LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THERMOMETER 42° in the shade at one o'clock to-day.

THEATRE.—This evening will be presented the popular sensation drama, "Under the Gaslight." "Snorkey," Mr. Bates; "Peachblossom," Miss Walters; "Old Judar," Mrs. Bird; "Laura Courtland," Miss Kent; "Pearl Courtland," Miss Simons; "Mrs. V[illegible]m," Mrs. Bowring; "Byke," Mr. Margetts; "Bermudas," Mr. Graham; "Signal Man," Mr. Thorne; "Counsellor Splinter," Mr. Dudley; "Jay Trafford," Mr. Dunne; "Peanuts," Mr. Mattinson.

BEEF, PORK, MUTTON.—What a fine display of meat of every kind there has been in the market to-day! The "knights of the cleaver," in vieing with each other as to whom would have the best "set out," have not only gone "the whole hog," but whole oxen, sheep and deer are suspended among tastefully arranged prime cuts, presenting an enticing picture to the carnivorously inclined. The market has been thronged to-day by parties laying in supplies for to-morrow.

PLENTY.—There is a superabundance of coal for present wants, in the market now. If those citizens who can do so are wise they will now purchase a sufficient quantity to last them for some time ahead. If the market is allowed to become glutted dealers may become discouraged, and another coal famine be the result. Experience is an excellent teacher, providing we profit by its lessons.

GOING TO HER HOME.—The physician in attendance upon Mrs. Chanfrau gives it as his opinion that it would endanger the life of that lady if she were to appear, as per announcement, to-morrow evening. Much to the regret of the management and doubtless to many theatre-goers, the lady has been under the necessity of breaking her engagement here. If she feels sufficiently strong, she will leave the City to-morrow for her home in the eastern States, where she purposes remaining until thoroughly recuperated.

HOLIDAY TIME.—As Christmas Day is a general holiday in Christendom, the printers have no desire to ignore the festive time. Instead of being shut up in a printing office to-morrow they prefer to be at home and share in the general rejoicings, and therefore we shall be unable to publish the NEWS to-morrow.

PRESIDENT YOUNG'S PARTY.—The following comes to hand this morning—

ST. GEORGE, 23.—President Young and party reached here this afternoon in usual health and spirits. Meetings were held at Parowan and Kanarra, Elders Young, Sheets, Staines and Musser were the speakers on subjects of general interest to saints and strangers. We have had beautiful weather all the way, and have met with no mishap. The roads were never before so rutty and dusty. The animals stood the journey remarkably well. No rains or snows in this country for a long while. We found President Snow and people generally in good health. A. M. M.

INFORMATION WANTED.—The following letter has been received by one of the city officers, who handed it to us for publication, in the hope that some of our readers will be able to give the information desired by the writer—

"Editorial Department Daily Commercial, Leavenworth,
"Kansas, December 11th, 1872.

"Dear Sir: The wife and three little children of Joseph Hasy left this place for San Francisco on the 15th of August. The Omaha Chief of Police has learned that she left that city on the U. P. R. R. on the 20th of that month. The San Francisco authorities can give no intelligence of her. Her distressed husband is fearful that death or sickness has overtaken her at some point on the road. She was an American woman with fair complexion, dark hair and brown eyes, and aged 28. She wore, from this place, a brown linen dress. The children were all girls—the oldest four years old, with brown hair and jet black eyes; the youngest with light hair and blue eyes. Their names were Gisella, Anna and Catherine. If you can give any news of them you will confer a favor on a worthy man and your kindness will be duly reciprocated by Yours respectfully,
"C. U. SHAW.
"Editor Daily Commercial."

THE NEVADA COMPANY.—As much interest and anxiety have been felt concerning the safety of the immigrants by the steamship Nevada, from Liverpool, it is with pleasure that we publish the following:

42 ISLINGTON, LIVERPOOL,
December 5, 1872.

Editor Deseret News.

The small party who left here on the 6th of November, per steamship Nevada, booked through to Utah, whose names we sent you for publication, returned to Liverpool on the 27th ult., the vessel having experienced very rough weather, damaging the machinery, which compelled her to put back. The same party, with the exception of brother and sister Thomas Morley, and a few additional names, left on the 4th inst., per steamship Manhattan. We again enclose a list of their names for publication. Your Brother,
A. CARRINGTON.

Names of the passengers pr steamer "Manhattan" from Liverpool, Dec. 5, 1872:

Helen Hendry; Helen Jackson; William, Ellen, Nephi, Edward, David, Benjamin, and Eleanor McCleery; Phoeby and Agnes Bradshaw; Thomas, Sarah, Sarah, Hugh and infant McKenna; Thomas, Mary A., Mary, Robert, James and Stephen Cordner; Thomas, Priscilla, Thomas, Heber, Elizabeth, Annie and Sarah Sparks; Daniel, Ann, Christina, Catherine, Anna and Margaret Kennedy; John and Grace Holden.

The Manhattan, we understand, arrived at New York a day or two ago, we forget the exact date.

IMPORTANT INVESTIGATION.—At eleven o'clock this morning the examination of James Langley, charged with incendiarism in setting fire to the Winder property, was commenced before Justice Clinton.

