GETTING READY FOR LEGISLATION.

State Lawmakers Settling Down to Business.

HOUSE COMMITTEES NAMED.

President Evans Also Names Two Committees in the Senate, On Elections and Contingent Expenses.

The State Senate convened at 2 o'clock this afternoon with one absentee, Senator Howell, who was excused. The reading and correcting of the minutes consumed over half an hour.

A communication was received from the House, stating that that body had passed Senate bill No. 1 introduced by Senator Smoot, an act to provide for the regular and contingent expenses of the Legislature by the appropriation of $25,000.

President Evans announced that he had chosen the members of the elections committee in compliance to the urgent request of Senator Allison, who desired to hasten through with the matter of the contest of the seat of Senator Barnes. The committee is composed of Senators Murdock, Bennion, Johnson and Sherman. The president also announced the committee on contingent expenses as follows:

Senator Love, Murdock and Kiesel, and stated that he would announce the personnel of the remaining committees the first thing after the resuming of the session tomorrow.

Senator Smoot presented Senate bill No. 4, an act to amend section 433, chapter 7, title 11, of Revised Statutes of Utah of 1898, as amended by an act approved January 17, 1899, chapter 1 of the laws of Utah, passed at the third regular session of the Legislature, 1899; and sections 433 and 442 of said chapter 7, title 11 of the Revised Statutes of Utah of 1898, providing for formation and powers of railroads. The alteration of the law of 1899, as provided in this bill is that railroad corporations organized under the laws of Utah, and having already constructed or acquired a line or lines of railroad in this State may purchase or otherwise lawfully acquire the railroad, property and franchises and the capital stock, or any part of the capital stock, and the bonds and other obligations or any part thereof, or may guarantee the stocks, bonds or obligations of any railroad corporation whose lines within this State or partly within and partly without the same or wholly without this State either by means of actual union of track through the medium of any bridge, ferry or line of railroad leased, operated or otherwise controlled by either of said operations. And any railroad corporation organized under the laws of this State that shall have heretofore increased or shall hereafter increase the amount of the capital stock specified in its original or amended article of association may receive subscriptions for such increase of stock on such terms as the board of directors or a majority of the stockholders shall authorize, payable in shares of the capital stock or in bonds or other obligations of any other railroad corporation of this or any other State, whose capital stock, etc., is authorized to be purchased by any such corporation of this State.

In the provision permitting railroad companies organized or existing under the laws of this or any other State, the bill introduced by Senator Smoot furthers the proviso that the lines of such consolidating companies shall not have parallel lines but shall be substantially continuous and "connective," either by means of actual union of track or through the medium of a bridge, ferry or line of railroad, leased, operated or otherwise controlled by any or either of said corporations of which any such corporation shall have the right by contract or otherwise, to use or operate. The agreement of merger or consolidation shall specify whether there shall be a merger of one or more of such companies into another without the creation of a new corporation; or a consolidation forming a new consolidated corporation.

The section of the old statute, which reads that "any railroad company organized or existing under the laws of this State may lease and operate any part or all of a railroad constructed" by any other company, etc., is amended to read "owned" by another company, etc.

On motion of Mr. Smoot, the Senate decided to employ a stenographer.

The Senate then adjourned until tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The clerk read the list of House committees as appointed by the speaker.

SECOND DAY OF BIG CONVENTION.

members of the National Live Stock association have as great an interest in this as have other producers of food products. They are largely engaged in their production, the growers and raisers of the raw products, and the packers of the finished, know that the greater the security the country has, that the products they buy from the packers are pure, the greater the consumption, the better the demand, and necessarily the better prices that will prevail.

"Right along that line is the national law providing for the inspection of meats with the label of the U. S. government upon them, we know that the meats are fit for human food; so you see our great government has taken upon itself that special function to see that a particular class of food products is fit for human consumption. That being the case, there seems to be no reason why the power of the general government should not be exercised in the same way along that line to see that the food products put upon the market are what they purport to be, and that the consumer shall be protected from fraud.

"It seems to me that this association can do much to emphasize the demand for national legislation that will compel all food products to be sold for exactly what they are, and so assist a national pure food law compelling honest dealing in all food products. I trust that the committee on resolutions will take up the question, and bring as strong a resolution as they can possibly demanding that our national Legislature shall enact and provide means for the enforcement of such legislation. They can do themselves credit and insure for their product, the handler and the manufacturer, a better price and increased demand, and thereby increase their own agricultural industries."

