Educational Notes From Tooele.

TOOELE, July 31.—The Tooele County Teachers' Institute and summer school opened with a regular attendance of thirty teachers. After a short talk by Supt. Christensen, the teachers proceeded to elect a permanent organization. The following officers were elected: A. J. Stevens, first vice president; Miss Annie Marshall, second vice president; Wm. S. Hicks, secretary.

It was decided to hold two sessions daily, from 9:45 a. m. to 12:15 m. and from 2 to 4 p. m. The following committees were appointed by the Tooele County Teachers' Institute in Tooele Hall, Saturday, Aug. 4th, Supt. J. P. Christensen, Flora Dalgren and Walter Hockey.

At 2 p. m. the instructors, Prof. Wm. M. Stewart and Miss Eliza M. Hyde being present, the regular exercises were begun. Prof. Stewart gave one of his characteristic lectures on phrenology. He said the two great essentials for successful teaching are knowledge of the subject and knowledge of the child. The mind is composed of mind and matter. Mind is made known to us through brain, and all motion is energy. Energy manifests itself in four ways, viz. heat, light, chemical affinity and electricity. These four manifestations of energy lead to correct science. The child sees in new objects only what he can recognize similar to objects seen before. We can recognize correct principles to modify the child has the truth.

Miss Hyde then gave very interesting and instructive talk on the history of education. She briefly discussed the advantages, disadvantages and peculiarities of Greek and Chinese education, also of the Jesuit schools. The labors of the great educators of Socrates, Aristotle, Plato, Comenius, Pestalozzi, Froebel and others were reviewed.

Prof. Stewart again appeared before the teachers to discuss the subject of Psychology, and said: Objects through energy stimulate consciousness, but must be differentiated. Feeling is the form of pleasure or pain in the first sense that differentiates the child from the external world. The child has not learned to deceive, hence the baby reflects the impressions on the soul. Every time we get any knowledge from the external world, it must be based upon something that comes from within. There is a something divine which comes to us from the beginning, passing from generation to generation, which from infancy serves as a basis for knowledge. It is the gift of all, the truth of the past.

At the close of the lectures it was decided to hold the regular teachers' examination on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 13th, 14th and 15th.

The evening lecture by Prof. Whiting was a complete success. At 8:30 p. m. the meeting house was filled to overflowing. The subject of the lecture was "Our Duty to Ourselves." The professor dealt with the subject in a very able manner. He gave valuable instruction to all but especially to those who enter the outset of life. He claimed that the two very evils which should be guardians are the use of alcohol and the use of tobacco. He then touched upon manhood with the duties which would devolve upon us under the conditions of life.
