ADJOURNED SINE DIE.

The Convention of Fire Engineers Brought to a Close.

CHIEF DEVINE IS NOW PRESIDENT.

The Next Meeting to be Held in New Haven, Conn.—Resolutions of Thanks and Regrets.

The fire chiefs' convention has drawn to a close. This it did after an exceedingly busy and interesting meeting this morning. Before adjourning, however, the members did not forget to express their kindly feelings towards all who have helped to make the convention a success. Resolutions were adopted expressing in glowing terms the appreciation in which the delegates hold the treatment received while here in Salt Lake and in the selection of officers for the ensuing year, Chief Devine was named as president to which action he gracefully expressed his acknowledgements. This afternoon the visitors went out to Garfield Beach and tomorrow they go to Park City, pulling early in the evening, directly after which, most of the members will turn their faces homeward. Next year the convention will meet in New Haven, Conn., a town in which several of the most prepared members of the organization reside. Baltimore watch the meeting in 1898, and it will no doubt get it, as in that year the association will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of its birth, and it would be but fitting that the city in which it was born should be the one selected for that occasion.

A little delay was occasioned in beginning convention work this morning, owing to a necessary wait for the reports of the committee on exhibits and auditing.

It was nearly 11 o'clock when President Rudolph rapped for order and the discussion on exhibits submitted for report. In it they stated that they had examined 27 exhibits and witnessed several cases, reports of which accompanied the report proper. Received and filed.

The auditing committee likewise submitted its report stating therein that they had found the amounts of the secretary and treasurer tallied with each other. Received and filed.

Chief Devine then gave the delegates and friends instructions with regard to their trip to Garfield Beach this afternoon and also advised them as to tickets for the Park City trip tomorrow.

FOR NEXT YEAR'S MEETING.

President Rudolph then stated that nominations of cities for the holding of the next convention were in order and Chief Rudolph of Omaha was greeted on the floor through the courtesy of Chief McAleer of Baltimore.

OMAHA WANTS IT IN '98.

Chief Redell stood up with a bundle of documents in his hand. These he read, all of which showed that the holding of the '98 convention in the city of Omaha. The invitations were from Mayor Bleasch, the city council by President W. A. Saunders and City Clerk Beecher Higley, the Omaha Commercial club by C. F. Weller, president, and J. E. Utt, secretary, and the board of fire commissioners by A. C. Foster, chairman.

In all of these communications attention was called to the fact that the Trans-Mississippi exposition would be held in that city in 1898; that the city of Omaha was noted for its hospitality; that its railroad facilities were unsurpassed; that it offered any and all kinds of inducements to the men of

A FIGHT FOR PITTSBURG.

Chief McAleer of Baltimore then took the floor. For some time past he had been busy laboring to lay the foundation that the year 1897 brought the association to its twenty-fifth anniversary. But such is fate sometimes, he was not the case. The convention was organized in 1873, making the year '96 the twenty-fifth anniversary. In this year he wanted the convention held in the city which gave birth to the association—Baltimore. That city has all the incidents for treating the firemen in a most royal way. Situate as it was bordering on the Chesapeake bay, the delegates could have fresh oysters of great things, such as oysters, clams, mussels, etc. But there was some reason to sing Ballou's praises when the association was born a year sooner. He, however, had a duty to attend for the next year's convention. It was a city in which two one of the oldest members of the association. A city that could will take care of the delegates and one that would give them a royal welcome. He meant Pittsburg, Pennsylvania.

At this stage of the proceedings, President Rudolph called up topic No. 11 for unfinished business, the question "In view of our approaching twenty-fifth anniversary, should it not be the duty of the convention to set the time for the meeting in the city of Baltimore, May, 1897, and there carefully review, in the state that gave us birth, our past course of action and progress?"

The reading of this brought Chief Humphreys of Pittsburg to his feet, who said that inasmuch as next year was the one celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary, he desired to amend the topic. His amendment was the substitution of the word "Pittsburg" for that of "Baltimore" and the striking out of all the clause relative to the approaching twenty-fifth anniversary. The resolution as amended was quickly seconded.

NEW HAVEN ARIS IN.

Chief Kennedy of New Haven, Ct., came forward with an invitation from his city. It was signed by Mayor A. C. Rourkins, who had been a member of the association for some years, and the board of fire commissioners. Chief Kennedy stated that the humble desire of Mayor Rourkins's heart was to have the convention the meet for once in his city. Before this, Mayor Rourkins was about to retire from public office and he wants to make this pleased to see the men in whose ranks he had served for so many years, assembled in his city. Chief Kennedy then with the company. Chief Kennedy stated that he did not care to add words, but would close by saying that inasmuch as the convention should give it Mayor Rourkins the recognition which he so justly deserved.

Tomorrow's (this day) New Haven's invitation will become a bright from Pittsburg urging the delegates to accordate their next year, after a speech by ex-Chief Taylor of Hampton, Va., took the floor. The present condition of things, he said, placed him in a peculiar position, inasmuch as he had promised myself for the representatives of both cities, asking for next year's convention. He, however, in giving the matter over to the committee on exhibits, felt that the association owed a debt of gratitude to Mayor Kendrick of New Haven as well as to Chief Kennedy of the same city. Both were about to retire from the association ranks, and he thought it only fitting and just to grant to those gentlemen and the city which they represented the next annual convention of the association. He (the speaker) urged the city of New Haven.