WORKING FOR LEARY.

Stockmen Intend to Present the Saddle, if Possible, to Him.

The finances of the committee on arrangements that has the entertainment of the visiting stockmen in hand are not in the very best of condition, owing to the fact that the crowd was somewhat underestimated. As a consequence it is said that Chairman Leary has commenced to draw on his private check book in order to see the thing through. He has been indefatigable in the raw-hiding process, and now his only hope as to the financial solution is the saddle contest for the most popular stockman in Utah. Great interest is being manifested in the contest, and the various cattlemen are working hard in their efforts to pull their respective candidate through. At the last opening of the ballot boxes George F. Beckstead was away in the lead with T. G. Wimmer, second, and J. C. Leary, third. Now comes the rumor that the "boys," as a tribute to the efforts of Chairman Leary in their behalf, are going to throw their dimes in twenty dollar lots for Leary. Beckstead's partizans are equally demonstrative in their efforts and swear that they will not see their favorite go under. With this lively battle of the ballots going on at ten cents a vote, it is hoped that the finance committee will see daylight all right by the time the polls close on Friday.

SALE OF BLOODED STOCK.

Fancy Animals to be Sold by Auction Tomorrow Afternoon.

The majority of the fancy and pedigree stock at present on exhibition at the show grounds will be sold at public auction tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock on which occasion it is expected that there will be a lively scramble among the visiting cattle and sheepmen for the possession of some of the finest breeding animals in the country. Mr. Frank H. Rudy has been working hard all this morning in making preliminary arrangements for the sale with the result that the famous Cowboy Band will leave the corner of East Temple and Second South at 9 a. m. tomorrow, at which time arrangements have been made with the street car companies to have transportation facilities on hand to accommodate the crowds which will be in evidence.

NOTES.

The splendid decorations in the Assembly Hall evoked universal expressions of admiration from the stockmen this morning.

President Springer's happy style in handling the convention found instant favor.

As a delicate compliment to the newspaper men, an open-eyed stuffed owl adorns the press table in the convention hall.

Col. John Q. Cannon was busy this morning shaking hands with the members of the Cowboy band, some of whom comprised the band attached to Torrey's Rough Riders.

President Springer yesterday received a dispatch from Vice President Theodore Roosevelt, who is now hunting mountain lions on M. K. Parson's ranch in Colorado, to the effect that he sends his "heartfelt wishes to the boys" and hopes to be with the convention if possible.

President Bennett of the National Wool Growers' association occupies a seat beside President Springer on the rostrum at the convention.

All present at the opening of the convention this morning were asked by the president to refrain from smoking or chewing in the building.

Idaho has a very strong bunch of delegates in the field, whose chief aim and object is to defeat the land leasing measure.

President Frank P. Bennett of the National Wool Growers' association, when seen at the Kenyon, expressed himself very heartily in favor of holding an annual sheep fair in Salt Lake, whereby the breeders in the West could all come here to make their purchases of breeding stock. He stated that in his opinion no more central location in the West could be selected for the purpose.

The national executive committee of the live stock association held a meeting at the Knutsford last evening, on which occasion the Grout bill received the major portion of the attention of those assembled. The principal business transacted was the consideration of a memorial to Congress protesting against that measure. At the request of a large number of wool growers, a resolution was placed under consideration in regard to the selling of shoddy goods on the part of numerous manufacturers, who palm them off for "all wool" articles. Mr. McAffee of Kansas introduced a resolution asking that the convention endorse the holding of the live stock convention in Topeka in 1904.

The fight for the next convention apparently now rests between Chicago and Omaha. Both delegations are doing considerable lobbying for their respective cities, and the prospect is that there will be a lively old contest ere one of them goes down to defeat.

It is estimated that there are fully 5,000 visitors in the city today. All the hotels are full to overflowing with the result that some of the big rooms have been turned into dormitories with ten cots in them. There is, however, no big rush for rooms, and the committee is of the opinion that there will be room for all, and to spare.

