DESERET EVENING NEWS.

TUESDAY, - - - JULY 25, 1893.

FRAGMENTS.

Judge J[illegible] has been to Ogden today.

The Irish-American society will meet tonight.

The deputies of U. S. Marshal Brigham are complaining of the "dull times."

Yesterday being a general holiday, there was no session of the county court, and the usual weekly meeting will be held tomorrow, instead.

An attempt will be made, it is said, to pass the Jones' [illegible] over the Mayor's veto at the meeting of the City Council tonight.

The city solons will be confronted by a big volume of business tonight. The prospects are that they will remain in session at least until the midnight hour.

Another week has begun and the chance of hearing anything of the runaway convicts from the penitentiary seems to be about as far off as ever.

Chow Kong, the Chinaman who died in this city on Saturday night last, was buried yesterday afternoon with all the pomp and ceremony characteristic of Chinese funerals.

Judge Hiway is enjoying a well-earned vacation in the mountains, and so are other attorneys of the Salt Lake bar, taking advantage of the light work of the courts at this time.

A special to the News from Chicago announces that Mr. Fred Simon and Mr. and Mrs. James S. [illegible] of Salt Lake are visiting the World's Fair. They are stopping at the Hotel Windermere.

Frank Fitzgerald, brother of "Mike," the man who wanted to fight Williams the Utah champion, is about to start for South America, where he goes to seek fame and fortune. Frank was there ten years ago.

A gentleman employed at the News office yesterday lost a bunch of keys somewhere between the mouth of Parley's canyon and the Utah Slaughtering company's office on corner of Fourth South and Third West streets. Their return to this office will be met with a suitable reward.

Conductor M. B. Young, in the employ of the city railway company, met with a painful accident yesterday forenoon while running on the First South street line to the Utah-Nevada depot. He was collecting tickets on an open car when his head came in violent contact with a telephone pole. He sustained two severe cuts on the head and was taken to Farlow's drug store, where the company's physician attended to his injuries.

LABOR UNION MASS MEETING

Strong Silver Resolutions Adopted by Unanimous Vote.

The Chinese Receive Attention, and Selectman Morris Springs an Anti-Retrenchment Gag.

Considering the small amount of advertising it had received, the mass meeting of the labor unions last evening drew a large attendance. The chief topic was silver, and on this subject the sentiment was unanimous and its expression enthusiastic.

J. L. Franks, president of the Federated Trades council, presided. He urged the laboring classes to come forward and demand their rights in financial matters. He also reviewed briefly the silver issue, and came out strong in favor of the white metal.

He was followed by H. M. Roberts, who spoke in a similar strain. He held capitalists responsible for the financial distress which now afflicted the country.

James Terry then made a speech on the Chinese question, denouncing all who employed Mongolians, and calling upon the people to boycott such employers. In this way he proposed to shut out Chinamen from all labor and thus compel them to leave the country.

The following resolutions were then unanimously adopted.

Whereas, As was proved by our experience during the civil war and subsequently when gold was two hundred and two hundred and fifty the wage-earner and worker prospers when money is cheap and suffers when money is dear.

Whereas, A century ago it was enacted by Congress and expressly ratified in due form of law by the legislatures of all the thirteen original states that the money of account of the United States and each and every state thereof in which all public accounts should be kept and all judgments rendered was and should be the dollar or unit containing 371¼ grains of pure silver; and,

Whereas, There is not now extant, and never has been, any law of the United States expressly repealing this enactment; and

Whereas, Anything requiring, as this did, the express ratification of all the states to give it full force, vitality and effect, can only be repealed by the express sanction of three-fourths of the states of this Union, and no such sanction hath never been obtained.

Wherefore the money of account of the United States and each and every state thereof is now and always has been the dollar or unit containing 371¼ grains of pure silver [illegible].

Whereas, By the express provisions of the Constitution all power and authority relative to the tender of coined money in the satisfaction of debts is reserved to the states.

Wherefore all acts of Congress limiting the amount of silver coin which might be lawfully tendered at any one time in satisfaction of a debt are wholly void and of no effect and a tender of silver coin in any and all amounts is now, and always has been, a good and sufficient tender in law; and

Whereas, The power and authority vested in Congress to coin money was not an absolute donation of such power and authority in fee simple but a grant thereof upon trusts, some whereof are the following, to-wit:

First—To administer the said power for the best good of the whole people of the United States and not some part thereof.

Second—To preserve and secure to each and every state of the Union, whether they be now admitted or hereafter may by any possibility be admitted, all the rights, privileges and authority which the original states possessed when they had joined the Union, and

Third—To administer and exercise the power and authority delegated so as to in no wise affect, injure or impair any right lawfully and properly belonging or appertaining to any state or individual citizen.

