INDEPENDENTS NOMINATE HEARST

When He Appeared on the Stage He Was Cheered for Over Half an Hour.

HIS PROGRAM IS AMERICANISM

Full State Ticket Put in Field—Request of Democrats to Postpone Action Rejected.

New York, Sept. 12.—In a harmonious and enthusiastic final session in Carnegie hall tonight the state convention of the Independence league put into the field a straight ticket of state officers to be voted for at the coming election. The delegates cheered for 23 minutes when Mr. Hearst appeared on the platform to make a brief speech of acceptance. His address aroused much enthusiasm.

The convention drafted a reply to Mr. J. Conners and other Democrats who had written suggesting possible action with the Democrats and suggesting that no nominations be made by the Independents at this time. The reply expressed thanks for the interest and sympathy for the Democrats and sympathy for the rank and file in their honest endeavor to wrest the Buffalo convention from the control of the bosses, but said the Independence league could not postpone the business it has been assembled to carry out. The straight ticket was named without equivocation. The committee on resolutions had been engaged with the task of hearing the claims of various candidates and naming a relative ticket. Its report was unanimous and so was the approval of the delegation.

Night's session was called to order at 8 o'clock. Mr. Hearst appeared on the stage at 10 o'clock and was cheered more than half an hour. He spoke for 8 minutes and the convention adjourned sine die at 10:45.

Clarence Shearn presented the report of the committee on resolutions, covering first the reply of the league to the editorial of Norman E. Mack, W. J. Conners and other elected delegates to the Democratic state convention, which requested the league to postpone nominations until after that convention.

The report said that the convention deemed it inadvisable to postpone the important business which it has assembled to carry out."

THE TICKET.

Governor—William Randolph Hearst of New York.

Lieutenant Governor—Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler of Duchess.

Secretary of State—John S. Whalen of Monroe.

State Treasurer—George A. Fuller of Jefferson.

Comptroller—Dr. C. H. W. Auel of Erie.

State Engineer and Surveyor—Frank L. Gettman of Tompkins.

Attorney General—John Ford of New York.

Mr. Chanler, nominated for lieutenant governor, is a brother of former Congressman William Astor Chanler. He is a son of the late Congressman John Winthrop Chanler, and a great-grandson of the original John Jacob Astor.

Mr. Whalen, for secretary of state, is a national organizer of Tobacco Workers' Industrial union. He is the first past grand knight of the Knights of Columbus of the state of New York.

The report as read was adopted, and a committee conducted Mr. Hearst to the platform amid most tumultuous scenes.

After the cheering had gone on for half an hour Mr. Hearst himself tried to stay the tumult with outstretched arms. He was finally successful. He then spoke briefly, saying:

"I am honored to have been nominated by this convention. I am proud to run on this platform. I am devoted heart and soul to the principles expressed in every line of it.

"I have said that my program is not socialism or radicalism or extreme of any kind. It is simply Americanism. If this platform is not Americanism, if common honesty is no longer a measure of American morals. If this platform is not Americanism, then a free ballot and a fair count is no longer the basis of our American government. If this platform is not Americanism, then independence, equality and opportunity have ceased to be American ideals; then Jefferson's teachings have been forgotten, and Lincoln's labor was in vain.

"I am more hopeful tonight than ever before. I believe we have begun well our great work and that the solution of all our difficulties lies within the able minds and loyal hearts of typical American citizens like yourselves."

When Mr. Hearst concluded the convention immediately adjourned.

TORTURE BY SAVAGES.

"Speaking of the torture to which some of the savage tribes in the Philippines subject their captives, reminds me of the intense suffering I endured for three months from inflammation of the kidneys," says W.M. Sherman of Cushing, Me., "Nothing helped me until I used Electric Bitters, three bottles of which completely cured me. Cures Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Blood disorders and Malaria; and restores the weak and nervous to robust health. Guaranteed by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept., 112-114 So. Main St.. Price 50c.

INTERESTING WILL CONTEST.

New York, Sept. 12.—Seventy relatives of Chas. Rubens, who died in Paris on June 1 last, leaving a fortune which is estimated at $2,000,000, are interested in a contest over the probate of a will executed on Jan. 2, and a codicil signed on March 6 last.

Mr. Rubens was a retired banker of this city and was more than 80 years of age when he died. He was a native of Paris, his name in youth being Samson Wolff. More than a half century ago he came to this city, was naturalized and received authority from the courts to assume the name of Chas. Rubens. With his wife he returned to Paris to spend his remaining years.

Mr. Rubens' fortune consists of gilt-edged securities and other personal property. His nearest relatives are children. In his will he makes a few charitable bequests, and remembers 40 relatives and friends with gifts of between $5,000 and $100,000 each. Mrs. Cecile Heidelbach, wife of Alfred S. Heidelbach, banker, receives $100,000, and Henry Reubens Yekelheimer, brother, a similar sum. The contestants include Maurice, Lucien, Clemence and Ernest Dreyfus of Paris.

In contesting the probate of the will it is alleged that the aged man was a resident of France and the surrogate's court of this city has no jurisdiction over his estate. And it is further charged that he was not mentally capable of making a will or codicil at the time these papers were executed, and that they were obtained by undue influence on the part of Mrs. Heidelbach and her husband or some other parties. It is also declared that he assumed the name of Chas. Rubens after becoming an American citizen with authority of law.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 12.—The grand circuit races at the state fair grounds today were characterized by some notable turf work.

LONG GRIND TONIGHT.

Starter Will Send Eight Men Off for Big Race.

While the second men of each team entered in the 24-hour race are resting to take up the relays after the first eight become tired of the all-night grind, the starter will send half of those entered on the big race, at 9.30 o'clock tonight. The big event of the season's end will follow a regular program of sprint entries for both amateurs and professionals. Tomorrow night shortly after 9:30 o'clock the finish of the race will occur in a sprint lap, if there is any sprint left in the men who will be doing duty at that time.

JENSEN BACK HOME.

May Pitch for Dubel for Rest of the Season.

Since being awarded to Spokane by a decision of the baseball magnates, Pitcher Irvine Jensen has returned to Salt Lake. He went east for a tryout in the major league company at New York, but Spokane sent a trailer for him, as he was wanted there for the team, and had entered negotiations with them. He is making arrangements with John Dubel to pitch for the Salt Lake team, and finish the season. Jensen's work in Salt Lake was unexcelled and pulled Salt Lake up to a winning margin in the league percentage column, from which it dropped rapidly on his departure.
