SCENES OF HORROR.

Further Particulars About the Fire at the World's Fair.

SEVERAL WOMEN REPORTED LOST.

Messages of Sympathy from Firemen.—Relief Fund Started.—Liberal Contributions.

CHICAGO, July 10.—The fear that has existed for months in the minds of the citizens of Chicago found realization today in a frightful holocaust at the World's Fair that claimed nearly two score victims and for a time threatened the destruction of the entire White city.

The fire was not generally observed until about 1:15 p. m., and within thirty minutes the great loss of life occurred. At the first signal the firemen rushed up the huge shaft surrounding the smoke stack, and when at the summit began preparations to fight the flames, which first appeared at this point.

Before the hose could be coupled a cry of horror from the crowd below caused the firemen to look down, for the whole shaft below was encircled with the flames. The men stood stolidly for a moment, in full realization of their danger. Then one grasped a rope which was lowered for the purpose of raising the hose, and half sliding, half falling, reached the roof ninety feet below, in a bruised and burned condition, but still alive.

The crowd below became wild with excitement, and weeping women and frenzied men rushed around, wringing their hands and moaning in anguish over their inability to render aid.

Suddenly every eye was turned upward by the preparations of a fireman to jump. He gave a quick, spasmodic leap and turned over half a dozen times before he struck the roof ninety feet below. When the body struck the roof there was a frightful crash and it bounced far up again into the air.

From this time on bodies rained from the steeple, as after the first wild leap one man after another jumped in quick succession as the flames closed in below and the heat became intense.

The very horror of death riveted every eye to the scene and while men and women shouted hysterically, the guards were almost powerless to keep the crowd away from danger.

As a fire trap the Cold Storage warehouse could not have been more perfectly constructed. It was 250 feet long and 150 feet wide, made of wood and covered with staff. The main story of the building was five stories high. In the center rose the smoke stack in the shape of a cupola, 200 feet high. Its base was about 30 feet square and 90 feet up there was a balcony, from which rose a tower, culminating in the mouth of the smoke stack.

Where the fire was first discovered in the interior of the lower there were wooden beams and a framework, on which the staff was laid. It is supposed the framework around the mouth of the chimney caught fire from a defect in the flue. At first it appeared an insignificant affair, but, knowing the inflammable nature of the structure, Fire Marshal Murphy called all the companies out.

With 40 men, Captain Fitzpatrick climed the ladders inside the tower to the balcony, and from there ropes were lowered to haul up the hose. One had been gotten up when the wind caused the flames to break out in a alarming manner about ten feet from the top of the cupola.

Within fifty feet from the ground all ropes hanging from the tower were burned away. One hose attached to the heap, however, and John Davis caught hold and slid down to the main roof, where he fainted. He was taken to the hospital and physicians say he will recover.

Another man started down the portion of rope hanging from the tower, but it gave way and he fell, striking on his head. He was instantly killed.

There now remained according to the count of various spectators, twenty-five to thirty men on the tower. They were hopelessly beyond human help, the longest ladder falling short fully thirty feet.

At this terrible moment Captain Fitzpatrick's tall form appeared in front of the men who were huddled together on the narrow balcony. He seemed to be addressing his brave followers. As he ceased speaking one of the men crept around the burning balcony and returned a moment later with a rope. It was hastily fastened to the railing around the balcony and thrown to the roof.

Fitzpatrick was seen to point to it and a man started to slide down, but before he was half way the crowd flames rolled up and he was swallowed in the awful volcano. Another tried it and met the same fate.

One after another five of the men at this point sprang from the balcony to the roof. If any survived the awful leap were they burned to death afterwards.

The rope was burned off about half way down, but Fitzpatrick, seeing the men jumping to their doom, seized the stream and started down. He dropped from the end of the rope and caught a ladder which was raised to within twenty feet of it. Fire Marshal Murphy, who was on the roof, sprang forward and soon reached Fitzpatrick. A shout of admiration and encouragement went up.

