BOLD BANK ROBBERY

A Large Sum Stolen From a Safe in Broad Daylight.

THE THIEVES GET AWAY SAFELY.

The Officers Hunting for a Clew Are Confident of Success Before Long.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 7.—The South Bend National Bank, one of the largest and soundest banks of northern Indiana, was robbed of over $15,000 today. The deed was committed in broad daylight, while hundreds of people were on the street, and the robbers succeeded in getting away with the goodie without leaving the slightest clew. Every train or other means of leaving the city was very carefully watched, and the officers hope to obtain some tangible clew before morning.

Cashier Myron Campbell remained in the bank, in the heart of the city, until all the employes were gone and then, as he supposed, locked the middle door of the big vault and left everything in usual shape for the noon recess. It was fifteen minutes after 12 o'clock when he left. At 12:55 he returned. He found the rear window open, the back door unlocked, and the door between the directors' room and the counting room unfastened.

A rush was then made for the vault. The door was as Mr. Campbell had left it. He swung it back and examined the safe within. A glance showed that money had been taken. It subsequently developed that the robbers secured $15,000.

There is little doubt that the bank has been watched for several days, perhaps weeks. It is now pretty certain that in turning the combination knob in the middle door of the vault, the one depended on at the noon hour, the robber did not turn it far enough to unlatch the tumblers. By mere chance the robbers happened to turn the right way to unlock the door.

The robbers touched no money that would be at once missed. On top of the safe was the counter tray, containing about $6000. Not a dollar of this was touched. They confined themselves to the safe, which contained in the neighborhood of $25,000, $14,000 being in gold. Of the gold only $4000 was taken. The rest of the $15,000 stolen was in paper money. The robbers closed the vault door to allay suspicion.

Assistant Cashier J. E. Kelly resides near the bank. The windows in his home give a full view of the window through which entrance was gained to the robbed bank. About the hour of the robbery a man called him out to purchase potatoes, ostensibly, but it is thought to attract his attention while the robbers were effecting an entrance.

MRS. DREW AND SULLIVAN.

John L. Helps the Famous Actress Out of a Difficulty.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—An afternoon paper tells this story of John L. Sullivan, the ex-champion pugilist: Mrs. John Drew, the famous actress, has just completed an engagement in this city which was not a financial success. She had been bolstering up the theatrical venture of her son, Sydney, and the engagement came to an end with pressing demands and no money to meet them. Unless she could raise a considerable sum without collateral she saw no way of getting her company out of town. As a last resort she tried to do so only met with failure, she became almost frantic. For days and nights she went about trying every source to be thought of with no success whatever. Finally, as a last resort, she went to the big pugilist, who was performing here. In her half frantic statement of the case he merely said: "Why, Mrs. Drew, don't you worry about a little thing like that. I'll put you through. How much do you say? So much? Here, where's my manager and my check book? We are all members of the profession and must help one another."

Waite's Scheme Condemned.

DENVER, Dec. 7.—Governor Waite has already begun preparing a call for an extra session of the legislature, to convene Wednesday, January 10th. The Mexican silver coinage scheme is unanimously condemned by the newspapers of the city.

SURPRISED AT A JUDGE.

He Reverses a Ruling of His Own in a Smuggling Case.

PORTLAND, Or., Dec. 7.—Judge Bellinger, of the United States district court, created surprise today by announcing in open court that he had erred in a ruling made in the Dunbar smuggling case. The ruling in which Judge Bellinger was in error was that in which he based his instruction to the jury, that nonvision could not be had on eight of the fourteen counts in the indictment against William Dunbar, on trial for smuggling opium, because there was no testimony corroborating that of Bunn, Jackson, Gutthorne and Berg, who were accomplices and who pleaded guilty and testified for the government. It was on the remaining six counts that the jury returned a verdict of guilty against Dunbar.

The grand jury today returned another indictment against Dunbar, Bunn, E. S. Thompson and three Chinese merchants for smuggling opium.

THE POPE'S ENCYCLICAL.

His Holiness Enthusiastic When It Is Mentioned.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The World's Chicago from New given Chauncey M. Depew's description of his visit to the Pope. When Depew mentioned the famous encyclical on the relations of capital and labor his holiness straightened up with all the vigor of a man of 50. His eyes flashed, he grasped the arms of his chair and leaned forward as though intensely interested.

"That encyclical," he declared, "was no new thing in the Catholic Church; it laid down no new doctrines. It simply reaffirmed and reiterated what had always been the doctrine and policy of the church as to the relations of the rich and poor, the employer and employed. The rights of property, the right of man to retain and enjoy that which he has earned by the sweat of his brow or by general good fortune has never been questioned by the church and never will be."

