SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 7.—Pendleton gave notice of the following amendment to the Senate joint resolution at the end of the resolution and words, "And said notes shall not be available for any of the reserves required to be kept" by the National Banks, and all such reserves shall be kept in coin; ordered printed and referred.

The Vice-President laid before the Senate a communication from the Secretary of the Interior, transmitting the correspondence called for by the resolution of the Senate, of Dec. 8th, 1879, concerning the Ute Indians. Secretary Schurz says he forwards copies of all the correspondence excepting two letters received from Gen. Adams, one concerning the testimony taken by the Ute Commission, and the other touching further negotiations with the Utes with reference to their reservation. These letters, the Secretary says, the interests of public policy demand should be withheld from publication at present.

On motion of Pendleton, the Senate took up and considered the bill to authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to invest the Indian funds held in trust by him at 4 instead of 5 per cent., except where treaties stipulated otherwise.

After some discussion, the bill was allowed to go over, subject to Pendleton's call, to permit further examination of its provisions.

The bill to prevent cruelty to animals in transportation, on the suggestion of Allison, was postponed until to-morrow.

After executive session the Senate adjourned till to-morrow.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 7.—By unanimous consent, States were called this morning as of Monday for bills for reference.

Chalmers introduced a bill, which was referred, to regulate the coin certificates. It provides that the holders of gold or silver bullion may deposit the same at any United States mint to be coined, and shall receive coin certificates for the value thereof in denominations of not less than $5, such certificates to be received for customs, taxes and all public dues, and to be reissuable. The bullion deposited is to be coined as rapidly as possible and applied to the payment of the bonded debt; but there shall always be kept in the treasury, gold and silver coin equal to one-third of the outstanding coin certificates, which are to be limited to the bullion received.

Townsend, of Illinois, offered a resolution instructing the committee on foreign affairs to inquire into the expediency of abolishing all envoys extraordinary and ministers resident from the United States to foreign countries; referred.

By Miller—To request the President to invite Mexico to enter into a treaty; also Brazil.

By Culberson—For the recoinage of the trade dollar.

By Page—To restrict the emigration of the Chinese.

By Elam—To provide for an increase in the importation of foreign wines and merchandise subject to ad valorem duty, and to furnish additional facilities for the collection of custom house duties.

By Covert—For the reduction of duties on imported merchandise; also to reduce the duty on steel rails.

Cox reported a bill to regulate immigration. It was read and sent to the committee of the whole on point of order.

Coffroth, from the committee on invalid's pensions, reported a bill granting a pension of $8 a month to officers and men who served 60 days in the Mexican war or 30 days in the Creek, Florida or Black Hawk war; referred.

EASTERN.

THE MAINE MATTER.

The House Organized—Garcelon's Work—Wild Excitement.

AUGUSTA, 7.—In the House, Assistant Clerk Gibbs proceeded to call the certified roll of members. Hale claimed certain elected members of the House from cities, are not on this roll, and moved they be included. He supported his motion in a long speech. Objections were made to the motion from the other side, and Hale was ruled out of order by the Assistant Clerk, who refused to put the motion, on which the republicans withdrew from participating in the proceedings.

The republicans claim fraud in counting a quorum, and that the names signed to the list were persons not present. H. Carelton Cheever was chosen Assistant Secretary by a vote of 68. Again was a point raised, no quorum voted and again was it overruled. The question notifying the Senate of organization was debated, Hale taking the ground that there had been no legal organization of the House. No other body could be informed thereof. This was overruled. The protest of members from five cities was presented by Hale, who proceeded to address the House in an impressive and telling speech, urging that the people of Maine are waiting with most intense anxiety for the settlement of these cases. The only way to allay the great excitement prevailing is to admit these members who are clearly elected according to the expressed decision of the court. This course will alone propitiate the people of Maine. He moved that the House go into committee of the whole and consider the cases. This Legislature ought not to take a single step until even-handed justice is done.

A message was then sent to the Governor and Council, stating a quorum of the members of the House were present, ready to be qualified. Great excitement prevailed during Hale's remarks, and uproarious applause followed. After notification to the Governor that a quorum was present, the Governor appeared and qualified the members. He then announced that 76 members, being a quorum, had taken and subscribed the necessary oaths, and they were regularly and duly constituted House of Representatives. This announcement was received with wild applause from the outside. Gov. Garcelon said he now put into their hands the opinion of the Supreme Court as well as the petition of gentlemen from certain cities, claiming seats, and invoked their careful consideration of the same. Three cheers were given for Gov. Garcelon, followed by prolonged hisses.

The quorum is made of 75 fusionists and one republican, Eugene Hale. The fusionists, not participating are Sproul, of Hazle; Voter, of Farmington, and Snow, of Skowhegan.

Boston, 7.—The Journal's Augusta special says: An immense crowd is in attendance at the State House. The rotunda, corridors and committee rooms and galleries are a perfect jam. The members elect with certificates and without, and counted-out members with all contestants are admitted to both branches, also ex-governors, members of Congress, State officers, representatives of the press, etc, until the house was full.

An Augusta special to the Herald says: The scene in the House of Representatives was simply disgraceful. Hale was a gentleman and acted like one, and he must have been ashamed of his company. The repetition of the oath after the Governor was drowned by the hisses and groans of the mob. The fusionists put things through regardless of parliamentary law.

News from the Indians.

