THANKS TO UTAH'S DELEGATE.

The following resolution signed by J. R. Walden and Nicholas Trweek was adopted:

Resolved, That the association extend to the Hon. John T. Caine its thanks for his efforts towards obtaining an appropriation from Congress for the erection of a public building for Salt Lake city; that a copy of this resolution be engrossed, signed by the president and secretary, and that we further express to him the hope that at this session of Congress he may be successful in securing for Salt Lake this much needed improvement.

Colonel Murray, of Deep Creek railway fame, in a protracted speech, said that nothing short of a national calamity would now prevent the building of his road to the Nevada line. His remarks were received with applause.

Ex-City Marshal John M. Young then made a characteristically humorous speech and was loudly cheered.

GLASS WORKS.

John W. Snell, John A. Groesbeck and Edmund Wilkes, the committee appointed to interview the owners of the glass works to find out the reason they cannot resume working, reported that the plant has two and one-half acres of city lots with two different railway switches. It has a 300 horse power engine. The improvements will cost $15,000, when the plant will make green glass, such as beer bottles, tumblers, etc., of which there is over $100,000 worth used here per year. The rate of freight was over 100 per cent higher when the factory commenced than it is now. The plant if started would give employment to seventy-five hands at an expense of nearly $1000 per week. It will take $40,000 more for working capital.

The report was referred back to the committee with Herbert Pembroke added.

COMMUNICATIONS READ.

Matthew White sent in the following communication: "Salt Lake City proposes to furnish this city and county clothing with fireproof material for floors, ceilings and partitions and all inside work, and manufacture the same in the city from the clay and Nels Gypsum works at a less price than the imported article.

From the Utah Press Brick and Tile company: We have a large bed of very fine clay, which is particularly adapted to make pressed brick, tiling, terra cotta and sewer pipe, and are anxious to obtain enough capital to place a No. 1 plant in the city."

Committee on manufactures.

The membership list which shows an enrollment of 115 business men was read after which the meeting adjourned.

OGDEN OCCURRENCES.

A Divorce Granted.—The Southern Pacific Shops.—Mills, the Young Burglar.

[Ogden Standard.]

Articles of incorporation of Ogden's proposed social organization, the Commercial club, were filed yesterday with the county clerk. The capital stock is placed at $1000.

Attached to the Union Pacific train which reached Ogden yesterday afternoon, three hours late, was a special stock car containing seven head of wounded horses, the property of Pierce Brothers of Santa Rosa farm, Sonoma county, California.

At the special meeting of the county court yesterday a large amount of business, most of which was of an uninteresting nature, was transacted, preparatory to turning the affairs of the county over to the new elected court, which will be organized on Tuesday morning.

By consent a decree was entered by Judge Miner yesterday in the complaint in the case of Belsayne Rose, vs. Methodist church and the board of directors of the Methodist university. The plaintiff sues for $1500 with interest at 8 per cent since September 1, 1891, due on a contract for material furnished to the contractors on the Utah university.

Deputy Marshal Gill yesterday arrested Nelson Arave, an old resident of West Weber, on a charge of adultery. He was taken before Commissioner Dalzell and waiving a preliminary examination was held in bonds of $500 to await the action of the grand jury. The alleged plural wife, Mary Ann Williams, was not arrested, but Arave gave bonds in the sum of $250 for her appearance when wanted.

A lady traveling from San Francisco to Omaha yesterday morning left her purse and ticket in the Pullman which went east over the Rio Grande Western at 7 o'clock. Her ticket read via the Union Pacific and the officials of that road generously furnished duplicate transportation, also supplied her with money enough to enable her to reach Omaha. The ticket and money were recovered at Salt Lake.

Within the next few days active work will begin on the Saunders Pacific shops, orders having been received from headquarters by the resident officers of the company to have the buildings ready for occupancy and skilled men in readiness for the gang of men who will be put at work immediately after the first of the year upon the roundhouse. Yesterday the Anderson Pressed Brick company, which has been awarded the contract to furnish the 4,000,000 brick necessary for the buildings, commenced hauling and will continue to do so at the rate of 50,000 brick daily until the entire number has been delivered on the ground.

The preliminary examination of E. E. Miller, the young man who was arrested last Wednesday night, charged with burglary and grand larceny, was held yesterday afternoon before Justice Fitzgerald and resulted in his being held to the grand jury in bonds of $500. Being unable to furnish the security he was taken to the penitentiary last night by Deputy Gill. A short time ago Miller endeavored to sell to Nelson & Fell a horse and buggy belonging to Dr. Kuck but was unsuccessful and then tried the burglary dodge, but by his bungling manner of shaking the doctor's wife and narrowly missed being captured in the act of going through the drawers of the bureau which was in the bedroom. The fellow had been taken in by Dr. Kuck out of pure kindness and in the manner stated showed his full appreciation.

