TO CONFERENCE VISITORS.

I BELIEVE that the Citizens of this Territory could afford to pay a committee a day to examine into the merit of the various offers, that they make the payment off of inferior articles on the market, and the consequent loss of thousands of dollars, to be repeated semi-occasionally making a few changes and manufacturing said machines. When this time comes the Branson Kettle and New American Sewing Machines will take a front rank for simplicity of parts, durability, ease of learning, utility, etc.

You are respectfully invited to call at the Idaho Store, see these articles, try one of them, and be satisfied for yourselves, and be satisfied to operate them free of charge during our stay.

EVENING NEWS.

Thursday, April 15, 1875.

SHORT AND SHARP.

"A great many people now-a-days don't believe in the devil," said an Illinois preacher in a recent sermon, "but, ah, my friends, you may rest assured that the devil believes in them."

A news item says that an English traveler in the Holy Land has discovered Jacob's Well. We are delighted to hear it. A rumor has been afloat for quite a time that Jacob was dead.

An enthusiastic Indiana editor wrote after the convention, "The battle is now opened," but, alas! the intelligent compositor spelled "battle" with an "o" and his readers said they had suspected it all along.

When they get telephones in the hotels it will refresh the weary traveler who is sent up to the fourth floor to sit down quietly and impart to the clerk down in the office his private opinion of that functionary's conduct.

A youngster, perusing a chapter in Genesis, turned to his mother and inquired if people in those days used to do sums on the ground. He had been reading the passage: "And the sons of men multiplied upon the face of the earth."

The story comes from Deadwood that a member of a certain church congregation was bowie-knifed by a jealous deacon for putting a counterfeit quarter in the contribution box, and the excited pastor, without leaving his pulpit, shot the good deacon for creating a disturbance during divine service.

An Oxford professor, examining a student on Bible history, asked him why Moses was buried by the Lord in such a secret place that the Israelites could not find him. The youth replied that he supposed it was for fear they would dig up his body and stuff it. This young person was the son of a showman.

Misfortunes never come singly. The other day a man was walking along First South Street with a paper of tacks in his coat tail pocket, a basket of eggs on his arm, and a tall hat on his head. When he sat down the tacks stuck into him and the eggs broke and run over him. When he tried to get up his hat fell off and he sat down on that, and just as he ventured on one little oath his bishop came along and overheard it.

THE CZAREVNA OF RUSSIA—a sister of the Princess of Wales—had not met her husband, the Czarvitch, for eight months. The Czarvitch was on his way by train to Dunaburg. The Czarevna planned to meet him there by surprise. An onlooker gives an animated description of the same:—Though courteous to all, the Czarevna is evidently nervously impatient for the arrival of her husband. She has not much longer to wait; all at once the shouting outside begins, her face becomes radiant, and, wrapping herself in the magnificent rotonde of blue fox fur, she hurries to the platform, amid renewed hurrahs and clamorous cries of joy. Her eyes are eagerly fixed on the two red globes of the approaching engine—there is a shrill whistle, much puffing of steam, and the train rolls slowly into the station. The Czarvitch, little guessing the surprise in store for him, descends, saluting as he passes the long file of soldiers drawn up on the platform. Suddenly he sees her; then all else is forgotten—the station, the soldiers, the crowd of people—and the wife is in her husband's arms, held in a long embrace. Then, like a roar of thunder, burst forth deafening shouts, mixing up with the national hymn.