Miss Crowe, George Sherrard, E. C. Parsons and C. B. Farraday worked early and late yesterday getting out badges and registering the delegates as they arrived.

The attention of all delegates to the National Live Stock Convention is called to the special announcement of the "News" on another page.

MORGAN'S TREATY RESOLUTION.

Declares Non-Effect of the Bulwer-Clayton Pact.

CANNOT CONTROL CONGRESS

Ratification of Hay-Pauncefote Treaty Not a Condition Precedent to Legislation Concerning Canals.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Senator Morgan has introduced a resolution declaratory of the non-effect of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty uopn the right of the United States to construct the Nicaragua canal. The resolution recites the protocol with Nicaragua and Costa Rica as a preamble and then proceeds as follows:

"Resolved, That the Clayton-Bulwer treaty of July 4, 1850, gives no right to Great Britain to demand that the Congress of the United States shall withhold its ratification of said agreement or shall abstain from legislation to provide for their prompt execution.

"That the ratificaiton by Great Britain of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty of Feb. 5, 1900, as the same has been amended by the Senate, is not a condition precedent to legislation by Congress in providing for the execution of said agreements with Costa Rica and Nicaragua; nor are the principles or provisions of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty any just or admissible ground of objection on the part of the government of her Britannic majesty to enactment of a law by Congress providing for the execution of such agreements with Costa Rica and Nicaragua."

W. A. CLARK ELECTED SENATOR

Was Present and Made a Speech Scoring ex-Senator Chandler.

Helena, Mont., Jan. 16.—W. A. Clark, the Butte millionaire, was this afternoon elected United States senator to succeed Thomas H. Carter. Mr. Clark in joint session received 57 votes out of 93 cast on the first ballot, and was declared elected. The session took place in the Helena Auditorium, which was crowded with people, who with the lawmakers cheered the announcement of the result.

Senator Clark was present. His friends crowded about him, one of the first to congratulate him being F. Augustus Heinze. Mr. Clark was called forward and made a speech in which he referred to the last campaign, and to the campaign of two years ago and the investigation in the Senate. Speaking of the investigation and of Senator Chandler, of New Hampshire, who was chairman of the investigating committee, Mr. Clark said: "The whole proceedings were denounced by hundreds of eminent lawyers familiar with them as being unworthy of a police court, and the record of the high-handed, vicious and brow-beating tactics exercised by the chairman of the committee will ever remain a stigma and disgrace in the annals of the Senate as judged by all fair minded men.

"It is gratifying to learn that he has in his recent effort to be returned to the Senate, been repudiated by the legislature of his State by an overwhelming majority, a rebuke more stinging but not more emphatic than that recently pronounced by the people of Montana.

"The disposition of this man and that of myself by the people of Montana of our respective States is a striking illustration of that theory which has been aptly termed 'The irony of fate.'"

No one was elected for the short term and balloting will be resumed tomorrow.

Frank Crowell Perishes in Flames.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—In a fire which destroyed the Aberdeen apartment building here today, Frank Crowell, superintendent of Swift & Co.'s factory, lost his life, while trying to save his bank book and insurance policy.

Seriously Injured in a Duel.

Paris, Jan. 16.—A duel with swords was fought today between M. Urbian Gohier, a well known anti-military writer and author of "The Army Against the Nation," and M. Latapie, a journalist, who considered himself insulted by one of M. Gohier's articles in the Aurore. M. Gohier was severely wounded in the abdomen during the first onslaught and the duel was stopped.

THE LION'S SHARE.

New York, Jan. 15.—1901.—The Mutual Life Insurance company, of New York, have made to its representatives throughout the United States and Canada, a preliminary announcement as to its business on this continent during the year 1900. As usual it leads all other companies in assets, income earned, amount paid to policy holders, new premiums (including annuities) paid interests and rents received and in volume of paid for new business, excluding impaired and vicious risks which it does not accept. Accumulated funds available for security are greatly in excess of those held by any other company. Bond and mortgage loans account the most important in the assets of a life company, and larger than that of any other similar institutions. The Mutual Life is still the pre-eminent company.

DEATH OF MRS. A. C. OWEN.