THE TRUTH HURT.

Mrs. Aguilar Explains and Her Story Is Confirmed.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 7.—Mrs. Aguilar said then the effects of the horse caused by the running off thrown on her by her husband. The people here are indignant over the matter and friends of Dreyfuss are busy made. The officers in charge of Aguilar will take the prisoner to jail from some station near the city, bringing him to jail by carriage.

Pollitzer Will Speak.

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 7.—The Kansas Farmers' Alliance is now positively dead. A long drawn season was held today, but no man is known to correctly state that the publication have won.

Cut Her Throat.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 7.—Mrs. Julia Huff, a young woman employed in the family of E. H. Rockefeller, was murdered this evening in front of the house by a man with whom she had been walking. He suddenly turned upon her and cut her throat from ear to ear. The young woman is now seeking for her husband and a street railroad motorman, with whom she had been seen in company.

MEXICO AND COLORADO.

The Republic Cannot Treat with a State.

CITY OF MEXICO, Dec. 7.—The report that the Mexican government has been treating with the government of Colorado for the purpose of opening the Mexican mint to Colorado's silver, which is to be refined into a legal dollar, is only partially true. Commercial persons did come here with such a proposition two months ago, but were promptly informed by the federal government that it could not undertake to treat with the states of the American Union separately. There is an intention here of coining the dollar suggested.

The Spaniards and Moors.

MELILLA, Dec. 7.—General Campos discussed the situation today with the sultan's envoy, and submitted conditions calling for Arab evacuation of the central zone, surrender of the chiefs and 12,000 rifles and punishment of the leaders of the rebellion.

THE WAR IN BRAZIL.

Insurgents Repulsed by Government Troops.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The Times tomorrow will publish the following from Rio Janeiro: The government troops occupied Armacao, which was abandoned by the insurgent vessels on Sunday afternoon. Insurgent launches attempted to land a party of men at Armacao under cover of the fire of the guns of the warships Jupiter, Trajano and Aquidaban. They were repulsed by the government soldiers, who kept up a heavy rifle fire. The sailors were unable to land and retired, with a loss of one killed and three wounded.

On Monday 800 government soldiers, from the shelter of the walls and houses at Armacao, again successfully repulsed an attempt of the insurgent sailors to secure a landing.

Tuesday evening the insurgents launches again attempted to make a landing at Armacao, and were again repulsed.

Wednesday the new torpedo boat Aurora, purchased by Peixoto from England, was delivered at Pernambuco. The government has renamed her Gustavo Sao Paulo.

The Aquidaban weighed anchor on Thursday at midnight and proceeded slowly down the harbor, with the lyeranee 400 yards in advance. Search lights on Gloria hill and Fort Sao Joao showed the whole scene distinctly. At 2:15 the Lage, Santa Cruz and Sao Joao opened fire on the two vessels at 12:30. The ships made no reply at first. They passed Fort Lage safely, and when abreast of Fort Santa Cruz the Lepanoeno opened a heavy fire on the fort, and then the Aquidaban, when 100 yards from the fort, gave it a full broadside. The fire of the ships continued with machine and quick-firing guns until they were abreast of Fort Sao Joao. Then both opened starboard broadsides. While the ships were passing the fort the insurgent gunners in Fort Villegagnon opened a well-directed fire on Fort Lage and Sao Joao, bursting several shells over the searchlight, and damaging it to such an extent that the light stopped. After the first broadside of the Aquidaban heavy smoke enveloped the ship, and the searchlights were unable to penetrate it. The Aquidaban did not use her searchlight in passing the forts.

The government fears that Admiral Gomes, who leaves with the warships Trinidade and the Bahia, now at Montevideo, will probably join the insurgents.

General Peixoto, a strong monarchist, commanding the government troops south of Sao Paulo, is reported to be in sympathy with the insurgents. The government is unable to find crews for its warships. The state of siege has been prolonged until December 23rd.

Charged With Bribery.

PARIS, Dec. 7.—The chamber this evening was engaged in the verification of the election of members. When the name of De Vogue was called the radicals set up shouts of silence. De Vogue indignantly declared that no act of bribery could be laid to his charge. Henry De Angles, in violent terms, denounced De Vogue's election as secured by clerical pressure and bribery, and demanded an inquiry, which was agreed to after a turbulent scene.

