SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 6.—Davis (Ills.) called up the bill to furnish trusses to disabled soldiers. Passed.

At the expiration of the morning hour, and after a long discussion, the Senate—yeas 35, nays 23—took up the army appopriation bill.

Blaine said the bill, as it came from the House, appropriated $25,329,000. The Senate committee has raised it to $26,189,000, the principal additional items being $302,000 for pay of the army and $150,000 for a military post near the Black Hills. The estimates of the War Department were $31,292,000, and he had no doubt considerable deficiency would occur, and had happened this year.

The five-minute rules were applied to all amendments except the transfer to the war department of the Indian Bureau, and forbidding the use of the army as a posse comitatus.

Allison moved to strike out of the House bill the clause intending to permanently fix the number of enlisted men in the army. Agreed to.

The committee amendment increasing the army to 25,000 was agreed to—39 to 19.

The army bill was then resumed and Blaine moved to amend it by limiting the signal service enlistments to 450 instead of 400. Agreed to.

The committee's amendments, increasing the appropriation for the quartermaster's department, were agreed to; also the amendments increasing the appropriation for the purchase of cavalry horses from $50,000 to $200,000, reducing the amount for hospitals from $75,000 to $25,000, and appropriating $150,000 for a military post near the Black Hills.

Spencer reported from the committee on military affairs an amendment appropriating $100,000 to build a military post in the vicinity of Milk river, northern Montana. Agreed to.

All sections of the House bill regarding the reorganization of the army were struck out.

Burnside submitted the amendment from the military committee, providing for a committee of two members of the Senate military committee and three regular army officers to consider the whole question of the reorganization of the army and to report to the next Congress. Agreed to without discussion.

The section of the House bill providing for a credit of longevity pay to the officers or men who had served full time, was returned on motion of Plumb.

Bayard moved, as a substitute for the transfer of the Indian bureau to the War Department, a reference of the subject to the committee on the reorganization of the army, just provided for.

Blaine moved to amend, authorizing the committee to report a bill to carry into effect its suggestions, and also moved to amend by making the committee to consist of two Senators, three Representatives and three officers, and said he would submit an amendment authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to appoint two civilian members.

Bayard accused Blaine of trying to defeat the bill and favored an executive session for the conference. He opposed the amendment.

Allison submitted an amendment directing said commission to report upon the question when the Indian tribes would become self sustaining and at some length favored a peace policy toward the Indians.

Dorsey, Sargent and Withers were appointed a conference on the post office bill. Adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 6.—Smith, (Pa.) submitted the conference report on the bill making appropriations for the payment of invalid and other pensions. Agreed to.

The Speaker appointed the following conference committee: On the legislative appropriation bill, Atkins, Durham and Foster; on the postoffice appropriation bill, Blount, Clymer and Baker.

Consideration of the bill amending the internal revenue laws was resumed, the pending question being on the amendments of Covert as amended by Tucker. The amendment reads as follows: "That on and after the passage of this act, there shall be levied and collected upon all snuff manufactured of tobacco or any substitute for tobacco, a tax of 16 cents per pound. On cigars of all descriptions a tax of $5 per thousand. On cigarettes weighing not more than three pounds and a half per thousand, $1.25 per thousand; on cigarettes weighing more than three pounds per thousand, $5 per thousand, and all laws or parts of laws inconsistent with this section, shall be and are hereby repealed, 35,680 ayes, and the amendment was lost. The amendment was adopted—yeas 137, nays 108.

Further action on the bill was suspended, and the House went into committee of the whole on the sundry civil deficiency bill. The amount appropriated is $1,620,120.

Mellott explained that the total deficiency for 1878 was $1,970,000, the regular appropriations and deficiencies prior to 1876. His committee had cut down and the deficiency on the mechanism of the government, etc., estimates. There was a difference of $56,000,000 between the appropriations of 1876 and 1878, so that there was a saving, above deficiencies, of $26,000,000, and allowing for deficiencies prior to 1876, the saving would amount to $28,000,000.

Foster denied the statement and said the saving was not over $10,000,000.

Hiscock explained the navy appropriation and said the large deficiency was owing to a reckless disregard of law in that department, which allowed one fund to be devoted from its purpose.

Willis (New York) said the committee on naval expenses had recommitted to the committee on appropriations $3,217,000 claims on contracts from the navy department, for although the department had ignored law yet these contracts had some rights.

Whitthorne defended his refusal to assent to the payment of the $3,217,000 claims.

General debate then closed when the committee rose and the House adjourned.

EASTERN.

Letters Introduced in the Potter Committee.

