IMMIGRATION FROM ICELAND.

Swedish Telephones for the East Indies—Norwegian Radicalism.

The criminal court of Copenhagen has sentenced Mr. Petersen, editor of the Harmonn, a socialistic paper, to one year in the house of correction, several articles of an inflammatory character, which were published in the Harmonn, caused the verdict.

Several lieutenants in the Danish navy intend to participate in the Norwegian Nansen Polar expedition, which will start from Norway January 1, 1893. It will be needed to make the journey through the frozen sea, but a couple of months later, when the way is to be taken north of Norway.

In the mineral mining district of Stalberg in Sweden, where a large number are now employed, there, the past fall of 18 and 19, among the telephone properties, place for the environmental school of wolfsmund, established by members of the committee of the Swedish Lutheran church, have recently counted the Sunday-school of their workers. At one of their class meetings instead of listening to the spiritual exhortation of their pastor, the Rev. D. Estenberg, they read aloud an article published in the Social Tidsskrift about the Rev. Hector Hansen, and when he repeated one of the topic to knowledge of some and left, saying way out of an hour, saying words they required to the Wenzingsen's hall, and held a meeting. They passed the resolution that unless the writer would great then a vacation they would all strike for good, and none of them return to his religious class.

The agitation in the Swedish Riksdag for a new conscript law enforcing sixty days yearly military practice in barracks, etc., has fallen through in the lower house. During the recent Mr. Danell, a member for the province of Holland, opined that should the bill pass the sequel would likely be that the entire troops of conscript soldiers would depart for America, leaving only the commanding officers behind—a double calamity indeed!

"A Doll's House," Ibsen's famous drama, was recently performed at the Khedive's Theatre in Cairo, the part of "Nora" being played by Miss Jessie Ashcroft. The lady was Madame Bernhardt's pupil in London and who now was her return voyage from Australia to the English metropolis where she already has received the bids. The papers of Cairo highly praise the performance which made a great impression on the audience.

At the general Methodist conference, which is held on the 1st of May at Omaha, several prominent members of the sect in Sweden will be present as delegates, namely: P. K. Ahlstrom, editor of the Swedish Missionary; T. F. Larson, pastor of the Mosaic Methodist congregation, T. Th. Jacobson, Methodist from Stockholm, and Aron Fries, brother of Sandviken. At that latter place a Baptist was recently deposed of the church council by the immigrant because he refused to baptize a convert of the established church to have his children baptized in accordance with the rites of that church, an act of disgraceful religious intolerance which has been much canvassed.

The outpouring of emigrants from Northern Finland to America has this year begun to an alarming extent. Young men and young women depart daily, and much sorrow are disposing of their homesteads for little money to enable them to leave with their whole families for the land of the free. A perfect "American fever" is raging, and all of the emigrants seem to understand that America spells "opportunity."

The steamer "Louise," Captain Sahlstrom, from Bodinscanna, has been totally lost near Alsen. The capsize, the two mates, the first engineer, the pilot and five of the crew were all lost, but the captain, the second engineer, and four other sailors were saved, and had the sailors been saved and landed at Eimo in Norway. The steamer came from Port Island bound for Hedemora, with a cargo of coal and merchandise.

The Crown Princess Victoria, of Sweden and Norway, to beguile the long hours when she is confined to her room, during her stay in Egypt, she has taken more than 300 views.

Mr. Daniel Engelhn, president of one of the large chair manufactories of Sweden, has been elected to succeed Mr. A. Swartling, as a member of the Swedish committee for the Chicago World's Fair.

Sweden's telephones for East India are being made by the well-known Stockholm firm, L. M. Ericsson, a City of Stockholm, as these telephones have recently subscribing for the best of the kind exhibited in the East Indian market, where they have created a large sensation.

Aug. Pihlo, the Smyrna little tailor, who was the first apostle of socialism, has been sentenced by the court of Helsingfors members of the local administration of the social Democratic party have been sentenced to a pecuniary fine in which Pihlo is announced as having "gone for on his downward course from the path of morality," depicting him from the administrative position, and relegating him from all participation herein.

"Hjalti Boen's female characters, psychological studies of six of the Ibsen by Lou Andreas-Salome, a series of essays recently published in Boen's and which the German literary magazine Gegenwart pronounce being the strongest and most studied of the principal female characters in "A Doll's House," "Ghosts," "The Wild Duck," "Rosmersholm," "The Lady from the Sea" and "Hedda Gabler."