WASHINGTON ITEMS

Governor Waite's Free Coinage Plan Opposed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Acting Secretary Curtis of the treasury department intimated plainly that the government would interfere should an attempt be made to give practical effect to the suggestion of Governor Waite of Colorado to make silver a legal tender and provide for the coinage of a state dollar.

Governor Waite tonight gave out for publication a letter from President Dole regarding Waite's coinage scheme and expressing deep interest in the project to make all silver dollars of full weight legal tender in the Western states.

RIVERS AND HARBORS.

The secretary of the treasury has sent to Congress an estimate of appropriations on rivers and harbors, amounting to $5,015,000, in addition to estimates previously furnished for the year 1894-95.

TO REPORT FAVORABLY.

The subcommittee of the House banking and currency committee agreed to report favorably a bill allowing national banks to issue circulation without regard to their deposits of bonds of the various states.

WILL HOLD A CAUCUS.

Senator Chandler, in charge of the movement to hold a caucus of the Democratic senators against the Wilson tariff bill, says positively that a caucus will be held.

THE UTAH RESERVATION BILL.

The House committee on Indian affairs has ordered a report to the house in favor of the retention of Chairman Hitchcock's bill to continue a nine mile strip in Utah. Personally the gentleman expressed himself in the bill to open to Deseret Territory of Utah for the relinquishment of a portion of the Uncompahgre reservation in Utah. It is claimed that opened up nine miles are very valuable and are fast being occupied by people to be taken.

THE DEFICIT.

The clerks of the senate and house committees on appropriations were prepared with data showing the estimates and appropriations for the year 1893, and showing a comparison with the estimates for 1894, as revised by the treasury department. The total appropriations for that year were $215,014,019. The total estimates for 1894 were $246,[illegible]. The total estimates of revenues for 1894 are $[illegible]. The excess of the estimates of appropriations, exclusive of deficiencies and miscellaneous appropriations, over the estimated receipts of 1894 is $[illegible].

THE SMOULDERING FIRE.

A Vienna Dispatch Revives the War Talk in Europe.

The Situation Described by One Well Acquainted With the Highest Circles in Germany.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—(Copyrighted by the Associated Press.)—An important dispatch from Vienna, which the Times prints this morning, setting forth that the Russian government declared it imperative that the Kilia arm of the Danube be made navigable, the mouth of which demand was to secure exemption of the Kilia islands from control of the Danube commission, has served to attract renewed attention to a situation of affairs in Europe, which would need only a spark to kindle into a flame. That the various countries are fully alive to the difficulties about there can be no doubt. All the powers are making preparations to meet any emergency.

In connection with these most developments the statement made today that five new battleships, a first-class cruiser and a number of smaller vessels have been ordered to augment the British navy, is not without significance.

The Globe, commenting on the Times dispatch, says it we are on the eve of a revival of the state of things produced by the Crimean war. It says the recent demand that the Kilia mouth of the Danube be made navigable is the most alarming of the ugly portents of trouble which have been so numerous of late.

At the request of an Associated Press correspondent, Poultney Bigelow wrote the following on the situation in Europe:

"Russia wants Constantinople and is preparing to take it. Russia cannot succeed in accomplishing her desires without first fighting Austria. She cannot fight Austria without fighting Germany at the same time. Russia wants the mouth of the Danube, a desire so strange as if France should wish to recover Louisiana.

"Russia therefore has one enemy in particular in mind, that is Germany. In the hatred of Germany was born the recent friendship between Russia and France, for France means to get back Alsace-Lorraine. That France is thirsting for war vandals of scant counts to those who saw the delirious behavior of the French people in welcoming the Russian sailors at Toulon and Paris, not is there any doubt that she is now better fitted for war than she ever has been. Russia counted France and was well satisfied with the result. When war is declared the two are one, army and navy.

"The Russian government has now massed all its active army west of Moscow and the great bulk in Poland, is persecuting the German language and Lutheran religion in the Baltic provinces and is fanning rather than allaying the partialing hatred of Germans. Russia has been observing great secrecy of late in regard to movements on the railway. Sometimes several days have passed when all traffic on the roads has been stopped save that of the government. Only tonight, the 'Berlin Post' has been speculating upon forts and shots Russ nearly all been expended against the German frontier. Nobody knows the most settle with Germany before she can get the Russians.

"The German emperor, meanwhile, is awake and knows what is passing about him, but he knows also that he has much to lose and little to gain by a campaign. The German men-o-war cannot fire this, but and that the next war will be largely decided by yelling cavalries out of the fire in England."
