QUAY IS BOUND OVER.

Held in the Sum of $5,000 for His Appearance.

ALLEGED MISUSE OF PUBLIC MONEYS.

Pennsylvania Senator, His Son Richard R. Quay and Charles H. McKee Star Attractions in Court.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 5—United States Senator Quay, his son, Richard R. Quay, and Charles H. McKee of Pittsburg, law partner of Lieut. Gov. Walter Lyon, appeared before Magistrate Barnett in the Central Station court in this city this afternoon to answer to the charge of conspiracy in the misuse of public moneys in connection with John S. Haynes, former cashier of the People's bank of this city, who committed suicide soon after the failure of the bank in March last. Ex-Treasurer Haywood, for whom a warrant is issued in connection with the conspiracy charge, was not in the courtroom, but it is proved that he will be here on Friday to answer to the charge.

BAIL IS FIXED.

After a hearing lasting three hours Senator Quay and his son and Mr. McKee were bound over for appearance at the next term of court. Bail was fixed at $500 in each case. David H. Lane, a local political leader, acting bail. The case now goes on the docket for trial at the term of court beginning in November.

The testimony produced by District Attorney Graham was to the effect that a number of letters and numerous telegrams covering a period from September, 1897, to February, 1898, addressed by Senator Quay to Charles H. Hopkins, during the purchase and sale of large blocks of stocks and arranging for the placing of securities, a letter from State Treasurer Haywood to the president of the People's bank, and a private memorandum book of Cashier Hopkins.

The lawyers representing the accused fought hard against the introduction of the letter, claiming the bank's books and box a safer accumulation than could be offered, and it was in no evidence, nevertheless.

The district attorney asserted that the evidence he produced showed that Senator Quay had the use of Pennsylvania's money to the amount of over $500,000 in the People's bank for stock speculation; that State Treasurer Haywood placed $100,000 of state funds in the People's bank on condition that the amount of money he loaned to Senator Quay's son, and that there was a regular assignment of interest on state deposits in the People's bank to certain persons, one-third of the profits to Mr. McKee, all of which he claimed was a violation of the state law prohibiting a bank officer from making such loans or accounts, and that the accused persons were guilty of conspiracy in joining with Hopkins in these transactions.

DISTINGUISHED AUDIENCE.

The court room was filled almost to suffocation with politicians, newspaper men and lawyers. The attorneys for the defense opened the proceedings with a brilliant effort to secure from the district attorney the names of the persons responsible for the prosecution. There are only three witnesses. The first was Thomas W. Barlow, receiver for the People's bank, who is also a special assistant district attorney. Mr. Barlow stated that in his capacity as receiver he opened the dead cashier's desk and found among other things a book containing memoranda in Hopkins's handwriting. Mr. Barlow's services as witness ended with the production of the letters, telegrams and book.

Albert T. Tabor, receiving teller of the People's bank, then identified the handwriting in the book as that of Cashier Hopkins, and also identified a number of letters as written by Senator Quay and Treasurer Haywood. A number of these letters were put in evidence, one from Treasurer Haywood to President McKinnis, saying that $100,000 of state funds would be deposited the following week, and that $75,000 Quay be allowed to borrow $500,000.

"RED BOOK" ADMITTED.

Through the third witness, Moses Gidlowitz, an expert accountant who had worked on the bank's books, Mr. Graham finally got the "Red Book" admitted in evidence. Its entries covered from May 1, 1896, to the date of the stock near four years later. Only a few entries were read. They showed that between April 30th and October 31, 1897, the state deposit in the bank ran up from $22,000 to $500,000.

From the total there was a reduction of 33 per cent, evidently, as Mr. Graham alleged, for the bank's use, then an entry "Sen Rich Quay, 114 days."

For this period the entry was computed in the book as $1,941, one-third of which $1,294, was marked "Paid C. H. McKee." In October, 1896, there was a computation on interest on state deposits, amounting to $1,355, of which $1,141, or one-third, was marked "Hopkins to C. H. McK." The name of "C. H. McKee, 115 Diamond street" (Mr. McKee's Pittsburg address), was entered in another part of the book.

In referring to the book, Mr. Graham said that in all entries of the amount of the state deposit, there was a deduction of the amount Mr. Quay had to use and there was never 6% interest credited against it. He said there were frequent entries of "Dr. Q." "Sen. R. R. Q." and "Sen Quay."

Although the action Senator Quay bore an air of composure, he promptly had his lawyers frequently and passed judgment on every point raised.

QUAY'S VERSION.

