AMERICANS ADVANCE STEADILY

Spanish Detachments Left the Main Body of Spaniards Has Taken Out.

A SHAFTER NOW SURROUNDS THE CITY

Large Weekly Gold Funeral—Arrival of General Miles—Looking Toward Surrender.

[illegible] Shafter's Headquarters, July 11, via Kingston, Jamaica, July 12.—(Copyright, 1898, by the Associated Press.)Fighting continued during the day and at this hour it is stated in the city of Santiago will be in possession of the American forces within twenty-four hours.

The Americans have advanced steadily all day. In several of the Spanish forts our troops found dummy guns and no Spanish soldiers.

There was a very weak fire from the Spanish trenches and the American troops are now within further evidence of the total desertion existing in Santiago.

Kingston, Jamaica, July 12.—The following bulletin has received here from this place at 5:10 a. m.:

Playa del Este, via Haiti, July 12.—Lieutenant Fifth army Corps, Adjutant-General, Washington: It has been a busy day, but little fighting. A flag of truce appeared before considerable place for surrendering, now that I am here surrounded on the north. It was completed at 5 p. m., by Lieutenant Hagood in the city. Shafter is rather ill, but will have completed in the morning by Gen. Lawton, who has just arrived at hand. Only three or four casualties. No one killed so far as I can learn. Have heard of no fighting among the Spaniards on the east of Santiago. Will drive my men out to relieve it, but believe unnecessary.

SHAFTER.

MORE SURRENDER NEGOTIATIONS.

Washington, July 12.—At 2 a. m. Secretary Alger said he had received no further advices from Gen. Shafter since the Spanish drive out in the morning. He thought matters were shaping for the surrender of Santiago. He had received a flag of truce was still flying and that the issues was negotiating for surrender. The only message received by Secretary Alger was a short dispatch from Gen. Miles regarding the concentration in the source of which he did not know.

The news was the heaviest I have had since.

Washington, July 12.—At the call-to-meeting today telegrams from Gen. Miles were read by Secretary Alger and it was stated that the Spaniards were completely surprised when
