SENATOR ALDRICH BEING WESTERNIZED

Gen. Manderson Presents Him With a Pair of Chaparejos for Riding the Range.

HE SEEMED MUCH PLEASED.

He Did Not Promise to Wear Them—Sees Great Changes in Western Country.

Omaha, Nov. 10.—That Senator Aldrich is becoming rapidly westernized his friends will be convinced when he returns to New York and Washington if he wears his new clothes. The principal recent addition to his senatorial accoutrement is a pair of leather "chaps," such as cowboys wear. They were presented to him here today by former United States Senator Manderson, and the presentation formed the merriest, if not the most important feature of a noonday luncheon tendered the senator at the Omaha club by Luther Drake, a banker of this city.

Mr. Aldrich did not know what to call the trousers, nor did he make explicit promises to wear them, but he accepted them with evident pleasure and is doing so made a speech which showed that it is possible, after all, for him to give attention to other than financial questions.

Mr. Aldrich arrived here early today on his tour in the interest of monetary reform, and in addition to his informal speech at the Omaha club he delivered an address tonight before the Commercial club.

IN THE ENEMY'S COUNTRY.

The coming of Senator Aldrich had been anticipated with much interest. He had been advised that here he would be in the very heart of the "enemy's country." In addition he had been preceded here by Congressman Fowler of New Jersey, until recently chairman of the house committee on banking and currency, who was represented to have severely criticised what are supposed to be some of the Rhode Island senator's banking ideas. The hope had been that Mr. Aldrich would give some attention to these opposing elements, but those who entertained such hopes were disappointed. He did take occasion to refute the idea that his efforts as a legislator are purely in the interest of eastern states, but he did not mention any of his critics by name. He asserted that his efforts had even been to serve the interests of all sections and all classes.

At the night meeting Senator Aldrich again went over the work of the commission to date and outlined the labor before it, appealing as at previous meetings, to bankers and business men to study the question of banking and currency reform.

He dwelt upon the national character of the work, declaring that any change must be in the interest of the entire country. Indeed, he declared it would be almost, if not quite, impossible to formulate a banking law that would work wholly for the benefit of any one section.

DEVELOPMENT OF WEST.

In this connection, he spoke of the rapid development of the west, and at the afternoon gathering said:

"I made a trip through southern Kansas in 1881 and I then gave careful attention to the country. I would not have given 50 cents for the whole territory after I left Kansas City. It was marked in my mind, and in the old geographies, as the 'great American desert,' and it looked it.

"But now that country is flourishing like a green bay tree. They told me in Kansas City a story of a man who came into a bank about the time of which I speak and wanted to borrow a thousand dollars to put a roof on his barn. The other day this same man came into the bank and asked the officials about securities and mortgages. When asked what he wanted, he replied, 'Well, I have a little sum I would like to invest.' They said 'How much?' 'Well,' he said 'I think perhaps I can spare $50,000 now.'

"Here, in the brief span of a generation, is a man who started out by borrowing a $1,000 to repair his roof and who now has become a capitalist. And as nearly as I can make out, every farmer in Nebraska and Kansas and all through this territory is a capitalist. (A voice, "That's right.") This is the capitalistic section of the country. We shall have to look out for our laurels in the east. We used to loan money to this section of the country, those of us that had money to loan. But I expect that in order to develop our little farms (I being a farmer myself, very soon) if we need any repairs to our roofs we shall have to come to Omaha or to Kansas City to get it.

"Really, it is a very serious condition. There is more or less embarrassment of riches about it. We have 25,000 banks and soon will have 50,000. We are going to have the greatest surplus capital of the world in the United States soon. We have a great many things to think about. I am going to ask you, bye and bye, to help me to think about it. It is very important that somebody should do a great deal of thinking. It is your duty as well as mine to take such steps as you can to perpetuate the present prosperity of the country."

Senator Aldrich has received many pressing invitations to visit a number of other western cities, but has been compelled to decline all because present engagements take him up to the meeting of the commission on Nov. 20.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Police are investigating what is believed to have been an attempt to kill several non-union men employed by the American Post service. A dozen shots were fired into a window of the house where the men are living.

