CRISP IS INDIGNANT.

Dilatory Democrats Reprimanded in Last Night's Caucus.

THE SPEAKER'S RINGING SPEECH.

Resolutions Adopted Regarding Consideration of the Tariff Bill by the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—There was a good attendance at the Democratic caucus last night. Holman presided. It is estimated that 147 out of the total of 218 House Democrats were present.

Wheeler made a vigorous speech against putting coal and iron on the free list.

Speaker Crisp followed. He offered a resolution declaring it the duty of every Democratic vote for consideration of the tariff bill, and also the duty of all Democrats to attend the sessions of the House and maintain a quorum until the tariff bill is disposed of.

In a ringing speech Crisp sharply reprimanded the Democrats responsible for the inaction of the House during the past three days. He said the proper way to act for those dissatisfied would be to bring the bill up and have it considered. They would be given an opportunity to offer amendments, and these amendments, under the terms of the resolution of the committee on rules, could be voted upon. The majority could decide, and no member would lose any of his rights, and it would be to the honor and credit of the party to go forward and legislate. The party had been given a commission from the people, and its duty was to carry it out. The spectacle of the past three days had been a disgrace to the large Democratic majority in the House, and he sincerely hoped it would not be repeated.

After further debate the Crisp resolution was adopted, without division, as follows:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this caucus that it is the duty of every Democratic member of the House to vote for the pending resolution, providing for consideration of the tariff bill, in order that the House may have an opportunity to redeem the pledges of the party respecting tariff reform.

"Resolved, further, that it is the duty of every Democratic member of the House to attend the daily sessions, and we hereby express the opinion those members absent now it is the party and to those of us who are here to immediately return, in order that pressing public business may be attended to."

A roller resolution was adopted, that it is the sense of the caucus that if the proposition for an income tax was reported from the committee two days additional be given for debate.

$50,000 Offered.

DENVER, Jan. 5.—The following dispatch was received tonight by the agent of the Associated Press:

"TELLURIDE, Col., Jan. 5.—Will give $50,000 for the Corbett-Mitchell fight, provided it cannot be pulled off at Jacksonville. Please write this to the principals or agents and return reply at once.

Melin Wounded.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The Herald's special from Montevideo says: A correspondent at Rio sends word that news has been received confirming the report that Melin was wounded in the Aquidaban.

Minister Willis Reports.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The printing office today issued the volume containing the President's special message on Hawaii, with the accompanying correspondence asked for by the Senate resolution. It contains reports from Minister Willis not yet published, similar from the dated Honolulu, Nov. 11th, in which Willis expresses an intention of affording protection to the queen.

"Neither she," said Willis, "nor the vagrant idea of the attitude of our government, and consequently no outbreak has yet occurred, though every night is filled with rumors."

In a letter November 16th, Willis tells of a visit from a committee representing the American league, to whom he said it was the duty of all Americans, at home or abroad, to cooperate in executing the will of their government.

The last message from Willis was dated December 4th, after having received Gresham's second set of instructions, based upon the defiant attitude of the provisional government. Willis says: "Active defensive preparations for several days; otherwise the situation is the same. The feeling is intense, but hope to preserve the status until further instructions. The government last Wednesday inquired as to the authority of your published letter and the intentions of the President. I have declined today to answer. Prompt action is desirable."

A Fatal Mistake.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—It is reported from Simon's Town, Sarapiquito, a British colonial settlement in West Africa, that Captain E. A. W. Landy, inspector general of the frontier police, with twenty-seven men and seven officers of the Fifth battalion, West India regiment, engaged in an expedition against Bellas, were shot by French troops. The French officers engaged in the attack was captured, according to the report. The attack was made by mistake.

The War in Central America.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The Herald's dispatch from Managua, Nicaragua, says: General Nomadiez, in command of the Nicaraguan forces, is to be marched against the Honduran troops, now entrenched near Los Angeles, with a force of 1,500 men. He captured Los Angeles.

THE MORMON'S DRILLING.

The Navy Department Evidently Anticipating Trouble.

VALLEJO, Cal., Jan. 5.—On board the Mohican everything is in readiness to sail in one day's time should it be required. The Mohican now are being thoroughly drilled, and today Captain Cook had a landing party, fully equipped for field service, supported by hospital corps and field pieces. The landing party were out nearly all day, skirmishing over the reservation. This is an unusual occurrence here, and about the news of the Corwin's advent is so whispered there was more to the landing than mere drill. The Mohican in contrast with relentless yesterday, and the coal bunkers are full to overflowing.

By the exercise of a little brief authority Captain Munger of the United States revenue cutter Corwin, has made himself today one of the most unpopular men on the Pacific coast.