The Norwegian radical newspapers are doing their best—or worst—to cause the international strife between Norway and Sweden, and almost daily some one a war between the two countries is a very near probability. One journal paper complains that Sweden has conferred Norway of the province of Jemtland, Herjedalen and Bohuslan, the population of which the Norwegian paper declares to be Norwegian, which assertion has caused no little surprise, indignation and astonishment by the inhabitants thereof.

The new election to the Danish Folksthing took place April 29. It should eight to ten days afterwards the Out and nominate, and will probably sit for about seven or eight weeks.

THIRD DISTRICT COURT.

Chief Justice Zane Holds a Session of Hallam-Hoge's Division.

Judge Zane took his seat at ten o'clock this morning. Three cases standing on the docket for trial in his court today, but each of these having been changed, the cases simply passed several informal matters, and then adjourned until two p. m., when his honor arranged to take up a case set for hearing before Judge Anderson, who is now temporarily in Denver.

ATTACHMENTS IN THE CASES.

In the case of Joseph Simon vs. the Burlington and Missouri Railroad Company, Attorney Talbot, on behalf of the defendable, presented a motion asking the court to set aside the attachment, on the ground that it was granted improvidently and upon an insufficient showing. It was further urged that the debtor was obtained through a fraud practiced on the affidavit upon which the order was granted.

Judge Zane referred the matter to Judge Anderson, before whom it had previously come.

JURORS EXCUSED.

F. W. Fisher, A. J. Gunnell and F. Van Horton, petit jurors, were excused.

THIRTY DAYS' STAY.

In the case of George Everett vs. the Oregon Short Line and Utah Northern Railroad Company, the defendants were allowed thirty days' stay, and the same time in which to file statement on motion for a new trial.

JUDGMENT.

In the case of James Judd vs. the Niagara Mining and Smelting Company, there being no appeal, on motion of plaintiff the matter was dismissed.

In the case of Mr. Bamberger the action of the president in allowing the use of the exposition building for an exhibition by the Leather Literary Club for the benefit of the Pioneer library was approved.

On motion of Mr. Bamberger the action of the president in leasing the old race track for a temporary period was approved.

The application of D. L. Levy for use of a portion of the exposition grounds for a camping meeting on Decoration day was referred to the executive committee with power to act.

The application of William Fuller for use of the south wing of the fair building for a Democratic primary was referred to the executive committee with power to act.

The secretary was instructed to furnish the new supervisors with copies of last year's premium lists and the supervisors were requested to prepare their annual lists ready for action by the next meeting, which will be held on the 23rd inst.

Court Notes.

The trial of the action in which George Everett sued the Oregon Short Line to recover $10,000 damages for personal injuries received in a collision on the defendants road at North Salt Lake last year, was concluded in Judge Zane's court on Saturday afternoon, when the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $1,500.

The divorce suit of William A. Jackson vs. Caroline A. Jackson came before Judge Anderson on Saturday afternoon. The parties were married in Black City, Iowa, on September 4, 1871, and the plaintiff showed that in February, 1886, the defendant willingly and without cause abandoned him, and still continued to live separate and apart from him without his consent. The decree was granted.

The grand jury are still at work on the criminals," and a report is expected from them late today.

Commissioner Norrell is all the better in health for the recent trip.

The evidence and arguments in the case of John H. Lindsay, the actor, vs. the Western Union Telegraph company, reported in Saturday's News, came to a close late on Saturday afternoon, and the decision of the jurors, (Judge Cumberland) will be made known tomorrow.

THE CATTLEMEN'S CONGRESS.

Proceedings of the Second Day at Ogden on Saturday.

At ten o'clock Saturday morning, the previously given delay call attention of the delegates. There were not few of them, however, in their seats. The president appointed a committee to round up and bring in the members, shortly after 10 o'clock a few more members came in, the house was called to order, and business commenced.

Mr. Carroll moved that the organization be made permanent. The motion carried.

Mr. J. C. Leary, chairman of the committee on resolutions had to have suddenly for home this morning, and Mr. Ed Swan was appointed in the chairmanship of said committee.

Mr. Mercer offered a resolution affording the stockmen to reside in the range country. Adopted.

