The Union Trust Company Saved.

NEW YORK, 21.—At a late hour last night it was stated at one of the clubs that Vanderbilt had paid into the Union Trust Co., two millions, the amount due that company by the Lake Shore road, which it is said will enable the Union to resume business to-morrow.

Hatch's Property Attached by the Sheriff—Ditto John Chamberlain.

The newspapers to-day, are hopeful that Sunday's rest and quiet may be beneficial on Wall Street affairs, and that to-morrow will bring confidence and wiser counsels. It is still believed that there is no occasion for a general panic, and that notwithstanding the numerous failures of yesterday, the banks are safe.

The property of A. S. Hatch, of the firm of Fisk & Hatch, including his residence in Kay Street and the Yacht Resolute, was attached yesterday, to the amount of a hundred thousand dollars, by the creditors of the city and elsewhere. Both his houses and yacht are now in charge of keepers appointed by the Sheriff.

The property of John Chamberlain, at Long Branch, was attached yesterday, to pay a debt of $30,000, alleged to be due, by him, to Mrs. Emma L. Stanley, wife of Moreas Cleero, the property seized including Chamberlain's club house, and his furniture and race horses, including True Blue, Mary, Concert, Wheatly and others.

There was a better feeling in Wall Street all the forenoon. At the opening of business, stocks were stronger, and the Vanderbilt stocks buoyant, Harlem notedly taking a turn upwards. Later, however, it was announced that the Union Trust Company had suspended payment temporarily. This had a depressing effect. Soon came the announcement that the Bank of the Commonwealth had closed, and all was excitement once more. The Stock Exchange was thronged early in the day, crowds commencing to gather as early as 9 a.m. As soon as the doors were opened the brokers rushed in, and in an instant the room was filled with excited men, howling, yelling and bawling. For a while the excitement was terrific, and the various groups eddied and staggered about, while actual violence was for some time used. Suddenly the bang of the President's gavel was heard, and it was announced that the government would accept the proposal for a loan of ten millions of dollars. This news was hailed with acclamation, and the brokers returned to their work with more energy. The announcement of the suspension of the firm of S. G. White was read out, which added to the excitement.

Means of Relief.

After the closing of the Stock Exchange the street became quieter. Lots of brokers and bankers gathered on the sidewalk awaiting the result of the meeting of bank-presidents, which had been convened for the purpose of devising the means of relief. At this meeting it was resolved to issue ten million dollars in loan certificates at once. It was also resolved that until the first of November next, any bank or clearing house association shall have the privilege of taking such of its good assets as may be necessary, to the committee of the clearing house, who shall issue to that bank certificates to the amount of 75 per cent of the cash value of such assets, and that such certificate shall be accepted in settlement of clearing house differences in place of legal tender notes. They further resolved to pay all their legal tender notes, and make common cause against any attempt to break any of them. The issues of these certificates will be carried to the extent of the full assets of the bank if necessary. The banks to which loan certificates may be issued will be charged, in addition to seven per cent. interest, one quarter of one per cent., to defray the expenses consequent on carrying out this plan.

In the forenoon committee, appointed after the close of the stock exchange, there were, of course, no transactions in stocks. A crowd was gathered around the banks and watched the proceedings inside with interest. The composition of the banks, to facilitate their own transactions with one another, by using their certificates of indebtedness, accompanied by abundant collateral security. This will enable them to retain their currency for the accommodation of customers, and to maintain their reserve. They will also by this expedient be able to accommodate their customers, so that business can be transacted.

The Panic Nearly Over.

After 3.30 p.m, the feeling on the street was decidedly better. Shrewd operators believe that the new movement of the banks will meet the present difficulty, and that it will soon be completely ended.

The panic is nearly over, partly because the banks will be able, next week, to protect one another, and partly because it has almost spent its force.

Failure of the Union Trust Co., A Defaulting Manager.

The announcement of the Union Trust Co. This a.m., the following notice was posted on the doors: "In consequence of the large amount due the company on call loans not having been paid this morning, the Co. has been obliged to suspend payment until Monday at 10 a.m. Rumors of defalcations in the company were current upon the street early in the day, but particulars had not come to light this p.m. It seems that Mr. Carleton, secretary and manager of the concern, left the place yesterday, excited, and said he felt too unwell to remain and wanted to rest. When he was wanted for consultation he could not be found, and the trustees began to suspect that he was a defaulter. An examination of his affairs discovered the fact that he had been using funds to the amount of between $250,000 to $300,000 for his own speculations, in loans to brokers, whom he favored, and to personal friends, and one loan of $20,000 to his father, Dr. Carleton, of the Book Concern. But that is good. His other securities are of little value. The company are reported to be large holders of Lake Shore stock. Checks on the Union Trust Co. were being cashed at 2.30 p.m., by the Manhattan Co. The latter will pay all drafts upon the former at a discount. The Union Trust Company would not have suspended to-day had Augustus Schell, Vice President, been able to procure yesterday from the subtreasury a million dollars, for which he offered U. S. registered bonds, the price for the same to be fixed by award. It is claimed here by good question that the National Trust Company was among the victims. Before the opening of business hours a large crowd of depositors were on hand, and upon opening the bank they commenced to draw money, and up to 12 m. the throng did not diminish. At that hour they were obliged to suspend. They will be ready to resume in a week. They hope for funds to meet the demand on them on Monday. The officers of the company state that they could continue on Monday. They came to the street with some sixes, but could find no buyers, unless at a discount of 30 to 40 per cent. They refused to sell and resolved to suspend for the better protection of their customers and themselves. They state that they made no advances in railroad securities, and their suspension was necessary.