The reason for Munger's action in refusing to allow any communication with the vessel is probably thought at the fact that the sailing of the Corwin for Honolulu from here was announced in the newspapers two days before she sailed. Munger made strenuous efforts to conceal the fact that she was going to Honolulu, and even after the newspapers published the news, emphatically denied that Honolulu was his destination. This time he evidently intends to get even with the newspapers and the public.

Hawaiian Consul Wilder tonight expressed the belief that the Corwin had his government's answer, and when asked what he thought that answer was, said: "I think the provisional government has informed Willis that it considers the Hawaiian islands in the hands of Congress, and withdrawn, if at all, only to the dictates of that body."

THE CORWIN ARRIVES.

But the Captain Refuses to Give Any Hawaiian News.

The significant fact remains that the navy department apprehends trouble, and that they are on the alert is conveyed in the fact that, while repairs could be made on the cruiser Boston, which recently went out of commission, nothing has been done, and her complement of sailors are being held ready on board the receiving ship Independence.

Word has just been received here that preparations are being made to load nearly a hundred tons on the ship's deck. This information is reliable, and it is thought that the dispatches are in response to those brought by the Corwin.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—The United States revenue cutter Corwin arrived from Honolulu. The Corwin's commander refused to give information or to allow any one on board. She is now on the way to Mare island navy yard, thirty miles away. An officer, presumably bearing government dispatches, landed in a small boat. The only thing learned the superiores of news by the Corwin is the report that a sailor on that vessel said to a reporter who tried to board her: "There has been a big row down there." The statement is not verified.

PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, JAN. 6, 1894.

Judge Blackburn's Death.

The sudden death of John W. Blackburn, late associate justice of the Supreme court of Utah, was a thorough and painful surprise to the community. While the judge had not been enjoying the best of health, nothing serious was anticipated. Before retiring he ate a hearty supper. About 1 o'clock in the morning he called Miss Kate Shea, his housekeeper, and requested her to get him some soda water, as he was troubled with wind about the heart. This seemed to relieve him, and he bade his housekeeper again retire. He did not arise at his usual hour, and about 9 o'clock she knocked, and as he did not respond, softly opened the door. The judge lay peacefully on his left side, overcome by the sleep of death.

Coroner Seg summoned a jury, and the house-keeper and several medical gentlemen were examined. A verdict of death from natural causes was returned.

John W. Blackburn was formerly a resident of Paris, Edgar county, Illinois. From there he moved to Colorado, and thence to Salt Lake City, where his wife died and left him a childless widower. He was appointed associate justice of the Utah Supreme court by President Harrison, and was removed from that position by President Cleveland.

Relatives of the deceased live in Illinois, Colorado and California. Wm. Blackburn, a brother of the deceased residing at Paris, Illinois, has telegraphed, requesting that the body be held until his arrival, if possible, and if not that it be interred by the side of the deceased wife at Salt Lake City.

The Libel Suit.

In the libel suit of H. S. Irvine vs. J. C. Graham, and the Enquirer Co., to recover $25,000 damages, there are five causes of action, $5,000 being the alleged amount of damage in each instance. The principal parts of the five alleged libelous publications are as follows:

"Mr. Irvine still carries around in his pocket two ballots legally cast in the Fifth ward and no doubt prides himself in his ability to thus illegally serve his party. The returns were made up, showing the ballots the use, part of them having been worked, but the last ballots will not correspond in number with total sheets.

"We have said nothing about the firm (Irvine & Barney) people which it was illegally used to furnish supplies for the city.

"The one (Barney) advertised himself as a body lot totally unwilling with his fate a member of our staff, the other (Irvine) by entering a store of a fellow business man, calling him vile names and slapping his fellow business man's face.

He (Irvine) has not patience enough to bear the gentlemanly conduct of a fellow judge of election (H. S. Pyne) against his nothing in his pocket little that should have come back to the ballot box when counted.

"He (Irvine) has little to do in his pocket under protest, a kind a claim men saw and heard that."

Notes.

Judge Smith yesterday adjourned the first district court for the day out of respect to Judge Blackburn.

The Silver King is to be the next production of the local dramatic organization. Mr. J. Jan C. Graham will appear in the cast.

Amusement, Social, Business and Personal Notes of the Week.

The Misses Allman of Provo returned home on Tuesday after a week's visit to their sister, Mrs. Grant Stimson of this city.

The district schools opened again on Tuesday morning with a fair attendance. The Methodist and Presbyterian subscription schools will open on Monday next.

