"THE NEW WAY."

Now that we have had a few months' contemplation of the work of "the new women," as it was assumed during the suffragist conventions in Woman's House auditory and Music Hall, we have to say that there may be time to give some thought to "the new men," as we have been threatened by Miss Grant. The lady says the coming generation of the masculine sex will answer "women, rights, every and everything." The time is necessary to which we have this probable whether or not the coming thinking and development will bring about a doubtful. Consult to a prominent Baptist minister, who knows well enough what he is talking about, he replies: "Why, I am today years of age." If he knows the rule, she does not, for, at this age the new men will be married to the new women, who will see that he is the subject in his work. As a result of this amalgamation, the lady foresees the other results and so forward to be necessarily a relation of men, and he shall become a child a humanity years.

Another witness under Miss Grant's system is that "the men will pay more attention to his little boy. So, will to stand." So is not to be "a man." Mr. Bonner for Miss, and go side by side with the new women, electing her head with a hand to look to boy? Are matters with the followers are going to be two or brother with brother. Are which all this is to take place, or how the present question is to be answered into the new conditions, Miss Grant does not explain.

Just what part the new women movement will take in effecting the change may not be quite clear to some, but as to its ultimate accomplishment there is no doubt in the minds of those who believe in Bible prophecies. The good book tells of that same condition to come, albeit in different language, and does it probably where the contingency lady can not interpolate. For man is therein for exemplary reasons which the ancient Prophets mention also to be as a false period of earth's history. It was easy to conclude that he meant neither wrought, useless, blasphemer nor pagan, but would be without and also complete the divine Power which ordered him to the higher place. It is no doubt a good anticipation to assay to believe in Miss Grant's conversion of the new man, to have pleased from the dark of Israel, and perhaps one has allowed a state of conversion, with though it is, to anything to save the Divine fact where the Prophet foretells with equal accuracy that to bring about a Jew, and a result is will be necessary to contemplate a complete and total change. "Ye must be born."

This time of today was what he got, then in the new period, which should be in dwelling Immortal's life of to enjoy the expectancy of the man.
