NEWS OF THE WEST.

A Man Supposed to Have Been Buried Returns in the Flesh.

DEATH OF A PROMINENT MEXICAN.

First Sermon of a Unitarian Shepherdess in San Francisco—Chinaman Frozen, Etc.

Sunday was pension day in Cheyenne, Wyo. There are over 400 soldiers who receive pensions from government in that city. The amount thus expended aggregates over $10,000.

A vein of fine coal has been discovered two and a half miles from the city water at Hell Creek, Wyo., (says the Cheyenne Gazette), and the Pennsylvania company is using it on its locomotives. The new find saves the company over $6 per day.

The flock at the Second Unitarian church, San Francisco, has a shepherdess, and the preacher her first sermon Sunday morning to a large congregation, says the Chronicle. Mrs. Amy Ellen Spencer has the unique distinction of being the first woman pastor in the city.

A dispatch from Buffalo, Wyo., says a Chinaman named Ung Long was nearly frozen during the blizzard the other night. He was en route to Sheridan and stayed and talked were left all night in the depot and returned to Buffalo next morning. Ung Long will recover.

The Casper (Wyo.) Tribune says: It is reported that Senator Carey contemplates placing town lots on the market this spring either east or south of town. The favorite locality is south of the town, as this appears to be the preference of all with whom we have talked to about the matter.

William Goodell, one of the legislative representatives from Uinta county, Wyo., spent several days at the state fish hatchery at Laramie for the purpose of getting an understanding of the hatchery business. He expects to erect a private hatchery and patron at his place at Cokeville near the Lincoln county line.

The Cheyenne (Wyo.) Tribune says that the Utah Gold & Silver Mining company of Evanston have filed articles of incorporation. The capital stock is $1,000,000. The Green Mercantile company of Green River have filed articles of incorporation changing the institution to the Wyoming Mercantile company.

The Denver Republican announces that a fleeing of practical joker strewed most of on the woodwork of nearly every door and window on Welton and California streets between Sixteenth and Twenty-fourth, some time Saturday night or early Sunday morning. The affair is a complete mystery to the police so far.

The discovery of silver-lead rock in the Bonanza (Idaho), says the Boise (Wyoming) Budget, has created quite a stir among a few people who are inclined to the belief that there is contiguous lake bonanza, and quite a number of all placer localities have been filed with County Clerk Cox so far in that vicinity. The feature thus far made over about 1,000 acres.

On Monday morning Senor Miguel Romo, a prominent official in the Sonora custom house, died very suddenly from heart disease at Nogales, Arizona. He sat at a table in a restaurant. His breakfast had just been served when he was about to begin eating when he fell from his chair, dead. He was about 50 years of age and had been in the custom service of the republic of Mexico some thirty years.

A stage line between Fruita and Grand Junction, Colo., is being seriously talked of and would be of benefit to all, says the Fruita Mail. The railroad rate of 15 and 20 cents is exorbitant and the passenger rate of 10 cents each way is more than our people can afford to pay in these times of depression. In addition the train service seems to have been arranged with special reference to the inconvenience to the people of Fruita.

When in some future day history tells the story of the growth and prosperity of the new youthful town of Nampa, Ida., remarks the Nampa Leader, it will be truthfully said that its growth was due to two things: First, its great system of irrigating canals. Second, the pluck and enterprise of its citizens and its natural advantages as to location and quality of soil. It is the natural supply point of Silver City and DeLamar, two of the greatest gold and silver mining camps in the world.

The railroad company has completed the channel taken out a half a mile above the new railroad bridge, and turned water into it, says the Caldwell (Idaho) Tribune. Cribs containing rock and gravel, one being placed along the southern bank of the channel, while across the river the cribs are weighted with stones. It has operated considerable into will be necessary, and the grading near the bridge made secure. Mr. F. L. Ormsbee, an old and trusted employee in the company, is superintending the work.

A peculiar case of mistaken identity has come to light at Fresno, Cal. About a month ago a man was found on the bank of a canal five miles north of Fresno, and an inquest held. Dozens of people identified him as Adolph Bucher, and the body was buried by Bucher's friends. On Saturday night Adolph Bucher came to town and was so much surprised at the news that he was supposed to be buried. Old friends were to see him alive. What makes the case more peculiar is that the real Adolph Bucher, who has been employed for several months on a farm north of Fresno, left the ranch the same day the body was found. There never had been any doubt as to the identity of the dead man. Friends who had known Bucher for years viewed the corpse and all agreed that it was Bucher. The owner of the ranch where he had been employed also talked to questions. The friends of Bucher in the town of Fresno is convinced that a mistake was made, as no one has any idea who the man was who was buried. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the body was that of Adolph Bucher, and that he had come to his death from natural causes. The real Bucher had been a week a few miles in the country and had not heard of the matter.