WASHINGTON, 6.—Some letters were introduced in the Potter committee, to-day, not heretofore published as follows:

One dated March 27, 1877, from Anderson to Matthews: "As soon as the commission is appointed, please write me definite instructions. Nash will be here this week and will demand possession of that agreement after offering me a possible clerkship. Of course I shall decline. Shall I inform him that it is in your possession?"

Anderson to Matthews, May 5th, saying: "Evarts and the President have alleged their reason for not appointing him consul, which is that it was their policy not to make removals, but there has been several vacancies and one removal since then. He says he does not now consider their excuse good, and the position he aspires to would illy repay him for his trouble and expense. He objects to staying in New Orleans, where there is an element against him, but says something must soon be done."

May 25th: A dispatch to Matthews, refusing Evarts' offer of the position and expressing disgust at the whole affair.

A letter, dated June 2d, '77, to Matthews, written in Washington, saying that after his interview with the President on the preceding day, he learned the President intended to appoint him and had sent a dispatch which might have been misconstrued. He didn't intend to threaten, and saying the President might get rid of him by appointing to the place a Baltimore gentleman, he would name—a democrat, but unimpeachable.

A letter, dated June 6th, saying the newspapers throughout the country had simultaneously attacked him, and that it was explainable by the fact that the New Orleans anti-administration republicans had given it out that the writer held some letters damaging to the administration. Their plan was to have the newspapers attack him and force the President to throw him over and thus compel a publication of damaging letters. He says the plan has failed. He would not embarrass the administration. He had spent much money and time to get the place, but would soon propose a compromise.

June 25th: A letter to Matthews from J. C. H. Smith, of the Treasury Department, saying that Anderson has refused the place tendered him, and enclosing a letter from Anderson to Matthews.

Washington Items.

The advocates of the repeal of the specie resumption act were squarely defeated on a test vote in the Senate to-day. They antagonized the resumption repeal bill against the consideration of the army appropriation bill, avowing their belief that, if the former were not taken up to-day, there would be no possibility of further financial legislation this session. The issue being thus distinctly joined, the vote resulted in a final defeat of the repealers and inflationists by a majority of 12.

Last night's mass meeting of the working men of Washington, who made a very orderly and imposing demonstration in favor of the enforcement of the eight hour law, adopted, among other resolutions, one recommending Senator Sargent and representatives Banks, Butler, Wright, Goode and Wilson to the confidence and support of the workingmen of their several districts on the ground of their having advocated in Congress such measures as would give employment to the millions of idle men and relieve the country from its suffering condition, thereby proving themselves good friends of the workingmen.

The President, to-day, received the resolution of the Potter committee requesting him to furnish the originals or authenticated copies of the letters of Stanley Matthews to the President, and the President's reply, intended to secure an appointment for James E. Anderson. Several days may elapse before the request can be complied with, as in the earlier part of the administration thousands of letters were received at the Executive Mansion, but for want of time were not indexed, and therefore it will be necessary to make careful search for the desired correspondence.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Eastern News Notes.

LONDON, 6.—A Bucharest dispatch says: The execution of the Topola rioters was a cold-blooded murder, intended to terrorize the Servian people, and succeeded. The rioters were not revolutionists; they only made some noisy public demonstrations against the Cabinet's policy in going to war without summoning the skuptschina.

The actual work of the congress will fall upon Count Schouvaloff, even if Prince Gortschakoff goes to Berlin, as the latter is incapable of prolonged mental exertion.

The time was when such meeting as the coming congress would have been preceded by private communication of Prince Gortschakoff and Count Andrassy, with Prince Bismarck; but the fact that Count Andrassy does not leave Vienna until the 11th instant, and that an order has been issued to mobilize 100,000 Austrian troops instead of 50,000, offer a guarantee that the ghost of the triple alliance will not trouble the deliberations of the congress.

GERMANY.

The Anti-Socialist Law—The Emperor's Condition—Nobeling Unconscious.

BERLIN, 6.—The National Zeitung, organ of the liberals, publishes a communication from the deputies who recently voted against the anti-socialist law, explaining that they did so because they considered that Hoedel's attempt on the the Emperor's life was the isolated act of a miserable creature. Dr. Nobeling's systematic arrangements and his network of communications, however, they say, justify extraordinary measures to save and heal the state.

The resignation of Dr. Falk has been definitely withdrawn.

The Emperor's appetite is better, but his condition is otherwise unchanged.

Dr. Nobeling's brothers, who are officers of the army have arrived here. They were received by the high officer in attendance on the Emperor. They show themselves anxious to give all information in their power.

Nobeling has been quite unconscious since Sunday evening and is constantly watches. Everything he says is recorded.