The heroic marshal started back with his friend, but was enveloped in flames. With the energy of despair he clutched his companion and slid down the ladder. Both Murphy and Fitzpatrick were unconscious when picked up. The former, however, is not seriously hurt, but Fitzpatrick is not expected to survive the night.

A few weeks ago Marshal Murphy inspected the building and reported it to be extremely unsafe. On account of his report the insurance companies cancelled all risks, so the loss is complete.

It is reported by some of the Columbian guards that a number of women lost their lives in the building. The firemen discredited the story, but tonight a lady's watch was found on a body so badly burned it was impossible to tell whether it was that of a man or woman. Messages of sympathy from chiefs of fire departments all over the country have been received by Chief Swenie.

A relief fund was started by the council of administration soon after the extent of the disaster was known, and in less than thirty minutes $2000 was subscribed and contributions continue to pour in.

Issue of Silver Dollars.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The issue of standard silver dollars from the mints and treasury offices during the week ended July 8, 1893, was $520,740, for the corresponding period of 1892, $445,395. The shipment of fractional silver coined from the 1st to the 8th inst. aggregated $297,159. The gold reserve fund gained $401,000 since yesterday, and reached a total of $97,275,101. The currency on hand aggregates $27,193,537, making a balance of $124,468,638.

The comptroller of the currency ordered national bank currency to be printed on account of banks expected to the amount of $5,097,000.

A Letter from Sherman.

WORCESTER, Mass., July 10.—In a letter to Congressman Walker, Senator Sherman reviews the causes which led to the passage of the so-called Sherman silver purchase law. The bill which passed the House provided for the purchase of $4,500,000 worth of silver at gold value. The Senate struck out the provision and provided for the free coinage of silver, or the purchase of all that was offered, at the rate of 120 cents an ounce. The conferees were acting for two hours, and to bring about an agreement, it resulted, without respect to individual opinion. The result of the conference was to reject the free coinage and provide for the purchase of four million, five hundred thousand ounces of silver at its gold price, a less amount than was proposed by the house.

"Another object I had in view was to secure the then much-needed addition to our currency, then being removed by the compulsory retirement of the National bank notes to the payment of United State bonds. This would have been more wisely provided by notes secured by both gold and silver, but such a provision could not then be secured.

"These reasons fully justified the compromise, but the great controlling reason why we agreed to it was that it was the only expedient by which we could defeat the free coinage of silver."

Nevada Silver Party.

WINNEMUCCA, Nev., July 10.—The chairman of the state central committee of the silver party of Nevada issues the following:

"The goblings, with Grover Cleveland at their head, are so king a most determined effort to have the sherman law repealed at the extra session of Congress and a gold standard permanently fixed upon this country. Intimidation and bribery and executive threats are their weapons. The friends of silver in nearly all of our sister states are organizing for the conflict. Shall Nevada lag behind? She was foremost of all the states in her loyalty to the silver cause in the late Presidential campaign. It is time she was heard from on the present crisis. Let every club in the state and every election precinct meet in convention in their respective localities and pass resolutions in earnest protest against the repeal of the Sherman law, unless free coinage be substituted, and forward the same to our senators and representatives in Congress.

"It has been suggested that a state convention be called, but on account of the great expense such a convention would entail upon the delegates and because it is better to have an expression of the people in each neighborhood in mass meeting, we most earnestly urge the adoption of the latter plan, and to secure unanimity of action, we advise that such meetings be held Saturday, the 15th inst. It is of the highest importance that the American Bimetallic league be convened at Chicago the 1st day of August, and we suggest that the silver leagues of each county, so far as possible, name a delegate to that meeting."

Sullivan Court Martial.