Revival meetings are held every evening at the Presbyterian chapel, the evangelist, H. T. Hamblin being in attendance.

The Opera House dance on New Year's night was attended by over ninety couples, and a large attendance was also present at Brannock's ball.

Mr. John Dollinger, of Clinton, Utah, who, several weeks since, brought his little girl Lizzie to Payson for our Hot springs, has an aggravated swelling around the heart and lungs, is now in a precarious condition himself. The trouble is pronounced by the physicians to be a spinal aneurism. The little girl is progressing favorably and may recover from the effects of her illness and the operation performed on her.

The third and fourth specially company sets forth at the opera house last night. The house was, as usual, cozy and cheerful and but a small spattering of the people were present, notwithstanding the reduced admission prices. The Indian, Billy High Shield, was renewed (minus the Kickapoo show) in repute and stick-wire work was the only attraction worthy of mention and a serious objection was put on this work by the quality of the other specialties and the tiresome waits. Prof. Smith as a violin soloist is a decided failure and should reserve his "Mocking Bird" for some of the back-woods towns where musical talent is very coarse. The company was assisted by some local talent which was appreciated more than the work done by the members of the company.

Willie Pickering received a severe sprain of the left elbow while engaged in a friendly scuffle on New Year's day.

Norman Fullmer is recovering slowly from his protracted illness.

The new city council held its first session on Tuesday evening last, presided over by Mayor Chas. W. Brewerton. The councilmen are Moses Thomas, Wm. Lund Jr., Jesse H. Taylor, Samuel Douglass, Levi Colvin and Hyrum Lemmon, and Reporter Joseph A. Lovelace.

Sleighing is good at present and snow now falling. OBSERVER.

PARK CITY.

PARK CITY, UTAH, JAN. 5, 1894.

When, It's Cold.

The past week has been one of extreme cold, and not a day has passed that the thermometer has not registered below zero. This a. m. at 7 o'clock the register showed ten below zero, and the day has not improved much in warmth.

AN OFFICIAL DEADLOCK.

How Park City's Mayor Cut the Gordian Knot.

Last Tuesday night was held the first meeting of the new council. This council consists of six members and the mayor. All were elected as Republicans in the election of last November. In Park City the offices of marshal and city recorder are appointive and confirmed by the council. For the office of city recorder, F. Hayt, the present incumbent, was renominated. The marshalship had three candidates in the race: John L. Weber, O. C. Lockhart and J. C. Post. John L. Weber secured three votes, Lockhart two and Post one. This caused a tie, and the council remained in session eighteen hours without coming upon the issue, until the mayor, Henry Newell, cast a vote for Weber, and declared him elected. This act of the mayor is looked upon by some as being an outrage upon the people who elected him and the members of the council; such persons argue that if he had known that Weber has been a life-long Democrat, and the Republicans think that a member of their party should be elected. The vote of the mayor is causing a boiling over in the liquid as there was no tie vote, consequently his vote was not called for. The question will be brought up again at the council that Monday night, and it is expected that the city attorney will render an opinion on the right of the mayor to vote when there was no tie. Feeling is high enough certain classes of men, and the general expression is that a Republican should be appointed.

The Week in Mine and Mill.

Ore shipments from the camp have not been as lively as usual this week on account of the uncertainty of freight rates. A large amount of ore is being brought down to the mills and sampled and next week will probably see the ore shipments under way again.

The Moreau mill is shut down temporarily for about two weeks, for a general overhauling and placing of new machinery. A great amount of work will have to be done in the heavy timber department, and new dies and shoes placed in all the batteries. The gas furnace is also receiving attention, and when the mill starts up again everything will be in fine shape for another long run. The variety of the Moreau is very quiet now, and it does not seem natural in passing there not to hear the heavy roar of the stamps noisily crushing ore.

Notes.

Sleighing was never known to be finer than at the present time, and the sight of a wheel is a rare article on the streets these days.

Hon. A. H. Emery went to Salt Lake yesterday to be on time at the opening of the Legislature next Monday.

The Crescent mill has been idle for two days this week on account of a broken shaft, which had to be sent to Salt Lake for repairs.

Snow has not bothered either of the roads running in here, as the freight on both roads has kept out every day in clear snow and ice free in the rain.

The concert given by the boys this week was largely attended, and the several numbers were well received and received.

The Park City Ice company are now busy at their ice cutting, as a thick is about twenty-four inches thick and clear as crystal. About eight cars per day is being shipped to the company's house in Salt Lake, and about 3000 tons will be stored this winter. The company have made large additions to their business at the ponds, and it is expected that next season there will be a plentiful supply for both Salt Lake and Park City.