Suspension of the Bank of the Commonwealth.

The suspension of the bank of the Commonwealth this a.m., was caused by the over-drawing of the account of Edward Haight & Co., to the amount of $225,000. During the wild scene yesterday the paying teller of the bank had certified and cashed for them to this extent, and the house was unable to make up the deficency. It is directly opposite the 4th National, and the run on this bank yesterday spread across the street to the Commonwealth. Over $100,000 were paid out over the counters yesterday. In fear of a continuance of the run president Ellis deemed it the best, in justice to all creditors, that the bank should close its doors. He is yet unable to make any statement as to the general condition of the bank, its liabilities or probable loss.

It is rumored this p.m. that a portion of the city funds were deposited in one of the banks which suspended. It was also rumored that the Union Trust Co. had $300,000 of the court funds on deposit.

Shrinkage of Stocks.

The extent of the shrinkage of stock values during the panic may be seen, when it is stated that the fall in Harlem was thirty-nine and a half per cent.; Western Union thirty-five per cent.; Panama thirty-two per cent.; Wabash twenty-three per cent.; N. W. Co. and R. I. nineteen and a half @ nineteen per cent.; St. Paul Co., U. S. Express and Canton seventeen at five and a half per cent.; H. & St. Joe, W. F. & Co. fourteen and a half @ fourteen per cent.; Lake Shore, N. Y., C. O. & M., St. Paul, P. F. D., C. C. & J. C., and Consolidated B. twelve to ten per cent., and the total shrinkage of values equals $10,000,000. Business is almost at a standstill at the Cotton Exchange, and a sort of financial stillness prevails at the Importers' Board of Trade. There is the same complaint at the Produce Exchange, only a few sales, comparatively, being made. No one seemed disposed to act during the present condition of affairs, and although the attendance was as large as usual the panic appeared to absorb attention.

Saturday's Failures.

The following is a list of the failures reported to-day:

C. G. White & Co.; E. S. Broadhead; Wm. Wycken & Walsh; Edward Haight & Co.; L. Joseph & Co.; P. M. Myers & Co.; Osborne & Chapin, Ketchum & B.; Union Trust Co.; National Trust Co.; and the Bank of the Commonwealth.

The excitement in the neighborhood of Wall Street continned without abatement until a late hour in the p.m. The sidewalks were covered with bankers anxiously discussing the financial disasters, and speculating with regard to the result of the call issued from the sub-treasury in this city, this a.m., for proposals to sell ten million 5.20's. Awards were made to the extent of $240,700, at prices ranging from 1.10 to 1.11.

Jubilant over the Panic.

A meeting of the committee of the Stock Exchange will be held on Monday. No business was done today except cash, nearly all speculators in produce refusing to accept certificates on account of the growing distrust in the banks. Real estate men are jubilant over the panic.

An eagar crowd is awaiting the arrival of Secretary Richardson from Washington, when a consultation will be held to devise means for the relief of Wall St.

In relation to the defalcation on the Union Trust Company, one of the directors thinks Carleton has run away with $300,000 in government securities and bonds which had been placed in the safe.

In Consultation with President Grant and Secretary Richardson.

President Grant arrived at the Fifth Avenue Hotel this evening, and was soon coloseted with Secretary Richardson. Later in the afternoon the President, after a long consultation with President Chapman of the Stock Exchange, and Henry Clewes, Drexel and others, decided to loan five millions in greenbacks and to sell ten millions in bonds on Monday on government account.

The reports of the suspension of the Continental Bank and the Merchants' Banking Association, arose from the fact that other banks, through some misunderstanding, had refused to certify their checks. The officers of the institutions assert that they are able to meet all their difficulties at the closing house.

Run on the 4th National.

The run on the 4th National Bank continued all day. All the demands were met, and the bank paid over $400,000.

The Express says the whole week's transactions show that the Government ought to have a national bureau of currency in this city for the redemption and exchange of the currency of all the national banks.

Conflicting Statements about Hall's Death.

The Herald's special from Dundee, Scotland, gives a conversation with Dr. Emil Bessel, chief of the scientific corps of the explorers of the Polaris. Bessel expressed his surprise at certain rumors in the American papers concerning the expedition, and particularly concerning the death of Captain Hall. He at once contradicted the statement that Hall died anything but a natural death. He died of apoplexy. The rumors of poisoning are too absurd to be entertained. Emil Schumann, chief engineer, said that Captain Hall, during his illness, was in a continual fear of being shot. Another phase of his mania was a determination not to eat or drink unless his food was tasted by some person. This was mainly done by Hannah, the Esquimaux woman. He told Buddington that he must still go on to the north pole.

The Herald correspondence, from Teedunak, Greenland, Aug. 2, gives the statement of Smith, the Danish inspector at that port, regarding the Polaris expedition. He says the state of affairs which existed on the Polaris before her departure from Sod Haven, while it releases Buddington from a large share of suspicion, implicates others in the worst light. The animosity against Hall became so great that discipline was destroyed. Dr. Bessel almost determined to leave Hall and return home, but at the last moment changed his mind. Bessel, in his account of the expedition, says that Mr. Meyer, on several occasions, refused to recognize Hall's authority. Smith also says that Hall and Bessel, meeting once in his house, used strong language. Bessel finally left the house. Hall then confessed his difficulties with Bessel and Buddington, and said he apprehended further troubles. In conclusion Smith intimates his suspicion that Hall's death was not the result of natural causes.

Arrival of "Mormon" Emigrants.

About 500 Mormon emigrants, 200 of whom are Scandinavians, and the remainder English, Irish and Welch, who arrived yesterday, were landed this morning.