She was stricken with pneumonia a few days ago but up to the last few hours she was not supposed to be dangerously ill. Mrs. Owen's maiden name was Margaret Harvey. She was born May 14, 1862, in Jersey City. She was employed at the Manitou for some time and it was there that she met Mr. Owen. She had only been a member of the Church about one year. She leaves besides her husband, two children to mourn her loss.

DEATH OF WILLIAM M'DONALD.

William McDonald, a prominent business man of San Bernardino, California, and a brother of the well known merchant John McDonald Sr. of this city, died January 13th, 1901. Mr. McDonald came to Utah in 1850 with his parents. In the year of 1853 he moved to San Bernardino, where he has since resided. He became widely known among business men and was a prominent citizen of that place. He will be well remembered by many old timers both in Salt Lake and Nauvoo. He leaves a large family in San Bernardino, also a host of relatives and friends in Salt Lake to mourn his loss.

AJAX SOARING AGAIN TODAY.

The Stock Advanced to $1.18 Per Share on the Exchange.

DEXTER WAS QUITE ACTIVE.

Con. Mercur Weaker—Daly Sells—Grand Central and Mammoth Stronger.

Ajax continued to astonish many of its holders today when it opened on the Exchange with the sale of 100 shares at $1.09 and, after advancing to $1.18, softened to $1.16 on the closing sale. No change is reported at the property but the crosscut which is now being run to the fissue in which the Lower Mammoth ore body has been found, causes much anticipation which, added to some manipulation, has caused the advance. Consolidated Mercur was fairly strong considering that the dividend was passed. A small lot changed hands at $2.90 today, while 100 shares of Daly was allowed to go at $1.77½. Dexter was very much in evidence today when 1,400 shares changed hands at from $1.13 to $1.16 per share. Eagle and Blue Bell let go 900 shares at 90 and immediately weakened to 88 on the closing sale.

Grand Central was traded in between $6.00 and $6.07½, while Rocco Homestake sold at 98½. Lower Mammoth made great strides today but failed to maintain its position. A sale was made as high as $4.70, but it weakened to $4.43 on the closing sale. Mammoth was also quite active today. The stock showed more firmness, advancing from $2.25 to $2.28. May Day opened at 41¼ and, after selling down to 40, closed at 40⅝. Northern Light was traded in at 2, while Star Consolidated sold around 81 and Sunshine sold from 29 to 28½. Tesora dropped 100 shares at 30. Manhattan sold at ½ and Yankee Consolidated was traded in at 11 flat.

American Smelting Co. Takes Over the Guggenheim Plants.

EXTENSIVE CHANGES MADE.

Office of District Manager to be Abolished—The Con. Mercur Meeting—Mining Notes.

An Associated Press dispatch from Denver today conveys news of the absorption of the Guggenheim smelting plants by the American Smelting and Refining company. The following particulars are printed in the Denver News upon the authority of a New York man who has just arrived in Denver:

"The absorption of the Guggenheim smelting plants by the American Smelting Trust has been accomplished, Daniel Guggenheim has been named as chairman of the board of directors with headquarters in New York and extensive changes in methods of carrying on the work of the gigantic concern will be announced at an early day. The Guggenheims are given 35 per cent of the stock of the company, the total capitalization being $100,000,000. According to plans which are known to principal men in the consolidated corporation, the financial magnates who are handling the negotiations have agreed that E. W. Nash, of Omaha, is to continue as president of the company, and Former Gov. J. B. Grant, of this city, is to continue chief of the operating board. Among the radical changes decided upon is the abolishment of the general managers of the different plants. Up to the present time, nearly every one of the plants has had a general manager at a salary ranging from $15,000 to $25,000 a year. These offices are to be wiped out and each smelter is to have a superintendent, who is to report to the Denver headquarters in charge of ex-Governor Grant. The abolishment of the offices of general manager will effect a saving, it is said, of $200,000 to $300,000 a year, and other decapitations, which are to follow as circumstances present will enable the corporation to save not less than $500,000 a year in salaries alone. This is said to be one of the conditions insisted upon by the Guggenheims before they will agree to pool their interests with the big combine."

The cases of the State vs Frank Sano a Japanese, who was charged with assaulting Henry Nishyama with intent to murder him, was concluded in Judge Timmony's court this morning.

From the evidence adduced both by the prosecution and defense, it was clear to the court that Nishyama assaulted the defendant, and that Sano shot in self defense.