Judge Miner yesterday granted a decree of divorce in the case of Thomas Arbor vs. Sophia Arbor, the grounds being adultery and desertion. The custody was awarded the custody of the only child, a boy 11 years of age. The parties were married in Salt Lake City on September 14th, 1878, and until the beginning of this year lived in perfect harmony. Then the destroyer of their home made his appearance in the person of Richard Vail, who after ingratiating himself into the good graces of the wife induced her to leave her husband and child and fly with him to Salt Lake, where the guilty pair were seen or heard from by the deserted husband. Arbor was at the time employed at the electric light works in Ogden and was of necessity away every night. Vail took the opportunity thus afforded of making his headquarters at the Arbor residence during the absence of the head of the family. Since being deserted by his wife Arbor has removed to Logan, where he has saved enough to purchase a little home. The court awarded him the property clear of any claim which the recreant wife might make against it.

PROVO LETTER.

In Court Circles.—Money Won on a Foot Race.—Business Notes.

[Special Correspondence of the News.]

Provo, Dec. 30.—The following business was transacted in the First District court yesterday:

The case of James Rooney vs. Lester Taylor was concluded today, Judge Blackburn, in consultation with the recent ruling of Judge Zane, and by consent of the attorneys, allowed a verdict to be returned by nine jurors. The verdict was in favor of the defendant, and Dixon will retain the $2240 he won on the foot race.

Josephine Steggell, aged seventeen, the young lady who recently left her home in American Fork and went to Grand Junction, a full account of which was given in the News at the time, was brought before Judge Blackburn, from the court of Justice McNeil of American Fork. Mrs. Steggell, mother of the girl, testified that the girl was incorrigible, and asked that she be sent to the reform school. The court acted on the request, and Miss Steggell will remain in the reform school until twenty-one, of until she is released by due process of law.

The jury returned a verdict of one dollar for plaintiff in the suit brought by Gibson & Smurthwaite to recover $300 damages from the Lake Shore Co-op. The damages were alleged to have been done through breach of contract.

The case of George W. Michel & Co. vs. H. A. Stringham, a suit brought to recover $250 on an account, was tried and submitted to the jury.

Professor Cedarstrom, who was awarded the gold medal for onyx exhibits at the last Territorial fair, is delivering a series of phrenological lectures in this city to raise cash for the erection of an onyx column at the World's Fair.

James M. Ballinger, an old resident of Pleasant Grove, died very suddenly of heart disease on Wednesday evening. A coroner's inquest was held yesterday and the above statement verified. Mr. Ballinger leaves a wife and several children, who will greatly miss the affection and kindness of a husband and father. Mr. Ballinger was a Union soldier during the civil war.

Clerk Halliday issued a license today permitting David Adamson, aged 29, and Isabella Steggell, aged 20, of American Fork, to marry.

The Provo Thespian club are rehearsing "The Colleen Bawn" nightly. The play will be presented on Monday night next.

A HUSBAND'S CRUELTY.

Mrs. Murphy Obtains a Divorce from Her Husband, Who is a Section Foreman.

Married to Thos. J. Murphy on June 5th, 1882, Mrs. Mary Murphy has long since found out, to her cost, that marriage in her case has been a huge failure. This morning she went upon the witness stand in Judge Zane's court, and on the ground of her husband's cruelty prayed for an absolute decree of divorce, asking for the custody of the three children now living, and whose ages are nine and seven years and eighteen months respectively.

Attorney W. C. Reilly represented the plaintiff, and stated that the parties are "Irish Roman Catholics."

Mrs. Murphy is rather good looking, about thirty years of age, and she mentioned several instances of her husband's brutality, which, in July, 1890, she said, Murphy pulled her off a chair on to the floor and struck her three times in the mouth, also calling her vile names and making unfounded charges against her.

On March 17th, 1892, he assaulted her in a public ballroom, called her bad names, and told a man named Walker, one of the company, that as he intended to leave his wife he (Walker) could "do what he liked with her." On this he made an improper suggestion. In August of the present year the defendant, after again abusing her, left her without any means of supporting herself and children.

Asked by her counsel whether Murphy was a sober man, the plaintiff shook her head and replied—No; he will have his spurs on or about pay-day—every month. He is not what you call a drunkard, but when under the influence of liquor he is always very abusive. In August last he raised a court to strike her and said I was nothing but "a dirty hack—," and that he could prove it. He has since written letters apologizing for what he had said, as he believed his statements to be false.

In reply to the Court, Mrs. Murphy said that besides the three children living two had died. Her husband was now in Caldwell, Idaho.

