Attorney Arthur Brown's $25,000 Suit Against the "Tribune."

A MORNING OF ARGUMENT.

Manager P. H. Lannan Upon the Witness and—A Question of Privileged Communication.

The taking of testimony on the part of the plaintiff in the $25,000 libel suit brought by Attorney Arthur Brown against the Salt Lake Tribune Publishing company began in Chief Justice Merritt's division of the Third district court this morning. A jury was empaneled yesterday afternoon and the opening statement of counsel then made.

Mr. Brown did not today sit within the bar, but mingled with the spectators—of whom there was a larger number than usual—in the rear of the auditorium.

The case for the plaintiff is being conducted by Judge Henderson, Attorneys J. L. Rawlins and C. S. Varian; for the defense Judge Powers, Judge Miner and Attorney O. Jeremy Rivett appear.

The first witness called was Mr. P. H. Lannan, manager of the Tribune. After he had answered one or two initial questions, put by Judge Henderson, counsel proceeded to read to the jury, from the files of the Tribune, the whole complained of statement, the allegations to which Mr. Brown was styled "a notorious scoundrel." The issue of the publication was Feby. 17th, 1892, some days after the city election. Counsel also sought to introduce other articles which he claimed throw light on the case at issue.

Judge Powers objected and insisted that the particular article in question was not libelous on existing authorities. Some of the articles in question, he said, and would not, of itself, be a basis for an action for damages under actual malice. Were not Mr. Brown's acts alleged in this complaint.

Judge Henderson argued against the various legal authorities. He was following on the same line by Mr. Judge Varian. The latter said that, as a matter of fact, this libel was not merely directed in terms of, or indirectly to the Mormon Church, but was an attack on Brown himself, and was intended to be a libel on his character as a citizen. It was the same under which they claimed a Congressman as early as the year of Dodge and published Congress had authority from the Union, in name not now in existence—commonwealth decided to intervene in the very general of the state—not only to be a nuisance but a very greatly marked compliment to the early Pioneers and the a bonus for coming West. Decency, expressly and sightliness, expressly established at of the industrial activities of the Mormon people; and on all occasions combating the issues of the times it would appear over the head of the jury while on the other hand, Utah is named after a tribe of savages, who are dirty, lazy, treacherous and boundless, and for all the evil of state the same would every time be found near the foot of the roster.

By all means let us have the Utah District established for that of Utah, especially when this very desirable change can be had for the asking. I sincerely hope the people will interfere in this matter, for it is anything in order it must not be delayed beyond the session of Congress which opens next month. Wind you, lose that the public to one of your energetic and logical editorials in favor of this movement, which is becoming a most worthy matter for the people to ponder and settle while the favorable opportunity presents itself? For when a member of Congress appears in the capacity of a new state, he should meet with the enthusiasm of another are not easily effected.

I am exceedingly pleased to note your views in favor of the method of general system of weights and measures. I trust it will receive the attention it certainly merits at our Congressional hands. To my mind it is a very important matter, and I sincerely hope it will find a place in the finish despite hard of Congress. I believe when that consummation is done to form of a system of promotion. What do you think about this suggestion?

Respectfully, etc.,

JUDICIARIES.

As a general rule, Swedish soil is carefully cultivated, although great progress may yet be made in this respect. Large areas are actually declared the culture—the management of which has reached a high state of perfection—supply abundant manure, and where such fertilization is necessary, artificial manure is largely used. It is however, the opinion that agriculture has developed to what it now is, and if the gradual development be traced it would be found that the best and first were the first simple tools of the forefathers of the present Swedes.

PROSPECT HILL STOCK FARM,
MILLER & BIRLEY,
PROPRIETORS, VACAVILLE, CAL., Feb. 16, 1894.
PUTNAM NAIL CO., Neponset, Mass.
GENTLEMEN—Shoeing a special favorite of the stock farm, we shod her with your nails and she won and cleared. Said to Ann Write to the man who shoes a winner I will not stop and tell him not to be sure that the Putnam Cold Forged Nail is the proper thing. While there may be others as good, I know what there are, and make a point to use nothing else.
Very respectfully yours,
C. S. MILLER.

The Putnam Nail is the only exclusively Non-Forged and Hammer-Pointed nail.
Look in your smith's shoeing box. If the nails have smooth edges for the whole length they are the PUTNAM, for they are Hammer-Pointed and are not sheared.
The above cuts, from a photo approved by Mr. Sonner to be out of hearing for which a Photographer, after several trying the shoe, had to hold a horse by a halter while another held a lady's skirt, and, for the time, allow equal with wide margin, so large it was easy for enough, etc.
