ADJACENT CITIES

OGDEN.

OGDEN, UTAH, - DECEMBER 25, 1893.

Fourth District Court.

A. H. Bennett, charged with robbery at Wahsatch, Utah, had a continuation of his trial on Saturday. He pleaded guilty and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. The defendant was discharged.

An effort was made to get a new trial in the case of Ralph Ingham, recently convicted of forgery. The motion for a new trial was denied and Ingham was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. Twenty days were given to prepare and serve bill of exceptions. Ingham was taken to the penitentiary Saturday evening.

John L. Farrell of Eden was sentenced to three indictments charging him with receiving stolen goods. He pleaded not guilty, and his bail was fixed at $2000 on each indictment. The case was continued for the term.

A suit was entered by the North American Savings, Loan and Building company, for the foreclosure of a mortgage, against J. J. Bennett, and H. C. Jensen, the assignee of Mr. Bennett. A suit was also entered for foreclosure on a mortgage by F. A. Eastman against Peter Mortensen and A. P. Rigdon.

Several short orders were made, and the suit of Logan city against M. W. Nelson was dismissed at plaintiff's cost.

Christmas.

Trade on Saturday was lively, and in some instances as good as last year, but the great majority of purchases were light. On Sunday were Christmas exercises in all the churches, some of which included excellent singing. In the Mormon Sunday school, there was a special distribution of nuts, candies, etc., donated by business firms to the children of the city. The Rev. W. R. Morris, the new pastor of the Baptist Church, preached to his congregation at two meetings. There were the usual services in the Tabernacle and ward meeting houses at which appropriate and timely instructions were given.

On Christmas day the city was very quiet. The weather was not pleasant and the people generally remained at home. Towards evening about six inches of snow fell, and this morning we have fine sleighing. There were balls, theaters, and entertainments in great number, last evening, which were well attended, when the unfavorable weather is considered. The charitable associations as well as the people generally remembered the poor, and on the whole Ogden spent a merry Christmas.

Third Ward Fair.

The Third Ward Fair closed on Saturday night, having proved a success. The ward committee thank the public for the patronage bestowed, and for decisions made. Those who had the matter in charge did good work for which they deserve praise; their labors were directed in behalf of a good cause. The voting contest for the most popular gentleman and lady closed with David Eccles leading with 26 votes, Mrs. C. A. Nelson 15. The fair is open today to all 'a secrets who were successful in the numerous drawings.

Benefit Ball and Concert.

Tonight is the Union opera house, the Seventy-seventh quorum of Seventies give a grand benefit concert and ball. The concert is under the direction of Squire Camp and will be given just before the ball, between 8 and 9 o'clock. It consists of seven numbers in which Joseph Wallace, Charles Kent, Lizzie Blair and Mrs. W. M. Anderson, and others appear. Dancing will then begin. As the proceeds are for missionary benefits, every person of the five hundred who have received invitations will doubtless be there with his partner or with 75 cents, the price of admission.

Improving.

Mr. Thomas Cahoon, who took an overdose of morphine, as reported in Saturday's NEWS, is gradually improving. His physician has labored diligently and there is little doubt now that he will recover. The report that he took the drug with suicidal intent is unfounded.

Notes.

Hon. Lorin Farr went east as far as Cashville this morning.

The Union Pacific eastbound was delayed about three hours this morning.

H. W. Naisbitt and E. E. McDaniel were Salt Lake bound this morning.

Insurance Agent Wright, of this city, was a Salt Lake passenger this morning.

There were a number of drunks yesterday, but they were not as numerous as might be expected.

There is a brisk canyon breeze today, and on the summits of the mountains east the snow is drifting in great clouds.

It was rumored yesterday that Bob Thompson, the colored fighter, and Bay County would meet in a twenty-round fight in this city on Wednesday next.

The Southern Pacific shops are nearly ready for business. Some of the machinery will be operated tomorrow, and in a few days all the machinery will be in full blast. Some 150 men will be given employment, and the shops are sure to result in much prosperity to Ogden.

LOGAN.

LOGAN, UTAH, - DEC. 25, 1893.

Holiday Amusements.

The classic hall of the season given at the Agricultural College on Tuesday evening was a brilliant and successful affair.

On Christmas evening an excellent entertainment was given in the Fourth Ward assembly hall. Recitations, singing, tableaux, instrumental and vocal music in duetters and quartettes, a Christmas drama entitled "Fifteen Years Ago," including a variety of good things in the memory line.

At the Independent church the Christmas tree was unveiled on Saturday evening, and an excellent program rendered by the Sunday and day school pupils.

Monday (Christmas) afternoon a video was given in the Third ward for the benefit of the Deseret's orphans, and in the Rae assembly hall in the new Eccles & Howell building the initiatory ball was given by the Logan fire department. In the Fifth ward assembly hall there also was a dance.

Visited the A. C. of E.

Representative Ellbridge, of Summit county, visited the Agricultural College last week for the purpose of obtaining information in regard to this great territorial educational institution, as matters pertaining to its interests are sure to be brought before the Legislature during the coming winter.

Personals.

On Friday evening the board of Regents of the Agricultural College of Utah, Messrs. McNutt and Hogwood of Ogden, and W. S. McCornick of Salt Lake, and all local members of the board, were present and disposed of the business in hand.

During the holidays Mr. Fred Hagen, of Company C, Fourth Infantry, from the Fort Douglas, is visiting his sister, Mrs. N. Warren Jr., wife of the editor of the Journal.

Mr. Frank Merrill, of this city, is spending the holiday season with relatives in Salt Lake.

Hon. John T. and Mrs. Caine have returned to the capital after an extended visit, and their daughter, Miss Florence, has taken their place in a visit here.
