AMERICANS LEAP OVER BREASTWORKS

Spanishers Killed and Fortifications Wrecked—Terms of the Surrender—Explosion of the Philippines.

Manila, Aug. 13.—The Manila correspondent of the Times telegraphs the result of battles (July 31 to date):

Early in the morning of the 31st the American artillery opened upon the Spanish trenches, which were soon silenced, and the infantry advanced to the attack. The Americans leaped over the breastworks and charged the Spanish trenches with the bayonet, and the Spanish fled in confusion, leaving their dead and wounded behind them. The Spanish commenced rapidly to retreat from the trenches, and the Americans pursued them, firing volleys into the retreating Spanish