The attack was made early last night, and two men who were standing at the near window at the time narrowly escaped being hit.

Detectives were hurried to the scene, but no trace of the men could be found. Policemen will be stationed near the place hereafter.

FIFTH VICTIM OF ON YICK-TEE TONG WAR

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—The fifth victim of the On Yick-Tee tong war was shot and fatally wounded early this morning in Oakland by a Yee gunman. Jin Kong Fook was the victim. He was just going to work at a Chinese gambling house on Harrison street, which is kept by Gee On, president of the On Yicks, when he was shot.

The Chinese who heard of the shooting declare that the members of both tongs are infuriated over the murders in the city and Mountain View, and that it has been decreed that all employes and all connected with either tong will be exterminated.

Jin Kong Fook was rushed to the emergency hospital, but the physicians, after operating, declared that there was little hope for his recovery.

HUNTING SUBSTITUTE FOR SPRUCE FOR PAPER

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Possibilities of utilizing woods, other than spruce in the manufacture of white paper were discussed by Dr. W. H. Bristo, a representative of the government foestry department, at a meeting of a number of white paper manufacturers at the La Salle hotel yesterday. The speech was followed by a luncheon, at which about 50 persons were present.

Dr. Bristol said that, while no perfect substitute for spruce had been discovered, experiments were being conducted by the government and would be continued at the new experiment station at Madison, Wis., which it is hoped, will solve the question and relieve paper manufacturers of the burden imposed upon them by the tariff on spruce pulp shipped to this country from Canada.

Today the manufacturers will go to International Falls, Minn., to inspect the new plant of the Minnesota and Ontario Power company. On the return trip they will visit paper mills in Wisconsin.

PREHISTORIC SKELETONS.

Found Near Ashtabula, O., and Show Marked Deviations.

Ashtabula, O., Nov. 11.—Prehistoric burying grounds, which may rival the famous Great Serpent mound near Cincinnati were discovered at Point Park Hall, near here yesterday, when workmen unearthed the complete skeleton of a primeval man. The skeleton, according to Dr. F. D. Snyder, a scientist and member of the International Geographic society, shows marked deviations from that of the present day human being.

The femur is curved like that of the ape, the tibia is flat at the joint, and the humerus has a perfection no longer found. The skull slopes back and the lower jaw protudes.

CRUSHED THERMOMETER IN TEETH AND DIED

Foswel, N. M., Nov. 11.—As a result of swallowing mercury in a thermometer which she crushed between her teeth as her father was taking her temperature, Cecil, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl P. Alwa, is dead.

Within 15 minutes after swallowing the contents of the thermometer, the child was unconscious, and when the doctor arrived she was almost without pulse. Although she was revived, she only lived a short time.

CHAMPAGNE GOING UP.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Champagne, sparkling burgundy and other wines are going up.

This harrowing information percolated through green rooms and cafes last night. To those who drink it brought misgiving. It is all on account of the tariff, says the restaurateurs.

The increase will be 12½ per cent and it will apply to champagne and other imported wines.

Champagne that sold for $4 a bottle is to be listed at $4.50, and fancy wines will be priced accordingly. The tariff change back of this is an increase of 30 cents a quart on champagne and a like amount on other high grade wines.

I was treated by four doctors and took other kidney remedies but grew worse, and was unable to do my housework, and the doctor told me I only could live two to six months. I am now so much better that I do all of my own work, and I shall be very glad to tell any one afflicted with kidney or bladder trouble the good results I received from taking Foley's Kidney Pills." New York, Nov. 11.—A man whose identity the police have been unable to establish was killed in a peculiar manner when he attempted to avoid a Brooklyn trolley car. New York, Nov. 11.—Lee T. Rice and John A. Riggs, of Hot Springs, Ark., have completed the construction of the largest dirigible balloon in the country, and they announce that in a few weeks they will be sailing over New York. The airship, which is called the American Eagle, has been under construction for several months at the old Morris Park race track and today the huge gas bag is being inflated. After preliminary flights around the city, the aeronauts expect to start on a flight to Arkansas, going by easy stages. Mr. Rice said he expected to make cross-country flights of from 75 to 100 miles.