HUMPHREYS OF PITTSBURG.

At this point Chief Humphreys of Pittsburg arose. Several days before leaving home, he said, he did not think that he would be called on to address the convention, as great were his business cares. But he was pure and proud of it. He coming from Pittsburg, was proud of the city of Pittsburg, the city of the mayor of Pittsburg, the city council, the fire board and prominent citizens. They wanted him here to represent the city, and were and glad to be the next meeting of the association. Pittsburg has everything to offer the delegates. The city was noted for its hospitality; it was a city where the people were not aristocratic, but in its hallmarks were to be found of brilliants and rubies, all working, in a common good for the good of the municipality. Two years ago it entertained the people of the Grand Army of the Republic and in 1898 it expected to look after the hosts of the Knights Templar. It wanted the fire chief's convention next year, and when it had no better cities to offer, as had Baltimore, he stood safe that the delegates would find plenty of that there. Pittsburg was a thriving city, with about the 100,000 population and towns with populations of from 10,000 to 20,000 inhabitants. These people would join with Pittsburg in smothering the delegates in hearty and sincere welcome.

A motion to indefinitely postpone action on topic 12 carried, after speeches favoring the city of New Haven were made by Chiefs Higgins of Albany, N. Y., Redell of Omaha and Lincoln and Member McDonald of New Haven.

NEW HAVEN GETS IT.

Chief Hayes of Portsmouth moved a ballot be taken on the choice of cities and after the appointment of the tellers, Toronto and New Haven were in before the voting commenced. It resulted in 104 votes being cast, 55 of which favored New Haven, while Pittsburg received 49.

This gave the next convention to the city of the northwest, and on motion of Chief Humphreys the voting was made unanimous for New Haven.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED.

Chiefs Jagues, Greenslier, McMahon, Farley and Mullen were then appointed a committee to submit a roster of officers for ensuing year, and Chiefs Allen, Hanrey and Taylor were appointed on resolutions. These committees retired to attend to their work, while the convention discussed for some time the question as to who did and who did not have a right to vote. The president settled this contention by ruling that the legates were the ones to go by in these matters, and they clearly stated that none but chiefs and members who were entitled to active membership had a right to vote in convention.

TICKETS TO PARK CITY.

In the interim each of the visiting delegates was made the recipient of a railroad ticket to Park City.

RESOLUTIONS OF THANKS.

Taylor of Richmond offered the two following resolutions, both of which were adopted:

Resolved, that a vote of thanks be tendered the C. M. and St. Paul, Union Pacific, the Oregon Western and Denver & Rio Grande and Colorado Midland Railroad companies and the Pullman Car company with Commodore F. S. Lillegor for their kindness to the members of this assembly in the matter of their uniting efforts to make our long journey comfortable and pleasant. A CRAZY CLOTHIER.

Becomes Suddenly Insane and Makes a Terrible Fight.

A Russian Jew named Harwitz, who has been doing business as a clothier in the St. Elmo block near the corner of Third South and East Temple streets, became suddenly and violently insane this afternoon.

For some time he has been a slave to the excessive use of cigarettes and his friends often said he was afraid the habit would drive him mad. Strange to say he made the same remark an hour before his senses gave way and at a time, too, when he seemed perfectly rational. His ravings began without warning to others although he had himself given us to understand. He became a maniac of the most dangerous sort and violently assaulted a number of citizens who with such assistance as they could speedily summon held him at bay until the arrival of the officers. Then he had to be drenched by hard scrubbing and strapped and bound. He was taken to the county jail by Patrolmen Hughes, Dolan and Kinney and Deputies Stewart and Janney. He fought like a demon and his ravings were frightful to behold.

Some months ago Francis Brubier was committed to the insane asylum at Provo from this county. Dr. Bier wanted to remove Brubier from the asylum and take him under his own charge for the future if he was in a condition which would allow of his removal. Dr. Piper informed Clerk Emery that while the man was in a robust and healthy physical condition his mental capacities were so seven an unbalanced state that it would be cruelty to remove him from the asylum, for he would surely run away from his friends the moment the first opportunity presented itself. It would be a hard matter to recover him from the court to have Brubier discharged, inasmuch Mr. Bier would willingly apply for it if he had been found sane by competent medical authority. Dr. Bier says he saw no alienist in this city, having tried here some years ago, and that Brubier was in his care 1 J. F. Wilson the alienist. "I would like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have used them for many years, and always found the best results from their use. For sick and sour stomachs, and for the cure of blockades caused by those disorders, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled.

When my friends ask me what is the best remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver, or bowels, my invariable answer is, Ayer's Pills. Taken as a cathartic, they will break up a cold, prevent a fever, check fever and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and are, indeed, the best alleviated family medicine I have ever found.—Mrs. Mar Sumner, 304 Bleecker Street, New York City.
