in his hatred to trade was a necessity. This was because there was not money enough to do the business. To make settlements he had to go to a place in Kansas City. He bought this [illegible] in order to retain parts [illegible] He knew that some [illegible] would be paid in money, but he could generally get that back for goods. But this, he confessed, did not cause factories and mills, as the Democratic leaders had asserted, but only caused them to make working capital and a safe distribution, whose actions were [illegible] and cautious in the western states. It was not question of making money in order.

Evans—Would the bill be equitable to the people?

Gen. Morgan—I think it would be. Those mining companies do not issue their employes as much scrip as they will pay to trade their products. In the mines paid there is a large number of men employed on work during four days of a month, or less than one.

Allison said the purpose of the bill was doubtful. He was ready to vote for any scheme to stamp out the abuse complained of, because he knew they interfered with individual liberty; but he could not vote for this bill in the present form.

There having arisen a question as to what the bill contained, it was read.

Jones suggested that the committee have the bill amended so as not to affect mills and factories.

H. G. Miller stated that he would vote for the bill if it covered only a mine, but not if it included mills and factories. He wanted the miners independent of it to be protected.

Dowell advocated the bill in behalf of the miners. The miners were to move to Salt Lake from Park City and other places. He was willing to choose such as with the Commissioner Bureau, which had paid $1,000 to a certainty, for compelling miners now to have their money paid in cash at the company's banking house.

Smith wanted the law to apply to all. He understood the law plain in the city would not compel any one to take his board at a boarding house. He believed the bill, as applies to mines only, would be unconstitutional.

Jones remarked that such a law had been upheld as to its constitutionality in Iowa. He said he would vote for this as it would apply to mines, miners in the reduction of ores, and smelters.

Sutherland favored the spirit of the bill. He knew how it was complained of in mining camps where he had.

Cannon opposed the amendment because to be tested it would decide the bill against the mining district.

The majority report was adopted, and the bill was killed.

FIRE AND POLICE BILL PASSED.

After the noon recess today, S. B. 5, the fire and police bill, came up to be passed by the House. The Senate concurred in the House amendments. The Senate made further amendments, one providing that chiefs of the fire and police departments may suspend subordinates for the [illegible] of [illegible] and the suspension is final unless reversed or modified by the fire and police commissioners.

The bill then passed.

GEO. COMMISSION.

A message was received from the House announcing the passage of H. B. 158, providing for a code commission to revise the laws. The bill was referred to the judiciary committee.

CERTIFYING WARRANTS.

S. B. 84, relieving certain officers from certifying to certain warrants, came back from the House with amendments.

The amendments were concurred in and the bill passed.

STATE RIFLE BILL.

S. B. 115, providing for an issue of State bonds to the amount of $100,000, and for an issue to refund the present outstanding indebtedness, came up for its passage.

Evans explained that he would vote aye, but had grave doubts as to the constitutionality of the bill.

The bill then passed without opposition.

REVENUE BILL.

S. B. 81, the revenue bill, came up on its passage.

There was some informal discussion and a few amendments were made to perfect the bill.

The more important change was at the suggestion of Allison, providing that when a person assumes his property from a tax sale, the treasurer must take a certificate of redemption.

The bill was then passed as and carried without opposition.

THE CAREY LAND BILL.

S. B. 107, substitute for the Gee Miller bill, reported by the committee, was taken up. The bill provides that the State is not committed by attempt to accept the terms of the Carey act grant from Congress, by complying with the conditions imposed by Congress.

The bill is very brief, and the chairman of the committee explained that he had inserted a brief from Mr. Carey, stating that filing statutes was unnecessary. The bill was passed, aye, 19; nays, 0.

REPUBLICTIME.

S. B. 112, for the establishment of [illegible], came up for their consideration.

Evans moved to strike out the enacting clause.

The vote was declared in after several times, all Republicans supporting the bill, and Jno. Dickinson opposing it. The detail of the vote on the motion to strike out stood: Ayes—Evans, Wilcox, Watson, Shaw, Cannon, [illegible], Rich, Cummins, Clinton, [illegible], McKay, Jones, Miller, H. G. Miller, Schettler, Rocker, Mr. President—11.

Clinton called attention to the peculiar wording of the bill which [illegible] and the majority Republicans in the House had [illegible] the vote on the motion to strike out Jones could be proved, as there was not a quorum in the House.

The polling then gave a margin of after a delay by Evans to polling [illegible] and the vote stood as follows:

NEGATIVE—Ayes—[illegible]

S. B. 117, [illegible] Mr. Jones, [illegible] Rich, H. Ray [illegible] passed.

PAWNBROKER BILL.

S. B. 116, [illegible] the pawnbroking business, [illegible] passed.

WEIGHT AND MEASURE.

H. B. 116, to [illegible] sale of [illegible] in Kennedy, passed.

Every member of the Senate in the city was in his seat at today's session.

The state lands bill will come up officially up the House, having passed the Senate today.

The Senate bill was taken up at [illegible] and [illegible] all [illegible] Jones made that amendment to the House bill, which was agreed to.

There being no other amendments, the bill was read and vote for this bill to be passed first.

There having arisen a question as to what the vote signified, it was read.

Jones explained that he would have the bill amended so as not to affect mills and factories.

H. G. Miller stated that he would vote for the bill if it covered only a mines, but not if it included mills and factories. He wanted the miners independent of it to be protected.

THREE FIRES AT PAYSON.

The Record for One Day at that Place—No Serious Damage.

(Special to the News.)

PAYSON, March 29.—Three fires within a few hours today's record for Payson. This morning the roof of C. Provstgaard's residence on the east bench was discovered to be afire; then the alarm was sounded that a shed belonging to M. Cluser was in flames, and about 1 o'clock a shed and straw stack, the property of Mr. C. Gale, was the scene of another excitement.

All three fires were extinguished before any serious damage was done. In the case of Mr. Gale's property a lucky change of the wind saved his barn, feedlots and buildings from destruction. They are located just a few feet from where the fire occurred. Mrs. Gale received severe injuries for burns while melting a wagon which caught fire from the stack. Her injuries are not dangerous. She was taken to this City but was badly damaged and not in repair and called to work.

Suit Filed.

George A. Lowe filed suit today in the Third District court against F. A. Walton & Company to recover $10,000 alleged to be due him for services rendered.

That Tired Feel-ing

Exhausts the feeling which nearly everybody experiences at this season. The blood is needed to push the vitalizing energy through every part of the system, and it must be kept pure and healthy. AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago I took a cold in my throat which settled in my lungs and I became hoarse. I was so much better that I discontinued the use of the Cherry Pectoral, and at the end of two months was worse than before. I found it very difficult to preach, and was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief, and I have continued the use of the medicine until I am now well. I believe it to be the best medicine for the throat and lungs in the world." REV. E. M. BOWMAN, Pastor First Baptist Church, Petersburg, Va.