Captain J. Wetherill was then elected sergeant-at-arms. While waiting for some committees to come in and report, a desultory discussion took place as relative to the source of barrenness, the appropriate direction of a tax provided in each of the States and Territories was were represented by delegates in this congress, etc.

The adoption of resolutions was then proceeded with:

Mr. Mercer offered the following:

Whereas the following law has been introduced in the House of Representatives of the United States, namely:

"A bill to amend an act entitled "Forty-ninth Congress, compared now any more to Territory, or remaining in one, consequently, to transfer of the public land, upon arrival in each State or Territory, be subject to the operations and effect of the laws of such State or Territory, enacted in the exercise of its police powers, in the same extent and in the same manner as if such lands had been patented in fee under the laws of such State or Territory, and shall not be subject to taxation prior to transfer of the same to private parties, or prior to five years from date of patent, or prior to expiration of twenty years, whichever shall first occur."

And whereas the passage of this bill will cause a great loss to every beef producer in the United States of Texas Eastern States, amounting to the aggregate to millions;

Resolved, That it is the sense of this congress that the said bill should not pass and be any passed, and we hereby enter our protest against its passage. We also wish to be understood that we shall be under no circumstances.

Resolved, That the secretary of this congress forward a copy of the resolution to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the chairman of the committee on agriculture. Adopted.

The same gentleman offered the following:

Whereas, sensational statements have gone out through the press in the cities that the accounts of the large losses generally experienced the settlement of farmers and small stockmen, and that they have caused bitterness; and

Whereas, such statements are false in every particular and intended to prevent the settlement of the West, therefore be it

Resolved, by the Cattlemen's Congress in session assembled, that honest men desiring to settle upon the public domain are hereby invited to come and settle upon lands as are worthy to settle upon, and the cattlemen will do all in their lawful power to assist them.

Adopted.

The following, by Mr. Skinner was also adopted:

Whereas, A very serious condition of affairs exists between the cattlemen of Northern Wyoming and the settlers, at Cheyenne, and

Resolved, That the members of this congress hereby tender their fullest sympathy and assistance to the cattlemen of Wyoming, whether they are larger or small, of the disturbed section, and express a hope that no conflict may arise, but that a solution may be effected on a basis of justice to all parties, and in such form as will prevent all the recurrence of the same, and that the property in all honest men, in the end, thus guard, harmony and prosperity may be restored throughout the land to that one vast stable calling.

E. D. Swan presented the following, which was adopted:

Whereas, We have received from Ben Ladson, of the World's Columbian Exposition in the matter of offering premiums for the exhibit of beef cattle, and whereas some of the States represented in this congress are especially interested in the matter of showing beef animals, therefore

Resolved, That in the opinion of this congress the board of World's Columbian Exposition shall offer a suitable prize for barbed or grass or steel cattle.

Resolved, That the secretary of this body forward a copy of these resolutions to the director-general of the World's Columbian Exposition, and chief of the live stock department of said Columbian Exposition.

By Frank Cooper:

Whereas, The clause known as the law's a good deal of trouble to the United States commission law works so nearly to the live stock industry of the far West, and with which we are dealing hands to any of us, therefore, be it

Resolved, That this convention place itself on record as favoring the repeal of said law, and that we see our influence with the representatives in Congress to accomplish a repeal of the same.

Adopted.

The following by Mr. Ridgley was adopted:

Resolved, By the cattlemen in session at Ogden, that we unanimously express our thanks to the press and its staff of press representatives throughout Idaho and Territories have expressed for their personal and able assistance in making this congress a grand success. And we also express our thanks to the editors generally, and respect their future assistance in perpetuating this organization.

Adopted by Ridgley:

Whereas, There is a growing necessity for the adoption by the congress of some means by which a proper protection to the stockmen of the Pacific and the serving away of stock, and

Whereas, One of the best means offered for such protection would be the adoption of a national stock register or directory to be published in separate volumes in each division, the whole of such volumes to be kept with the secretary of the interior, respectively and

Whereas, Such a national stock register has been adopted by this congress by E. D. Cudahy of Omaha, Commissioner, Oregon, and Resolved, First, that the secretary shall register by and J. E. Cudahy, of Omaha, be adopted by this congress forward that such and every one stock within the Territory comprehended by this congress be registered in such register, or a similar register be recommended to authorize the publication of said register by first adopting the further.