Wherefore any act of Congress limiting or restricting the full, free and unlimited coinage of both the metals, gold and silver, or either of them, is contrary to the full and free [illegible] of the [illegible] and therefore void and of no effect; and

Whereas, It hath at sundry and divers times been attempted, with greater or less success, to unlawfully discriminate against the full, free and unrestricted use of the silver coins of the United States, and give to them an enhanced and fictitious value as money in that which they intrinsically possess as coin, to the end that the debtor class in this country should be impoverished and the creditor class enriched, all of which is contrary to the Constitution of the United States, or any free country; and

Whereas, In consequence of such abuses and unlawful practices the wage-earners and workers are oppressed and impoverished because while their wages and possibly the [illegible] a greater daily wage if the intrinsic value thereof be alone regarded, yet, nevertheless because they are unable to return to them and all of them continued daily employment at such wages the intrinsic value of their annual earning is greatly diminished; and

Whereas, In consequence of such abuses and unlawful practices the riches of those whose capital is invested in land or its valuables is by the unnaturally scarcity of money largely increased, all of which is contrary to the Constitution of the United States of free country, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the wage-earners and workers of Salt Lake City, in mass meeting assembled demand as a right we are entitled to demand that it open inquiry into the matters and things aforesaid be true as we verily believe they are, then that the laws of the United States be properly enforced, and that the abuses and practices complained of cease and be discontinued, and be it further

Resolved, That we urge all the wage-earners and workers of what kind or description so ever, to unite with us in this demand, to the end that by united effort that impartial administration of the powers delegated to the executive and Congress of the United States, to which we are of right entitled, be secured.

The annexed resolutions were also passed by the meeting:

Whereas, The money lenders and usurers of New York city are striving to ruin the entire Pacific coast by doing their utmost to disfavor silver, and

Whereas, The merchants of the same place refuse to aid the West in securing justice for silver and products [illegible] following the dictates of those who have them hoodwinked and who are striving to make slaves of the producing class of their country, therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the workingmen of Salt Lake City, in mass meeting assembled, respectfully request the merchants of Salt Lake City to purchase no goods from New York city that they, without too much of a personal sacrifice, can buy elsewhere. We further call their attention to the fact that the only hope for the West in this matter is, by uniting with the South, and as one good turn deserves another we would suggest the New Orleans, Baltimore or any other Southern or Western seaport is just as near as New York. We further believe that this action may have a tendency to cause them to study the silver question, out of which at least there can come to them no great harm. And be it

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce for action by that body, and that the secretary of the Federated Trades of Salt Lake City be requested to forward a copy of these resolutions to the different trades and labor unions of the entire Pacific coast, and request them to take the same or similar action.

J. B. Rawlins made a speech in favor of silver, scoring some good points. He went so far, however, as to declare that the Theater meeting was a cut and dried affair, manipulated in the interest of capitalists.

H. V. A. Ferguson delivered a fiery speech on the silver issue, and was followed by S. P. Miles of Butte, who urged the workingmen to organize and make a strong fight against hurtful legislation.

J. H. Morris, county selectman, made a speech against the retrenchment resolution now before the City Council, and at the close of his address the following was adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the laboring men of Salt Lake City, as here represented, that the retrenchment resolution, so-called, now pending before the City Council should not pass, and that at this time all labor engaged on public works should be increased and the prices thereof should be scaled up rather than down, and that those idle taxpayers be given the preference over imported labor.

J. B. Rawlings stated his conviction that those selected as silver delegates to the Chicago and Washington meetings should be called on before they departed for the east to announce their sentiments to the public. Mr. Rawlings was empowered to call a public meeting to obtain such expression.

J. L. Franks, chairman, advised the workingmen to boycott all dry goods stores in the city that keep open after 7 p. m.; and the meeting adjourned.

The Oriental Seer.

The Oriental Seer gave another of his deeply interesting lectures at Calhoun hall last night. An audience numbering nearly 2000 listened to him in rapt attention for nearly two hours, scarcely a single person leaving the hall in that whole period.

Upon the conclusion of the lecture the Seer gave a markedly successful exhibition of his so-called occult powers. Several subjects offered themselves, suffering from headache and sciatic pains. Each one in turn the Seer cured completely without leaving the platform and with no personal contact whatever.—Rocky Mountain News.

We Speak What We Know.

From the Cornville, Texas, Sumer

My wife and four children were taken very suddenly with severe cases of cholera morbus. I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and from one to two doses gave relief in each case. I heartily recommend it, believing it the best remedy known for bowel complaints. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

A Good Thing for Summer Complaints

Mr. J. W. Hager, a well known merchant of Clio, Iredell Co., North Carolina, cured four cases of flux with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This is the most prompt and successful remedy in use for dysentery, diarrhoea, colic and cholera morbus. No other medicine will take its place or do its work in this class of diseases. It is equally valuable for children and adults. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.
