was entered into in August, 1876. Williams met Mrs. Shurtliff near the Warm Springs, by appointment, and was there told of the plan which she and her husband had entered into to rob Wells Fargo's Express. Williams saw Shurtliff a night or two later, in the express car, when the latter asked him if he had seen his wife, and said there was a good chance for him (Williams) to make a raise if he would go into the plan suggested by his wife, at the same time telling him how successful he (Shurtliff) had been in the cattle business on the Promontory. He promised to give Williams half the money if he would go in with him and also that he would employ the best counsel to defend him if he were suspected. Two or three nights afterwards they agreed to the robbery, on Main Street, just below Godbe's drug store. Shurtliff was to give Williams half the money and stick right by him. The plan was that Mrs. Shurtliff should go to Ogden, and when Williams had enough money on board to justify the robbery he was to give her the signal by raising his hat to her. She was then to take the train and get off at the Shurtliff ranch, where the defendant was to board the train while it was standing. The train was to stop so that the express car would be just opposite a platform which the defendant had erected for the purpose. The stopping of the train was his signal to get on. This plan was carried out to the letter.

Williams was arrested about 1 o'clock the morning after the robbery, and after an examination before Alderman Raleigh, was admitted to bail, his brothers and Shurtliff becoming his sureties. He afterward went to Coalville, at the instance of Shurtliff, who was afraid he (Williams) would be hung up and made to confess, and kept books there, but did not stay very long.

The above is a digest of the proceedings until the court adjourned to resume the case this morning.

This morning, Williams was again put upon the stand, still under cross-examination. Letters written by him to Shurtliff since the robbery were produced and found to be somewhat inconsistent with alleged facts. For instance, one written since his examination before Alderman Raleigh is in the form of an humble petition, stating that he had been informed that his bondsmen were about to withdraw their sureties and that in consequence he would be remanded to jail, and asking Shurtliff to remain surety for him; after thanking him for past kindness. Another letter is couched as a dun from Williams to the defendant, asking payment of $25, for a bull he had sold him.

The defense are using these in rebuttal, on the representation that it is not consistent to suppose, if Shurtliff were implicated in the robbery, that it would have been necessary for Williams to couch his communications to him in the form of a petition or even a request. Under cross-examination Williams is apparently weakening. The first part of his story was plausible and created quite an impression, but when closely questioned his memory is very poor in regard to details. He acknowledges having been drinking the night of the robery. He drank five or six times before starting from Ogden, and then drank from a bottle which Shurtliff brought with him; still he says he was not intoxicated. He stated yesterday that no one came into his car but Shurtliff; now he says he don't remember. His testimony regarding the interview at the Warm Springs with Mrs. Shurtliff, has also been somewhat shaken. In other details, too, he gets considerably mixed up. He was still on the witness stand at last accounts.

Lost Money.—On Wednesday morning, Mr. W. C. Britt, of Ashley, lost, somewhere on Main Street, a fifty dollar greenback. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving the same with N. A. Empey, at Z. C. M. I.

From Kanab.—We had a call this morning from President L. John Nuttall, of the Kanab Stake of Zion. He started from home a week ago last Tuesday and arrived last night. The fruit of that place will be preserved this year, though for several years it has been destroyed by frost. The surrounding region is dry but Kanab has plenty of water. Health of the people good.

Benefit Entertainment.—A grand entertainment will be given tomorrow evening in the 17th Ward school-house, for the benefit of the Sabbath School. Two splendid dramatic pieces will be presented, in which some of the young ladies and gentlemen of the Sabbath School will take part, also a musical olio in which the choicest selections from "Pinafore" will be rendered. Admission 25 cents, children 15 cents, reserved seats 50 cents. Tickets for sale at Dwyers.

Singular Mishap.—By private telegram from Mr. James Livingstone, to Bishop John Sharp, received yesterday morning, we learn of a strange and serious accident which befel one Henry Hatton, a workman at the Church Quarry, in Little Cottonwood Cañon. He was holding a drill, which another man was striking, when a jagged piece of steel from the head of the drill struck him in the abdomen and penetrated into the bowels. Dr. J. S. Richards was dispatched to Sandy by the 2 o'clock train, to meet the injured man, and having made an examination of the wound, telegraphed back that it was a serious case. Last evening the patient was brought to the city and taken to the Valley House. Dr. H. J. Richards here attended him, but was unable to find the fragment of steel which, as the wound was only a slit of the eighth of an inch, must have been quite small. The patient was reported comfortable last night.

The Ohio Mining District.—From a communication of Mr. J. Sol Ferris, dated on the 24th ult., at Pine Cañon, Piute County, we glean a few items regarding the mines in that region. The mountains in that vicinity were receiving the usual amount of spring prospecting by miners from Leeds, Frisco, Ophir, Big Cottonwood and other camps. Of the range known as Mount Baldy, reports were favorable among the more excitable classes, but our correspondent ventures the assertion that those mines can only be opened by a class of steady-going, intelligent and industrious miners, willing to get rich by diligence, economy and good habits. The reason the Ohio district had lain dormant for so many years, was because those who had worked the mines lacked judgment, and the paying ores had remained undiscovered until within the last ten months. The formations heretofore considered the most barren, were now found to be the very localities containing the high grade ores, and within the last year the district had taken a fresh start in consequence. The Mount Baldy range was looming up with a vim. The Deer Trail mines were steadily shipping their fine grade carbonate ores, but the Ohio district would prove a formidable rival this season.
