

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THEATRICAL.—The Theatre last evening was well attended and the performance fine. The Will and the Way" is a drama full of interesting incidents and startling denouements, and in the hands of our Dramatic Company loses none of its attractiveness. Mr. McKenzie as Old Martin was very happy, his conception of the character being excellent; Joe Beans as personated by "Phil" was a good rendition of the true-hearted Keeper; Mr. Thorne's Will Sidelier—a heartless villain—was as strong a piece of acting as we have seen that gentleman do, and Miss Adams' Ellen De Vere was excellent. Of the rest of the cast we can say that the characters were ably represented, by Messrs. Treadwell, Harris, Mackintosh, Clawson, Merrill, Foster and Evans and Mesdames Romney, and Thomson. The repetition of this piece would be likely to insure another full house.

The farce of "Raising the Wind, with "Phil" as Jeremy Diddler was very amusing and elicited a great deal of laughter and applause from the audience. The splendid bill of fun is provided for Saturday night. The first piece "The Wonderful Woman" is a sparkling comedy bristling and running over with wit and humor. Messrs. Harris and Hensley will perform a new Negro sketch entitled "Troubles at the Hotel." The entertainment will conclude with the lively and side-splitting farce, in two acts, "The Fortune's Frolic. There will be an interlude of a "Champion Clog Exercise," by Mr. M. Williams.

NEARLY A FIRE.—A quantity of turpentine was accidentally spilled on the stove in the paint shop of Messrs. Midgley & Evans, to-day, causing some alarm of fire. After considerable exertions the flames were extinguished, a quantity of furniture in the shop being slightly damaged.

SHOE BLACKING.—Brother Wm. Lowe, of the 19th Ward, has commenced the manufacture of blacking and sells it at wholesale or retail. He has shown us a specimen box of the article, and, as far as we can judge, it seems to be a genuine article. Orders left at the residence of Mrs. T. C. Coker, one block from the 19th Ward School House or at the Co-operative Store of that Ward will be promptly filled.

SWEET POTATOES.—Sweet potatoes are so plentiful in some parts of California this year that it does not pay to haul them to market.

RETURNED.—The squad of cavalry which left Camp Douglas a few days since to assist in the capture of the mail robbers returned this afternoon. We understand their pursuit was unsuccessful.

PRESENTS FOR THE INDIANS.—The following was among our dispatches to-day: CORINNE, 16.—Col. Tourtellotte, Indian agent, to-day distributed about $5,000 in blankets, clothing, &c., to Pocastello's band, of the Shoshones in camp near this place. Gov. Vaughan was present.

AN ACCIDENT.—Mr. George B. Marsh, of Willard, while traveling from that place to Ogden on Monday last, fell from his wagon, bruising his face badly. One of the wheels passed over his body, but he escaped without any serious injury.—Ogden Junction, Nov. 16.

IN DENVER.—We see by our exchange that Mr. J. M. Hardie is in that place. On the 10th inst., he played Othello at Langrish's theatre.

IMPROVING.—Business in this city has been improving of late. Times will doubtless be lively next summer and fall.

ITEMS CONNECTED WITH THE RAILROAD ROBBERIES.—F. R. Barnes, the man who was arrested in this city about a week ago on suspicion of being one of the robbers, has been acquitted; he having given satisfactory evidence of his innocence.

Another of the robbers, who gives the name of Dan Taylor, was recently captured by Messrs. H. P. Kimball and Riley Judd. They brought him to town on Tuesday evening.

In speaking of some of the robbers who have been captured the G. H. News of Monday last says:

"There are eight of these enterprising individuals at present safely ensconced in durance ville—four at Carson, two at Reno, one at Washoe City and one at Virginia. This is one more than they counted at the time of the robbery, but Chief Downey says that one of them will go to keep for a while says that one of them were engaged in the famous Geiger Grade stage robbery of a year or two ago, and the proof against all of them on the present occasion is so strong that pretty much the whole lot will have to go down to the State Prison for a few years."

The Territorial Enterprise, Virginia, Nev., has the following concerning the recovery of a large amount of the stolen treasure:

"Chief Downey and Officer Lecky, of this city, yesterday recovered $12,500 of the gold coin of which Wells, Fargo & Co., were robbed on the Central Pacific Railroad, between Reno and Verdi. They have had Jack Davis under arrest for some days, and managed to so bewilder him with facts and guesses in regard to the robbery and what the other parties arrested had said and done, that he at last seemed pretty well satisfied that they had got hold of nearly everything in regard to the matter, and finally agreed to go with them and show them where a large portion of the booty was hidden. Accordingly, Downey, Lecky, and Len. Mathews, a man formerly of Mokelumne Hill, Cal., but now an employee of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, with Davis, left early yesterday morning. About 11 o'clock in the forenoon they arrived at Hunter's Bridge, on the Truckee. Davis then guided them to a spot about 100 yards above the bridge and about the same distance from the railroad, when he pointed to three or four large sage-brushes, saying that the money was hidden under one of the bushes, he did not know which. Chief Downey went to one of the largest bushes, and the first kick he gave to the top of the bush brought twenty-dollar pieces shining forth from the loam. They had a barley sack with them, and now began the work of unearthing the treasure. A shallow hole had been scraped in the ground, the gold coin had been poured in loosely, and the whole pile then slightly covered with dirt. Downey says the diggings were very rich at first. The twenties were scooped up by the double-handful. Davis did not assist at this work, but stood by looking on—doubtless almost sick at heart to see his place of concealment to the last coin from the last place of concealment. When the last piece had been found the heavy sack was lifted into a buggy and escorted to Reno by the party, where Chief Downey deposited it at the office of Wells, Fargo & Co."