At half-past 11 a. m. the house was taken until 1:30 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At 1:45 the delegates again convened. After the reading of a few selections by the Ogden brass band, on adjournment was taken for thirty minutes to witness the evolutions by a company of cadets from the military academy under the direction of Captain Gregor, which received many marks of approval from those who witnessed the drill. The proceedings Mr. Swan called the following:

Whereas, It is a well known and accepted fact that cattle and horses carried range to feeds sufficient to fatten them and that is no exception, and that great young Utah in any of these cattle is on the open range, and

Whereas, Inspectors and veterinarians enter a state of it, testing and with between cities infection, therefore, be it

Resolved, In this convention that we affirm and request the board in directing Congress to enact some measure therefor to extend the range laws, the same should be provided that Territories, commissioners and members now present in this house of representatives, stating a possible for Congress to be required in their respective assemblies to enter on the open range.

Adopted.

Ridgley offered the following, which was adopted:

Whereas, There is an urgent necessity for better facilities for preventing stock from being stolen, losses of stock by theft and straying, and

Resolved, That each local district shall provide for a number of stock brands and by the members of the organization in their districts and forward a copy of such register to the secretary of this convention.

Mr. Savage moved that all the officers elected yesterday be made the permanent officers of the organization. The motion was carried. Upon motion the president and four vice-presidents.

Savage also moved that the delegates present from the several States and Territories convene together and elect a vice-president for each for their respective constitution. The following were elected:

Utah—Agnew Netcher.
Wyoming—Wm. Crawford.
Idaho—H. S. Wooding.
Oregon—J. A. Billing.
Nevada—No one elected.
Nebraska—W. E. Skinner.
Montana—W. Poindexter.
South Dakota—R. H. Miller.
North Dakota—L. W. Williams.
Colorado—Samuel Hartell.
Kansas City—W. A. Waters.
New Mexico—O. H. Hadley.

The following resolution by Joe Hatch was adopted:

Whereas, The United and Unconstitutional laws have been passed against Mormon polygamy, and

Whereas, The same is now enjoyed by less than 1 per cent of Indians, therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of this congress that the said enactments should be restored to the statute books and the United States and Territories, and that the United States law sufficient one to provide officers to each Indian on each reservation.

A subscription was taken up for the benefit of Captain Wetherill, who, yesterday, was robbed of about $50, but was collected. The captain was vally affected by this act of benevolence.

W. H. Fallon was elected treasurer of the association.

A board of executive committee was then elected as follows:

George C. Whitmore, Utah.
Jacob West, Idaho.
Ed Swan, Wyoming.
John Spaine, Nevada.
George W. Hallantyne, Colorado.

A constitution and a code of by-laws were presented, read and adopted.

A resolution was offered that it is the sense of this congress that the interstate commerce law should be repealed. This provoked a very animated discussion which resulted in, first, a motion to lay the resolution on the table, which was lost by a vote of 21 for and 25 against; 2) and finally a motion prevailed to adopt the resolution.

The following was offered by Mr. Skinner of Nebraska and adopted:

Whereas, The citizens of Ogden, Utah, have manifested their ability to care for and entertain in royal style the congress now in session and have in life and property a representation and offering every facility for the transaction of business, therefore, be it unanimously

Resolved, That we hereby thanks of this congress is tendered to the citizens of Ogden for their kind and hospitable reception and entertainment.

Whereas, We would like to express our thanks to the Ogden Street Car company and the Hot Springs Railroad company, and particularly Captain Spencer, for their many courtesies, also, the Ogden and the Hot Springs Hotel in the Hot Springs Street company for their aid.

That the thanks of the convention be tendered to the Ogden fire department for its magnificent display of their apparatus and facilities in showing that they have one of the finest equipments in the country, as well as a perfect organization for battling against the fire fiend.

Further, That the thanks of the congress be tendered the management of the Grand Opera House for their uniform kindness and courtesy in placing such a magnificent place to hold the convention at their disposal, and that we also tender our thanks to the band that has added so much to our pleasure.

Further, That if there are anyone we have omitted to thank we ask them their body and soul for the personal treatment we have received while here.

The above resolutions met with a hearty response by the members of the congress.

A great deal of time was consumed by a number of speeches who spoke long and earnestly in support of their resolutions.

The Ogden brass band was often called upon to vary and enliven the proceedings. This they did to the appreciation of the crowded listeners.

At 4:15 p. m. the congress adjourned to meet again in Ogden City on the first Monday in May, 1893.