The senator tonight, in response to an inquiry for a statement to a reporter of the Associated Press, said: "I think that no one who was present at the hearing today entertained any doubt as to the truthfulness of the charge lately made by my counsel, that this proceeding was instigated by political enemies of mine who hide behind the district attorney and hound the district attorney and will and would time to reveal their names, and thus their purpose is to manufacture campaign literature by false charges that could not be met and answered over one week before election.

"As to the charges themselves I have simply this to say, that they are absolutely false and wholly without foundation. I have always had an account with the Penn's Bank and have frequently overdrawn. Mr. Hopkins to have protected my for my stocks, which I thought were likely to rise in value, but they never always bought with my own money or upon my own credit, and upon unmistakable and collateral the People's bank was always ready to protected for any loan I obtained from it. Not a single share of stock was ever bought for me, either directly or indirectly, with public money, nor any letters which were offered in evidence did I ever have the use or benefit either directly or indirectly, to the extent of one penny, of any of the state's money, nor deposit in the Peoples bank. Nor did I ever receive from the bank the loan of a single dollar because of the deposit, either in it of the state's money. Nor did I use the People's bank a single penny, for every dollar I ever borrowed from it was promptly paid by me at maturity.

"As to my over transaction, which was perfectly legitimate, I had nothing whatever to do with it, except that, having full confidence in his ability to pay the loan at maturity, I indorsed his paper and it was duly paid at maturity."

A ROYAL RUNAWAY.

Queen Victoria and Ex-Empress of Germany Have a Narrow Escape.

London, Oct. 5—Queen Victoria, her daughter, the ex-Empress Frederick of Germany, and Princess Adolphe of Schaumburg-Lippe, had a narrow escape from death while driving at Balmoral, Scotland, on Monday. The coachman lost control of the horses, and a serious accident was averted only by the horses turning into the woods, where the carriage stuck between trees.

The coachman, as the royal party were strongly rocking at and much alarmed but not injured.

Tradesman's National Subject.

New York, Oct. 5—President James McNaughton of the Tradesmen's National bank, which suspended business yesterday, said this afternoon: today that the bank is solvent.

National Bank Examiner W. H. Kimball says he has discovered that a number of Wall street brokers who were made quite recently to President McNaughton, who gave as collateral a number of West Exchange shares. It is alleged that Mr. Kimball says $100 was doled out to two individuals, one a member of the Wall Exchange, but the names could not be obtained.

President McNaughton asserts that the Clearing House committee investigation into the affairs of the Tradesmen's National bank was a "farce and a deliberate attempt to throw the bank down." About $60,000 of cash was found by the examiner in the bank's safes.

Could Not Face Disgrace.

Victoria, N. C., Oct. 5—Warren Walker, a young merchant, aged 21, accused of stealing a shotgun at Colwood, a suburb of this city, preferred death to the disgrace of being taken into town under arrest. He shot his head off, with another shotgun, while the constable was waiting for him to change his clothes.

The Dreyfus Case.

Paris, Oct. 5—A formal application for the revision of the Dreyfus case was entered today on the docket of the court of cassation. The procedure for reopening the case has, therefore, definitely commenced.

Roosevelt's Campaign Opens.

New York, Oct. 5—Jammed from top to bottom with a cheering, shouting throng Carnegie hall, New York, was the scene last night of the great mass meeting that opened the campaign of Col. Theo. Roosevelt, for governor of New York.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE MAYOR.

In accordance with a resolution of the City Council of Salt Lake City, adopted this 27th day of September and in conformity with the provisions of section 5 of "An ordinance in regard to the waterworks," approved March 4th, 1895, which, in times of scarcity of water, authorizes the Mayor to proclamation to limit the use of water for other than domestic purposes:

I, John Clark, Mayor of Salt Lake City, do hereby limit the use of water from the waterworks system for sprinkling purposes during the month of October, 1898, as follows:

Lawns, gardens and yards in the upper district shall be sprinkled only in the evening, between the hours of six and nine o'clock; thirty minutes each day being allowed for the sprinkling of each one hundred square yards.

Lawns, gardens and yards in the lower district shall be sprinkled only in the evening, between the hours of six and nine o'clock, twenty minutes each day being allowed for the sprinkling of each one hundred square yards.

Any violation of the provisions of this proclamation shall subject the offender to punishment as provided by law.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of Salt Lake City to be affixed this 27th day of September, 1898.

JOHN CLARK, MAYOR.

After all it is Nature that makes the cures. Only now and then she gets into a tight place and needs the helping hand of science. When the right thing is needed to check diseased action and start the organs and tissues on the way to health, Scott's Emulsion comes as the helpmeet of Nature. It feeds, nourishes, strengthens; and it does this all round—the Hypophosphites act upon the nerves, the Cod-liver Oil feeds the body. Put up by