Mr. J. R. Winder was sworn for the prosecution. He described the property burned and its situation, on the corner of East Temple and Third South streets. The fire originated in a wagon shed adjoining a barn. The barn was constructed with one story with a loft. There were gates in front of the shed. On the evening of the fire, the 18th, he went through the premises a little after six o'clock, the fire was discovered about 15 minutes before seven. Egress could be obtained to the shed on the east side through an open space which had been left for a door to be put there. The fire was confined to some straw, when he discovered it. He tried to beat it out, but it spread rapidly and ran up a post as if coal oil had been poured on the latter. No wood could burn as the post did, unless inflammable matter had been sprinkled on it. The post was a hewn red pine log. The barn and shed and a two story house were consumed.

Cross examined by the defense—The post was put up in 1869. Witness did not know that timber became as combustible as powder by age. Nothing having any particular bearing on the case was elicited by the defense.

Mr. Joseph Benton was the next witness. His statement, in substance, was about as follows: He was near Mr. Currie's residence when he heard the alarm of fire. When he passed the alley way between Mr. Clift's and Mr. Winder's house he heard two men running. They appeared as if they were about to run west, but seemed to change their minds, and both jumped the ditch southwards. One of them tripped and fell. They were medium sized men, dressed in dark clothes. It was too dark to recognize either of them. Witness was almost positive they issued out of the alley. The men ran before the alarm of fire was given. When he heard the alarm of fire witness was close to Mr. Currie's residence.

Cross-examined by Mr. Maxwell. Witness was about a rod west of Mr. Winder's alley way when the two men ran up to him and jumped the ditch. The sound of the foot steps of the running men seemed to come from the alley way.

M. Hardy was next sworn for the prosecution. Witness resided in Heber City. He was in Hale & Lanham's saloon on the evening of the 18th. Heard the prisoner there say to another man that he would burn the G—d d—n town, as it was the only way to get even. The two men took a drink and resumed the conversation. They afterwards went to a side door and the prisoner picked up a small oil can. They went out and he followed them down till they got opposite the Walker House. They then went to the corner opposite the Clift House, and then went towards Clift's building. The prisoner still carried the oil can in his hand. Witness then went to the Washington House to go to bed. He saw the men stop near a pile of shingles by the Clift House. Witness was in the Washington House about ten minutes when he heard the cry of fire. Witness then recollected what had been said by the men in the saloon.

Cross examined by the defence. Witness had not drunk sufficient to muddle his brain. He knew distinctly what he was doing. The kerosene can was of small size, with a spout to it. It was such a one as was used on railroads for filling lamps. It was carried by the prisoner. The last he saw of the prisoner and the other man they were about thirty or forty feet west of Clift's corner. Witness was about thirty feet behind the prisoner and his companion when he followed them. He never lost sight of them till he got to Third South Street.

Mr. B. Y. Hampton was sworn for the defense. He produced a portion of a can which was found among the debris of the fire on Friday.

Mr. Winder, on being re-examined by the prosecution, stated that he was present when Mr. Hampton picked up the can, which was found within two feet of where the post stood which first took fire.

At half past 12 the examination was adjourned for one hour.

ANOTHER ATTRACTION.—The great comedian, J. T. Raymond, will appear at the Theatre on Thursday evening. He is said to be the best in his line on the American stage. He will open in "Everybody's Friend."

SMALL POX.—It was supposed the small-pox ceased on the Jordan River when the young man recovered some days ago. This morning we are told that Bro. Lorenzo Pettit and his wife are both down with this terrible disease.

GOING TO WASHINGTON.—Hon. A. P. Rockwood leaves the city this afternoon on a trip to the Eastern States. He purposes attending the National Agricultural Convention at Washington on the 3rd Wednesday in February, and the International Prison Convention at Baltimore in January, also to visit noted fish farms in Canada and in New York and other parts of the country, hunt up family genealogy and preach the gospel, during his absence from home.

TESTIMONIALS
IN FAVOR OF THE PRINCE ORGAN!

GREAT EXPOSITION, Kansas City.
The Prince Organ, which took the Premium, met in strong competition the Mason & Hamlin and the Estey Organs, but vanquished them easily. When the Prince is placed beside other instruments its superior Voicing and Power become so apparent, that even those prejudiced in favor of the others, are obliged to concede the point.—Kansas City Journal, Sept. 27th, 1872.

From J. H. Ridges, Esq.
Salt Lake City, Nov. 20th, 1872.
Messrs. Daynes & Son:
I have examined the Prince Organ and cheerfully accord it my approbation as a Good Organ, approved alike for its Durability and Sweetness of Tone.
J. H. RIDGES,
Organ Builder.

Salt Lake City, Dec. 2, 1872.
I have examined the Prince Organ, and can recommend it as a first-class instrument.
C. J. THOMAS,
Conductor of Theatre Orchestra.

Dec. 2, 1872.
I have inspected the Prince Organ and I can recommend it as an instrument worthy of patronage, both in the variety of stops and the easy construction in taking out the reeds and in keeping dust from the reeds, which is a desirable requisite. JOHN TULLIDGE,
Prof. of Singing and Harmony.

The Prince Organ is the best I have ever played on for variety of effects and sweetness of tone. JOS. J. DAYNES,
Tabernacle Organist.

NOTICE.

A RUMOR HAS GAINED CREDENCE that Zion's Co-Operative Mercantile Institution discounts the Wholesale Merchandise Orders issued from its Office. Any statement to that effect is totally false and can only benefit those dealers who are willing to speculate on the necessities of our laboring class.

We accept our orders at one hundred cents on the dollar and trust the holders of them will, in justice to themselves, demand their valuation whenever disposing of them.