Witnesses were called who had heard Murphy abuse his wife, while Day spoke of the latter as a respectable, hard working woman.

Judge Zane granted the decree, allowing the wife the custody of the children. No alimony was applied for.

Within Our Gates.

D. C. Dunbar, who is taking a large show of interest in the World's Fair, has got back from a canvassing tour in the north counties on chilling cold pushing as usual.

Ex-Mayor Haines, whose name forms a conspicuous chapter in the later history of Logan, was with us again for a brief spell today. His spa the north town is solid and reasonably active.

Michael Monahan, superintendent of the great reservoir being constructed north of Milford, Beaver county, is a guest at the Cullen. He is as confident as ever and smiles at any opposition to the suggestion that his county is going to lead the Territory.

William Glennan, formerly a real estate dealer on a large scale in his city, but now holding forth principally at Tooele, is on his native heath again. His buffalo herd at Lake Point is doing well, and his patriotic purpose of permitting posterity to see these animals in the flesh will doubtless be realized. Let us hope so.

W. J. Bowes, manager of Ogden's splendid opera house, a "rustler" of renown and a Democrat from way back, dropped into the sanctum long enough to exchange New Year's greetings today. Mr. Bowes is a popular citizen of the town so prolific in prize fights. Liberal majorities attend and will lead a strong hand toward making it realize all that is hoped for it.

Captain Sidney, who occupies the responsible position of superintendent of the Ogden Street railway and Bear Lake waterworks in the junction city, came down today. He says Ogden now has 25,000 people—counting. Their street cars are so well handled that they have not yet missed a trip, snow or no snow, in which respect they "lay Provo" ours badly.

Two of a Kind.

W. D. Burton, an old time hook and vagrant, whose acts are of such a character as to frequently secure free lodgings for him in the city jail once more behind the bars. This time he is accused of stealing four dressed chickens from a Second South street commission house.

John Collins, a fellow on whom the officers have long had their eyes, was run in on a charge of stealing a wheel. The case was entered on the records to be heard on the third prox.

A Lucky Fellow.

The convict Loomis, who was sentenced in the First District court at Ogden to twelve years imprisonment for burglary, is again a free man. He was liberated from the penitentiary this morning, having received a pardon from the Governor after serving less than one-fourth of his term. The name of Loomis, it will be remembered, figured prominently in connection with the unfounded charges made against ex-Marshal Parsons some time ago in relation to penitentiary affairs. He is said to have been the manufacturer of the mysterious key by which he was said to have stolen access to the cell of Essie Bank, his "sweetheart."

DEATHS.

BOARDMAN.—Mary E. Brindley, wife of Alfred Boardman, aged 68, at Alfred, Kent county, England, was born at Alfred, Kent county, on March 5th, 1824. She leaves a husband and six children to mourn her death. She died as she had lived, a faithful Latter-day Saint.

CARTER.—In Salt Lake City, December 29th, of mental debility, Mary Ann, wife of Edward John Carter, in the 72nd year of her age.

Funeral from her residence, 151 Fifth street, Monday, at 2 p. m. Friends respectfully invited.

MITCHELL.—In Salt Lake City, December 30th, 1892, of paralysis, Anna Maria Mitchell, widow of the late William Mitchell, aged 80 years.

Funeral at No. 226 East First south street on Sunday at 1:30 p. m. Friends invited to attend. Philadelphia papers please copy.

SCRATCHED 3 YEARS

Bathed, Scratched, and Bled. Doctors No Relief. Cured by Two Sets Cuticura Remedies.

I wish to express my thanks for the benefit I have derived from using CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seeing that there was some manufactured article in your name I purchased what I thought was a very good. I would break out in every by from with pimples which would turn to a worse matter, and it would burn and itch so I could scratch it. After showing this to a doctor who had known me for a few years, there no use, I finally made up my mind to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES. I accordingly obtained a full set of CUTICURA REMEDIES, I accordingly obtained a full set of CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using the contents of one set of CUTICURA REMEDIES, I felt very much better. I kept on using the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and one set more, and I am happy to say I am now free from my disease. I have recommended CUTICURA REMEDIES, and have never my word complained. J. F. MEAGER, 118 State St., Chicago, Ill.

Call and Look at Our Display

Of Winter Clothing. Some things strike the eye at once, and that's the case with our stock. It's a case in which the jury, so to speak, find a favorable verdict without leaving their seats. We are leaving all competitors hopelessly in the rear with our superior goods and low prices. You never knew how cheap a suit is until you see it. It's just the same as a pig in a bag. What you don't see may be just as cheap as the price, or for that matter a good deal cheaper. It's our prices that are cheap, not the goods; they are high, so high in fact that you can't touch them elsewhere. Isn't it worth while to buy, sir?