PUEBLO, Col., 7.—Twelve Ute Indians in charge of Lieutenant Taylor of the Ninth Cavalry, with ten men, arrived here to-day and went east immediately on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road. They had ordered dinner at the Union Depot Hotel, but seeing so large a crowd of pale faces, it destroyed their appetite and they went aboard the train at once and left without eating. Between 2,000 and 3,000 people were at the depot to see the savages. "Hang the red devils, shoot the murdering fiends," and like expressions were frequently heard from portions of the crowd, and they were pelted with stone coal by some boys who had a position on a coal train on a side track. The Indians were terror stricken and completely cowed. A move was on foot in the morning to organize 500 men and lynch the savages, but cooler counsels prevailed and the citizens determined to let the Indians pass without injury. Had there been any injudicious action taken by the troops or Indians, no power could have restrained the mob from lynching them. Had Douglas or any of the Indians engaged in murdering and outraging the Meeker family been aboard, no power could have saved them. A Chieftain reporter interviewed Lieutenant Taylor, who expressed himself determined to protect the Indians at all hazards, should the mob attempt to seize them. Troops will escort the Indians to Lakes, the east line of Colorado. If the people in other parts of the State feel as hostile as the Pueblotes, the Utes must go in the spring. People here unanimously endorse Belford's Indian policy.

Denver, 7.—Twelve Utes on the way to Washington, left Alamosa this forenoon, reaching Pueblo at a quarter past one and leaving soon after for the East on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road, over which they go to Kansas City, thence over the Chicago & Rock Island to Chicago, and thence over the Baltimore & Ohio to Washington, where they are expected to arrive Sunday, accompanied by Gen. Adams, of the commission, Otto Mears, formerly agent at Los Pinos, and W. H. Berry, interpreter at Los Pinos.

Omaha, 7.—The Omaha commission having in charge the relief of the Ponca Indians, have decided to recall T. H. Tibbles and Chief Standing Bear from the east, as the Ponca habeas corpus has been dismissed in the district court. Tibbles and Standing Bear raised about $4,000 in the east to defray the alleged legal expenses. The commission may endeavor to replace the Poncas upon their Nebraska reservation, and thus spend their money in legally defending the movement, if the government takes steps to stop it.

Grant to be the Nominee.

NEW YORK, 7.

The World's Washington special says: A democratic Senator said to your correspondent to-day, the republican situation was now very plain; Pennsylvania, New York and Illinois are to be held for Grant, and it is plain that arrangements have been already made to secure the acquiesence of Sherman, the agreement being probably to let him remain in his place as Secretary of the Treasury. Grant will be made the republican nominee, Conkling, Cameron or Blaine may possibly get the nomination for vice-president.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Germany and Russia Making Preparations.

LONDON, 7.—Detailed reports of Russian military preparations which come from various points on the Austrian and German frontiers are beginning to excite attention throughout Europe. A pamphlet has just been issued wherein the frontier defences of Germany and Russia are elaborately discussed and the respective advantages of different plans of invasion on either side are canvassed. The author is evidently a German military man, and the appearance of such a pamphlet under the present circumstances is regarded in Berlin as highly significant. The writer expresses the belief that Germany's eastern frontier is sufficiently defended, and that German forces can be easily and quickly mobilized and thrown upon important points in sufficient strength, even on the shortest notice, to hold the Russians at bay on the frontier until measures of resistance in the interior can be thoroughly organized.

The following passage closes the treatise: When at the beginning of September the venerable German Emperor visited Alexander at Alexandrowe, he showed, with the gratified concurrence of the people, that his traditional friendly relations to Russia still subsisted, and consequently allayed the excitement which had been caused in Europe by newspaper recriminations extending over several months. If Emperor Alexander uttered the words ascribed to him by the public journals, thank God a war with Germany is an impossibility. He said: We may well believe in accordance with the feelings of a great majority of his loyal subjects." These words are, it is to be hoped, to be effaced neither by Nihilists nor Pan-Slavonic agitators, nor by those whose restless statesmen and generals, who, notwithstanding their experience in the Russo-Turkish war, desire to satiate their thirst for glory by an attack upon Germany. Should they venture upon this, they may perhaps find their object a trifle more difficult of attainment in this country than it proved in Turkey.

The Augsburg Allegemerne Zeitung, of the 5th, contains an article on Germany's Eastern and Russia's Western line of defences, which concludes as follows: The German army required nine days for mobilization and for transport to the Eastern frontier. It would have at its disposal the Koenigsburg and Bredekuhnnen, the Koenigsburg and Lyk, the Danzitz and Solden, the Danzitz and Thorn, the Berlin and Lemberg, the Berlin, Posen and Inowraclaw, the Brewlaw and Welmbruck, the Breslaw and Myslowitz, and the Dresden, Liegnitz, Neisse and Myslewitz railways. Thus the German armies would appear on the Polish frontier and be able to cross it sooner than the enemy.

The Cologne Gazette, in a long article referring to the speech of Prince Hohenlohe, German Ambassador at Paris on the occasion of President Grevy's reception of the diplomatic corps on New Year's day, declares that the peace of Europe is threatened by Russia only, and Germany and Austria are determined to hold Russia in check. The article is remarkable for its threatening tone towards France and hostility to Russia. It declares that Bismarck only authorized Hohenlohe's speech in which he expressed cordial sentiments of Germany towards France after de Freycinet, the French Premier in reply to Prince Bismarck's inquiry had given a satisfactory statement of his foreign policy, and adds no Ministry in France can last long if Bismarck opposes it.

The Times, reproducing the above article, calls attention to the fact that recently the Cologne Gazette has faithfully represented Prince Bismarck's views on questions of foreign policy.