WASHINGTON, July 10. — In the court martial ordered for Sullivan there are five charges against the accused, viz: Rendering false and fraudulent returns of balances to his credit; rendering false and fraudulent returns in violation of article 14 navy regulations; making false and fraudulent official reports; disobeying the lawful order of the secretary of the navy and unnecessary, in violation of naval regulation. The court which will conduct the inquiry will consist of Captains Selfridge and Roney, Commanders Glass and Clark, Paymasters Bates, Sewell and Lemoly, Lieutenants and Commanders Hutchins and Gilmore, with Lieutenant Gatel as judge advocate.

Pensions Suspended.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The pension bureau has notified a great many pensioners throughout the entire country who are drawing pensions under the act of June 27, 1890, known as the supposed pension act, that payment of their pensions will be suspended for sixty days, during which time they will be required to show cause why they should continue to draw pensions.

This action is pursuant to a recent ruling of Secretary Smith to the effect that a pensioner under the act of June 27, 1890, drawing a pension for total disability, must be shown to be physically incapacitated at present time. It is estimated at the pension office that although the work was not recently begun, something over 1000 suspensions are already made.

Discharges for Sale.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Enlisted men in the navy will now have the privilege of purchasing their discharges. No man is to be allowed to purchase his discharge while in debt to the government or until he has served three months. The price of a discharge during the fourth month of enlistment will be $50, and for the yearly pay of the apprentice; during the fifth month 5 per cent, and so on, increasing 5 per cent per month until the twelfth month, when the maximum price will be reached.

During the fifteenth month the price will be 50 per cent of the maximum price. In the sixteenth month 60 per cent, and so on decreasing 5 per cent per month until the thirty-fourth month, when he may apply for a discharge without payment. Discharge by purchase is not an inherent right, but a privilege which may be granted by the navy department.

An American Maltreated in China—Naval Signals Proposed—The Cholera in Mecca.

LONDON, July 10.—The discussion of the ninth clause of the Irish government act, which relates to representation in the imperial parliament of the Irish counties and boroughs, began today in committee of the whole of the commons. The bill provides for the retention of eighty Irish members in the imperial parliament, a reduction of twenty-three in the present representation.

John Redmond moved an amendment to retain the Irish representation at the full present number.

Gladstone opposed the motion and after a long discussion a division on the amendment resulted in its defeat by a vote of 280 to 205.

Edward Heneage, unionist, moved an amendment to the effect that the Irish be excluded entirely from the commons.

Gladstone opposed it and, amid derisive opposition cheers, moved the clausure. It carried by a vote of 241 to 211.

Only Two Los Angeles Banks Remain Closed.

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—The Southern California National Bank and the University Bank opened their doors this morning. It was expected that the Southern California would open, but the opening of the University Bank was something of a surprise, though they were in a condition to open several days ago.

EXPLOSION

Of prices has caused a panic in the Dry Goods trade of Salt Lake City. It has caused the Territory of Utah and is now reverberating throughout the adjacent States. It is destined to go sounding down the aisle of time as the most appalling reduction of prices that ever occurred in this or any other community. The crowds of eager buyers who take possession of our great store from day to day can only be likened unto a grand mass-meeting of the people, all bent on securing some of the unprecedented bargains we are offering.

This Week will be a continuation of our great Slaughter Sale,

At lower prices than ever. We must have room for our Fall purchases, which, in spite of the CRY OF THE CHOAKERS about "dull times," will be larger than ever before. We have no cause to complain. Trade is never dull with us.

WHY?

Because we give the working man a chance. When times are quiet we divide our profits with the people, and when work is scarce and money scarcer still, we cut profits to the winds and SELL FOR COST. BECAUSE we buy for spot cash and get heavy discounts. BECAUSE we don't owe anybody and can afford to dispose of our goods as we please.

THAT'S WHY!

If you doubt our values, come in and see for yourselves. The bargains we quote during this sale have never been equalled, never will be equalled, and can never be repeated.

Walker Bros. & Fyler Co.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

In addition to the low prices, we present coupons worth up to the amount of 10 per cent of every purchase made from us. Customers should collect these coupons and present them at the cash desk at the time of purchase.
